Nothing in this clause shall exclude liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation.
- 20.5 Any waiver or relaxation either partly, or wholly of any of the terms and conditions of the Agreement shall be valid only if it is communicated to the other Party in writing and expressly stated to be a waiver. Neither Party shall have, nor represent that it has, any authority to make any commitments on the other Party's behalf.

Objective of planned work

To develop a hub of excellence in suicide prevention and the online environment

Samaritans, working in collaboration with social media, digital sector partners and government, plans to develop a hub of excellence in suicide prevention and the online environment which can be piloted in the UK, but then adopted at a European or global level.

The programme takes an industry wide approach to provide consistent guidance for the whole sector, a focal point for businesses and subject matter experts to convene and develop best practice, share learning and expertise and provide central services for guidance and reporting for other professionals and organisations.

This is a 3 year programme of work towards which DHSC have offered £100,000 of funding for the period October 2019 to March 2020, to contribute towards the development of work under three strands: best practice standards, user resources and an advice reporting service.

Detail of planned work

Online best practice around suicide and self harm content

This strand will use learning from discussions with academics, people with lived experience, industry forums and other relevant stakeholders to inform the development of best practise standards for the industry. It will also involve a literature review which will ensure the best available evidence from across the world is being used. The forums and literature review will also inform and ensure new research adds to available knowledge, rather than duplicating. This learning will be reinforced by insights gathered from a range of user groups, for asking a range of users who currently create and view content related to suicide and self-harm, how they think platforms should be communicating with them about it and what their policies should be. As a result of this work we will have an improved understanding of how and when content is likely to be harmful, and therefore when to block or take down particular kinds of content and the impact of this on users. By the end of the DHSC funding period (March 2020) this will have been translated into draft industry best practise standards. During years two and three of the project, as the evidence and knowledge base grows from the research and user insights strands of work, these standards will develop and evolve to ensure they maintain pace with industry developments. The impact of this work will be to make the online environment safer for users and to have a model of best practise which all industry providers can be encouraged to adhere to.

Work strand	Activity	Deliverable	Date of delivery	Impact

Short Form Agreement for Services

Best practise	Stakeholder engagement and consultation	Voluntary, academic, lived experience and industry forums (minimum 2 forums – stakeholders may be combined at events) - Research questions and models for delivery agreed	October – December	Short term - views from a wide range of stakeholders collated, clear picture emerging of how existing problem might be tackled
	User engagement and insight	Ethics approval by Samaritans Research Ethics Board Recruitment starts through social media channels User groups consulted (minimum of 4 groups of 6 people each)	November – December December December-March	Short term – Lived experience informing messaging and actions for dealing with content by platforms. Insight incorporated into development of standards
	Research	Literature review of existing research on suicide and self harm content online completed New research commissioned	End December January – March	Short term – understanding of what is known to date, where major gaps in research exist allowing commissioning of new research in high priority areas. Both deliverables will increase knowledge on the subject and provide research evidence base for best practise standards.
	Best practice standards	Initial draft of industry standards prepared Stakeholder consultation on standards at forum meeting and online	March March	Short-term – draft standards informed by range of experts Long term – users of online content will have a safer more supportive experience due to major companies embedding best practise standards.

Resources for users

Under this strand discovery work will take place during the funding period to ascertain what resources might best help online users to produce safe and supportive content, to access safe and supportive content, and to understand where and how to seek help. Ensuring a thoughtful approach to suicide and self-harm related content that recognises the vulnerability of users who will be posting, viewing and engaging with content is crucial.

People viewing content related to suicide and self-harm may be in very different emotional states with different levels of vulnerability. Recognising that much of the content viewed will be user generated, the aim is to develop resources that are easily accessible and resonate with users who wish to share their experiences and discuss issues. The resources should support the user to create and share content safely as well as encourage help-seeking behaviours and help access safe resources. The online environment can provide an important space for users to share and receive support and helping users learn how to do this more effectively and safely is key. The user groups will be asked to consider what they would find useful to know, how best to communicate to them, and how best others (such as parents and professionals) can support them.

This work will continue into years two and three of the project as resources are tested, trialled and feedback incorporated.

Work strand	Activity	Deliverable	Date of delivery	Impact
User resource	User testing	2 forums held Initial findings from user insight for use in material development	Late February	Short term – information available to inform resource development
	Resource development	First resources drafted	March	Short term – users benefit from resources developed and offer feedback. Long term - Carefully developed, safe resources available for online users creating and viewing content around suicide and self harm.

Short Form Agreement for Services

Advice Reporting Service

Once the research and best practice streams of work are underway, we will start to develop our work to support other professionals and organisations to get advice about content concerns and where appropriate, have a priority channel to get them addressed by platforms – providing a response to users and an independent view of content for the sector. We will provide resources aimed at professionals working with young people to build their capacity and confidence in how to deal with concerns related to suicide and self-harm content online. We will also provide briefings and push our safe communications where there are particular concerns about specific websites, or “online challenges”, some of which may be receiving unhelpful media attention. We will continue to liaise with Public Health England to ensure we are reaching appropriate national, regional and local stakeholders.

Work strand	Activity	Deliverable	Date of delivery	Impact
Advice reporting service	Recruitment	Research and Policy Officer recruited	January	Delivery of work strand
	Preparatory service design work	Consultation with key professional groups to review previous briefings and agree new resource development. Briefings produced for specific issues, if any arise during the funding period.	March	Short term – resource development informed by key stakeholder audience Long term – professionals working with young people have greater confidence and capacity in dealing with concerns around suicide and self harm content.

