1. Could you confirm that you are looking for two separate websites based on the existing two websites, as opposed to one new website combing the content of the two existing websites.

   Yes, we are looking for two separate websites.

2. 4.4.1 States "Capable of allowing content to be contributed directly from Microsoft Office applications; this function shall automatically convert documents into the required format, including transferring of images."

   Which Microsoft Office applications need to be supported and can you explain the "convert documents" part of the requirement. Is this to be handled by just copy and pasting from Office Applications or do you require Office automation – e.g. a toolbar button in Word?

   We would like to be able to copy and paste information from Microsoft into the CMS, rather than it having to be retyped.
