The Cefas work package lead may require input into the preparation of survey specifications which contribute to request for quotation and tendering documentation prior to their release to the market. Prior to contract award, there may be a requirement to join Cefas' evaluation panel to assess tender submissions for hydrographic vessel services. Once contracts are awarded, there may be a requirement to attend the pre-survey kick off meeting to provide technical input.

Additional requirements may include the review and comment (verbal or written) on survey documentation such as Risk Assessment and Method Statements (RAMS), Project Execution Plans (PEPs) or similar. In some scenarios there may be a requirement to meet with party chiefs and surveyors / attend mobilisations and act as representative on behalf of Cefas.

2. Provide remote ad hoc support during survey operations:

Provide specialist 'on call' advice during mobilisations and / or survey operations if technical issues arise, or to sail with a vessel for a portion of the survey.

3. Review and provide Quality Assurance (QA) of post-survey deliverables:

- i) Review the survey report, charts and final data products to ensure they are fit for purpose and meet the requirements of the tender specification, ensuring the information provided would stand up to regulatory scrutiny.
- ii) Check the quality of raw data, sounding density etc. and undertake cross line analysis to ensure that the survey complies with the applicable International Hydrographic Organization (IHO) order. The findings of the above analysis will be summarised in a Value-Added Statement (approximately 2 – 3 pages) completed by the supplier under this contract providing an overview of data quality (with appropriate statistical analysis) and IHO order achieved. Additional analysis may be applicable and therefore required (e.g. difference analysis with previous survey data to detect offsets). The report will (if appropriate) include caveats on data quality and final use in regulatory monitoring and reporting.

The Value-Added Statement will be incorporated into HPC/SZC regulatory monitoring reports as an Appendix. N.B. reports will be published in the public domain.

4. Provide ad hoc expert advice:

Ad hoc expert hydrographic advice may be required around data products, standards and analysis. This may include supporting Cefas coastal geomorphologists with interpretation of the bathymetric survey outputs, for example, providing expert opinion on whether any bathymetric change detected between surveys was a result of survey artefact (resulting from fluid mud for example), or natural seabed change. It could also be providing input or review of the technical aspects of regulatory monitoring plans.
