11.6 The Provider is hereby granted a non-exclusive, non-transferable, royalty-free, non-sublicensable right and licence to use all Intellectual Property Rights assigned pursuant to clause 11.3 for academic and research purposes, including research involving projects funded by third parties provided that no third party shall gain any rights in or to such Intellectual Property Rights.

11.7 For the avoidance of doubt, the Provider is not granted any permission to use any Intellectual Property Rights licenced to it in accordance with clause 11.6 for commercial gain.

11.8 All Intellectual Property Rights used or owned by a Party prior to the Commencement Date ("Background IP") are and shall remain the exclusive property of the Party owning them (or, where applicable, the third party from whom its right to use the Background IP has derived).

11.9 Each Party grants to the other a, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence to use its Background IP for the sole purpose of developing and delivering the Services but for no other purpose. Neither Party shall be entitled to grant any sub-licence over or in respect of the other Party's Background IP.

11.10 The Provider:

11.10.1 shall indemnify HEE in full against all liabilities, costs, expenses, damages and losses (including any direct, indirect or consequential losses, loss of profit, loss of reputation and all interest, penalties and legal costs (calculated on a full indemnity basis) and all other reasonable professional costs and expenses) suffered or incurred by HEE arising out of or in connection with any claim brought against HEE for actual or alleged infringement of a third party's Intellectual Property Rights, to the extent that the infringement or alleged infringement results from copying, arising out of, or in connection with, the receipt, use or supply of the Services and the Provider Outputs; and

11.10.2 shall not be in breach of the warranty at clause 3.1.7, and HEE shall have no claim under the indemnity at clause 11.10.1, to the extent the infringement arises from:

- (i) the use of HEE Materials in the development of, or the inclusion of HEE Materials in any Provider Output;
- (ii) any modification of the Provider Outputs or Services, other than by or on behalf of the Provider; and
- (iii) compliance with HEE's specifications or instructions, where infringement could not have been avoided while complying with such specifications or instructions and provided that the Provider shall notify HEE if it knows or suspects that compliance with such specification or instruction may result in infringement.

11.11 HEE:

NHS Education and Training Contract v1 – published [INSERT DATE]

- 11.11.1 warrants that the receipt and use of HEE Materials in the performance of this contract by the Provider, its agents, subcontractors or consultants shall not infringe the rights, including any Intellectual Property Rights, of any third party; and
 - 11.11.2 shall indemnify the Provider in full against all liabilities, costs, expenses, damages and losses (including any direct, indirect or consequential losses, loss of profit, loss of reputation and all interest, penalties and legal costs (calculated on a full indemnity basis) and all other reasonable professional costs and expenses) suffered or incurred by the Provider arising out of or in connection with any claim brought against the Provider, its agents, subcontractors or consultants for actual or alleged infringement of a third party's Intellectual Property Rights to the extent that the infringement or alleged infringement results from copying, arising out of, or in connection with, the receipt or use in the performance of this contract of HEE Materials.
- 11.12 If either Party (the “Indemnifying Party”) is required to indemnify the other Party (the “Indemnified Party”) under this clause 11, the Indemnified Party shall:
- 11.12.1 notify the Indemnifying Party in writing of any claim against it in respect of which it wishes to rely on the indemnity at clause 11.10.1 or clause 11.11.2 (as applicable) (“IPRs Claim”);
 - 11.12.2 allow the Indemnifying Party, at its own cost, to conduct all negotiations and proceedings and to settle the IPRs Claim, always provided that the Indemnifying Party shall obtain the Indemnified Party's prior approval of any settlement terms, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld;
 - 11.12.3 provide the Indemnifying Party with such reasonable assistance regarding the IPRs Claim as is required by the Indemnifying Party, subject to reimbursement by the Provider of the Indemnified Party's costs so incurred; and
 - 11.12.4 not, without prior consultation with the Indemnifying Party, make any admission relating to the IPRs Claim or attempt to settle it, provided that the Indemnifying Party considers and defends any IPRs Claim diligently, using competent counsel and in such a way as not to bring the reputation of the Indemnified Party into disrepute.

