SCHEDULE 1 - SPECIFICATION

Introduction to jLIS

1. Role and description of service

The role of the Judicial Library and Information Service (jLIS) is to provide legal publications and information to judges and legal advisers to ensure that they are equipped to carry out their duties effectively.

The governing framework for the provision of this service is set out in the “Protocol for the Provision of Legal Publications to the Judiciary” which is overseen by the Judges’ Council Library Committee. Provision varies depending on jurisdiction, but in general terms, jLIS currently provides:

Print – for use by judges, legal advisers and court staff. They are available in court/hearing rooms, court and tribunal libraries, and some judges receive copies of core texts for personal use where they are required for frequent use.

eBooks - for personal use by judges who choose this format

Online - access to an extensive eLibrary of online legal resources via eLIS website which is available via eJudiciary.

2. Background to the requirement

The current Protocol inevitably means that there is significant degree of duplication of content between print and online. The priority has always been to ensure that judges have access to the content they need in the most appropriate format - for example, books which are required for frequent use are preferred in print whereas online is better for finding cases and legislation as searching is easier and this content is always up to date.

We are currently engaged in a judicial consultation to ensure that we understand how judges use information; this will report fully in the autumn when we will redraft the Protocol to be launched in April 2020 when the new contracts come in to force.

3. jLIS - future context

The lifetime of the new contracts will see significant changes taking place which have an impact on the courts and tribunals.

- a) Her Majesty's Courts and Tribunals Service (HMCTS) is going through an ambitious modernisation programme which aims to bring modern technology and different ways of working to the courts and tribunals. The programme comprises over 50 projects, one of which will see Wi-Fi available in every court and tribunal venue. This will mean that judges will have access to online legal information regardless of their location, and will support the overarching programme by enabling them to work flexibly. The programme is due to complete in 2022.
- b) The ongoing change in judicial demographics continues, bringing different expectations from newer judges in terms of how they access digital content. For this group of judges, online is the default provision for accessing a much greater amount of content so we expect demand for digital content to increase.

c) The revised date for leaving the EU is 31 October 2019, however the final deal is yet to be agreed, although it is anticipated there will be an impact on HMCTS and the judiciary it is impossible at this stage to determine the scope.

It is important, therefore, that the contracts offer flexibility in terms of quantity, content and format so that jLIS can respond to changing demand and ensure that judges continue to have access to the information they need, whenever they need it.

4. Overview of Acquisitions and Finance Process

The Authority has a bespoke acquisitions portal known as Acqua which manages the end to end acquisitions and the internal payment process within jLIS for all orders, print and online.

Each individual order will have a unique order reference number, and a Purchase Order will be provided to the Supplier for each individual order.

Suppliers should have the facility to accept the Government Procurement Card (VISA) in the event that it is not possible to provide a Purchase Order Number, e.g. for urgent orders.

4.1 Invoicing

When goods are despatched or services provided Suppliers should send a draft invoice to the jLIS Finance mailbox: jlisfinance@judiciary.uk for checking prior to submission for payment. This will ensure that invoice details match the original order and therefore enable speedy payment when submitted to the MoJ's external partner for managing payment services – Shared Services Connected Limited (SSCL).

jLIS Finance will notify Suppliers when the invoice has been approved, and Suppliers should then submit the invoice for payment. Failure to comply with this process will result in the invoice being rejected and will delay payment.

4.1.1. Invoice requirements

- Draft invoices are submitted to both Acquisitions and JLIS Finance mailboxes within 3 days of supply of goods or services – KPI
- Approved invoices should be submitted to SSCL within 10 working days after approval from jLIS - KPI. SSCL email address is APinvoices-MOJ-U@sscl.gse.gov.uk;
- The invoice must be sent in PDF format – SSCL are unable to accept electronic invoices in any other format;
- The invoice must be sent in a stand-alone email with PDF attachment, without cc'd recipients;
- SSCL are unable to accept emails that form part of a chain, and that have cc'd recipients;
- Emails can include more than one invoice PDF attachment per email, but each invoice must be a separate PDF.

4.1.2 Statements

- The Supplier must submit monthly statement of outstanding invoices to the jLIS Finance mailbox. MI Report
- This statement must refer only to invoices outstanding for jLIS, and not for the entirety of MoJ and contain the following information:

- Invoice date
- Invoice number
- Amount

4.1.3 OGD using the Framework

Print/eBook Specific Requirement

12. J LIS Requirements

12.1 Headline Requirements

jLIS requires the ability to purchase any legal publication from any UK or overseas publisher, in print or eBook format. In practice jLIS buys around 500 core legal titles on an annual basis, topped up by other miscellaneous publications as and when required.

