16.4 The Supplier shall cooperate fully with the Authority or, as the case may be, any replacement supplier during any re-procurement and handover period prior to and following the expiry or earlier termination of this Contract. This cooperation shall extend to providing access to all information relevant to the operation of this Contract, as reasonably required by the Authority to achieve a fair and transparent re-procurement and/or an effective transition without disruption to routine operational requirements.

16.5 Immediately upon expiry or earlier termination of this Contract any licence or lease entered into in accordance with the Key Provisions shall automatically terminate.

16.6 The expiry or earlier termination of this Contract for whatever reason shall not affect any rights or obligations of either Party which accrued prior to such expiry or earlier termination.

The work of the programme is aligned to the new GMS infrastructure i.e., Regional Genomic Laboratory Hubs (GLHs) and Genomic Medicine Service Alliances (GMSAs), which has been developed to ensure that the benefit of genomic medicine is brought to patients and their families.

2. Background

The work of the programme is aligned to NHS England's Genomics Unit and the associated new genomics infrastructure that has been developed within the NHS to enable all specialties to embed genomics in their area of practice i.e., Genomic Laboratory Hubs (GLHs) and Genomic Medicine Service Alliances (GMSAs), to ensure that the benefits of genomics are brought to patients.

Alongside this, the team are delivering genomic education and training and workforce development in line with recommendations in the following strategies and policies.

- Accelerating Genomic Medicine in the NHS
- Genome UK: the future of healthcare
- NHS Long Term Plan
- People Plan
- Topol Review
- Life Sciences Strategy
- UK Strategy for Rare Diseases

NHSE Genomics Education require procurement of a company to provide genomics expertise from an academic perspective. With a focus particularly on the review and development of the Master's in Genomic Medicine Curriculum ensuring it is for purpose within this constantly evolving landscape, reviewing professional standards to ensure genomics is appropriately included and providing a gap analysis and recommendations for inclusion and updates as well as research and evaluation.

3. Scope of Contract

The National Genomics Education team within NHS England require an organisation with senior capability in the area of genomics, a rigorous academic profile and the skills and knowledge to provide a package of genomics academic expertise to support in the first phase the development of the Master's in Genomic Medicine curriculum.

The Master's in Genomic Medicine framework is a multi-professional blended learning programme aimed at upskilling the NHS workforce in genomics. It has been delivered since 2015 by a network of higher education institutions using a core curriculum adopted by the current contracted 7 University providers. It is a flexible framework offering a range of qualifications, from Continuing Personal and Professional Development (CPPD) modules to a full Master's degree (MSc).

Following a detailed review of the existing Master's curriculum the successful bidder will be required to use the data gathered from the student alumni and Universities which has been used to inform the evaluation report to refresh the curriculum, ensuring the content, structure and delivery model is applicable to the clinical setting and reflects the rapid developments in this area across the healthcare system.

4. Detailed Requirements

In the first phase we require some senior genomic and academic expertise to work closely with the National Genomics Education team to deliver the following:

- Based on the findings of the MSc in Genomic Medicine evaluation report, refresh and update the aims, content descriptions, learning objectives and indicative content for all modules to ensure they reflect current genomic practices and are applicable across the healthcare setting.
- Where new priorities have emerged within the Genomic Medicine Service or across the wider healthcare setting as a result of mainstreaming, support the development of speciality specific modules to add to the Masters in Genomic Medicine curriculum. This will include working with other University providers to ensure input into development and delivery of the modules and supporting any internal accreditation processes.
- Keep abreast of any changes and updates to national strategy, policy and published research relating to genomics to ensure anything relevant is reflected in curriculum.
- Once the curriculum has been adopted by providers undertake and deliver an evaluation report on the newly revised curriculum.
- Develop a lesson learnt report to inform future reviews and revisions to the curriculum ensuring it reflects the needs of the speciality workforce delivering the Genomic Medicine Service and the non-speciality workforce mainstreaming genomics in their practice.
- Throughout the tender process, we expect bids to include both timeframes and cost estimates. However, it's important to emphasize that this project must be concluded within a 12-month period. This timeline allows for effective oversight of implementation and delivery, as well as ample time for university providers to integrate the curriculum into their internal systems for delivery. The anticipated total expenditure for this project is £230,000.00. Close collaboration and communication with the GEP team are imperative to ensure adherence to scientific accuracy and style throughout the project duration.

5. Service Levels and Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

The contract will be managed in accordance with the following KPIs:

- Production of quarterly reports detailing the work completed during the previous month.
- Promote GEP resources at events and on platforms.
- Develop the MSc curriculum review and refresh.
- Build relationships and liaise with universities to gain necessary approvals for the new curriculum to be delivered.

6. Contract Management and Review

Regular meetings with the GEP as well as quarterly reports.

7. Contract Period and Cost

The contract will be effective and valid for a duration of 12 months, commencing from the date of contract signing with no provision for extension beyond this period. The cost of the contract is £230,000, exclusive of VAT.

Tender Response

Q1 Delivery - Give a clear understanding of the tender requirements and the approach required to deliver this service?

A central component of the National Genomics Education Programme is the MSc in Genomic Medicine. The Genomic Medicine MSc delivers high quality postgraduate education and training to support the NHS Genomic Medicine Service. This tender will provide an opportunity to redesign the existing MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum which was first designed in 2014/15 and then refreshed in 2018. Genomics is arguably the most rapidly changing life science, particularly with respect to its integration in healthcare, which means that elements of the existing curriculum are already out-of-date. It is crucial that the curriculum is reviewed and refreshed to reflect these changes. Updates to the MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum will consider advances in a rapidly evolving field, to adapt core knowledge and skills taught on the programme to maximise the value of the MSc for graduating students to bring significant benefit to their work within the healthcare system. Furthermore, given that we will continue to see this pattern of change, there is a need to make the curriculum sustainable to circumvent the necessity for regular reviews of this kind in the future by creating the space and flexibility in the curriculum to maintain necessary currency and relevancy of content.

In 2020, the government published the “Genome UK: the future of healthcare” strategy, the key aim of which was to “create the most advanced genomic healthcare system in the world”. This highlights three key “pillars”: Diagnosis and Personalised Medicine; Prevention; and Research. In 2022, an update entitled “Genome UK:2022 to 2025 implementation plan for England” was published building on this initial strategy. Both emphasise that workforce training and education in genomics are essential to ensure that the ambitious plans for embedding and optimising genomics in healthcare across the NHS are successful. The purpose of the MSc programme, according to the evaluation report by Nightingale et al (2023) is to enable NHS professionals to “Engage, Educate, Inform and Research”, with respect to genomic medicine; it is critical that we make sure those aims are being met. A core objective of the Genomic Medicine MSc was to develop a cohort of healthcare professionals with in-depth genomics knowledge to act as “Genomics Champions” across their field. It will be vital to consider the MSc Genomic Medicine as an integrated part of the wider national pedagogical strategy to ensure that all healthcare professionals can access upskilling and educational resources tailored to their professional context and role.