12 INSURANCE

- 12.1 Without prejudice to its obligations to HEE under this contract, including its indemnity and liability obligations, the Provider shall for the Term at its own cost take out and maintain, or procure the taking out and maintenance of the insurances as set out in this clause and any other insurances as may be required by applicable Law and/or Guidance (together the “Insurances”).
- 12.2 During the Term and for a period of six (6) years after the Provider ceases to have any obligations under this contract, the Provider shall maintain in force the following insurance policies with reputable insurance companies:
 - 12.2.1 public liability insurance with a limit of at least [£2,000,000] a claim;
 - 12.2.2 professional indemnity insurance (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall include cover for any clinical malpractice) with a limit of at least [£5,000,000] for claims arising from a single event or series of related events in a single calendar year;

12.2.3 employer's liability insurance with a limit of at least [£5,000,000] for claims arising from a single event or series of related events in a single calendar year; and

12.2.4 adequate insurance cover for any loss, injury and damage caused by or to any Learners (whilst on the Premises or not) in the course of providing the Services with a limit of at least [£10,000,000] for claims arising from a single event or series of related events in a single calendar year.

12.3 The Provider confirms that the insurance taken out in accordance with this clause 12 adequately covers any losses caused by injury or death to persons (including Learners) arising from the Services including as a result of any notifiable infectious diseases as listed under the Health Protection (Notification) Regulations 2010, including, but not limited to, COVID-19.

12.4 During the Term, the Provider shall fulfil all duties relating to the Learners' health, safety and welfare as if it was their employer and shall comply with HEE's reasonable requests in connection with the Provider's duties in relation to the Learners.

12.5 The Provider shall agree with HEE the specific duties and obligations of such persons as regards Learner supervision and patient care as appropriate. For the purposes of this clause 12 and in performing the Services, the Provider agrees to be deemed to be the employer of the Learner whilst undertaking a Programme(s) and not for the purposes of employment law, save where the Learner is an Employed Learner or a secondee employed via a secondment agreement with the Provider.

12.6 At the commencement of this contract and from time to time thereafter at the reasonable request of HEE or the HEE Representative, the Provider shall produce evidence of the insurances obtained and maintained in accordance with this clause 12 to HEE.

12.7 The amount of any indemnity cover and/or self insurance arrangements shall not relieve the Provider of any liabilities under this contract. It shall be the responsibility of the Provider to determine the amount of indemnity and/or self insurance cover that will be adequate to enable it to satisfy its potential liabilities under this contract. Accordingly, the Provider shall be liable to make good any deficiency if the proceeds of any indemnity cover and/or self-insurance arrangement is insufficient to cover the settlement of any claim.

12.8 The Provider warrants that it shall not take any action or fail to take any reasonable action or (in so far as it is reasonable and within its power) permit or allow others to take or fail to take any action, as a result of which its insurance cover may be rendered void, voidable, unenforceable, or be suspended or impaired in whole or in part, or which may otherwise render any sum paid out under such insurances repayable in whole or in part.

13 LIABILITY

13.1 Without prejudice to its liability to HEE for breach of any of its obligations under this contract, the Provider shall be liable for and shall indemnify HEE against any direct liability, loss, damage, costs, expenses, claims or proceedings whatsoever ("Losses") (subject always to an obligation upon HEE to mitigate any Losses to every reasonably practicable extent) incurred by HEE in respect of any claim against HEE, arising under any statute or otherwise in respect of:

- 13.1.1 any loss of or damage to property (whether real or personal);
 - 13.1.2 any injury to any person (including but not limited to Learners), including injury resulting in death; or
 - 13.1.3 any infectious disease present on the Premises (including but not limited to COVID-19); or
 - 13.1.4 any Losses of the Provider that result from or arise out of the Provider's negligence or breach of contract in connection with the performance of this contract except insofar as that loss, damage or injury has been caused by any act or omission by or on the part of, or in accordance with the instructions of, the Provider, their Staff or agents; or
 - 13.1.5 any material or non-material damage to any person as a result of infringement of the Data Protection Legislation, arising directly out of any act or omission or breach of this contract by the Provider (which expression shall in the remainder of this clause include its servants, agents, contractors or any other person who at the request of the Provider is or should be performing or discharging or purporting to perform or discharge one or more of the obligations of the Provider under this contract) save to the extent caused (or contributed to) by any act or omission or breach of contract by HEE.
- 13.2 Upon the expiry or earlier termination of this contract, the Provider shall ensure that any ongoing liability it has or may have arising out of this contract shall continue to be the subject of appropriate indemnity arrangements for the period of twenty one (21) years from termination or expiry of this contract or until such earlier date as that liability may reasonably be considered to have ceased to exist.
- 14 LIMITATION OF LIABILITY
- 14.1 Subject to clause 13, the limit of the Provider's liability to HEE for any claim arising under this contract shall be limited to a maximum of 120% of the total Funding provided under this contract in pounds sterling in aggregate for all occurrences or series of occurrences in any year of the Term.
- 14.2 Subject to clause 13, HEE's total liability to the Provider for any and all claims arising under this contract shall be limited to the total Funding.

