Equality, Diversity & Inclusion (EDI)

The Client is striving to create a diverse and inclusive working environment where every individual has equality of opportunity to progress and to apply their unique insights to making the UK a great place for living. The Service Provider is expected to respect this commitment in all dealings with Natural England staff and service users.

Suppliers are expected to;

- support Defra group to achieve its Public Sector Equality Duty as defined by the Equality Act 2010, and to support delivery of Defra group's Equality & Diversity Strategy.
- meet the standards set out in the Government's Supplier Code of Conduct
- work with Defra group to ensure equality, diversity and inclusion impacts are addressed (positive and negative) in the goods, services and works we procure, barriers are removed and opportunities realised.

Sustainable Procurement

Addressing global sustainability impacts and realising additional community benefits within commercial activity is core to Defra group's approach, working with its supply chain is key to achieving sustainable outcomes. In addition to supporting Defra group to meet its outcomes we look to understand and reduce negative sustainability impacts associated with our commercial activity and realise benefits.

The Client encourages its suppliers to share these values, work to address negative impacts and realise opportunities, measure performance and success.

Suppliers are expected to have an understanding of the Sustainable Development Goals, the interconnections between them and the relevance to the Goods, Services and works procured on the Client's behalf

Conflicts of Interest

The concept of a conflict of interest includes but is not limited to any situation where an Involved Person or Relevant Body has directly or indirectly, a financial, economic or other personal interest which might be perceived to compromise their impartiality and independence in the context of the procurement procedure and/or affect the integrity of the contract award.

We expect suppliers to mitigate appropriately against any real or perceived conflict of interest through their work with government. A supplier with a position of influence gained through a contract should not use that position to unfairly disadvantage any other supplier or reduce the potential for future competition

Where the supplier is aware of any circumstances giving rise to a conflict of interest or has any indication that a conflict of interest exists or may arise you should inform the Authority of this as soon as possible (whether before or after they have submitted a quotation). Tenderers should remain alert to the possibility of conflicts of interest arising at all stages of the procurement and should update the Authority if any new circumstances or information arises, or there are any changes to information already provided to the Authority. Failure to do so, and/or to properly manage any conflicts of interest may result in a quotation being rejected.

Provided that it has been carried out in an open, fair and transparent manner, routine pre-market engagement carried out by the Authority should not represent a conflict of interest for the supplier.

Introduction:

The Natterjack toad (Epidalea calamita) is a European Protected Species, protected under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 and listed as a priority species under Section 41 of the NERC Act (2006). It has a broad range throughout northern and central Europe, but within the UK however, it has a limited distribution within sand dunes, upper saltmarsh and sandy lowland heaths. This is mainly due to habitat destruction through succession, and acidification of breeding pools caused by human developments (Denton et al., 2003). At a UK regional level, it is listed as Endangered (Foster et al., 2021) with declines of 70-80% since the early 20th Century and has lower genetic diversity than in mainland Europe (Beebee, 1977; Rowe and Beebee, 2007). Since the early 1970's, several translocations following habitat research and restoration have been undertaken in the UK, with varying success rates, however no new populations have been discovered since 1993. As of 2023, ARC identifies around 60 known populations of Natterjack in the UK.

Within Norfolk, the first within-UK successful translocation to a dune system was from Winterton NNR to Holme Dunes NNR in 1982. Today, there is still a Natterjack population present at Holme, as well as Syderstone Common SSSI, Holkham NNR and Winterton NNR. The former two are Norfolk Wildlife Trust reserves and the latter two are managed by Natural England. Until the 1990's, Winterton NNR supported a major Natterjack colony for East Anglia, which has since collapsed to the point of possible local extinction. The dune system here has been identified as a location where installation of artificial breeding pools are necessary for breeding of Natterjack toads at the site. Contamination of the groundwater has led to declines in the Natterjack population. Also, the water table is too low for ephemeral pools to form naturally; no breeding has occurred at the site since 2018, two individuals were recorded in 2022 and there have been no records from 2023.

At both sites, Natterjack may be present in excessively low numbers, or possibly locally extinct. Translocations are necessary to restore the eastern Norfolk metapopulation.

Project description:

Multiple ponds will be created and restored at Winterton Dunes NNR. This RFQ covers the first part of the project, which is to create 2 large new ponds 25x15x0.5m. This should require around 27x17m of material. We aim to lay a protective membrane, followed by butyl, followed by another layer of protective membrane, then bury this all with around 30cm of sand using the excavation arisings. This is to protect the liner over time.

The specification and provision of materials is the ask for this Request for Quote.

We are aiming for end of November or early December for commencement of works. Please advise if this is possible within your response to quotation.

Estimated budget (inc VAT):

Materials: £14,300

Sustainability

Natural England protects and improves the environment and is committed to reducing the sustainability impacts of its activities directly and through its supply chains. We expect the Contractor to share this commitment and adopt a sound, proactive sustainable approach in keeping with the 25 year Environmental Plan/our commitments compliant with all applicable legislation. This includes understanding and reducing direct and indirect sustainability impacts and realising opportunities, including but not restricted to; resilience to climate change, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, water use and quality, biosecurity, resource efficiency and waste, reducing the risk of pollution, biodiversity, modern slavery and equality, diversity & inclusion, negative community impacts.

Sustainability covers environmental, economic and social value impacts. As a delivery partner, the successful contractor is expected to pursue sustainability in their operations, thereby ensuring the Contracting Authority is not contracting with a supplier whose operational outputs run contrary to the Contracting Authority's objectives. The successful contractor will need to approach the project with a focus on the entire life cycle of the project.

The Supplier/Contractor will provide evidence of addressing its sustainability impacts and compliance with the contract requirements when the Authority reasonably requests.

Payment

The Authority will raise purchase orders to cover the cost of the services and will issue to the awarded supplier following contract award.

The Authority's preference is for all invoices to be sent electronically, quoting a valid Purchase Order number. Invoices may be submitted following completion of deliverable(s) as necessary, with a view that all deliverables and payments are completed by 22nd December 2023.

It is anticipated that this contract will be awarded for a period as soon as reasonably possible following acceptance of quote, and will run until 22nd December 2023. Prices will remain fixed for the duration of the contract award period. We may at our sole discretion extend this contract to include related or further work. Any extension shall be agreed in writing in advance of any work commencing and may be subject to further competition.