When redesigning postgraduate courses in genomics, it is also vital to consider undergraduate programmes, and how these will feed and integrate into postgraduate courses, as well as providing standalone value. A specific requirement of the tender is to facilitate the integration of genomics into undergraduate curricula. The number of NHS staff completing undergraduate courses will always be greater than those completing specialist postgraduate courses so enhancing the genomics content of undergraduate courses is essential. Integration of genomics into undergraduate courses will drive workforce planning and the development of genomic knowledge and skills in healthcare workers of the future. As the UK’s only specialist healthcare university, St George’s, University of London (SGUL) is well placed to influence genomics delivery at undergraduate level on programmes such as Medicine, Biomedical Science, and Healthcare Science. We are also providers of both undergraduate and postgraduate Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy, as well as the Masters in Physician Associate Studies (MPAS). We will therefore be able to assess current content, identify learning needs and pilot integration of genomics into these curricula working closely with clinical experts and educators within and working across these fields. Successful integration will be disseminated to encourage national changes with respect to these programmes of study. Reviewing both postgraduate and undergraduate programmes in parallel forms a core aspect of providing an integrated strategy for genomics education nationally.

Upskilling the wider NHS workforce is a third key tender requirement. Genomics is one of the most important issues in healthcare today. The last 20 years have seen a rapid increase in our knowledge and understanding of the human genome, as well as significant technological advances. The public awareness of genomics has also increased as has the availability of testing (including direct-to-consumer testing). This means that genetic disorders are no longer the province of just the specialist clinical geneticist. Genomics needs to be integrated into clinical pathways across the breadth of medical specialties, and across primary, secondary, and tertiary care. Trained and educated healthcare workers, including midwives, nurses, doctors, and other allied health professionals are essential to a healthcare system which integrates genomics to provide tangible advances in patient care.

The National Genomics Education Programme has developed a suite of resources to upskill the wider healthcare workforce (e.g. Genomics 101, Bitesize Genomics) as well as providing point-of-care information (i.e. GeNotes). It will be important to understand this existing suite of resources, how this is currently being utilised, build on the strengths and achievements of the existing programme whilst identifying any gaps or areas for further development with a fresh look given the rapid advances in the field.

When considering a strategy for upskilling in genomics across the whole healthcare workforce, it is important to identify the key target audiences. A strategic approach to learner needs and requirements will allow the “filling of gaps” in terms of who is educated in genomics across the NHS. Different healthcare workers will have different requirements for genomic knowledge and skills. In addition, considering the needs of a busy healthcare professional with respect to balancing continuing professional development and their working patterns is vital to maximise reach across the NHS. The fourth key requirement of the tender is to help develop the specialist genomics workforce. Recently, the Genomics Training Academy (GTAC) was established to provide training and education for the specialist genomics workforce, including bioinformaticians, clinical geneticists, clinical scientists, genomic counsellors, and genomic technologists. The educational leads will be the people who can best guide requirements, but the SGUL academic expert team will be able to provide excellent pedagogical support.

Key training and education considerations depend on the context of learning.

- Primary healthcare practitioners (GPs, pharmacists, dentists and optometrists, practice and community nurses, allied health professionals and midwives). This cohort may not have time to invest in extensive premeditated genomics education but need to have access to resources to obtain immediate knowledge at point of patient contact as they are often the first to engage with a patient (or potential patient) at point of access to healthcare systems.
- Secondary care healthcare practitioners (hospital consultants, nurses, midwives, scientists, allied health professionals). This cohort will require specialist training in genomics as relevant to their area of practice as well as have access to resources at point of patient contact.
- The specialised genomics workforce (geneticists, genetic counsellors, clinical scientists) requires regular upskilling in the constantly evolving field of genomics and can also play a key role in the education and training of non-specialists.
- Large scale research projects will impact on the training and education needs of specific groups of healthcare workers. For example, the pilot of the Newborn Genome Sequencing programme is due to commence imminently, and it is essential that midwives and other providers within NHS postnatal services are empowered to be able to confidently explain this to their patients.

- Technology and bioinformatics. A particular “bottleneck” in implementation of whole genome sequencing as a diagnostic tool in the NHS is variant interpretation. There is a shortage of bioinformaticians with the necessary knowledge of human disease to develop better and faster algorithms for annotation and interpretation of genomic variants. Working to ensure that current undergraduate and postgraduate students are informed about career opportunities in this area is vital for expansion.
- Ethics and communication skills. A significant challenge in the education of wider healthcare practitioners lies within the complex ethics and communication skills needed to utilise genomic data and consider the familial aspects of genetic test results. SGUL have prioritised integration of this skill into both undergraduate and postgraduate training, and we are committed to embedding understanding of ethics in genomics across healthcare education.
- The HEE Topol Review (2019) stressed that the future of healthcare should involve cutting-edge technologies, particularly genomics, digital medicine, AI, and robotics. It is essential we include education in advancing technologies, such as AI to ensure integration of genomics with other tools such as medical imaging, which would be of relevance to those wishing to develop a career in advanced technologies.

The delivery of a comprehensive genomic medicine educational package that serves the diverse healthcare professional population requires balancing the needs of individuals and different healthcare groups to maximise the benefit to the NHS.

We will provide a highly experienced multi-disciplinary team from SGUL to work across all three areas (formal education, upskilling, and specialist learning) enabling the input from academic educators, researchers, and clinicians with genomics expertise. In this way, we can deliver expertise across all these areas, to ensure that the UK NHS can work towards having one of the most advanced genomic healthcare systems in the world.

Q2 Planning - Submit a comprehensive plan that demonstrates how the brief, and its specification will be met against the timescales? This can be supported by a project plan or diagram format of a plan.

The purpose of this project is to update the MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum and to review and enhance the existing suite of genomics resources/interventions across undergraduate curricula and those provided for the NHS workforce. To achieve this, it will be necessary to understand the current gaps in provision by auditing pre-existing resources and courses (both NHSE-provided and HEI-provided). The outcomes of this work will be aligned with ongoing work by teams within the Genomics Education Programme on a “virtual campus”.

We will front load the capacity of the personnel on the team to prioritise the curriculum review and gap analysis in the early months of the project. The team leader will be seconded to NHSE for 0.4FTE for 12 months (initially). A senior pedagogical academic will be seconded for 0.4FTE for the first two months when the major curriculum work will be conducted. They will then reduce their time to 0.2FTE for a further 10 months. The third member of the team will be a Genomics Counsellor who will be seconded for 0.4FTE for 12 months. The fourth member of the team will be a Clinical Scientist who will be seconded for 0.1FTE for 12 months.

Following a kick-off meeting with appropriate members of NHSE, the SGUL team will meet weekly via MS Teams/Zoom. It is proposed that the team will meet (virtually) fortnightly with key personnel at NHSE to check progress against key milestones and discuss any arising issues. Monthly short progress reports will be submitted. The team leader will attend meetings in person as required. An end of project meeting will be scheduled to ensure key objectives have been met and to discuss possible next steps.

We intend to seek appropriate ethics approval for the proposed scheme of work so that we can disseminate outcomes via peer-reviewed publications, in agreement with NHSE. There is currently a lack of publication relating to genomics education and we would seek to address this.

We have summarised the project plan below as a series of temporally overlapping stages.

Stage 1: Comprehensive review of the MSc curriculum framework (Months 1-2) Objectives

- Determine the ongoing programme currency in relation to the advances in the field of genomic medicine.
- Horizon-scanning, analysis and prioritisation of sector and research updates to identify key areas in genomic healthcare practice missing from the existing MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum.
- Determine the appropriateness of stated learning outcomes in terms of level and type of expected performance of knowledge and understanding.
- Identify current curriculum bottlenecks informed by the issues as outlined by Nightingale et al. (2023) and the Genomics Education Programme 'Masters Framework Refresh' document.

