1) Scope of Services

Overarching Call-Off Contract - Accessibility Audit Requirements

What NHS Digital need:

NHS Digital requires a specialist supplier to support its projects to achieve compliance with Accessibility Regulations and ensure they are as accessible to as many of its users as possible.

Primary responsibility will be to conduct accessibility audits of NHS Digital's digital products and services to help it ensure it meets (Web Content Accessibility Guidelines) WCAG 2.1 AA standards and work with commonly used assistive technologies.

Secondary responsibility would be to provide some additional support focussed on running a series of accessibility clinics and workshops with teams across NHS Digital focussed on upskilling and building capability.

NHS Digital require from the Supplier:

- Prior to the commencement of an audit, the supplier would be expected to confirm the list of browsers and devices used for the testing, including, where appropriate, what automated testing will be done and with what tool(s).
- Tested with all of GDS service standard listed access technologies and browsers. GOV.UK: Testing with assistive technologies
- Audit reports will be reviewed to ensure content is accurate, contains no errors and can be understood before sharing with delivery teams.

- Standards and quality of issues identified will be technically benchmarked against WCAG 2.1 AA success criteria and alignment with the NHS.UK design system.
- Include as standard a Project briefing session. An initial brief to agree the scope of the audit. This could be a written brief or could take the form of a briefing meeting. The briefing meeting will constitute a kick off and understanding session that involves a demo of the site, app, service or prototype from the relevant team and a discussion to confirm the scope of the audit, audience, priorities and areas of focus, and the devices, browsers and technologies to be used in the audit. This helps both parties to ensure there is a common understanding of the requirement and approach, and also enables an introduction to team members, agree the schedule, delivery mechanisms and reporting.
- NHS Digital would then require the supplier to manually audit specified user journeys from the product or service against all 50 level A and AA success criteria from WCAG 2.1, providing a detailed, robust evaluation of each element. This would include manual testing of the UI elements that cannot be adequately tested by automated routines, to check screen reader field tabbing and cognitive load analysis, etc.
- Where appropriate, the supplier is expected to consider any insights or outputs that have come from research or user testing on the product (if this has been conducted) that has any accessibility or inclusive design implications.
- Where necessary, they should also confirm the number of people with access needs recruited for the purposes of the audit testing; specifying those users with access needs that are using assistive technologies and those that do not. As a general rule, NHS Digital would be looking to cover the following impairments: Visual (e.g. blind, low vision, colour blind); Auditory (e.g. mild to severe hearing loss); Physical (e.g. arthritis, cerebral palsy); Speech (e.g. dyspraxia, stutters); Cognitive (Dyslexia, learning disabilities, autism, ADHD) and Neurological (Parkinson's, tremors).
- Where necessary, NHS Digital would require the audit to include automated testing of the product User Interface (UI) using checkers and software such as WAVE and AXE (note: NHS.UK integrating AXE within our testing suite and there are a number of suitable alternatives) to check colour contrasts, alt text and other common accessibility issues, and to give us an indication of where issues lie.
- The supplier is to deliver an audit report outlining the accessibility barriers found and recommendations on how to remove them, providing an action plan of how to meet level AA against WCAG 2.1. Everything should be described in straightforward language and illustrate each point with high-quality screenshots. The report should include tailored code and content examples, where appropriate.
- Ideally, a project review session to run through and analyse report so that recommendations are fully understood and viable, and a workshop where prioritisation of issues explained and agreed.
- Provision for a re-test to ensure the fixes made have removed accessibility barriers identified.
- Provision to help the team with drafting or any iterations of their accessibility statements to ensure compliance with the regulations.
- NHS Digital would expect the supplier to provide evidence of suitable skills and experience and details of how they would plan and structure workshops for individual teams and professions either in the dedicated accessibility lab, the Leeds or London offices or online for (a) accessibility testing on a range of assistive technologies, (b) using the simulators to learn more about the nature of a range of disabilities and the challenges users with access needs have when using online products and services or (c) tailored to their work, content or code.
- NHS Digital are looking for support to help facilitate teams in our new accessibility lab. To cover:

- accessibility testing as a service: working remotely, or on site with our teams and in the new lab, help to test our design concepts, code, design patterns, content and products across devices, browsers and access technologies.
- support on automated testing tools; tips on manual accessibility tasks such as tab indexing, heading structure and Alternative text, use of screen-readers and help to build and test accessible forms.
- A dedicated Account Director and Manager for NHS Digital teams to contact.

Essential skills and experience for this call off.

- NHS Digital would expect the supplier to be passionate about accessibility and experienced in testing using WCAG assessments and using assistive technologies and have a high level of proficiency required to upskill and support NHS Digital staff as required.
- Experience of conducting accessibility audits of software for the public sector and optionally for the private sector;
- Experience of successfully implementing WCAG2.1 standards, understanding of WCAG 2.1 AA guidelines and awareness of changes proposed for WCAG2.2;
- Demonstrate experience of working as a joint team with a public sector body and operating within its governance and culture;
- Experience of understanding the Equality Act 2010 in relation to websites and the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018;
- Experience of testing with users who have a range of disabilities;
- Experience of assessing websites for usability through assistive technology and software;
- Flexibility. NHS Digital would be keen for the supplier to clearly demonstrate how flexible they are, so NHS Digital would know when they are available to help and what their ability is to test and retest in a semi agile way;
- NHS Digital would expect the supplier to be very comfortable explaining and demonstrating accessibility issues and eager to transfer expertise appropriately across the range of digital professionals;
- A detailed understanding of the key accessibility priorities for user researchers, content designers, developers, designers and testers.
- Ability to tailor accessibility clinics and workshops to specific teams/services to best fit their needs and further development of capability;
- No subcontractors to be used.

