Introduction

The Science and Technology Facilities Council (STFC) is one of seven UK Research Councils funded by UK Government. We collaborate extensively with industry and our long-term R&D underpins sectors which contribute billions of pounds annually to the UK economy, including space, pharmaceuticals, microelectronics and physics-based manufacturing. In April 2018, UK Research and Innovation was formed bringing the Research Councils, Innovate UK and parts of the Higher Education Funding Council for England into a new umbrella organisation,

STFC supports business incubation through a co-ordinated programme of initiatives covering a broad variety of science and technology sectors. Our unique spectrum of incubation facilities at the Higgs Centre for Innovation, are set within the wider UK Astronomy Technology Centre, partnering STFC with the University of Edinburgh. This cross-disciplinary partnership physically located on site is fundamental to our work. The Higgs Centre for Innovation aims to be a key facility in supporting SME's within a variety of relevant sectors to STFC, with Space Technology as a key strategic focus.

We aim to develop our business support offering at STFC's Higgs Centre for Innovation, located in the UK Astronomy Technology Centre, where businesses co-locate with STFC in a supportive environment for start-up companies to develop new products and gain investment, and create jobs.

Background to the Requirement

Historically business support workshops at the Higgs Centre for Innovation have predominantly been in a workshop/group environment. For the purpose of the next phase of support, we wish to focus on providing one-to-one support to ensure the provision is tailored to the needs of the company. Typically Companies will focus on securing revenue streams, identifying skill gaps in their business and understanding the steps they need to take to push forward their product. This could be through strategic planning or advice from experience. We have also identified a need to support companies in making the best use of initiatives offered to SMEs in Scotland. The opportunities offered to companies based in Scotland are often different to companies located in other parts of the UK.

Companies locating in the Higgs Centre typically are on one of 3 programmes, which all offer a funding package and technical support in priority technology areas for STFC or relevant partner organisations. The programmes are listed below:

STFC Higgs Business Incubation Centre - The Higgs BIC offers to support projects and ideas for business incubation by providing funding, business and technical assistance in STFC core technologies, such as astronomy and big data analytics

STFC CERN Business Incubation Centre - THE STFC CERN BIC programme offers a financial award, alongside business development and technical support for entrepreneurs and small high tech companies wishing to exploit the business opportunities linked to high energy physics technology.

ESA Business Incubation Centre - The ESA BIC UK supports businesses developing ideas related to the downstream application of space technologies across different industry sectors or development of upstream technologies.

Companies have access to facilities within the Higgs Centre for Innovation, which may be useful when co-locating at the Centre. These include:

Nanosatellite Testing Facilities - The Higgs Centre for Innovation provides SMEs access to the expertise and facilities of the UK ATC and the University of Edinburgh in the areas of remote sensing instrumentation, space technology and data intensive science. The Centre's dedicated facilities and this technical expertise are available to businesses wherever they are based.

The range of facilities available to companies is continually expanding and will grow over the next few years, becoming one of the most comprehensive suites available to industry and researchers alike – particularly focused around micro- and nano-satellite testing. The facilities are also available for larger satellite component and sub-system test, or for other non-space applications that require them.

Big Data visualisation facility - Our 7.5m wide data visualisation canvas at the Higgs Centre for Innovation will be available to businesses for use and offers a sophisticated integrated audio and visual capability.

The business support programme will be managed by the Business Development Manager and will be the primary point of contact for the winning bidder.

Aims and Objectives

The ESA BIC UK, STFC Higgs BIC & STFC CERN BIC are funded business incubation programmes supporting early stage technology businesses who are less than 5 years old. An integral part of the programme is the business support offering to ensure that the incubatees have the best chance of success and survival beyond their time on the relevant programme.

Business support will be provided primarily by a third-party organisation that is contracted to support the incubatee businesses to develop and implement a viable business plan, to obtain key skills and knowledge to succeed in business and secure funding as needed.

We are seeking organisations that have the capacity, capability and expertise to deliver a support programme tailored for businesses that fit the following profile:

- Early-stage businesses working intensively on R&D and commercial approach
- Generally less than 5 years old
- Usually pre-revenue and often running their own business for the first time
- Generally employ fewer than 5 people
- Working in STFC high technology priority areas (including the following sectors: Space, High Energy Physics, Data Analysis etc)

The business support programme will set out to achieve the following:

- Perform a diagnostic to understand the specific stage of development and key requirements of each business
- Supply businesses with the key skills and knowledge required to run a successful technology business and increase their chance of survival
- Ensure businesses are maximising the use of the available opportunities within Scotland and across the UK
- Contribute to the successful commercialisation of technologies by providing advice and training in key business-critical areas supporting the development of a robust business plan
- Provide crucial skills and confidence in pitching for investment and introductions to investors to help fund technology development and commercialisation
- Provide ongoing 1:1 support tailored to the needs of each business
- Create a step change for the businesses where they can demonstrate that the programme has made a difference, e.g. attracting external investment, finding new customers
- Provide STFC with case study material on a business that has derived real benefit from the programme and a positive impact on the business can be demonstrated
- Contribute to the wider objectives of STFC and the Higgs Centre for Innovation by being an active player on site and the wider Scottish business community.