Methods

- Evaluate key findings from the "Masters in Genomic Medicine evaluation report" by Nightingale et al (2023) to provide a framework for the redevelopment of the overall MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum.
- Evaluate the Master's framework refresh (as shared at the meeting on the 13th November 2023, courtesy of the Genomics Education Programme) to understand the key modifications and additions that need to be incorporated into new curricula.
- Establish genomic content expert groups and protocol for horizon scanning and systematic rating of relative importance of policies, research, and trends for the current curriculum.
- Undertake curriculum mapping, a well-developed method in healthcare curriculum design, review, and refresh, integrated with the Transforming the Experience of Students through Assessment (TESTA) process. TESTA enables the auditing of the assessment environment (assessment patterns, load, and the balance between formative and summative assessment) with the aim to inform programme level assessment design. Data sources for mapping will include the current framework syllabus (declared curriculum), sampled teaching and assessment materials from current HEI providers and data validation via focus groups with curriculum coordinators and teachers (taught curriculum).
- As an outcome of curriculum mapping, evidence-based analysis of:
 - the relationship between module-to-programme and module-to-module learning outcomes for the purposes of gap
 - analysis and identification of overlap.
 - the relationship between learning outcomes and assessment at module and programme level.
 - content sequencing, gaps and overlap through core and optional module pathways, the assessment pattern, load, formative and summative balance and redundancies.

Stage 2: Curriculum redesign (Months 2-4).

Objectives

- Update programme aims and learning outcomes.
- Update module learning outcomes, aims and indicative content.
- Produce a proposal for the revision of the assessment strategy.
- Develop a new module entitled “Variant Interpretation and Understanding Bioinformatics Pipelines”.
- Design a set of learning outcomes applicable to all clinical modules.
- Design an effective online interprofessional learning plan.

Methods

- Programme and module aim, learning outcomes, indicative content revisions and revised assessment strategy will be based on the analysis from Stage 1.
- Identify the needs of the NHS workforce with respect to variant interpretation via a survey of NHS staff current enrolled as students on the Genomic Medicine programme at SGUL (jointly taught with King’s College London).
- Evaluate output of survey to design a new module entitled “Variant Interpretation and Understanding Bioinformatics Pipelines” to address the need for accessible content relevant to the majority of NHS practitioners. This will focus on the practical application of variant interpretation.
- Evaluate learning outcomes for pre-existing SGUL clinical modules and redesign learning outcomes such that they can be applied across a suite of specific clinical modules. As part of our programme delivery at SGUL, we offer a specialist module in Cardiovascular Genetics and Genomics. We have also recently designed a new specialist module Genomics of Neurological Diseases which will run for the first time in 2024-25. A key element of the new MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum is the development of a range of clinical modules to be offered by specific HEIs for all students. We will produce a set of generic learning outcomes suitable for all these modules.
- Define the professional background of students on the Genomic Medicine programme. The Nightingale et al (2023) report contains summary information relating to profession. As part of our annual monitoring of our delivery of the MSc at SGUL, we have already performed some similar analysis at a slightly more granular level.
- Develop a range of recommendations for interprofessional learning based on professional backgrounds.
- Draft revised curriculum proposal and supporting justifying rationale to share with the National Genomics Education Programme team for discussion and approval.

Stage 3: Gap analysis (Months 1-5)

Objectives

- Identify the key stakeholders and learner cohorts.
- Determine educational and training needs of specific stakeholders/learner cohorts.
- Establish which needs are not being met.
- Identify the barriers to engagement with existing interventions.

Methods

- Audit of currently available resources/interventions (including those provided by NHSE National Genomics Education and HEIs).
- Design brief survey to be sent out by email to all clinical and scientific NHS staff.
- Design brief survey to be sent out to all students at SGUL. SGUL students are the ideal audience as these are students in healthcare-related subjects.
- Conduct semi-structured online interviews of proportion of email survey respondents.

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis of surveys and interviews.
- Stage 4: Review of undergraduate curricula (Months 4-7).
- Objectives
- Identify key areas in genomic healthcare practice missing from the existing healthcare science and allied healthcare undergraduate and pre-registration curricula.
- Produce a set of recommendations for each undergraduate and pre-registration programme at SGUL regarding genomics content in curriculum.

Methods

- Audit genomics content in overall programme learning outcomes for BSc Biomedical Science, BSc Clinical Pharmacology, MBBS Medicine, BSc Diagnostic Radiography, BSc Healthcare Science, BSc/MSc Occupational Therapy, BSc Paramedic Science, BSc/MSc Physiotherapy, BSc Radiotherapy and Oncology, Masters in Physician Associate Studies.
- Perform literature review of genomics education for healthcare professionals to provide evidence-base for proposals.
- Focus groups with course teams to develop an understanding of professional learning needs with respect to genomics and consensus of core knowledge and skills for healthcare professionals.
- Develop a set of template sessions with learning outcomes for each programme, as required.
- Produce a report for each course to be shared at a national and local level.
- Stage 5: Design and produce new resources based on survey and interviews targeting, most likely, primary healthcare professional and midwives (exact target audience depends on gap analysis results) (Months 6-8).

Objectives

- Produce a range of resources to best address the needs of targeted learners.
- Audit success of resource at point of engagement.

Methods

- Analyse results of stage 3 to design and produce appropriate resources.
- Design an evaluation survey for users of resources to assess the impact. •
- Stage 6: Iterative evaluation, redesign and development of new resources depending on impact of resources/interventions (Months 8-12).
- This is an ongoing project for which key objectives and activities can only be designed for the first six stages of the project. The output and impact of many of the tasks listed will dictate the activities of the later stages of the project.

Q3 Capability & Knowledge - Provide evidence of the capability of the clinical expertise and knowledge required to act as a subject matter expert in the areas outlined above.

SGUL have been a key provider of genomics education, training and upskilling for the NHS workforce for nearly a decade. Since 2015, we have been a preferred provider of the MSc Genomic Medicine, competing successfully in three open bids for the contract with NHS England (previously Health Education England). Prior to this, we developed the Postgraduate Certificate Interpretation and Clinical Application of Genomic Data, a bespoke national programme for trainee Clinical Geneticists. We have institutional expertise in e-learning, having so far developed nine massive online open courses (MOOCs) in conjunction with FutureLearn that address aspects of genomics in healthcare for learners from varied backgrounds including genomics specialists, wider healthcare professional and the public. Internally, members of the Medicine course team have completely redesigned the genomics teaching within the undergraduate and graduate medicine courses to ensure that the new generation of doctors are armed with greater genomics knowledge regardless of final speciality.

