2. Role of Intermediary

Context

2.1 Court Appointed Intermediary Services (CAIS) supports a service that facilitates impartial communication to enable complete, coherent and accurate communication between vulnerable people, known as Service Users, and the courts and tribunals, also referred to as Venues. This helps to ensure Service Users have access to a fair hearing.

2.2 There are two types of Intermediary Services in existence in the justice system:

2.2.1 Court Appointed Intermediaries

Court Appointed Intermediaries provide Services for vulnerable defendants in the criminal jurisdiction and vulnerable parties and witnesses in the civil, family and tribunal jurisdictions.

2.2.2 This is the service referred to throughout the Specification, and any reference to 'Intermediary' and 'Intermediaries', is a reference to Court Appointed Intermediaries.

2.2.3 Registered Intermediaries

Registered intermediaries are selected, trained, accredited and regulated by the Ministry of Justice (MoJ) in England and Wales, or the Department of Justice in Northern Ireland. They operate under the Witness Intermediary Scheme (WIS) and provide services for victims and witnesses in the criminal jurisdiction.

2.2.4 This Specification does not relate to Registered Intermediaries.

2.3 Entering into a Framework Agreement to provide Court Appointed Intermediary Services does not preclude the Service Provider from providing Services through the WIS, Legal Aid Agency (LAA) and other public and private organisations. However, the Authority retains the right to terminate Intermediaries if they are removed from the WIS due to a breach of contract and/or a breach of the Intermediary Codes of Ethics and Practice (section 12).

2.4 Role of Intermediaries

2.4.1 Intermediaries fulfil the function of facilitating communication between the Service User and the Venue.

2.4.2 Intermediaries are impartial communication specialists whose primary responsibilities are:

- a. Enabling complete, coherent and accurate communication with Service Users in the justice system.
- b. Improving the quality of evidence and ensuring the Service User's understanding of and participation in proceedings.
- c. Making an Assessment and reporting, orally or in writing, about the communication abilities and needs of the Service User and the steps that should be taken to meet those needs at a Hearing. This includes a recommendation determining if an intermediary is necessary to support communication. If an Assessment Report is produced orally as a result of an emergency assessment, a written report must be provided as directed by the Authority.

2.4.3 Intermediaries are not investigators and their role in a court or tribunal is not the same as an appropriate adult, supporter or Expert Witness. Their first duty is to the court or tribunal and justice system. They must remain impartial and follow the Intermediary

Codes of Practice and Ethics (section 16).

2.4.4 Additionally, to the points in 2.4.2, Intermediaries carry out a range of functions to assist courts, tribunals and justice practitioners, including:

- a. Providing advice, guidance and information on how to communicate most effectively with the Service User and how proceedings can be adapted to accommodate this.
- b. Attending Hearings and ensuring Service Users present their case well, giving best evidence as applicable.
- c. Directly assisting in the questioning process by asking justice practitioners to rephrase questions the Service User does not understand, rephrase questions themselves if necessary (without changing their substantive meaning) and communicating their subsequent answers.

2.5 Specialisms

2.5.1 Service Providers are required to assist Service Users with additional needs which may require specialist professional skills and/or experience. An appointed Intermediary should be able to evidence that their skills and experience could, if necessary, be justified at a court or tribunal, before assigning them to a case.

2.5.2 Specialist functions include, but are not limited to:

- a. Deaf Service Users (see section 2.6)
- b. Children and young people
- c. Specific vulnerabilities (see Annex 1 for a list of examples).

2.5.3 Further details regarding qualifications and experience can be found in section 11

2.6 Working with deaf Service Users

2.6.1 Where a deaf Service User requires Intermediary Services and can communicate using a non-spoken language (e.g. British Sign Language), a deaf Intermediary can be instructed. Alternatively, a hearing Intermediary who has had deaf awareness training can be appointed with a non-spoken interpreter as required. The appointment of interpreters is outlined below in 2.7.

2.7 Working with Interpreters

2.7.1 In circumstances where a Service User requires the support of an interpreter (spoken or non-spoken) for Assessment and Hearing Services, a MoJ contracted interpreter.

2.7.2 When the Service User's Legal Representative is the Commissioning Body, they will make the request in the following ways:

- a. For Assessments in the Crime jurisdiction - The Legal Representative will request the services of an interpreter via the Legal Aid Agency's Prior Authority route.
- b. For Assessments in the Family, Civil and Tribunal jurisdictions -The Legal Representative will request the services of an interpreter via the Venue where the Service User's Hearing will take place.

- c. For Hearings in all jurisdictions - The request will be processed via the Venue.

