SCHEDULE ONE

1. BACKGROUND

The Department is funding a pilot of peer support programmes in schools, colleges and youth organisations. The Department will appoint a delivery contractor to recruit 100 volunteer schools and colleges spread across England to take part in the pilot. Ten local youth organisations and community groups will also be recruited.

Within the pilot, schools, colleges and youth organisations will deliver models of their own design to support the mental health and wellbeing of their pupils, including consideration of local needs and context. Organisations will receive training and support from the delivery contractor in setting up and delivering their approach to peer support, and training for their potential peer mentors. They will also support organisations to use the ongoing self-evaluation tools provided by the evaluator.

In order to be able to offer advice to schools and youth organisations about effective approaches to setting up and running peer support schemes which promote whole school mental wellbeing and support children and young people with worries and concerns, the Department is appointing a contractor to independently evaluate the pilot. This will produce more detailed evidence on how organisations go about setting up and delivering peer support programmes for mental health that are tailored to their individual needs and circumstances. The research findings are to be presented in an accessible manner such that other schools, colleges and youth organisations can readily access and adopt the delivered and evaluated models.

2. AIM

The Contractor shall use all reasonable endeavours to achieve the following aims:

- Identify the variety of peer support models that schools, colleges and community groups use to deliver the key elements, specified above, and what common aspects are important for successful implementation;
- Test how the key elements of peer support models are delivered within organisations' individual approaches;
- Test how support materials provided by the delivery contractor are used and received;
- Provide case studies and practice examples to encourage and support more schools, colleges and youth organisations to offer more effective peer support; and
- Identify any wider benefits to the institution that schools, colleges and youth organisations report they perceive from putting in place peer support

3. OBJECTIVES

The Contractor shall use all reasonable endeavours to achieve the following objectives:

- Findings will provide sufficient detail and quality so schools, colleges and youth organisations can readily access and adopt the delivery models developed by the pilot organisation

- The research findings will be delivered in a manner that is accessible to schools, colleges and youth organisations

The contractor will carry out a process evaluation of the delivery of the pilot, design a self-evaluation toolkit for pilot organisations, and assess the impact of the pilot utilising the self-evaluation data to answer the following research questions:

Models

- What are the organisations' local aims/objectives in implementing peer support? What informs that decision?
- What range of models are used? Are there similar approaches used for different aims or different models for similar aims? (e.g. group vs. 1:1 support, appointments vs. ad hoc, peer tutoring, other approaches e.g. worry boxes) What informs decisions about which model is used?
- Do models vary by phase/type of institution or for youth organisations? If so, how?

Implementation

- Who is involved in set up and delivery (staff/ pupils) and who receives support (types of pupils, needs and numbers)? Does take up vary by type of model (overall numbers and demographic of users)? Are certain models preferred by different types of C&YP or different types of need?
- Are there any examples of schools/colleges and community groups working together?
- How has monitoring and evaluation data been used by institutions? How useful have they found it?
- What are the costs to pilot organisations? What is delivered for this cost? How are resources/funding used?
- What are barriers and facilitators to delivery?
- How have organisations planned for sustainability after the end of the pilot period and funding?

Benefits and outcomes

- How satisfied are school staff and pupils with the offer? How does this vary?
- How satisfied are staff and mentors with the support delivery offer (training day for staff, 1:1 set up and delivery support, mentor training)?
- What perceived impact is reported by peer support participants (staff, supporters and recipients of support)
- What wider perceived benefits to the school/organisation or wider school/organisation population (i.e. outside of those directly involved in the peer support programme) of offering peer support are reported by pilot participants?
- To what extent do the models implemented meet the institution-level stated aims?
- Does the self-evaluation data collected by schools suggest any change in outcomes associated with participation in peer support?
- Are any models with similar aims better received or associated with greater change in outcomes?
- Do outcomes vary by type or phase of institution?

9. RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk	Likelihood and impact (H=High, M=Medium, L=Low)	Mitigating actions
1. Low levels of engagement in the evaluation by pilot organisations	Likelihood: M Impact: H <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Would result in low sample sizes for surveys and fieldwork; reduced confidence in results Would risk lack of buy-in to recommendations 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Synchronised requests for data between evaluators and delivery contractor to avoid burden Flexible appointment-setting for fieldwork Emphasis on formative evaluation and shared learning, to show value of taking part Toolkit and data dashboards add value to school core business – empowerment to 'own' the data
2. High levels of turnover of lead contacts, during evaluation period	Likelihood: M Impact: M <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Could affect the response at follow-up survey point where lead contacts leave Problems with comparing pre / post data for different individuals 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Careful timing of baseline data collection, to ensure that leads have been identified Two sets of contact details collected, including SMT representative, so that there is a back-up option if pilot staffing arrangements change Liaison with pilots in-between, to check that contact lists held by the evaluators are current
3. Lack of visibility of pilot delivery models and their characteristics	Likelihood: M Impact: M <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Would make it difficult to develop typologies Would risk overlooking potential good practices Weak results – unable to generalise / extrapolate 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Light touch data collection embedded in EOI to ensure key factual details held on all pilots Survey followed by telephone depth interviews to test and refine understanding of delivery models Process and outcomes data collected via self-evaluation toolkit, to allow for multi-variate analysis (factors influencing outcomes achieved)
4. Case studies overlook innovative examples	Likelihood: L Impact: M <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Would reduce policy impact and usefulness of evaluation reports 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Sampling informed by survey & interview data Ongoing pooling of good practice examples and materials identified by the evaluator and delivery contractor, to make best use of 'soft' intelligence
5. Poor response to validated outcome tools and measures	Likelihood: M Impact: M/H <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Would reduce statistical power and rule out some analyses (e.g. sub-groups) Would result in low confidence in results 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Engagement of pilot organisations in agreeing a core set of measures, where timescales permit Tools administered during class / activity time with whole classes or year groups, to achieve scale Online data collection to reduce administration for pilot organisations and to monitor / remedial action
6. Unintended disclosure of personal information by young people	Likelihood: M Impact: H <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Would breach ethical codes for the study Could result in harm or distress to young person 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ethical arrangements clearly communicated to team members and participants, prior to fieldwork Confidentiality arrangements scripted into topic guides, and prior signed agreement Focus groups only used where participants feel comfortable with group format and composition
7. Team members become unavailable during the evaluation period	Likelihood: M Impact: M <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Could result in lack of continuity in the relationships between the evaluators and DfE / pilot areas, and loss of expertise from the team 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Time inputs of team members safeguarded at the point of contract signature, and formalised with the Ecorys HR / work planning system. CV for proposed replacement team member provided to DfE for approval, if they become unavailable due to unforeseen circumstances Replacements at same grade / level
8. Delays in delivery timeframes	Likelihood: M Impact: M <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Would result in delay for individual elements and completion of study 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Timeline clearly agreed and updated by client and Ecorys at start of project Regular meetings (including steering group meetings) to assess process Clear communication to stakeholders around changes that may impact on them as a result of amended timelines

10. DATA COLLECTION

The Department seeks to minimise the burdens on Schools, Children's Services and Local Authorities (LAs) taking part in surveys.

When assessing the relative merits of data collection methods the following issues should be considered,

- only data essential to the project shall be collected;
- data should be collected electronically where appropriate/preferred;
- questionnaires should be pre-populated wherever possible and appropriate;
- schools must be given at least four working weeks to respond to the exercise from the date they receive the request; and
- LAs should receive at least two weeks, unless they need to approach schools in which case they too should receive 4 weeks to respond;

The Contractor shall clear any data collection tools with the Department before engaging in field work.

The Contractor shall check with the Department whether any of the information that they are requesting can be provided centrally from information already held.

11. CONSENT ARRANGEMENTS

The Department and the contractor shall agree in advance of any survey activity taking place the consent arrangements that shall apply for each of the participant groups. All participants should be informed of the purpose of the research, that the Contractor is acting on behalf of the Department and that they have the option to refuse to participate (opt out). Contact details should be provided including a contact person at the Department. Children who are 16 or over will usually be able to give their own consent but even where this is so, the Contractor, in consultation with the Department, should consider whether it is also appropriate for parents, guardians or other appropriate gatekeepers (e.g. schools, Local Authorities) to be informed when a child has been invited to participate in research.

12. PROJECT COMMUNICATION PLAN

The Contractor shall work with the Project Manager and Steering Group to agree the content of the Project Communication Plan on the standard Department Communication Plan Template at the start of the Project, and to review and update at agreed key points in the Project and at the close of the Project. The Communication Plan shall set out the key audiences for the Project, all outputs intended for publication from the Project, the likely impact of each output, and dissemination plans to facilitate effective use by the key audiences.