Our proposed team combine the best of the genomics and pedagogical knowledge at SGUL from both an academic and clinical standpoint (see Figure 1). Dr Kate Everett is a Reader in Human Genetics who has 20 years of experience as a genomics researcher and educator. From 2015 until 2021, she was the Course Director of the MSc Genomic Medicine, having responsibility for the initial design and validation of the programme, periodic review and re-validation. The MSc Genomic Medicine at SGUL is jointly taught with King's College London so we are experienced in sharing educational responsibility as will be required by the sharing of specialist modules. Since 2021, she has been the Deputy Head of the Graduate School with oversight of all the taught postgraduate programmes at SGUL. This includes oversight of programmes that allow recognition of prior learning both as purely credit-bearing and with associated marks. She is therefore well-placed to help support this as part of the new MSc Genomic Medicine structure. With respect to assessment, Dr Everett was part of a recent Task and Finish Group at SGUL looking at generative AI in assessment. Institutional guidelines for students and staff have been developed as part of this. Furthermore, she received internal funding for a Student-Staff Project Grant to redesign specific assessments in light of the availability of generative AI tools and the need for authentic assessment, including one on the Genomic Medicine programme. This has allowed her to incorporate the views of students in assessment design, something which can be carried forward into this project.

Dr Saranne Weller is a Reader in Higher Education Practice and Development in the Centre for Innovation and Development in Education at SGUL. She has had a 21-year career as an academic developer and researcher in higher education pedagogy and is a Senior Fellow of Advance HE. She has extensive experience of working with the QAA Framework for Higher Education Qualifications in the monitoring of academic standards through five external examinerships as well as an external curriculum consultant for validation and periodic review. Institutionally, she is a member of the Quality Assurance and Enhancement Committee, Curriculum Advisory Group, and undergraduate and postgraduate course monitoring committees. She also supports course teams in curriculum development for validation and acts as chair or member of institutional scrutiny and validation panels. Dr Weller recently co-led the SGUL Teaching Excellence Framework submission for which we received a Silver Award.

Beth Coad is a Principal Genomics Counsellor in the department of Clinical Genetics at St George's Hospital Trust. She contributes significantly to genomics teaching in undergraduate and graduate medicine as an SGUL Honorary clinical lecturer. She has completed a PGCert in Medical education in 2022 and is Senior Fellow of Advance HE. Throughout her genomic counselling career Beth has championed the importance of genomic education in all healthcare specialities providing regular training to colleagues across disciplines. She is also involved locally in training for the genomics specialist workforce, including supervision of trainee genetic counsellors and genetics specialist registrars. Nationally she was a member of the GTAC genomic counselling scoping working group and sits as an equality, diversity, and inclusion (ED&I) representative on the GTAC steering group. She has co-led the Introduction to Counselling Skills in Genomics module on the MSc Genomic Medicine programme since 2019. Beth specialises in delivering online genomics learning, having developed two MOOCs in genomic variant interpretation. She has also conducted, and published research to evaluate these interventions and is currently working with Dr Everett to develop a fully online version of the PgCert Genomic Medicine. Beth's patient facing role means she can provide the clinical knowledge and understand the skills needed to provide best practice care. Her clinical role also gives her a clear understanding of the education challenges faced everyday by genomics services and provides connections to various professional groups within the genomics workforce. Beth is passionate about ED&I in genomics education, serving as the association of genetic nurses and counsellors (AGNC) education lead for ED&I, facilitating cultural competency education for the national genomics workforce. Within the ED&I sphere her specialist interest is ensuring inclusive practice for members of the LGBTQIA+ community, co-leading UK transformation projects supporting trans and gender diverse patients in genomics.

Dr Beth Frugtiet completed a PhD in Cancer Biology and Wound Healing before working as a medical writer in a health economics company. She trained as a Clinical Scientist in the All Wales Medical Genomics Service (AWMGS) before moving to St George's Hospital Trust in 2022. She has always had an interest in training and education. In 2021, she developed and delivered national training virtually for STP competency 10 as part of special Covid-19 adjustments to account for difficulties with face-to-face training. She has been involved in teaching and facilitating on a number of MOOCs as well as on undergraduate and postgraduate courses. Dr Frugtiet is also a member of the Cancer Variant Interpretation Group UK (CanVIG-UK) steering and advisory group. She is regularly involved in training and supervising colleagues and STP students on a day-to-day basis. Dr Frugtiet can provide a vital perspective from the scientists' view, especially given the difficulty training and retaining enough scientists to keep up with the growing workload in diagnostics.

Within the team, we have many years of experience delivering education and training at all levels – undergraduate, postgraduate, specialist and more generalised. We are uniquely positioned at SGUL to focus purely on medicine, allied healthcare, and healthcare science degrees at undergraduate and postgraduate level. We therefore have oversight of the learning journey from undergraduate to specialist postgraduate training, to identify where there are gaps in education and training and to make appropriate recommendations for development of new resources to fill those gaps. It will be important to understand the career of different groups of healthcare practitioners, and requirements of the relevant Professional, Statutory and Regulatory bodies, to ensure that existing and new resources offered under the auspices of the Genomics Education Programme dovetail with university provision such that they can continue to learn appropriately as their careers develop.

We also have significant experience of educating students who are working full-time alongside their education (i.e. on the Genomic Medicine course, the Advanced Clinical Practice programme, the PGCert ICAG and the PgCert Healthcare and Biomedical Education). We can use our experience of such students to best inform development, piloting and evaluation of new resources/interventions.

As a team, we have been involved in the delivery of online learning across a breadth of modalities. We are experienced in facilitating flexible online learning for healthcare professional including MOOCs, just-in-time genomics resources (GeNotes), as well as virtual webinars and tutorials. The Covid-19 pandemic necessitated a speedy transition from blended learning to wholly remote learning. All members of the team were deeply involved in making this transition a success, across undergraduate programmes such as Biomedical Science and Medicine and the suite of postgraduate programmes. Post-pandemic we have reflected on this experience and retained positive elements where they enhance the learning experience.

Dr Everett will lead the team as project manager with Dr Weller working alongside her with a focus on the MSc Genomic Medicine curriculum. Beth Coad and Dr Beth Frugtniet will work with Dr Everett to develop resources beyond that of the MSc. As a team we are experienced in both quantitative and qualitative research. Together we form an expert team to meet the needs of this tender integrating academic rigour into the interventions/resources.

Q4 Social Value Can you provide details of how genomics and specifically this piece of work will improve the health and wellbeing of patients and their families?

The purpose of this project is to improve the knowledge, understanding and confidence in genomics for practitioners across the NHS. In turn, this will positively impact the health and wellbeing of patients and their families in several ways.

Personalized Medicine: By understanding genomics, healthcare providers can tailor treatments and medications to the individual, improving effectiveness and reducing side effects. In the area of pharmacogenomics advances facilitate a greater understanding of individuals responses to drugs, from understanding VKORC1 SNPs impact on optimal warfarin dosage to avoiding life threatening reactions to Abacavir in HIV patients with specific HLA-B variants. Beyond the germline, an understanding of the somatic genome of cancer also allows for targeted treatments, such as the use of PARP-inhibitors in BRCA deficient ovarian cancers.

Enhanced screening and chemoprevention opportunities: Improved awareness of familial risks of genomic conditions can improve identification of those at risk. In the case of cancer susceptibility genes, wider awareness amongst healthcare professionals can increase the number of patients accessing family history assessment and genomic testing. This highlights individuals who could benefit from enhanced cancer screening, or chemoprevention options such as Aspirin in Lynch Syndrome or Tamoxifen in those at risk of familial breast cancer.