2.7.3 When HMCTS is the Commissioning Body, the booking of the interpreter will be appointed by the Venue in all cases.

Requirements

- 2.8 The Service Provider must be able to provide an Intermediary to attend Hearings on the dates and times specified by the Venue and/or Commissioning Body.
- 2.9 The Service Provider must provide a suitable Intermediary to deliver the following key Services:
 - a. An initial written “Assessment Report” in the timeframe set by the Venue, detailing what additional communication needs a Service User has, how these needs will impact on participation, what steps are recommended to address these needs and specifying if an Intermediary is required to assist in meeting the needs.
 - b. Providing advice, guidance and information on how to communicate most effectively with the Service User and how proceedings can be adapted to accommodate this to ensure the Service user is able to fully participate, instruct and give the best evidence possible.
 - c. Attendance at Ground Rules, Directions, Case Management and other preliminary hearings as directed.
 - d. Intermediary support at court and tribunal Hearings. This includes directly assisting in the questioning process by asking justice practitioners to rephrase questions the Service User does not understand, rephrase questions themselves if necessary (without changing their substantive meaning) and communicating their subsequent answers
 - e. Intermediary support outside of hearings as directed by the court/tribunal.
 - f. Intermediary support for conferences with Legal Representatives as approved by Legal Aid Agency (outlined in section 5.5).
 - g. Ensuring Service Users who are not legally represented can communicate and present their case to the best of their ability.
- 2.10 Facilitating the Service User's participation by enabling them to:
 - a. understand and follow proceedings
 - b. manage their ability to participate and give their best evidence as applicable
 - c. give instructions to their representatives
 - d. understand the outcome of proceedings.
- 2.11 The Service Provider will ensure continuity of the Intermediary supporting the Service User throughout the case where appropriate or as directed by the judge.
- 2.12 The Service Provider must have an effective quality management process in place to ensure the monitoring of quality output.

3. Jurisdictions

Context

- 3.1 Court Appointed Intermediary Services are used by courts and tribunals in England and Wales, and tribunals in Scotland.
- 3.2 It is the duty of the Venue and of all parties to the case to identify Service Users who are vulnerable at the earliest possible stage of proceedings. Consideration should be given to the Service User's ability to:
- a. Understand the nature of the court or tribunal proceedings.
 - b. Understand their role and ability to participate in proceedings.
 - c. Put their views to the court or tribunal.
 - d. Instruct their representative before, during and after the hearing.
 - e. Attend the hearing without significant distress.

3.3 The Family Court

3.3.1 The single Family Court is a national court for all family proceedings in England and Wales. Cases, which prior to 2014 were being heard by the County Court or the Family Proceedings Court, are now heard by the Family Court.

3.3.2 The Family Court can sit at any Venue nationally as directed, and usually sits at the County Courts and specialist Magistrates' Courts. Family work may also be heard in the Family Division of the High Court.

3.3.3 In Family Court Hearings, Intermediaries may be appointed in public law proceedings. These proceedings are mostly brought by local authorities if a child is not receiving reasonable parental care. There is a statutory time limit of 26 weeks for public law family cases.

3.3.4 Intermediaries may also be engaged for private law family proceedings on behalf of the child following the parent's separation, Family Law Act injunction proceedings and applications for other protective orders (e.g. forced marriage, FGM Protection Orders), adoption and divorce/financial remedy. For example:

- a. Fact finding hearings
- b. Dispute resolution appointment
- c. Final hearings
- d. Family Law Act injunction proceedings.

3.4 The Civil Court

3.4.1 Civil justice in England and Wales is mainly dealt with in the County Courts and, in the case of more substantial or complex cases, the High Court. The jurisdiction covers a very wide range of cases, from quite small or simple claims like damaged goods or recovery of debt, to large claims between multi-national companies.

3.4.2 Civil cases involve Hearings in open court which the public may attend, hearings in the judge's private room from which the public are excluded, and matters decided by the judge in private based on the papers alone.

3.4.3 In Civil Court hearings, Intermediaries could be appointed in any case type.

3.4.4 Currently, Intermediaries are rarely used in the Civil Court. However, ongoing work with the Civil Justice Council into identifying and increasing accessibility for vulnerable Service Users may lead to an increased use in the future.

3.5 The Criminal Courts

3.5.1 All criminal cases start in a Magistrates' Court. Cases are heard by either two or three magistrates (with advice on matters of law, practice and procedure provided by a Legal Adviser) or by one district judge. There is no jury in a Magistrates' Court. Magistrates' Courts pass the most serious crimes to the Crown Court for sentencing or for a full trial with a judge and jury.