Future requirements may include:

- The Supplier will need to assimilate with our processes and service manual and be expected to be able to work with our teams.
- Awareness of the following: NHS Digital Service Manual; NHS Digital Service Standard; NHS.UK Frontend Library; GOV.UK Design System; GOV.UK Service Manual; NHS.UK Prototyping Kit (including <https://github.com/nhsuk/nhsuk-prototype-kit>)
- Recent experience (last 12 months) of working with and conducting accessibility audits for NHS Digital and / or for other public sector organisations;
- Experience providing content designers and product owners/developers with guidance relating to accessibility;
- Experience managing expectations of a broad range of senior stakeholders with a range of technical experience;
- Involvement in the wider accessibility community - for example through publishing blog posts, running training and contributing to standards;

- Share the profiles of the team that will be working with us;
- Experience of working in a large and complex organisations;
- A short case study that illustrates your work against a similar set of requirements.

Guarantee and indemnity

The Guarantor irrevocably and unconditionally guarantees that the Supplier duly performs all of the guaranteed obligations due by the Supplier to the Buyer.

If at any time the Supplier will fail to perform any of the guaranteed obligations, the Guarantor irrevocably and unconditionally undertakes to the Buyer it will, at the cost of the Guarantor:

- fully perform or buy performance of the guaranteed obligations to the Buyer
- as a separate and independent obligation and liability, compensate and keep the Buyer compensated against all losses and expenses which may result from a failure by the Supplier to perform the guaranteed obligations under the Call-Off Contract

As a separate and independent obligation and liability, the Guarantor irrevocably and unconditionally undertakes to compensate and keep the Buyer compensated on demand against all losses and expenses of whatever nature, whether arising under statute, contract or at common Law, if any obligation guaranteed by the guarantor is or becomes unenforceable, invalid or illegal as if the obligation guaranteed had not become unenforceable, invalid or illegal provided that the guarantor's liability will be no greater than the Supplier's liability would have been if the obligation guaranteed had not become unenforceable, invalid or illegal.

Obligation to enter into a new contract

If the Call-Off Contract is terminated or if it is disclaimed by a liquidator of the Supplier or the obligations of the Supplier are declared to be void or voidable, the Guarantor will, at the request of the Buyer, enter into a Contract with the Buyer in the same terms as the Call-Off Contract and the obligations of the Guarantor under such substitute agreement will be the same as if the Guarantor had been original obligor under the Call-Off Contract or under an agreement entered into on the same terms and at the same time as the Call-Off Contract with the Buyer.

Any demand or notice served by the Buyer on the Guarantor under this Deed of Guarantee will be in writing, addressed to:

or such other address in England and Wales as the Guarantor has notified the Buyer in writing as being an address for the receipt of such demands or notices.

Any notice or demand served on the Guarantor or the Buyer under this Deed of Guarantee will be deemed to have been served if:

- delivered by hand, at the time of delivery

Any notice purported to be served on the Buyer under this Deed of Guarantee will only be valid when received in writing by the Buyer.

The Guarantor will not be discharged or released from this Deed of Guarantee by:

- any arrangement made between the Supplier and the Buyer (whether or not such arrangement is made with the assent of the Guarantor)

This Deed of Guarantee will be a continuing security for the Guaranteed Obligations and accordingly:

- it will not be affected by any dissolution, amalgamation, reconstruction, reorganisation, change in status, function, control or ownership, insolvency, liquidation, administration, appointment of a receiver, voluntary arrangement, any legal limitation or other incapacity, of the Supplier, the Buyer, the Guarantor or any other person

- the rights of the Buyer against the Guarantor under this Deed of Guarantee are in addition to, will not be affected by and will not prejudice, any other security, guarantee, indemnity or other rights or remedies available to the Buyer

The Buyer will be entitled to exercise its rights and to make demands on the Guarantor under this Deed of Guarantee as often as it wishes. The making of a demand (whether effective, partial or defective) relating to the breach or non-performance by the Supplier of any Guaranteed Obligation will not preclude the Buyer from making a further demand relating to the same or some other Default regarding the same Guaranteed Obligation.

The Buyer will not be obliged before taking steps to enforce this Deed of Guarantee against the Guarantor to:

- obtain judgment against the Supplier or the Guarantor or any third party in any court
- make or file any claim in a bankruptcy or liquidation of the Supplier or any third party
- take any action against the Supplier or the Guarantor or any third party

Any waiver by the Buyer of any terms of this Deed of Guarantee, or of any Guaranteed Obligations, will only be effective if given in writing and then only for the purpose and upon the terms and conditions on which it is given.

Any release, discharge or settlement between the Guarantor and the Buyer will be conditional upon no security, disposition or payment to the Buyer by the Guarantor or any other person being void, set aside or ordered to be refunded following any enactment or Law relating to liquidation, administration or insolvency or for any other reason. If such condition will not be fulfilled, the Buyer will be entitled to enforce this Deed of Guarantee subsequently as if such release, discharge or settlement had not occurred and any such payment had not been made. The Buyer will be entitled to retain this security before and after the payment, discharge or satisfaction of all monies, obligations and liabilities that are or may become due owing or incurred to the Buyer from the Guarantor for such period as the Buyer may determine.