Enhanced Prenatal and Newborn Screening: Genomic technology allows for comprehensive prenatal and newborn screening, which can identify genetic disorders early in life, leading to enhanced reproductive options, timely interventions and better management of the condition. It is imperative all professionals involved in the healthcare of pregnant people, are armed with sufficient genomic competence to support their patient appropriately. There are key stages throughout pregnancy and the newborn period at which genomics should be considered and discussed with the patient (e.g. the booking appointment, antenatal care, birth, and neonatal care) to facilitate timely interventions. With the introduction of non-invasive prenatal screening (NIPT) there is an increased need for midwives to be able to understand and communicate the purpose, risks and benefits of these tests to prospective parents. This will become only more important during the pilot Newborn Genome Screening Programme and potential roll-out of this across England.

Improved Detection in Primary Care: Awareness of disorders with a genetic basis (or predisposition) remains inconsistent across primary care. This can result in delayed diagnosis because patients are not referred for further investigation. By reducing the time taken for diagnosis, patients can benefit early from appropriate interventions, lifestyle adjustments and monitoring to prevent or mitigate the impact of these diseases. Increasingly some routine genomic testing, such as cystic fibrosis carrier testing, can be facilitated in the primary care setting, however lack of genomics education has resulted in a barrier to this testing.

Support and Health management for families with genomic conditions: Research with patients affected by genomic conditions frequently highlight the lack of awareness of genomics from healthcare professionals and how this is a barrier to them accessing appropriate care. Improving genomic literacy amongst healthcare professionals will facilitate improved support for families with complex conditions and remove barriers to life saving health management options.

Facilitation of family communication about genomics: The implications of hereditary conditions extend beyond the patient, and often the familial aspects of genomic conditions can be overlooked when healthcare providers lack genomic knowledge. Increasing understanding across the NHS workforce can support increased awareness of the importance of family communication in genomic conditions, thus empowering families to make informed decisions about their health.

Early and Accurate Diagnosis: Many rare disease patients face a challenging diagnostic odyssey waiting years to understand a cause for their condition. Genomics can help in accurately diagnosing conditions, often greatly reducing time for diagnosis. This can benefit patients in numerous ways, through more effective treatment plans and reducing the trial-and-error approach in medication to allowing patients to find a community of others with the same or similar genetic conditions.

Better Understanding of Disease Pathogenesis: Understanding the genetic factors in disease can lead to new insights into disease mechanisms potentially leading to the development of novel treatments and therapies or preventions, such as vaccines targeted to the viral genome.

Public Health Strategies: Genomic data can inform public health decisions and strategies, leading to better management of infectious diseases, understanding of population health trends, and tailored public health interventions.

Ethical and Social Implications: Educating healthcare professionals about genomics includes addressing the ethical, legal, and social implications of genetic information, ensuring responsible use of this data.

Enhanced Research and Collaboration: A better understanding of genomics fosters more effective collaboration between researchers, clinicians, and other healthcare professionals, leading to advances in medical research and healthcare delivery.

Incorporating genomics into healthcare not only improves patient outcomes but also contributes to the overall advancement of medical science and healthcare delivery. We will specifically consider those disproportionately impacted by healthcare challenges such as cancer, cardiovascular disease and obesity (often from deprived areas and minority backgrounds). It will be important to create educational and training material representing a wide range of experiences and voices. As part of our review of the current resources, we will place ED&I at the forefront of our consideration, alongside the patient and family voice, to ensure fair representation.

Q5 Social Value - How will/does your organisation work to help others? For example, local charities, local community groups, local resident engagement, supporting local culture and heritage

SGUL has a strong record with respect to public and civic engagement. The Spotlight on Science programme is a public talk series hosting events in the local area during which scientists and clinicians present their work in an accessible way. Talks have covered Covid-19, tuberculosis, biomedicines, and study drugs. Members of staff also take part in the national Pint of Science scheme in which researchers discuss their research in a local pub. PhD students organise this event and contribute talks. The university has also worked with local Brownies, Guides and Rangers from the area in STEM events encouraging girls to experience STEM activities. The Museum of Human Diseases has been funded to connect with local community groups to share the stories of deadly diseases from the past and explore their relevance to the lives of people today.

As a university, we are committed to widening participation with respect to access to higher education for all, regardless of circumstance and background. The Widening Participation team deliver a range of activities to both under-16 and over-16 pupils. For example, the Primary Practice scheme works with local schools with high numbers of pupils from under-represented backgrounds, as well as high numbers of pupils receiving free school meals. It aims to introduce year 6 pupils to the world of medicine and healthcare and help them develop skills required for a successful transition to secondary school.

Science stars is one of SGULs flagship widening participation initiatives. Established in 2018, Science Stars aims to boost local pupils GCSE grades whilst also encouraging a love for science. This unique programme was first piloted this academic year and initial results from the pupils Double Science GCSE mock exams have shown significant improvements.

Insight to Healthcare is new programme for this academic year, building on the success of the Insight to General Practice Programme which has previously run. This newly modelling programme is for students in Year 12 considering one of the following career pathways: Paramedicine, Physiotherapy or Medicine. The purpose of this expansion is to better reflect the breadth of healthcare careers available at SGUL and support a wider, and more diverse range of young people.

Within the MSc Genomic Medicine, students have carried out projects to consider the needs of those living within the boroughs surrounding the university, including assessing language requirements of patients at a local GP surgery and providing targeted translated patient information sheets facilitating access to online family history questionnaires.

Through our MOOC offerings with the Future Learn platform SGUL has supported a group of junior doctors and healthcare professionals to produce of a one-of-a-kind MOOC in Transgender Healthcare, allowing NHS clinicians to have free access to education to better understand the unique healthcare needs of the transgender and gender diverse community.

As part of this project, we would like work with the local community to help inform them about genomics as relevant to them. For example, we could use our existing connections with local schools to provide workshops. We would also look to liaise with a group such as the Balham and Tooting Community Association (BATCA), a network of organisations who are committed to bringing the community together. Their members include faith bodies, local businesses, and may local voluntary organisations. The borough of Wandsworth is ethnically diverse, with a significant proportion of the community being Somali and Pakistani. It is important to engage with these communities who may traditionally not access healthcare services including genomic healthcare.

Engaging with existing patient groups, CanGene CanVar (for example), access these patient/family groups to see what they wished their healthcare workers knew.

As part of our ‘Open spaces’ portfolio of extracurricular learning available to our students, SGUL is currently developing a module in ‘Culture, Community and Co-creativity” which will provide our students with opportunities to work with people from a range of local community partners.

SGUL leads the Capacity Building theme of the NIHR Applied Research Collaboration South London, which delivers a range of training opportunities available to patients, service users, carers and community organisations. These include research awareness training and knowledge exchange events. Through the Capacity building theme of the NIHR ARC South London we also collaborate with Lambeth Council for their NIHR Health Determinants Research Collaboration to support their development of research capability in order to help inform their implementation of evidence to reduce inequalities in health and wellbeing in the community.