Project Structure

The project will be led by a Programme lead who will have responsibility for delivering the three year programme to which this funding contributes. They will report to the Assistant Director of Research and Influencing who will be responsible for delivery of the outcomes and ensuring all stakeholders, including all those contributing financially to the work over the course of the three years are kept up to date on progress. The Programme Lead, in discussion with the Assistant Director and others as appropriate will consider if results from initial consultations, forums, reviews etc would indicate that changes should be made to the way the project is delivered. If this is the case they will take the earliest opportunity to discuss such changes with stakeholders and funders.

Annex 4 – Part 1: Schedule of Processing,
Personal Data and Data Subjects (Schedule 1)
(NOT USED)

Annex 4 - Part 2: Schedule for Joint Controller
Agreements (Schedule 2) (NOT USED)

Annex 5 - Security

The technical security requirements set out below provide an indication of the types of security measures that might be considered, in order to protect Personal Data. More, or less, measures may be appropriate depending on the subject matter of the contract, but the overall approach must be proportionate. The technical requirements must also be compliant with legislative and regulatory obligations for content and data, such as GDPR.

The example technical security requirements set out here are intended to supplement, not replace, security schedules that will detail the total contractual security obligations and requirements that the Processor (i.e. a supplier) will be held to account to deliver under contract. Processors are also required to ensure sufficient 'flow-down' of legislative and regulatory obligations to any third party Sub-processors.

External Certifications e.g. Buyers should ensure that Suppliers hold at least Cyber Essentials Plus certification and ISO 27001:2013 certification if proportionate to the service being procured.

Risk Assessment e.g. Supplier should perform a technical information risk assessment on the service supplied and be able to demonstrate what controls are in place to address those risks.

Security Classification of Information e.g. If the provision of the Services requires the Supplier to Process Authority/Buyer Data which is classified as OFFICIAL, OFFICIAL-SENSITIVE or Personal Data, the Supplier shall implement such additional measures as agreed with the Authority/Buyer from time to time in order to ensure that such information is safeguarded in accordance with the applicable legislative and regulatory obligations.

End User Devices e.g.

- The Supplier shall ensure that any Authority/Buyer Data which resides on a mobile, removable or physically uncontrolled device is stored encrypted using a product or system component which has been formally assured through a recognised certification process agreed with the Authority/Buyer except where the Authority/Buyer has given its prior written consent to an alternative arrangement.
- The Supplier shall ensure that any device which is used to Process Authority/Buyer Data meets all of the security requirements set out in the NCSC End User Devices Platform Security Guidance, a copy of which can be found at: <https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/guidance/end-user-device-security>.

Testing e.g. The Supplier shall at their own cost and expense, procure a CHECK or CREST Certified Supplier to perform an ITHC or Penetration Test prior to any live Authority/Buyer data being transferred into their systems. The ITHC scope must be agreed with the Authority/Buyer to ensure it covers all the relevant parts of the system that processes, stores or hosts Authority/Buyer data.

Networking e.g. The Supplier shall ensure that any Authority/Buyer Data which it causes to be transmitted over any public network (including the Internet, mobile networks or un-protected enterprise network) or to a mobile device shall be encrypted when transmitted.

Personnel Security e.g. All Supplier Personnel shall be subject to a pre-employment check before they may participate in the provision and or management of the Services. Such pre-employment checks must include all pre-employment checks which are required by the HMG Baseline Personnel Security Standard or equivalent including: verification of the individual's identity; verification of the individual's nationality and immigration status; and, verification of the individual's employment history; verification of the individual's criminal record. The Supplier maybe required to implement additional security vetting for some roles.

Identity, Authentication and Access Control e.g.The supplier must operate an appropriate access control regime to ensure that users and administrators of the service are uniquely identified. The supplier must retain records of access to the physical sites and to the service.

Data Destruction/Deletion e.g. The Supplier must be able to demonstrate they can supply a copy of all data on request or at termination of the service, and must be able to securely erase or destroy all data and media that the Authority/Buyer data has been stored and processed on.

Audit and Protective Monitoring e.g. The Supplier shall collect audit records which relate to security events in delivery of the service or that would support the analysis of potential and actual compromises. In order to facilitate effective monitoring and forensic readiness such Supplier audit records should (as a minimum) include regular reports and alerts setting out details of access by users of the service, to enable the identification of (without limitation) changing access trends, any unusual patterns of usage and/or accounts accessing higher than average amounts of Authority/Buyer Data. The retention periods for audit records and event logs must be agreed with the Authority/Buyer and documented.

Location of Authority/Buyer Data e.g.The Supplier shall not, and shall procure that none of its Sub-contractors, process Authority/Buyer Data outside the EEA without the prior written consent of the Authority/Buyer and the Supplier shall not change where it or any of its Sub-contractors process Authority/Buyer Data without the Authority/Buyer's prior written consent which may be subject to conditions.

Vulnerabilities and Corrective Action e.g. Suppliers shall procure and implement security patches to vulnerabilities in accordance with the timescales specified in the NCSC Cloud Security Principle 5. Suppliers must ensure that all COTS Software and Third Party COTS Software be kept up to date such that all Supplier COTS Software and Third Party COTS Software are always in mainstream support.

Secure Architecture e.g. Suppliers should design the service in accordance with:

- NCSC "Security Design Principles for Digital Services"
- NCSC "Bulk Data Principles"
- NSCS "Cloud Security Principles"