3.5.2 A Youth Court is a special type of Magistrates' Court for defendants aged between 10 and 17. A Youth Court has either three magistrates or a district judge. There is no jury in a Youth Court.

3.5.3 The Witness Intermediary Scheme (WIS) provides Intermediary Services for complainants, defence and prosecution witnesses in criminal courts. Defendants do not fall under the WIS so an Intermediary will be appointed under CAIS if communication support is ordered by the judge.

3.6 Tribunals

3.6.1 There are many Tribunals, covering a wide range of areas affecting day-to-day life. Tribunals often sit as a panel, incorporating a legally qualified tribunal judge, as well as panel members with specific areas of expertise. They hear evidence from witnesses but decide the cases themselves.

3.6.2 Some tribunals are administered through local authorities (for example School Exclusion Panels), some by government departments (e.g. Valuation Tribunals) and others through HMCTS. HMCTS administers a two-tier tribunal system: a First-tier Tribunal and an Upper Tribunal, both of which are split into chambers. Each chamber comprises similar jurisdictions or brings together similar types of experts to hear appeals.

3.6.3 Intermediaries are rarely used in tribunal hearings currently but can be appointed in any case type as directed by a judge.

Requirements

3.7 Intermediaries must have a working knowledge of the different jurisdictions and types of courts and tribunals for which they accept Bookings.

3.8 Intermediaries must be available to support Hearings in all courts and tribunal types where they accept Bookings.

4. Welsh Language

Context

4.1 Welsh Language Scheme requirements

4.1.1 The HMCTS Welsh Language Scheme sets out how, in the conduct of public business and the administration of justice in Wales, the English and Welsh languages will be treated on a basis of equality. More information on the Welsh Language Scheme and the Welsh Language Act 1993 can be found here:

Requirements

- 4.2 Where Services are provided within the jurisdiction of Wales, the Service Provider must facilitate compliance with Laws relating to the use of the Welsh Language including the Welsh Language Measure 2016 and Welsh Language Act 1993.
- 4.3 The end-to-end booking service must facilitate compliance with Laws relating to the use of the Welsh Language including the Welsh Language Measure 2016.

5.3.1 Unfulfilled Bookings will be monitored by the Authority and form part of the Service Review Meetings as set out in Schedule 9 - Governance.

5.4 Commissioning Body

5.5 Funding, Invoicing and Management Information

5.5.1 For Family, Civil and Tribunal cases, CAIS Assessments and support at Hearings are funded by HMCTS by order of a judge or magistrate.

5.5.2 For Crime cases, Legal Representatives can apply to the Legal Aid Agency (LAA) for Prior Authority funding to conduct CAIS Assessments and Hearings. Annex 8 – Safeguarding Requirements

CAIS Safeguarding Requirements

1. Service Provider Obligations

- 1.1 Service Providers are required to produce and maintain a safeguarding policy and ensure all those involved in the delivery of the services are aware of, and comply with, that policy.
- 1.2 The Service Provider's Safeguarding Policy should, as a minimum, comply with HMCTS' safeguarding policy guidance.
- 1.3 The Service Provider is required to report on its safeguarding policy, training and incidents at the Service Review meetings described in Schedule 9 – Governance.

2. HMCTS Safeguarding Policy Guidance

2.1 Definitions

Staff – In the context of this policy 'staff' means any employee or sub-contractor of the Service Provider, either directly employed or otherwise, involved in the delivery of the services. For the avoidance of doubt this includes non-operational roles such as administration and includes officers, consultants, contractors, casual workers, volunteers and agency staff.

Child - For the purposes of this policy, a child is someone who has not yet reached their 18th birthday. Once they turn 18, they are legally an adult.

Vulnerable adult - For the purposes of this policy, a vulnerable adult is someone aged 18 or over, who may be in need of the intermediary service, or support as an employee, by reason of mental or other disability, age or illness; and who is or may be unable to take care of themselves, or unable to protect themselves against significant harm or exploitation.

2.2 Policy Statement

The Civil Service is committed to high standards of conduct in every aspect of its work. For civil servants these standards are upheld through the Civil Service Code, and in the Ministry of Justice, through our policies and Values.

We expect service providers to uphold equivalent standards of conduct throughout their organisation and supply chains, including sub-contractors.

In delivering the services, providers staff may come across something that deviates from these standards: finding fundamental wrongs, illegal activity or activity which endangers others in and beyond the Department. This policy focuses specifically on concerns relating to a child or vulnerable adult being at harm or at risk of harm, detailing the need for employees to speak up.