- 14.4 Neither Party may benefit from the limitations and exclusions set out in this clause in respect of any liability arising from its deliberate default.
- 14.5 HEE has no responsibility for any other costs incurred by the Provider in connection with the Services and/or the Programme(s) to which the Funding relates, and the Provider must indemnify and keep HEE indemnified against any losses, damages, costs, expenses, liabilities, claims, actions, proceedings or other liabilities that result from or arise out of the Provider's acts or omissions in relation to the Services and/or the Programme(s) or its duties to third parties.

14.6 The Provider shall further indemnify HEE against any costs, claims or other liabilities:

14.6.1 which arise in relation to or in connection with any acts or omissions by any Learners during their attendance on an enrolled Programme of education pursuant to this contract; and

14.6.2 which HEE incurs as a direct result of the Provider's act or omission in assessing any Staff suitability to work alongside or to supervise Learners in the course of undertaking any Programme of education pursuant to this contract.

14.7 For the avoidance of doubt, without limitation, the Parties agree that for the purposes of this contract the following costs, expenses and/or loss of income shall be direct recoverable losses (to include under any relevant indemnity) provided such costs, expenses and/or loss of income are properly evidenced by the claiming Party:

14.7.1 extra costs incurred purchasing replacement or alternative services;

14.7.2 the costs of extra management time; and/or

14.7.3 costs incurred as a result of a Data Loss Event, including the costs of informing Data Subjects of the Data Loss Event in each case to the extent to which such costs, expenses and/or loss of income arise or result from the other Party's breach of contract, negligent act or omission, breach of statutory duty, and/or other liability under or in connection with this contract.

14.8 Each Party shall at all times take all reasonable steps to minimise and mitigate any loss for which that Party is entitled to bring a claim against the other pursuant to this contract.

15 TERMINATION

15.1 Without affecting any other right or remedy available to it, HEE may terminate this contract or any part of the Services at any time on six (6) months' written notice but may in its absolute discretion terminate on three (3) months' written notice. HEE will consider the impact on the Provider and the healthcare system in making the decision for termination on three (3) months, and share this decision publicly.

15.2 Without affecting any other right or remedy available to it, the Provider may terminate this contract or any part of the Services at any time with the written agreement of HEE and providing twelve (12) months' notice in writing. NHS Education and Training Contract v1 – published [INSERT DATE]

 - 15.3.5 the Provider is subject to an Insolvency Event or otherwise its financial position deteriorates so far as to reasonably justify the opinion that its ability to give effect to the terms of this contract is in jeopardy; and/or
 - 15.3.6 the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care no longer authorises and/or funds HEE to commission, and manage the provision of Funding in a manner as envisaged by this contract.
- 15.4 For the purposes of clause 15.3.1 material breach means a breach (including an anticipatory breach) that is serious in the widest sense of having a serious effect on the benefit which the terminating Party would otherwise derive from:

 - 15.7.9 the warranty given by the Provider is materially untrue; or
 - 15.7.10 the Provider breaches its obligation to notify HEE of any Occasion of Tax Non-Compliance.
- 15.8 If HEE, acting reasonably, has good cause to believe that there has been a material deterioration in the financial circumstances of the Provider and/or any third party guaranteeing the obligations of the Provider under this contract and/or any material Sub-contractor of the Provider when compared to any information provided to and/or assessed by HEE as part of any procurement process or other due diligence leading to the award of this contract to the Provider or the entering into a Sub-contract by the Provider, the following process shall apply:

Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Provider shall:

2020/21- 80%

Employer satisfaction for apprenticeships within our Allied Health Professionals department was measured at 92% overall satisfaction for 2021.

Employer and apprentices' feedback is collated to improve the course. Both apprentices and employers were consulted and rated the course highly during the recent Ofsted Inspection in which SHU received a 'Good' rating.

We meet with employers regularly and are open to more informal feedback. We have worked well with our employers across multiple regions, and channels for feedback are always open.

SHU is the 6th largest provider of AHP UG education in the UK; and the 3rd largest PG provider of AHP education so has a wealth of experience to draw on. As one of the biggest providers of apprenticeships in the country and has a sound infrastructure for the requirements of apprenticeships as recognised by a recent OFSTED inspection. Sheffield Hallam University is a registered End Point Assessment Organisation (EPAO) and is experienced in the delivery of End Point Assessments.

