Call-Off Contract reference	DN553151 - Nurse Preregistration - Solutionpath
Call-Off Contract title	DN553151 - Nurse Preregistration - Solutionpath
Call-Off Contract description	Health Education England (HEE) and the Supplier wish to collaborate to support the recruitment and retention of 50 thousand new nurses. HEE will fund the mobilisation and set-up, whilst the Supplier will fund the user licenses for the first year. Improving nursing programme attrition is a significant part of the government manifesto to get 50k extra nurses by March 24. We have seen record numbers of student starters to undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, but we need to see them through the programme and into the workplace. The increase in student numbers alone puts pressure on systems which could reduce the quality of the programme, leading to poor student experience and hence increase attrition. In addition, the pandemic adds further risk of attrition increasing due to a number of factors – e.g. sickness/changes in personal circumstances, placement pressure etc. Beyond the Nursing 50K, Nursing numbers are being seen as a priority by the Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC). Benefits Ultimately these all help manage student attrition which helps HEE with the N50k ask-see above.

	- Provides Early warning indicator of students at risk of leaving nursing programmes – Allowing timely interventions to take place to aid in keeping students on the programme (where that is the right thing). Key benefits for the HEIs - Real time data- allowing potential problems to be identified early – before it's too late to take action. - Automatically pulls all the data together in one place, - it's at your fingertips - viewable by cohort, class, faculty, individual student level. - Time saved on not having to pull the data together is time that can be used on carrying out interventions to support students. - Encourages HEIs to think about the interventions they use and their value. Key benefits for the students - Encourages a culture with their HEI of regular timely engagement. - Raises awareness of support available and how to get it. - Gets students into the mind set of realising when they may be getting into a problem situation and thinking about how they can help themselves through it. - Linked to the above – helps build resilience not just during their training but into their first role and beyond. Other benefits for HEE - Encourages a productive working relationship with HEIs. - By supporting 10 HEIs, helps spread the message to other HEIs about the value of the StREAM product. Measures - Nursing programme Attrition rates (via HEE SDC) – comparison over time and against HEIs not using the product. - Student feedback.

Expiry date	1st January 2023 The Services will terminate either on the 1 st January 2023 or 12 months from the point the System is signed off into a live production environment by the final HEI – which ever is sooner. The 12 months licensing period will run separately for each HEI and this Contract will end 12 months from the point the last HEI signs off the Services into a live production environment.