Staff may come across information suggesting harm or risk to a child or vulnerable adult through, for example:

- The assessment of a vulnerable service user
- Witnessing behaviours by a service user during the delivery of the service
- Conversations with colleagues, customers, service users or others
- Witnessing inappropriate behaviour
- Complaints
- Raising a Concern – Whistleblowing disclosures

Where the concern is away from work staff may wish to use external sources outlined in 2.4 to assist in raising a concern.

2.3 Raising A Concern

It may be a difficult and upsetting situation, but it is essential that staff act swiftly and speak up, avoiding the assumption that someone else will come forward to raise a concern. Staff should escalate the matter appropriately so that the right authority is informed and can lead the response – they should not try to investigate the matter themselves.

Sometimes staff may not be so sure: where this is the case, they still have a responsibility to speak up and must not be punished if they make a mistake. Staff may also wish to seek advice and support if what they have witnessed has been distressing. Service Providers should provide appropriate signposting to staff to facilitate this support, which may include internal wellbeing or employee support initiatives, staff networks and/or staff associations and unions.

If staff have safeguarding concerns, there are a variety of routes they can use to speak up:

External Agencies - Where a child or vulnerable adult is at risk they should speak to the local police or local child/adult social care, who will lead on the response to protect the child or vulnerable adult.

Raising with a Manager - This might be the staff members line manager or another manager they feel comfortable talking to. The manager should be able to either help staff identify the most appropriate route for raising the concern or arrange for them to speak to someone who can help.

Raising an Internal Concern - If staff are concerned that they've been asked to do something, or are aware of the actions of other members of staff, which they consider to be in breach of the Service Provider's policies, fundamentally wrong, illegal or have the potential to endanger others, they should be provided with a mechanism to be able to raise a concern internally without fear of reprisal or breach of confidentiality.

Grievance/Dispute Resolution - If staff have concerns about another staff members treatment at work, these should be raised in accordance with the Service Provider's internal HR Policies.

2.4 Additional Support

All staff should be made aware of the additional support available:

In an emergency, call 999.

2 Introduction

This Policy details the responsibilities and obligations placed upon HMCTS staff, contractors, and service providers when using their personal end user computing devices to access, store and process HMCTS information and applications. The use of personal devices in this context is referred to a “Bring Your Own Device” (BYOD) approach.

3 Purpose

This document defines requirements governing the use of BYOD in order to prevent the unauthorised use, loss, theft or disclosure of HMCTS information.

All BYODs must be configured and operated in accordance with this policy. The use of a BYOD is not permitted until the end-user (herein referred to as “user”) has read and acknowledged acceptance of this policy.

By accepting the terms of this policy, you agree to comply with the requirements, standards, and restrictions defined within it.

Please note that access to HMCTS information and information systems may be revoked if users fail to sign this policy or at any time thereafter following an update or review.

4 Scope

Applies to users employing any type of BYOD (e.g. laptop, smartphone, tablet, etc.) when accessing HMCTS data, information or systems.¹

5 Roles and Responsibilities

Users are responsible for securing and operating their BYODs in accordance with this policy.

HMCTS Security staff are responsible for the continual monitoring and enforcement of this policy

6 Policy Statements

6.1 General Requirements of use

- The BYOD MUST be used for work purposes only and be the primary 'tools of trade', i.e. separated from personal computing facilities.
- Devices MUST not be shared with other individuals. They are solely for the use of the authorised user.

It is recommended that users employ a DEDICATED non-administrator device user account for the sole purpose of accessing HMCTS data and information systems.

¹ Test devices used by multiple users for the purpose of evaluation or test are excluded from this policy.

- Users MUST remain alert and be aware of their surroundings when operating their BYOD to prevent eavesdropping and/or shoulder surfing.
- When not in use, devices MUST be stored securely e.g. in a secure locker
A screen lock MUST be configured on devices to lock the display screen if it is left unattended for more than 5 minutes.
- Devices MUST be fully switched off when in transit. Do not put them into hibernate mode or other similar power-saving options.
- Users are permitted to use their BYOD to access, store and process data at the HMG OFFICIAL classification level. BYODs are permitted to access non-production information systems only.
- Users are NOT permitted to store PERSONAL SENSITIVE HMCTS information on their BYODs – this includes OFFICIAL information classified on a “need-to-know” basis (i.e. OFFICIAL-SENSITIVE). Any business requirement to store such information must be approved by your local HMCTS security team.
- Users CANNOT access any LIVE systems/data from a BYOD. If there is a requirement to access LIVE systems, a request must be made to the local Security team through your Line Manager.
- Users MUST securely delete HMCTS data from their BYODs and any storage media upon departure from HMCTS or at any time, if requested to do so. This must be in line with NCSC Secure Sanitisation guidance – <https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/guidance/secure-sanitisation-storage-media>. Assurances will be sought to ensure this has been completed.
- You are reminded to remain vigilant of any suspicious or suspected spear-phishing emails received when working on BYODs.
- HMCTS reserves the right to query and request access to BYODs for the purpose of verifying configuration, forensic examination and compliance with this policy. Users are expected to arrange a mutually convenient time for such examination which will be conducted in their presence. Every effort will be made to protect your personal and non-HMCTS information stored on the device. Users have the right to be present during any audit or regular inspection of their device to ensure compliance with this policy.