Enhanced-level practice deploys critical thinking and problem-solving with guidance and support from experienced professional colleagues across multidisciplinary teams. Enhanced practitioners consequently work both autonomously and as part of a team, informed by the underpinning evidence base. Given the importance of evidence-based clinical practice, enhanced practitioners should be routine users of research, be able to appraise the evidence base and understand how that affects patient outcomes, their own practice and that of their department.

Profile of collaborative partners and rationale for inclusion

Within all our educational provision for Therapeutic Radiographers collaboration with our clinical partners and wider stakeholders has been imperative to ensure the outcome of the training enhances the workforce. Our experience of this collaboration highlights strong working relationships with the professional body, radiotherapy service managers, practitioners, and the wider oncology community. The group also have experience of a multi collaborative working developing the Non-Surgical Oncology Advanced Practice Curriculum Framework, where the role of the Therapeutic Radiographer at this level is embedded throughout the framework. To ensure consistency of approach to the Enhanced Practice Schema key members of that group see the benefit of collaborating again on this schema to show the link and progression of the practitioner to Enhanced then Advanced Practice should workforce require.

The Professional body has been supportive, throughout the process of the framework development, where a good working relationship has been developed. Their involvement in the development of the enhanced practice schema is key to ensure its implementation across the professional community. As well as strategic level involvement, collaborative partners have been sought from our existing contacts across the profession. With the inclusion of Radiotherapy Service Managers, Education and Training Superintendents and Practitioners the schema will be fit for the requirements of practice, evolving the workforce, and further developing the service. We are committed to working with other HEI's that provide post registration education in the field. We would work with the Society and College of Radiographers to assist with co-ordination of these essential stakeholders. There is additional support from South Yorkshire AHP Workforce and Faculty Lead and South Yorkshire ICB AHP Lead

Collaborative Partnership Group

Project Management - The partnership will be managed by a project manager who will work closely with a professional contact at the University. Their role is to co-ordinate and manage the overall project team. They will be responsible for ensuring all milestones are met and any risks are identified and mitigated. They will take responsibility for reporting back to HEE on progress at agreed points.

Melanie Clarkson BSc (hons), PGCE, MSc, SFHEA Programme leader for MSc Advanced Clinical Practice Radiotherapy and Oncology, Portfolio Lead for the HDA (Higher Degree Apprenticeship) MSc Advanced Clinical Practice. Working party group member non-surgical oncology AP (Advanced Practice) framework. Reviewer for HEE for the Centre of Advancing Practice

Gemma Burke BSc (hons), MSc, FHEA Professional lead for Radiotherapy and Oncology. Trailblazer member for development of the pre-registration BSc (hons) Therapeutic Radiography apprenticeship

The Society and College of Radiographers will act as a conduit to aid the project team to engage with other HEI's on the development of the schema.

Technical support - Input from the technical team at the University, as well as the Learning and Teaching and Apprentice leads will ensure that the schema design is suitable for apprentices embedding digital capability and making good use of simulation and work-based learning.

A clear and regular feedback loop is essential to ensure consultation and shaping of the schema is maximised across all stakeholders. Alongside the project team, it is envisaged that existing stakeholder networks and forums will be used to feed into but alongside this dissemination resources for example webinars and newsletters will also facilitate consultation and update on progress. Maximum exposure to the schema in the development phase is essential as part of market testing. See project matrix with costs.

Curriculum teaching and practice learning

The collaboration from the partnership group will utilise experience and knowledge across the field of Therapeutic Radiography to co-produce and co-create a schema with currency for the current and future workforce. Across the schema it is essential to ensure a supportive multi professional learning environment is created via shared learning opportunities as well as uni-professional modules to allow the practitioner to develop specific knowledge, skills, and behaviours across the four pillars of practice.

Sheffield Hallam University is well versed in the delivery of blended and distance learning education in Radiotherapy, having successfully completing this for over 20 years. The schema would see the development of a new portfolio of modules specifically for this level of practice. It is recognised by the collaborative partnership group that learners will enter this level of practice with different educational backgrounds, so the opportunity to recognise prior learning and alignment with the Knowledge Skills and Behaviours (KSB's) of the apprenticeship standard will be an important aspect to consider. Equally the progression to advanced practice and ensuring that the schema recognises the distinct difference in the KSBs, and the opportunity for recognition of prior learning, will be considered.