 - 1.9.2 any act or omission of the Supplier or Sub-contractor in relation to its obligations under regulation 13 of TUPE, or in respect of an award of compensation under regulation 15 of TUPE except to the extent that the liability arises from the Authority's failure to comply with regulation 13 of TUPE;

- 1.10 If any person who is an employee of the Authority who is not a Transferring Employee claims or it is determined that their contract of employment has been transferred from the Authority to the Supplier or any Sub-contractor pursuant to TUPE, or claims that their employment would have so transferred had they not resigned:

- 1.6.2 any act or omission of the Supplier or a Sub-contractor in relation to its obligations under regulation 13 of TUPE, or in respect of an award of compensation under regulation 15 of TUPE except to the extent that the liability arises from the Third Party's failure to comply with regulation 13 of TUPE;

Part D Provisions regarding pensions (only applicable to the Contract if this box is checked or Clause 1.2.4 of Part A of this Schedule 7 applies)

Broadly comparable pension benefits (Clause 1.4 of this Part D of this Schedule 7 only applies to the Contract if this box is checked or 1.2.4 of Part A of this Schedule 7 applies. For the avoidance of doubt, where this box is not checked, but the Part D box above is checked all of the provisions of this Part D of this Schedule 7 shall apply to this Contract except Clause 1.4 of this Part D of this Schedule 7)

1 Pension protection for Eligible Employees

1.1 General

1.1.1 The Supplier shall procure that, if relevant, each of its Sub-contractors shall comply with the provisions in this Schedule 7 as if references to the Supplier were to the Sub-contractor.

1.2 Membership of the NHS Pension Scheme

1.2.1 In accordance with Fair Deal for Staff Pensions, the Supplier to which the employment of any Eligible Employee compulsorily transfers as a result of the award of this Contract, if not an NHS Body or other employer which participates automatically in the NHS Pension Scheme, shall on or before the Employee Transfer Date, each secure a Direction Letter to enable the Eligible Employees to retain either continuous active membership of or eligibility for, the NHS Pension Scheme, or as appropriate rejoin or secure eligibility for the NHS Pension Scheme for so long as they remain employed in connection with the delivery of the Services under this Contract.

1.2.2 The Supplier must supply to the Authority a complete copy of the Direction Letter as soon as reasonably practicable after the Employee Transfer Date.

1.2.3 The Supplier shall comply with the terms of the Direction Letter (including any terms which change as a result of changes in Law) for so long as it remains bound by the terms of the Direction Letter.

1.2.4 Where any Staff (including any Transferred Staff) omitted from the Direction Letter supplied in accordance with Part D of this Schedule 7 is subsequently found to be an Eligible Employee, the Supplier (or its Sub-contractor if relevant) will ensure that that person is treated as an Eligible Employee from the Employee Transfer Date so that their Pension Benefits and Premature Retirement Rights are not adversely affected.

1.2.5 The Supplier shall ensure that all data relating to the Eligible Employees and the NHS Pension Scheme is up to date and is provided to the Authority as requested from time to time.

1.3 Contributions payable

1.3.1 The Supplier shall pay to the NHS Pension Scheme all such amounts as are due under the Direction Letter and shall deduct and pay to the NHS Pension Scheme such employee contributions as are required by the NHS Pension Scheme.

1.3.2 Where during the Term the standard employer contribution rate which the Supplier is required to pay into the NHS Pension Scheme pursuant to the terms of its Direction Letter is increased to a rate which is over and above the rate which was applicable to the Supplier as at the date of this Contract and such rate increase results in an increased cost to the Supplier overall in relation to the provision of the Services (“Cost Increase”), the Supplier shall (subject to Clause 1.3.3 of Part D of this Schedule 7 and the provision of supporting information) be entitled to recharge a sum equal to the Cost Increase to the Authority. The Supplier shall only be entitled to recharge any Cost Increase to the Authority pursuant to this Clause 1.3.2 of Part D of this Schedule 7 in circumstances where the Cost Increase arises solely as a direct result of a general increase in the employer contribution rate applicable to all employers participating in the NHS Pension Scheme and not in circumstances where the employer contribution rate applicable to the Supplier is increased for any other reason, including as a result of any acts or omissions of the Supplier which give rise to any costs or additional charges (including interest) being charged to the Supplier which are over and above the minimum employer contributions payable by an employer in the NHS Pension Scheme (including as a result of a failure by the Supplier to comply with the terms of its Direction Letter or to meet its obligations to the NHS Pension Scheme).

1.3.3 The Supplier must supply all such information as the Authority may reasonably request from time to time in order to support any claim made by the Supplier pursuant to Clause 1.3.2 of Part D of this Schedule 7 in relation to a Cost Increase.

1.3.4 Where during the Term the standard employer contribution rate which the Supplier is required to pay in relation to the NHS Pension Scheme pursuant to the terms of its Direction Letter is decreased as part of a general reduction in the standard employer contribution rate applicable to all employers participating in the NHS Pension Scheme to a rate which is lower than that which was applicable as at the date of this Contract and such decrease results in a cost saving for the Supplier (a “Cost Saving”), the Authority shall be entitled to reduce the amounts payable to the Supplier under this Contract by an amount equal to the Cost Saving. The Authority shall be entitled to deduct any Cost Saving from sums otherwise payable by the Authority to the Supplier under this Contract.

1.4 Broadly Comparable Pension Benefits

1.4.1 If the Authority in its sole discretion agrees that the Supplier or Sub-contractor need not provide the Eligible Employees with access to the NHS Pension Scheme, the Supplier must ensure that, with effect from the Employee Transfer Date until the day before the Subsequent Transfer Date, the Eligible Employees are offered access to a scheme under which the Pension Benefits are Broadly Comparable to those provided under the NHS Pension Scheme.

1.4.2 The Supplier must supply to the Authority details of its Broadly Comparable scheme and provide a full copy of the valid certificate of Broad Comparability covering all Eligible Employees, as soon as it is able to do so and in any event no later than twenty eight (28) days before the Employee Transfer Date.

1.5 Transfer Option where Broadly Comparable Pension Benefits are provided

1.5.1 As soon as reasonably practicable and in any event no later than twenty (20) Business Days after the Employee Transfer Date, the Supplier must provide the Eligible Employees with the Transfer Option, where a Third Party offered, or the Supplier offers, a Broadly Comparable scheme.

1.6 Calculation of Transfer Amount

- 1.6.1 The Authority shall use reasonable endeavours to procure that twenty (20) Business Days after the Transfer Option Deadline, the Transfer Amount is calculated by the Third Party's Actuary or the Authority's Actuary (as appropriate) on the following basis and notified to the Supplier along with any appropriate underlying methodology.
- 1.6.2 If the Third Party offers a Broadly Comparable scheme to Eligible Employees:
- (i) the part of the Transfer Amount which relates to benefits accrued in that Broadly Comparable scheme other than those in Clause (ii) of Part D of this Schedule 7 below must be aligned to the funding requirements of that scheme; and
 - (ii) the part of the Transfer Amount which relates to benefits accrued in the NHS Pension Scheme (having been previously bulk transferred into the Third Party's Broadly Comparable scheme), must be aligned to whichever of:
 - (A) the funding requirements of the Third Party's Broadly Comparable scheme; or
 - (B) the principles under which the Third Party's Broadly Comparable scheme received a bulk transfer payment from the NHS Pension Scheme (together with any shortfall payment), gives the higher figure, provided that where the principles require the assumptions to be determined as at a particular date, that date shall be the Employee Transfer Date.
- 1.6.3 In the case of Transferring Employees or any Third Party Employees who have access to the NHS Pension Scheme (and who are classed as Eligible Employees), the Transfer Amount shall be calculated by the NHS Pension Scheme's Actuary on the basis applicable for bulk transfer terms from the NHS Pension Scheme set by the Department of Health from time to time.
- 1.6.4 Each Party shall promptly provide to the Actuary calculating or verifying the Transfer Amount any documentation and information which that Actuary may reasonably require.