6.2 Authentication

6.2.1 User to Device

- BYODs MUST enforce authentication, requiring the supply of a username (unique identifier) and a strong complex password. Generic accounts or the sharing of credentials, tokens and/or logon sessions is not permitted.
- Strong complex passwords MUST be enforced with BYODs, meeting the following requirements in compliance with the HMCTS Password policy.
 - At least 12 characters long
 - No more than 128 characters long
 - Not obvious
 - Not a dictionary word. A combination of dictionary words might be suitable, such as ‘CorrectHorseBatteryStaple’
 - Unique for each account or service

6.2.2 Device to Service

- Devices connections FROM outside the UK are not permitted
- BYODs are permitted to connect to HMCTS services from APPROVED networks only. These are limited to one of the following only:
 - Approved Wi-Fi network (Gov Wi-Fi, local HMCTS building Wi-Fi services)
 - Approved VPN access points routing through the UK (i.e. F5 VPN client)
- Certificates or other authentication methods MUST be enforced to ensure “approved” BYODs are able to access HMCTS information and applications.

6.2.3 User to Service

Users MUST supply HMCTS provided user credentials before accessing HMCTS information and applications.

6.3 Device Configuration²

6.3.1 Patch management and software updates

- BYODs MUST be maintained by users to ensure the latest approved vendor software and security updates are applied.
- Users MUST ensure BYODs are configured to automatically install patches and updates from the vendor. Only currently vendor supported Operating Systems (OSes) versions are permitted.
- The device MUST be maintained to a patch level of n or n-1 (dependant on the criticality of the update), where n represents the latest vendor supported operating system software and firmware patches.
- Devices not meeting the above requirements are NOT permitted to access HMCTS information or applications.

6.3.2 Data at Rest

- Devices MUST ensure the protection of data at rest using NCSC certified software solutions providing full disk encryption of a hard disk including any removeable storage media.
- Storage media, containing HMCTS data MUST not be removed from the device.
- A remote wipe facility if available at reasonable cost, can help to ensure lost or stolen devices can be remotely wiped to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure of information.

6.3.3 Malicious Software Protection

Anti-malware (including Anti-spyware) protection MUST be in place and from a reputable vendor:

- Files MUST be scanned upon access
- Weekly and daily scans MUST be configured on all storage drives.
- Software MUST be configured to update definition files on a daily basis.

² BYODs must be configured securely in accordance with prevailing best practice as detailed in Annex A of this policy
Bring Your Own Device Policy

6.3.4 Firewalls

A personal firewall MUST be enabled on the device to block unsolicited outbound and inbound connections.

6.4 Overseas Travel

- Devices SHALL NOT be taken overseas for any purpose without permission from the HMCTS SIRO or Deputy SIRO (michael.hanley@Justice.gov.uk) and HMCTS Security Operations, security.operations@hmcts.net, (for HMCTS.net user accounts).
- HMCTS.net account users are required to follow the Geo-blocking Exceptions Procedure in order to be granted access to HMCTS systems from any country outside of the UK. Failure to comply with this procedure will be deemed a Policy Breach or Unauthorised Access and may result in disciplinary action.
- VPN access is prohibited but can be requested via the above procedure

6.5 Internet access

- Internet access is attributable to the UK Government. You must not do anything which could damage the reputation of the Department or the UK Government.
- Users MUST ensure that any personal use of Department internet does not damage the Department's reputation and does not impact business operations or the individuals' ability to carry out their duties.
- During work hours, using a BYOD to browse content in categories that could constitute a security incident is not allowed e.g. violent, pornographic or obscene text, sound or images. Accessing any of these will result in a security incident and further investigation. This may result in disciplinary action. For more information please see the MoJ Acceptable Use of IT Policy, which users are bound by.
- You must not sign up for any service where the intent is to use that service for business use unless that service has been approved (if in doubt, initial requests can be submitted via security.operations@hmcts.net).

6.6 Personal data

HMCTS is not responsible for any loss or other damage to personally owned data or applications resident on a BYOD.

