Instead, you can get all of the support and advice you need while remaining part of your local community. We can also help you with other issues you may be struggling with - such as employment, housing, debt or family relationships. The help we give you will depend on whether it is alcohol or drugs you are struggling with (and of course, what kind of drug) but the basis of all of Addaction's work is to build a strong relationship between you and one of our workers. They will be able to use a number of approaches - from cognitive therapy to prescribing medication (should you need it), to give you the support you both need and deserve.

Skilled coaches help them consider and take responsibility for changing their lives: they are challenged and supported to define and reach their own goals. The coach explores the client's current situation in different areas of their lives using the Outcomes Star (an objective visual tool that supports and measures change) before taking the client's lead in looking at their values, limiting beliefs and goal setting. Clients then believe they can change and start to do so.