12.2 Background to the requirement

As outlined in this specification, the provision of print and eBook material to the judges is governed by the jLIS Protocol. Judges do, however, have an element of choice in their preferred formats – for example the choice of textbook format is a matter of choice for individual judges – and this is likely to continue under the next version of the Protocol.

eBooks continue to be popular with some judges; however, ongoing problems with installing eReaders on judicial laptops has meant that use has been limited as we have been unable to make them easily accessible across the judiciary. Another obstacle preventing more widespread use is the lack of a single eReader that is compatible with all the different eBook formats used by publishers. There is clearly still a role for eBooks within the Protocol, and we would like larger suppliers to work with us to develop methods to overcome these obstacles.

13. Content

- Core titles. There are around 500 core publications required each year, many of these will be bulk quantities. The majority will be required in print although some judges will require personal copies of eBooks.
- Miscellaneous titles. Each year, jLIS will also require the flexibility to purchase any other print/eBooks should they be required. These tend to be purchased in single or very low quantities.

14. Contract Structure

14.1 Framework Agreement

The Agreement will take the form of a four-year Framework Agreement (FWA) with subsequent Call Off contracts awarded for a term of 1, 2, 3 or 4 years. In order to get onto the FWA Suppliers must meet the minimum quality threshold as outlined in this specification. Suppliers will be required to enter on the pricing schedule the minimum discount % from RRP they are prepared to offer for the term of the FWA, however it is expected that these discounts will increase significantly at Call Off stage when the Authority will commit to volumes, until the Authority is satisfied that the discount is acceptable no commitment will be given.

14.2 Lot structure

- Lot 1: POF titles (publication order form) - Titles chosen by jLIS prior to the start of the financial year, and additionally may be required throughout the course of the financial year. This will contain core titles and additional miscellaneous requirements. Exact titles are subject to change year-on-year.

- Lot 2: UXB (unexpected books) - Ad hoc requests throughout the financial year for miscellaneous publications not listed in Lot 1. Exact titles are subject to change year-on-year.

15. Order Process

15.1 Annual publications ordering process

In September each year jLIS provides Suppliers with our list of core titles that are required on an annual basis. Suppliers are required to confirm which are due for publication in the following financial year (April – March).

This information is then used to produce the Publication Order Form (POF) list for the upcoming financial year. Judges, courts and tribunals then order publications they require from this list. They are also able to add custom selections to this list, should they require additional publications that are not listed. These are contained in Lot 1 – POF.

We then enter this into our dedicated acquisitions management system – Acqua. This then provides us with indicative purchasing requirements for the forthcoming financial year.

These quantities are indicative and not absolute so there should be a tolerance of +/- 10% built into the Call-Off Contract. Reasons for changes in quantities can be for a variety of reasons, for example appointment of new judges or closure of courtrooms. Therefore, the same discount from RRP shall be applied to ad hoc orders for these for the Call-Off Contract term.

Additional miscellaneous titles may also be required over the course of the financial year, depending on demand. These are contained in Lot 2 – Unexpected Book (UXB).

15.2 Ordering cycle

The end to end acquisitions process is managed by Acqua and there are three key stages to this:

- Pre-order checks. All titles are checked with suppliers at pre-order stage to confirm availability, RRP and discount. Acqua will automatically generate a list of titles which will be emailed to each supplier. These checks are necessary to avoid ordering publications which aren't available and to ensure that we have accurate prices and discount rates. In both cases this will assist with ensuring that our budget forecast is as accurate as possible. This will also mean that invoices can be approved quickly and paid promptly.
- Purchase Order raised. A purchase order will be raised and sent to Suppliers by MoJ HQ transaction team. jLIS will quote this reference when placing an order with the Supplier, this purchase order must be quoted on subsequent invoices to enable payment.
- Orders placed with Supplier. Acqua will generate the order on to a spreadsheet which includes individual order/delivery lines. Forthcoming titles are placed approximately one month prior to publication, backlist titles will be placed as soon as the request is received, so there are likely to be several small orders each week.

15.3 Pre-order – Price and Publication Date (P&PD) check

- The Authority will request RRP and publication date check up to 2 months prior to expected publication date.
- This will be sent to the Supplier through the Authority's dedicated acquisition portal – Acqua.

The Authority will supply:	The Authority requires the Supplier to check the following information:
Batch number	N/A
ISBN/Product code	ISBN/Product code
Title Description	Title description
Edition	N/A

Quantity	N/A
Price – RRP	Price – RRP
Discount Percentage	N/A
Price After Discount	N/A
Notes	Any further comments should be added in the Notes column

See Annex A for an example Acqua P&PD check.

The Supplier should note that this spreadsheet is currently being revised, and the format is subject to change, however the information required from the Supplier will remain the same.

The Supplier should then annotate spreadsheet and return within 3 working days.