6.7 Off-boarding

All HMCTS data on your personal device must be removed from the device upon at the point a user leaves HMCTS.

6.8 Incident Response

If the device is lost or stolen, please inform the police and DCD-ITServiceDesk-Security@hmcts.net immediately.

- Users MUST report any incident; loss, theft or compromise of device to hmctsdataincidents@justice.gov.uk without delay.

- Users MUST report evidence of actual or perceived device compromise, misuse, loss or theft to the DCD-ITServiceDesk-Security@hmcts.net immediately.
- All accounts allowing access to any HMCTS information and data will be revoked, in the event of a loss or theft of your BYODs.

If you are suspicious of a received email requesting you to follow hyperlinks or open attachments, or have inadvertently opened what you believe to be a malicious attachment, you are to take the following actions:

- Do not open attachments or click on links
- Add the suspicious email as an attachment to a new email message and send it to DCD-ITServiceDesk-Security@hmcts.net, who will raise a Cyber Security incident and investigate
- On detection of an attempt to compromise the systems, the user must disconnect all connectivity.

Misuse of Department systems or data will be escalated as a security incident for investigation and may result in disciplinary action. You must comply with the Department Conduct and Behaviour Policy at all times.

6.9 Right to audit

HMCTS reserves the right to inspect BYODs to ensure the presence of effective minimum-security controls and the continual protection of HMCTS data and information systems from unauthorised access, loss, theft or other event(s) compromising the Confidentiality, Integrity or Availability of information.

7 Enforcement

To verify compliance against this policy, approved HMCTS staff may perform manual checks on a leaver's BYOD device to delete data and information owned by HMCTS. To facilitate such checks, the device owner may have to provide appropriate administrator/root access, so that the checks can be performed by security personnel. If any HMCTS code, information or documents have been found upon inspection, these will be deleted immediately by your local Security team. Device inspections will be performed in the presence of the device owner or a nominated deputy.

Violations may result in disciplinary action, which may include suspension, restriction of access, or more severe penalties up to and including termination of employment. Where illegal activities or theft of company property (physical or intellectual) are suspected, HMCTS may report such activities to the applicable authorities.

8 Review and Maintenance

Policies are subject to annual review with approval and authorisation from the HMCTS deputy SIRO. HMCTS Security and Information Assurance teams are responsible for on-going policy maintenance.

11 Annex A – Secure Configuration Standards

The following table is in accordance with NCSC recommendations for the secure configuration of end user platforms using Windows Operating System and Mac OS. For further guidance, please see: <https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/collection/end-user-device-security/platform-specific-guidance>

Requirement	Windows	Mac OS	Ubuntu
Configuration Management - Your device must use a legitimate operating system that meets the defined minimum standards (i.e. you may not use a 'jail broken' device).	Windows 10 (1809) N.B. This is relevant in August 2019.	Mac OS 10.13/10.14 N.B. This is relevant in August 2019.	Ubuntu 18.04 LTS N.B. This is relevant in August 2019.
Assured data-in-transit protection – Data must be sufficiently protected as it traverses between end user device and enterprise.	All data must be routed over a secure enterprise VPN to ensure the confidentiality and integrity of the traffic. Use Windows10 Built-in VPN configured in accordance with the customisation guidance.	All data must be routed over a secure enterprise VPN to ensure the confidentiality and integrity of the traffic, and to benefit from enterprise protective monitoring solutions. Use a Foundation Grade IPsec VPN client configured as per that product's security procedures.	All data must be routed over a secure enterprise VPN - use a Prime or Foundation Grade IPsec VPN client configured in accordance with that product's security procedures.
Assured data-at-rest protection – Data stored on the device should be satisfactorily encrypted when the device is in its "rest" state.	To provide full volume protection, use either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - BitLocker with a TPM and PIN configured in alignment with the BitLocker configuration settings. - An independently assured CPA Foundation Grade, Data at Rest encryption product that supports UEFI and Windows Secure Boot, configured in alignment with the security procedures for that product. 	Use FileVault 2 to provide full-volume encryption. As the disk encryption password is not tied to hardware, it needs to be strong enough to resist an offline brute-force attack. See HMCTS Password Guidance for explanation of required strength of password.	Use LUKS/dm-crypt to provide full volume encryption.
Authentication	The user should implicitly authenticate to the device by entering the BitLocker PIN at boot time. The user should then have a secondary credential to use when authenticating to the platform after boot and when unlocking the device.	Either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Users have two passwords – one for FileVault 2, and one to login and unlock their device (see Provisioning Steps for how to achieve this) 	The user should have a separate password to authenticate themselves to the device from the one they are using as their decryption password. Alternatively, the user can implicitly authenticate to the