1.7 Payment of Transfer Amount

Subject to:

- 1.7.1 the period for acceptance of the Transfer Option having expired; and
- 1.7.2 the Supplier having provided the trustees or managers of the Third Party's pension scheme (or NHS Pensions, as appropriate) with completed and signed forms of consent in a form acceptable to the Third Party's pension scheme (or NHS Pensions) from each Eligible Employee in respect of the Transfer Option; and
- 1.7.3 the calculation of the Transfer Amount in accordance with Clause 1.6 of Part D of this Schedule 7; and

- 1.7.4 the trustees or managers of the Supplier's (or any Sub-contractor's) Broadly Comparable scheme (or NHS Pensions, as appropriate) having confirmed in writing to the trustees or managers of the Third Party's pension scheme (or NHS Pensions, as appropriate) that they are ready, willing and able to receive the Transfer Amount and the bank details of where the Transfer Amount should be sent, and not having revoked that confirmation, the Authority will use reasonable endeavours to procure that the Third Party's pension scheme (or the NHS Pension Scheme, as appropriate) shall, on or before the Payment Date, transfer to the Supplier's Broadly Comparable scheme (or NHS Pension Scheme) the Transfer Amount in cash, together with any cash or other assets which are referable to additional voluntary contributions (if any) paid by the Eligible Employees which do not give rise to salary-related benefits.

1.8 Credit for Transfer Amount

- 1.8.1 Subject to prior receipt of the Transfer Amount, by the trustees or managers of the Supplier's Broadly Comparable scheme (or NHS Pensions, as appropriate), the Supplier must procure that year-for-year day-for-day service credits are granted in the Supplier's (Broadly Comparable scheme (or NHS Pension Scheme), or an actuarial equivalent agreed by the Authority's Actuary (and NHS Pension Scheme Actuary) in accordance with Fair Deal for Staff Pensions as a suitable reflection of the differences in benefit structure between the NHS Pension Scheme and the Supplier's pension scheme.
- 1.8.2 To the extent that the Transfer Amount is or shall be insufficient to provide benefits in the receiving scheme on the basis set out in Clause 1.8.1 above, the Supplier shall be liable to make a top-up payment into the receiving scheme such that benefits shall be provided by the receiving scheme on the basis set out in Clause 1.8.1 above.

1.9 Premature Retirement Rights

- 1.9.1 From the Employee Transfer Date until the day before the Subsequent Transfer Date, the Supplier must provide Premature Retirement Rights in respect of the Eligible Employees that are identical to the benefits they would have received had they remained employees of an NHS Body or other employer which participates automatically in the NHS Pension Scheme.

1.10 Breach and Cancellation of any Direction Letter(s) and Right of Set-Off

- 1.10.1 The Supplier agrees that it shall notify the Authority if it breaches the terms of the Direction Letter. The Supplier also agrees that the Authority is entitled to make arrangements with NHS Pensions for the Authority to be notified if the Supplier breaches the terms of this Direction Letter.
- 1.10.2 If the Authority is entitled to terminate this Contract pursuant to Clause 15.5.5 of Schedule 2, the Authority may in its sole discretion instead of exercising its right under Clause 15.5.5 of Schedule 2 permit the Supplier to offer Broadly Comparable Pension Benefits, on such terms as decided by the Authority.
- 1.10.3 If the Authority is notified by NHS Pensions of any NHS Pension Scheme Arrears, the Authority shall be entitled to deduct all or part of those arrears from any amount due to be paid by the Authority to the Supplier having given the Supplier five (5) Business Days' notice of its intention to do so, and to pay any sum deducted to NHS Pensions in full or partial settlement of the NHS Pension Scheme Arrears. This set-off right is in addition to and not instead of the Authority's right to terminate the Contract under Clause 15.5.5 of Schedule 2.

1.11 Compensation

1.11.1 If the Supplier is unable to provide the Eligible Employees with either:

- (i) membership of the NHS Pension Scheme (having used its best endeavours to secure a Direction Letter); or
- (ii) a Broadly Comparable scheme, the Authority may in its sole discretion permit the Supplier to compensate the Eligible Employees in a manner that is Broadly Comparable or equivalent in cash terms, the Supplier having consulted with a view to reaching agreement any recognised trade union or, in the absence of such body, the Eligible Employees. The Supplier must meet the costs of the Authority in determining whether the level of compensation offered is reasonable in the circumstances.

1.11.2 This flexibility for the Authority to allow compensation in place of Pension Benefits is in addition to and not instead of the Authority's right to terminate the Contract under Clause 15.5.5 of Schedule 2.

1.12 Supplier Indemnities Regarding Pension Benefits and Premature Retirement Rights

1.12.1 The Supplier must indemnify and keep indemnified the Authority and any Successor against all Losses arising out of any claim by any Eligible Employee that the provision of (or failure to provide) Pension Benefits and Premature Retirement Rights from the Employee Transfer Date, or the level of such benefit provided, constitutes a breach of his or her employment rights.

1.12.2 The Supplier must indemnify and keep indemnified the Authority, NHS Pensions and any Successor against all Losses arising out of the Supplier (or its Sub-contractor) allowing anyone who is not an Eligible Employee to join or claim membership of the NHS Pension Scheme at any time during the Term.

1.12.3 The Supplier must indemnify the Authority, NHS Pensions and any Successor against all Losses arising out of its breach of this Part D of this Schedule 7 or the terms of the Direction Letter.

1.13 Sub-contractors

1.13.1 If the Supplier enters or has at the Commencement Date entered into a Sub-contract for delivery of all or part of the Services it shall impose obligations on its Sub-contractor in the same terms as those imposed on the Supplier in relation to Pension Benefits and Premature Retirement Benefits by this Part D of this Schedule 7, including requiring that:

- (i) if the Supplier has secured a Direction Letter, the Sub-contractor also secures a Direction Letter in respect of the Eligible Employees for their future service with the Sub-contractor as a condition of being awarded the Sub-contract; or

- (ii) if the Supplier has offered the Eligible Employees access to a pension scheme under which the benefits are Broadly Comparable to those provided under the NHS Pension Scheme, the Sub-contractor either secures a Direction Letter in respect of the Eligible Employees or provides Eligible Employees with access to a scheme with Pension Benefits which are Broadly Comparable to those provided under the NHS Pension Scheme and in either case the option for Eligible Employees to transfer their accrued rights in the Supplier's pension scheme into the Sub-contractor's Broadly Comparable scheme (or where a Direction Letter is secured by the Sub-contractor, the NHS Pension Scheme) on the basis set out in Clause 1.8 of Part D of this Schedule 7, except that the Supplier or the Sub-contractor as agreed between them, must make up any shortfall in the transfer amount received from the Supplier's pension scheme.