As outlined above - changes to any of the following information should be clearly highlighted on the returned spreadsheet:

SPECIAL CONDITIONS: INFORMATION SECURITY

Section I: Process measures to manage information risk

- 1. The Supplier must:
 - 1.1 identify, keep and disclose to the Customer upon request a record of those members of the Supplier Staff and any sub-contractors with access to or who are involved in handling Customer Data ("users"); and
 - 1.2 provide to the Customer details of its policy for reporting, managing and recovering from information risk incidents, including losses of protected personal data and ICT security incidents and its procedures for reducing risk and raising awareness; and
 - 1.3 immediately report information security incidents to the Customer. Significant actual or potential losses of personal data may be shared with the Information Commissioner and the Cabinet Office by the Customer.

Section II: Specific minimum measures to protect personal information

- 2. The Supplier must be particularly careful to protect Customer Data whose release or loss could cause harm or distress to individuals. The Supplier must:
 - 2.1 handle all such Customer Data as if it were confidential while it is processed or stored by the Supplier or its sub-contractors, applying the measures in this Schedule.
- 3. When Customer Data is held on paper it must be kept secure at all times, locked away when not in use or the premises on which it is held secured. If Customer data held on paper is transferred it must be by an approved secure form of transfer with confirmation of receipt. When Customer Data is held and accessed on ICT systems on secure premises, the Supplier must apply the minimum protections for information set out in the Specification, or equivalent measures, as well as any additional protections as needed as a result of the Customer's risk assessment. Where in exceptional circumstances equivalent measures are adopted the Supplier must obtain the Customer's prior approval in writing
- 4. Wherever possible, Customer Data should be held and accessed on paper or ICT systems on secure premises protected as above. This means the Supplier should avoid the use of removable media (including laptops, removable discs, CD-ROMs, USB memory sticks, PDAs and media card formats) for storage or access to such data where possible. Where the Customer agrees that this is not possible the Supplier should work to the following hierarchy, recording the reasons why a particular approach has been adopted in a particular case or a particular business area:
 - 4.1 ;best option: hold and access data on ICT systems on secure premises
 - 4.2 second best option: secure remote access, so that data can be viewed or amended without being permanently stored on the remote computer. This is possible for Customer Data over the internet using products meeting the FIPS 140-2 standard or equivalent, unless otherwise agreed with the Customer;
 - 4.3 third best option: secured transfer of Customer Data to a remote computer on a secure site on which it will be permanently stored. Both the Customer Data at rest and the link should be protected at least to the FIPS 140-2 standard or equivalent. Protectively marked Customer Data must not be stored on privately owned computers unless they are protected in this way;

- 4.4 in all cases the remote computer should be password protected, configured so that its functionality is minimised to its intended business use only, and have up to date software patches and anti-virus software.
- 5. Where the Customer agrees that it is not possible to avoid the use of removable media, the Supplier should apply all of the following conditions:
 - 5.1 the Customer Data transferred to the removable media should be the minimum necessary to achieve the business purpose, both in terms of the numbers of people covered by the Customer Data and the scope of Customer Data held. Where possible only anonymised Customer Data should be held;
 - 5.2 the removable media should be encrypted to a standard or at least FIPS 140-2 or equivalent in addition to being protected by an authentication mechanism, such as a password;
 - 5.3 user rights to transfer Customer Data to removable media should be carefully considered and strictly limited to ensure that this is only provided where absolutely necessary for business purposes and subject to monitoring by the Supplier and the Customer; and
 - 5.4 the individual responsible for the removable media should handle it – themselves or if they entrust it to others – as if it were the equivalent or a large amount of their own cash.
- 6. Where the Customer agrees that the second condition of encryption in paragraph 5 cannot be applied due to business continuity and disaster recovery considerations, such unprotected Customer Data should only be recorded, moved, stored and monitored with strong controls.
- 7. All material that has been used for confidential Customer Data should be subject to controlled disposal. The Supplier must:
 - 7.1 destroy paper records containing protected personal data by incineration, pulping or shredding so that reconstruction is unlikely; and
 - 7.2 dispose of electronic media that has been used for protected personal data through secure destruction, overwriting, erasure or degaussing for re-use.
- 8. The Supplier must have appropriate mechanisms in place in order to comply with the Customer's requirements as set out in this Schedule, including adequate training in handling confidential data for the Supplier Staff.
- 9. The Supplier must:
 - 9.1 put in place arrangements to log activity of data users in respect of electronically held protected personal information, and for managers to check it is being properly conducted, with a particular focus on those working remotely and those with higher levels of functionality. Summary records of managers' activity must be shared with the Customer and be available for inspection by the Information Commissioner's Office on request;
 - 9.2 minimise the number of users with access to the Customer Data.