Malicious code detection and prevention	Windows 10 includes Windows Defender Antivirus and Windows Defender SmartScreen that attempt to detect malicious code for the platform. If using a third-party product, those that implement the Anti-Malware Scan Interface (AMSI) should be preferred to improve compatibility with future Feature Updates. Windows Defender Exploit Guard can be used to help prevent vulnerabilities in older software from being successfully exploited.	XProtect is built into macOS. It has a limited signature set which is maintained by Apple to detect widespread malware. XProtect will also restrict vulnerable plugin versions (such as Java) to limit exposure. Several third-party anti-malware products also exist, which attempt to detect malicious code for this platform.	The platform implicitly provides some protection against malicious code being able to run when configured as recommended. Several third-party anti-malware products exist which attempt to detect malicious code for this platform.
Device updates	The device must use current vendor recommended system and security updates. Windows Update can automatically download and install updates. If the Microsoft Store is enabled, it should be configured to automatically update Microsoft Store apps.	The device must use current vendor recommended system and security updates.	Operating system security updates can be configured to be automatically applied. Using the recommended software update settings, application updates are installed automatically when the device is switched on and fully booted.

12 Annex B – Manual Inspect Audits

12.1 On-boarding Audits

The local Security Team are permitted and authorised to perform random inspection audits on the devices of new users (i.e. “joiners”) to the programme. The devices or BYODs in scope for inspection include those used to access HMCTS information (including Environment access, data and code). The purpose of the audit is to ensure the device meets the requirements of this policy.

12.2 Random Spot-checks

Continual assurance over the security of BYODs will be sought through audits and spots checks on devices of existing approved BYOD users. Again, the aim of the audit is to ensure compliance with policy. The device owner may be asked to provide appropriate administrator/root access so that these checks can be undertaken.

12.3 Audit Checklist

Device security configuration including but not limited to Patch, Anti-malware, Firewall and secure build configuration.

Software installed to ensure there is no software considered to be classed as a “hacking tool”. Examples of these hacking tools being Metasploit, Netcat, Nessus, but can also include other software which can -

- Perform scanning and reconnaissance of the network, devices or application,
- Pilfer data out of the HMCTS network, e.g. TOR
- Crack/break passwords,
- Crack Wi-Fi, or decrypt packets of traffic.
- Share files, e.g. P2P File sharing software, like Torrent, Edonkey.

If you require use of a software that has the above characteristics and could be classed as a “hacking tool”, please request permission from your local Security Team. Failure to do so may result in suspension and revocation of access to HMCTS data and information systems.

12.4 Off-boarding Leavers Checks

Upon leaving the programme, users must ensure that all HMCTS data and documents held on their personal device(s), are securely deleted. This includes all HMCTS information, keys, certificates, data and code. The leaver may be asked to prove that all HMCTS related code, information and documents have been deleted. As noted in the policy, the use of a separate dedicated BYOD account for HMCTS data and applications is recommended to prevent deletion of non-HMCTS data upon off boarding.

Device inspections will be performed in the presence of the device owner or a nominated deputy.

- 1.1.1 The contact details of the Authority's Data Protection Officer are: data.compliance@justice.gov.uk or Data Protection Officer, 102 Petty France, London, W1H 9AJ.
- 1.1.2 The Parties acknowledge that for the purposes of the Data Protection Legislation, the actual activity carried out by each of them under this Framework Agreement and any Call-Off Contract is the relevant factor under the Data Protection Legislation and this dictates whether a Party is a "Joint Controller" or a "Controller" or a "Processor" or if they are undertaking more than one role in respect of any Personal Data.
- 1.1.3 If a Party is a Controller, then it shall be responsible for its own compliance with the Data Protection Legislation and shall comply with independent control provisions in this Schedule 11.
- 1.1.4 Where a Party acts as a Processor in relation to Personal Data where the other Party is Controller, the Party who is a Processor shall comply and shall ensure that any sub-processor it appoints complies with the Processor's obligations in Schedule 11.
- 1.1.5 The Parties agree:

In addition to consideration of the nine protected characteristics under the Equality Act (2010), MoJ has extended its consideration of equality, diversity and inclusion to include socio-economic background. To fully promote a fair society and create a truly representative workforce, we must also remove the barriers that disproportionately affect those from lower socio-economic backgrounds. MoJ believes that for any level of skill & ambition, regardless of an individual's background, everyone should have an equal chance of getting the job they want or reaching a higher income bracket. All MoJ suppliers are expected to endorse and support our approach by considering how they will promote social mobility when recruiting new staff and/or ensure equal opportunities to individuals from a range of socio-economic backgrounds (SEBs) as well as other groups. N.B This question is to encourage the promotion of social inclusion only and will not be scored for evaluation purposes. Where the answer is no, this should be, for example, because you are a sole trader, very small enterprise (maximum of 25-30 employees) or in a niche market where the application of social mobility policy is not practicable.

