Subject matter of the processing:

[This should be a high level, short description of what the Processing is about ie its subject matter]

The cloud system stores and processes digital media (images, video, documents and audio). Some of the media may portray individuals (e.g. a photographs of people) and metadata added by system users may contain some personally identifiable information (e.g. names and email addresses).

Duration of the processing:

[Clearly set out the duration of the Processing including dates]

Images and footage that portray individuals will be processed for a maximum of ten years, however in the majority of cases, imagery will be withdrawn after five years. Each digital asset uploaded to the system has an expiry date which can cause data to be purged from the system. A consent process is in place to ensure that appropriate consent is captured for any data that may require it.

Nature and purposes of the Processing:

[Please be as specific as possible, but make sure that you cover all intended purposes. The nature of the Processing means any operation such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction of data (whether or not by automated means) etc) The purpose might include eg: employment Processing, statutory obligation, recruitment assessment etc]

Aetopia, acting as the Data Processor, stores the information that is uploaded to the system and will show that information to a suitably authorised user. Our lawful bases for this are a combination of Public Task and Consent. We use a hosting partner (Amazon Web Services) for cloud infrastructure hosting services.

Aetopia does not use, disclose or transmit the information to any other 3rd party for any purpose whatsoever. Our only purpose in storing the information is to provide a service to the client that uploaded the information.

Type of Personal Data:

[Examples here include: name, address, date of birth, NI number, telephone number, pay, images, biometric data etc]

- names of people portrayed
- email addresses of people portrayed, if included on the consent form
- names, job titles and email addresses of system users, in order to provide an online profile/account to use when logging into the system

GDPR compliance is ensured by gaining consent through the signing of model release forms. Participants are informed that they may withdraw consent at any time by emailing photography@highwaysengland.co.uk . Where photographs or film footage are captured at a large event, an event/crowd release disclaimer notice is used. This notice is displayed in a place that all visitors will pass, and therefore read, advising them that photography/filming will be taking place at the event and that consent may be withdrawn by speaking to the event team. All model release and crowd release forms, relating to content on the system, are also uploaded to the system with the date and shoot title as descriptors.

Categories of Data Subject:

[Examples include: Staff (including volunteers, agents, and temporary workers), customers/clients, suppliers, patients, students / pupils, members of the public, users of a particular website etc]

Staff, suppliers and members of the public if proper consent has been given.

Plan for return or destruction of the data once the Processing is complete UNLESS requirement under union or member state law to preserve that type of data:

[Describe how long the data will be retained for and how it will be returned or destroyed]

Once the client has indicated that data is no longer required, it will be deleted / destroyed as per the relevant ISO27001-compliant policy.

This can occur when:

- A digital asset has reached its expiry date.
- A client administrator has deleted an asset for any reason.
- At the end of the contract, all data is returned to the client, and all cloud copies of the data will be destroyed.