The objective for the winning bidder is to design, deliver, monitor and report on a package of business support to offer and/or signpost to advice:

The business support programme should be designed to achieve the following:

- Perform a diagnostic to ascertain the specific stage of development and key requirements of each business

- Supply businesses with the key skills and knowledge required to run a successful technology business and increase their chance of survival
- Ensure companies are maximising available opportunities in Scotland and across the UK for small businesses in line with their challenges.
- Contribute to the successful commercialisation of technologies by providing advice and training in key business-critical areas supporting the development of a robust business plan
- Provide crucial skills and confidence in pitching for investment and introductions to investors to help fund technology development and commercialisation
- Provide ongoing 1:1 support tailored to the needs of each business
- Create a step change for the businesses where they can demonstrate that the programme has made a difference, e.g. attracting external investment, finding new customers
- Provide STFC with case study material on a business that has derived real benefit from the programme and a positive impact on the business can be demonstrated

Scope

The winning bidder will deliver approximately 10 training sessions (approximately one per month) at the Higgs Centre for Innovation, Edinburgh, but online provision will be discussed based on social distancing restrictions. Meetings and events may be delivered in person (when possible, determined by STFC's policy with regard to the COVID-19 pandemic) or online.

All travel and subsistence costs shall be in alignment with the UKRI Travel and Subsistence Policy – Annex 1

The winning bidder will be expected to supply all learning material and make this available to participating businesses where applicable, including presentation slides and workbooks.

The winning bidder will be expected to perform a diagnostic to assess their specific stage of development and requirements.

The winning bidder will be expected to supply a summary of the programme content to be used for marketing purposes.

The STFC Higgs Centre for Innovation team will be responsible for recruiting businesses onto the programme.

A member of the STFC Higgs Centre for Innovation team will act as the liaison point with the winning bidder.

The cost of on-site meeting rooms will be covered by STFC.

Specific Requirements

The winning bidder will be responsible for designing, managing, delivering and reporting on the business support programme, ensuring that it meets the requirements of the participants and supports the overall aims and objectives of STFC and the Business Incubation programmes in delivering economic impact.

The list of topics that would typically be covered include:

- Business planning / Developing a business model canvas
- Market research and strategy
- Intellectual Property
- Company law and legal support
- Basic business finance and R&D tax credits
- Sales, marketing and branding
- Investment readiness training to include pitching to investors

It is not expected that all businesses will require the full spectrum of support available and the focus for the winning bidder should be on identifying areas of weakness and where the priorities lie. We would expect the winning bidder to be able to offer this through connections into relevant organisations/individuals.

We would expect the winning bidder to be able to apply expertise in supporting businesses or working with/within start-ups. We would also expect them to have an extensive knowledge of the Scottish business and business support ecosystems, to provide advice and guidance to the companies involved.

It is expected that a minimum of 4-5 businesses will take advantage of the programme and the support will be delivered primarily as one-to-one meetings. One-to-one support has proven very valuable in the past and allows the support to be tailored to the needs and the stage of the business. Where similar themes and challenges are identified, workshops with multiple attendees would be acceptable, but agreed in advance with the Higgs Centre for Innovation team.

Potential winning bidders should set out their proposed programme content to support the businesses in all areas considered important and determine the most cost-effective way to deliver support. The proposal should include the following:

- Provision for a meeting with a minimum of 4 -5 businesses per day of business support
- Initial diagnostic for each business to determine the requirement

- Ten days of business support (roughly 1 day per month) primarily offered as one-to-one meetings throughout the time. Based on previous experience, it is not expected that all businesses will require a face to face meeting every month.

It is expected that the programme will run for approximately 12 months. Although the ESA, Higgs and CERN BIC community at the Higgs Centre for Innovation is the primary target audience, the programme will also be open to other early-stage businesses, to increase cross-fertilisation and provide economies of scale. This will be determined by STFC on an ad-hoc basis but would not exceed the requirement set out above.

Monitoring Outcomes and Reporting

The winning bidder will be expected to monitor attendance and seek feedback at all stages of the programme. Reports on the support delivered to each business by duration and topic, together with their attendance and feedback and a record of their progress, should be provided to STFC at defined intervals.

- The winning bidder and STFC will be expected to meet formally to kick off the programme and also mid-way to monitor progress and then to evaluate the programme on completion (three formal meetings in total).
- An evaluation report will be expected on completion of the programme. This report should include assessment of the needs of target businesses, programme design and content, quantitative feedback on attendance levels, qualitative feedback from participating businesses and suggestions to feed into the future business support programme.

Timetable

STFC expect the programme of support to start in August 2021 and conclude at the end of July 2022. Within this framework we expect potential winning bidders to set out their proposed timetable.

Our target is to recruit approximately 4-5 businesses onto the programme in this period.

A formal evaluation report will be due no later than end July 2022.

Terms and Conditions

Bidders are to note that any requested modifications to the Contracting Authority Terms and Conditions on the grounds of statutory and legal matters only, shall be raised as a formal clarification during the permitted clarification period.
