Background	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The World Leaders' Summit (WLS) will take place from 1-2 November at the start of COP26. Leaders from all around the world will gather in Glasgow - from the smallest and most climate vulnerable countries to the largest global emitters - joined by important figures from civil society, international organisations, business and youth. This will be one of the most significant meetings of world leaders since the COVID-19 pandemic and the largest at a COP since Paris in 2015.</li><li>• Within the Summit, on 2 November, HMG will host a leader-level event called the Action on Forests and Land-use (FLU) event. The WLS FLU event will convene ambitious governments from key donor and forested countries, companies, financial actors, and non-state leaders to raise ambition on forests and land-use, in a way that delivers for the climate, people, economic development and biodiversity.</li><li>• We need Leaders to commit to halt and reverse forest loss by 2030 while delivering sustainable development and a just rural transition.</li><li>• An accompanying set of actions and roadmap will be key to meeting these goals, ensuring that 1.5 degrees remains within reach. Actions will be delivered through 4 main themes: enhanced country commitments on forests and land use, mobilising finance and investment, joint action on sustainable production and consumption, and support for local people and smallholders.</li><li>• We want to ensure this to be an immersive and memorable event that makes delegates feel part of something important and historic. We want to produce an opening film for the start of the event (when most country leaders will be present) that tells a powerful story about why action to protect forests and manage our land sustainably is critical to tackling climate change and limiting global temperature to 1.5 degrees.</li><li>• The film should set out the importance of forests to human health, livelihoods and economies, and the actions required of governments, businesses, investors and civil society in protecting them.</li><li>• We want this film to captivate and move the audience using visually stunning footage and a compelling and urgent story – ideally narrated by Sir David Attenborough as one of the world's leading voices on nature, alongside a young voice from a developing country to provide a counter-balancing perspective.</li></ul>
------------	--

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>It will be important that Heads of State from tropical forest countries (like Indonesia, India, DRC, Colombia) feel included and validated in this video, so it will be important to show their people's faces and activities in a positive light, as agents of positive change.</li> </ul>
The Challenge	To create a powerful piece of storytelling about the importance of healthy forests that sets the scene for the event and creates a sense of unity around a global problem and shared solution. It should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Paint a picture of how healthy forests are intimately connected to human health and livelihoods – providing food, shelter, energy, medicine, and income. Cleaning our air and purifying our water.</li> <li>Acknowledge the role of forests in reducing emissions and helping to keep us on a 1.5 degree pathway.</li> <li>Touch on the problem – i.e., deforestation and forest degradation continuing at alarming rates. [If Attenborough narrating, he could reflect on his first-hand experiences over the past three decades; how forests have declined at a rapid rate to make way for agricultural expansion to feed a growing population].</li> <li>Acknowledge the complexity of the challenge (particularly from the perspective of developing countries who are more reliant on industrial agriculture for their economic growth) and recognise that efforts have been made to protect the world's forests, but more needs to be more – and urgently.</li> <li>It should present a compelling case for why halting deforestation and managing the land more sustainably is fundamental to our economic prosperity – helping to increase resilience to climate change, reduce poverty, preserve biodiversity, and underpin healthy food systems and healthy communities.</li> <li>Urge countries to invest in nature-based solutions alongside efforts to decarbonize the economy and emphasise the message that if we look after nature, nature will look after us.</li> <li>Stress the importance of global collaboration and active participation</li> </ul>