1.14 Direct Enforceability by the Eligible Employees

1.14.1 Notwithstanding Clause 30.8 of Schedule 2, the provisions of this Part D of this Schedule 7 may be directly enforced by an Eligible Employee against the Supplier and the Parties agree that the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 shall apply to the extent necessary to ensure that any Eligible Employee shall have the right to enforce any obligation owed to him or her by the Supplier under this Part D of this Schedule 7 in his or her own right under section 1(1) of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

1.14.2 Further, the Supplier must ensure that the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 shall apply to any Sub-contract to the extent necessary to ensure that any Eligible Employee shall have the right to enforce any obligation owed to them by the Sub-contractor in his or her own right under section 1(1) of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

1.15 Pensions on Transfer of Employment on Exit

1.15.1 In the event of any termination or expiry or partial termination or expiry of this Contract which results in a transfer of the Eligible Employees, the Supplier must (and if offering a Broadly Comparable scheme, must use all reasonable efforts to procure that the trustees or managers of that pension scheme must):

- (i) not adversely affect pension rights accrued by the Eligible Employees in the period ending on the Subsequent Transfer Date;
- (ii) within thirty (30) Business Days of being requested to do so by the Authority or Successor, (or if the Successor is offering Eligible Employees access to the NHS Pension Scheme, by NHS Pensions), provide a transfer amount calculated in accordance with Clause 1.6 of this Part D of this Schedule 7; and
- (iii) do all acts and things, and provide all information and access to the Eligible Employees, as may in the reasonable opinion of the Authority be necessary or desirable and to enable the Authority and/or the Successor to achieve the objectives of Fair Deal for Staff Pensions.

Schedule 8

Expert Determination

1 Dispute Process

- 1.1 During any Dispute, including a Dispute as to the validity of the Contract, it is agreed that the Supplier shall continue its performance of the provisions of the Contract (unless the Authority requests in writing that the Supplier does not do so).
- 1.2 In the case of a Dispute the Supplier and the Authority shall make every reasonable effort to communicate and cooperate with each other with a view to resolving the Dispute and shall follow the procedure set out in this Schedule 8.
- 1.3 In the event of a Dispute either Party may serve a Dispute Notice on the other Party to commence formal resolution of the Dispute. The Dispute Notice shall set out:
 - 1.3.1 the material particulars of the Dispute; and
 - 1.3.2 the reasons why the Party serving the Dispute Notice believes the Dispute has arisen.
- 1.4 Following the service of a Dispute Notice the Parties shall first seek to resolve the Dispute by convening a meeting between the Authority's Contract Manager and the Supplier's Contract Manager (together the "Contract Managers").
 - 1.4.1 The meeting of the Contract Managers must take place within five (5) Business Days of the date of the Dispute Notice (the "Dispute Meeting").
 - 1.4.2 The Contract Managers shall be given ten (10) Business Days following the date of the Dispute Meeting to resolve the Dispute.
 - 1.4.3 The Contract Managers can agree to further meetings at levels 2 and/or 3, as referred to at Clause 5.1 of the Key Provisions in Schedule 1, in addition to the Dispute Meeting, but such meetings must be held within the ten (10) Business Day timetable set out in Clause 1.4.2 of this Schedule 8.
 - 1.4.4 If at any point it becomes clear that the timetable set out cannot be met or has passed, the Parties may (but shall be under no obligation to) agree in writing to extend the timetable. Any agreed extension to the timetable shall have the effect of delaying the start of the subsequent stages by the period agreed in the extension.
- 1.5 If the procedure set out in Clause 1.4 of this Schedule 8 has been exhausted and fails to resolve the Dispute either Party may request the Dispute be resolved by way of a binding expert determination (pursuant to Clause 1.6 of this Schedule 8). For the avoidance of doubt, the Expert shall determine all matters (including, without limitation, matters of contractual construction and interpretation) in connection with any Dispute referred to binding expert determination pursuant to Clause 1.6 of this Schedule 8.
- 1.6 Where the Dispute is referred to binding expert determination the following process will apply:
 - 1.6.1 The Party wishing to refer the Dispute to expert determination shall give notice in writing to the other Party informing it of its wish to refer the Dispute to expert determination and giving brief details of its position in the Dispute.
 - 1.6.2 The Parties shall attempt to agree upon a single expert (who must have no connection with the Dispute unless both Parties have consented in writing) (an "Expert"). For the avoidance of doubt, where the Dispute relates to contractual interpretation and construction, the Expert may be Queen's Counsel. In the event that the Parties fail to agree upon an Expert within five

(5) Business Days following the date of the notice referred to in Clause 1.6.1 of this Schedule 8 (or if the person agreed upon is unable or unwilling to act), the Parties agree that the Expert will be nominated and confirmed to be appointed by the Centre for Effective Dispute Resolution.

- 1.6.3 The Expert must be willing and able to complete the expert determination process within thirty (30) Business Days of the Date of Final Representations (as defined in Clause 1.6.5 of this Schedule 8).
- 1.6.4 The Expert shall act as an expert not as an arbitrator or legal advisor. There will be no formal hearing and the Expert shall regulate the procedure as he sees fit.
- 1.6.5 The Parties shall each have the right to make written representations to the Expert and will, with reasonable promptness, provide the Expert with such assistance and documents as the Expert reasonably requires for the purpose of reaching a decision. Such representations must be made within twenty eight (28) Business Days of the Expert being appointed, or fourteen (14) Business Days after the last documents requested by the Expert have been provided to the Expert, whichever is the later ("Date of Final Representations"). Any documents provided to the Expert and any correspondence to or from the Expert, including email exchanges, shall be copied to the other Party simultaneously.
- 1.6.6 The Expert shall have the power to open up, review and revise any certificate, opinion, requisition or notice and to determine all matters in Dispute (including his jurisdiction to determine matters that have been referred to him).
- 1.6.7 The Expert may take such advice and assistance from professional advisers or other third parties as he reasonably considers appropriate to enable him to reach a determination of the Dispute and may issue orders that one or both of the Parties are to pay such third party costs, stating the proportion. For the avoidance of doubt, where the Expert is not Queen's Counsel, and the Expert requires advice or assistance on matters of contractual interpretation and construction, the expert may take such advice and assistance from a third party Queen's Counsel of their choosing under this Clause 1.6.7 of this Schedule 8. The Parties will pay any such third party costs incurred pursuant to this Clause 1.6.7 of this Schedule 8 in such proportions as the Expert shall order. In the absence of such order such third party costs will be paid equally.
- 1.6.8 The Expert shall provide the Parties with a written determination of the Dispute (the "Expert's Decision") within thirty (30) Business Days of the Date of Final Representations, which shall, in the absence of fraud or manifest error, be final and binding on the Parties.
- 1.6.9 The Expert's Decision shall include reasons.
- 1.6.10 The Parties agree to implement the Expert's Decision within five (5) Business Days of the Expert's Decision being provided to them or as otherwise specified as part of the Expert's Decision.
- 1.6.11 The Parties agree that the Expert shall be entitled to proceed to give his binding determination should one or both Parties fail to act in accordance with the procedural timetable set out above.

- 1.6.12 The Parties will pay the Expert's costs in such proportions as the Expert shall determine. In the absence of such determination such costs will be shared equally.
- 1.6.13 The Parties agree to keep confidential all information arising out of or in connection with the expert determination, including details of the underlying Dispute, except where disclosure is required by Law.
- 1.7 Nothing in this Contract shall prevent:
 - 1.7.1 the Authority taking action in any court in relation to any death or personal injury arising or allegedly arising in connection with the provision of the Services; or
