There is always at least one of the play equipment out of commission. The additions from last year of the gym equipment and extra swings for elder kids were good, though.

Possibly an extra set of swings for toddlers/under 3's - there's often a queue to take a turn.

The play forts are probably the most popular activities - both the smaller kids one and the older kids one.

The park doesn't have a roundabout as far as I can remember. Again - one for smaller kids and a bigger one for older ones.

The park overall is excellent. Good luck with your bid.

A water / splash play area would be great at this park. Eg the wet play area at Bakewell Millhouses and Queen Park are great in the summer. As we dont have anything like that in Dronfield, and the park could be considered at Cliffe Park.