	of indigenous people, businesses, and financial institutions in developing a collective solution. It should not: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Frame forest protection and nature-based solutions as a “cheap and simple” solution to climate change, but an important strategy for addressing climate change and biodiversity loss, whilst also supporting sustainable development.</li> <li>• Blame or accuse specific countries of failing to take sufficient action to protect forests. We want this film to galvanise support and create a sense of progress and unity.</li> </ul>
Comms objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Set the scene for the WLS event and provide a powerful and emotive reminder of the importance of forests and land use in tackling climate change.</li> <li>• Highlight the importance of collective action from all countries – forested and non-forested / global south and north - and urge leaders to take bold and ambitious action.</li> <li>• Help to frame the event and set the tone for the day (inclusive, constructive) and give wider audiences that are unable to attend a sense of the scale and importance of the challenge.</li> </ul>
Call to action	For countries to come together and raise their ambition to halt deforestation and reverse forest loss and land degradation by 2030. Encourage businesses, financial institutions and indigenous people and local communities to work in partnership to support this transition – for the benefit of people, nature, and climate.
Deliverables	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 4-5 minute film to be played at the start of the WLS event, including subtitles, voiceover and COP26 brand endcard, provided in 16:9 aspect ratio.</li> <li>• 1min max cut down for use on social media (subtitled) in square format 1080x1080 px.</li> <li>• 1 min beauty footage roller to be used during the intervals at the event only</li> </ul>
Usage requirements	We intend to ‘premier’ the film at the Forests and Land Use side event at the World Leaders Summit on 2 Nov. We would also like to use the film in our wider communications around the event to highlight the outcomes and pledges made, specifically via: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• UK government social media channels</li> <li>• Supply it to domestic &amp; international media (broadcast and online) as part of the media announcement following the event.</li> </ul>

	The film will not be used for any other political purposes beyond supporting the outcomes of the event. The film will not be used for any theatric/big screen exhibition where a charge is made for entry. DEFRA has no right to use extracts from the film or produce cut down versions of the film other than the five and 2 x one minute versions of the film as delivered, unless otherwise agreed with Supplier
Audience	Primary audience: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Heads of State of forested and non-forested countries who are attending the WLS event and are interested in taking action to protect and restore forests.</li> </ul> Secondary audiences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Businesses and financial institutions who want to tackle deforestation by eliminate unsustainable forestry practices from their supply chains.</li> <li>• Indigenous people and rural communities who have a critical role to play in forest protection and conservation.</li> <li>• eNGOs and civil society organisations with an interest in deforestation and want to see governments taking strong action.</li> <li>• General public who might not understand the complexity of the problem and how it related to them as individuals but want to see governments making progress.</li> </ul> We would like the social media edit to be targeted towards the secondary audiences.
Examples of content we've liked in this area	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How to Save our Forests and Rewild Our Planet, WWF International: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lg9Tfc_hNsE</li> <li>• Earthrise Studio: https://www.earthrise.studio/project/people-of-the-forest</li> </ul>
Tone of voice	The video should feel intimate and inclusive by addressing the leaders in the room directly. It should use stunning footage and powerful storytelling to emphasise the importance of forests to people, nature and climate. It should be serious in tone and stress the urgency of the problem but should also feel optimistic about the future. Above all, it should feel inclusive and present the problem as everyone's responsibility to solve.

Suggested narrative structure	Paint a picture about the importance of forests to human health, livelihoods, and economies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Healthy forests mean healthy people - all people depend upon forests and their biodiversity, including many of the worlds poorest.</li> <li>• Forests are vital for life - they harbour most of the Earth's terrestrial biodiversity.</li> <li>• Forests are an integral part of the economy - the Dasgupta review recently concluded that at least 40 per cent of the global economy is</li> </ul>
-------------------------------	--

	significantly dependent on biodiversity. Set out the challenge and complexity of the problem: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The net loss of forest area has decreased since 1990, but deforestation and forest degradation continue to take place at alarming rates resulting in significant loss of biodiversity.</li> <li>• An area of forest equivalent to the size of 40 football pitches is lost every minute.</li> <li>• Agricultural expansion is the main driver of tropical deforestation and the associated loss of biodiversity.</li> </ul> Explain what investing in forests and nature can do for us: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Lifts people out of poverty</li> <li>• Help us adapt to climate change and build resilience</li> <li>• Help us to reduce emissions and keep 1.5 degrees on track</li> </ul> Explain what is needed to make this work: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Increased finance and investment</li> <li>• Active participation from indigenous people and rural communities</li> <li>• Unique partnerships and approaches from businesses and civil society</li> </ul> Call to action <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reminder that this is our last best chance</li> <li>• Solutions that balance conservation goals with demands for resources are critical.</li> <li>• Actions to combat deforestation have gathered pace over the past decade and forests are increasingly recognised for their role as a nature-based solutions to tackling climate change. But we still have a long way to go.</li> <li>• We must take bold actions to reverse the loss of forests and their biodiversity for the benefit of current and future generations</li> </ul>