Court Appointed Intermediary Service Approved Service Provider Framework

Competency Overview

Introduction

This competency overview sets out the knowledge, skills and abilities that must be evidenced by individuals seeking to provide Intermediary services under the Approved Service Provider framework, and who do not meet the minimum qualification and experience standards as set out in the Service Specification.

This competency overview is set out in two sections, firstly an overview of core purpose, followed by the core competencies which will need to be evidence in the ASP Competency based Assessment Application Form.

Please note: Application forms will only be considered for those who have experience in delivering Intermediary services.

Section One - Core Purpose

Aligning competencies with purpose is critical to quality outcomes. So, core purpose is described from the point of view of outcomes and Service User experience. Naming what a Service User can expect to experience when core competencies are applied in line with service requirements.⁴

Core Purpose One:

Service Users can communicate their needs in relation to Venue processes in order to fully participate, give best evidence and understand outcomes.

- Informal engagement. The Intermediary will provide appropriate informal input to establish rapport and ensure that a Service User is able to engage with the communication assessment.
- Skills matched to needs. The Intermediary will ensure that their skills are matched to the needs of the Service User.
- Informed consent. The Intermediary will ensure that the Service User is clear on their role and is happy for them to undertake the Assessment.
- Evidence based assessment. The Intermediary will conduct a clear assessment of communication needs, rooted in contemporary evidence, which will likely combine formal and informal processes.
- Provided in a sensitive manner. They will conduct their assessment in a manner which is sensitive to the needs⁵ of the Service User whilst maintaining a clear focus on due process.
- Evidencing Service User involvement. The assessment must evidence clear involvement of the Service User, including their consent for additional assistance/reasonable adjustments.⁶
- Report. The Intermediary will provide a written assessment report with clear definition of need and additional assistance to address needs.

Outcome: Service Users are confident that their needs are understood and how they will be assisted to participate appropriately, in proceedings.

⁴ i.e. not service delivery, but what the Service User should experience

⁵ Needs will include cultural preferences and background.

⁶ Reasonable adjustments are rooted in the legislation and the base upon which special measures have been instituted. Reasonable adjustments also apply to everyone - i.e. the public sector equalities duty.

Core Purpose Two:

Venues are provided with clear understanding of communication needs of the Service User and how they can be addressed.

- The Intermediary can clearly explain to the venue:
 - the communication needs of a Service User;
 - what impact these needs will have on their ability to participate and give best evidence;
 - what reasonable adjustments are required to overcome these needs;
 - how an Intermediary will assist in this process.
- The Intermediary will help to ensure that appropriate strategies are agreed, and that the venue understands how they are to be implemented. Ideally this will be done at a ground rules hearing.
- The Intermediary will ensure that the Service User is clear on what assistance is to be made available for them at the venue.
- Intermediary attends the venue⁷ as instructed.

Outcome: Service Users with communication needs are able to participate in Venue process.

Core Purpose Three:

Intermediaries ensure that Service Users with communication needs are able to effectively participate at all stages of the venue process, including giving instruction and evidence.

- The Intermediary helps the Service User to prepare as directed.
- The Intermediary is available as required, ensuring that the Service User understands and participates.
- The Intermediary monitors the Service User, ensuring that the venue is made aware of problems encountered, such as attention, concentration and emotional state.
- The Intermediary will continually evaluate the Service User's communication skills and participation in the proceedings, notifying the venue of any proposed changes or additions to the recommendations
- The Intermediary ensures that the Service User is able to understand the outcome.

Outcome: Service Users with communication needs are able to participate, give their best evidence and understand outcomes.

⁷ This will include any activity directed by the venue, in line with service contract.

Section Two - Core Competencies

This section sets out the core competencies required of all Court Appointed intermediaries in order to deliver a high-quality service. Applicants must provide evidence demonstrating that they meet each competence, taking account of the purpose and function of a Court Appointed Intermediary as described above and in the Service Specification. Applicants must limit evidence for each competence as set out below.

Applicants should note that their written responses will also be used as evidence of written communication capability.

Core Competency One:

Communication (maximum 500 words)

Evaluation Criteria:

- Ability to establish rapport and credibility with a vulnerable child or adult.
- Excellent general verbal and written skills – including skills in professional report writing to a high standard.