Practice learning will be essential to the success of the schema. It is acknowledged that there will be a variety of scopes of practice for the learners, however with expertise on writing training plans both academically and within clinical practice the schema can offer examples of training plans for the 'off the job' learning within the apprenticeship to ensure consistency within the implementation of the schema.

Please explain how you will ensure the schema and model curriculum will support the development of a modular ECP apprenticeship programme that is meaningful to both learners and employers to drive 21st century care as outlined in the Long-Term Plan (2019) and AHPs Deliver (2022)

The NHS (National Health Service) Next Steps on the Five Year Forward Plan identified improving cancer services and outcomes for patients as one of the four major priorities for the health service and this was reaffirmed in the NHS Long Term Plan. In line with this, several key reviews including the National Cancer Strategy, the Health Education England (HEE) Cancer Workforce Strategy and the Cancer Research UK workforce review have all clearly identified a need for more specialist oncologists to meet the anticipated increase in demand for non-surgical oncology services. However, in the recent Royal College of Radiologists census, they identified that the numbers of consultant oncologists are still low and were not close to the original targets set, to meet increased workforce needs, not to mention service improvement. The drivers for this increasing demand are described below.

- Cancer, predominantly a disease of the elderly and as population life expectancy increases, so will the incidence and prevalence of malignant disease.
- With a commitment to facilitate the earlier diagnosis of cancer, we will see an increase in the number of patients presenting with localised disease, needing more combined modality therapy to cure.
- More than half of those diagnosed with cancer will now survive for at least 10 years, placing an increased emphasis on survivorship and the long- term management of the late effects of cancer and its treatments.
- Advances in radiotherapy techniques and artificial intelligence (AI) have also progressed rapidly over the past few years and will continue to do so, requiring service development
- Recent technological advances in cancer genomics will drive personalised medicine with treatments being used increasingly more selectively for the specific patients most likely to benefit. The implementation of personalised medicine will place further demand on the oncology workforce in terms of requirements for a more in-depth understanding of the scientific basis of treatments, the ability to communicate this to patients, carers, and relatives, ensuring all patients have access to the appropriate therapeutic options.
- Driving research across all disciplines will remain a key component of the required clinical oncology workforce capability and capacity both to improve patient outcomes and to maximise resource utilisation.

Using co-production to develop the schema all will have an equal voice in the requirements of the profession and service. The partnership will not just be involved in the development, but the wider implementation and evaluation to consider the impact of the schema to ensure longevity and currency. Meaning we fully embrace the concept of co-production, as described by Roper, Grey and Cadogan incorporating co-planning, co-design, co-implementation, and co-evaluation within that concept which is championed by AHP for England- AHPS Deliver 2022-2027.

As described above we are aware as a partnership of some of the requirements of the profession, however it will be important to consider more widely the individual service needs. Therapeutic Radiographers will be consulted on current and future requirements of service to ensure a wider scope of views are considered. This will in turn ensure we have 'the right skills, in the right place at the right time' further driving workforce development and patient care. A rigorous feedback loop will ensure that a diverse range of voices are heard across regions through the key stakeholders.

Our curriculum design will have a strong emphasis on work-based learning and collaboration with employers in the development of practitioners, allowing the theoretical aspects of the curriculum to be applied in practice. Linked with research informed teaching and influenced by policy and workforce needs, the academic curriculum and practice-based learning will be cohesive in the development of the learner's knowledge skills and behaviours. Therapeutic radiographers will be prepared to work in new ways with a different set of knowledge, skills and behaviours that will support them to do their role in the workplace. Learners will be confident, creative, resilient, and responsible. They will have a strong skill set covering reflection, portfolio development, digital transferable skills and Interprofessional working. The principles of shared decision making, values-based care, patient empowerment, leadership, and innovative workforce and service development will be evident throughout the schema. These transferable skills at this level of practice will allow enhanced practitioners to move to different scopes of practice more effectively as service requires.

Full evaluation of the schema, with the inclusion of patient and public user involvement, will provide information of the success of the schema and its implementation into practice. The collaborative partnership is committed to completing the full development, implementation support and evaluation of the impact of the schema.

Please briefly report your experience in working creatively in innovative partnerships or collaboratively with other organisations, particularly with reference to HEE, other HEIs, healthcare employers and the AHP professional bodies.

Sheffield Hallam University has long and successful collaborative working experience with various organisations and individuals. With the College of Radiographers (CoR) and the Health Care Professions Council (HCPC), we established a long-standing relationship to ensure all the education programmes offered for Therapeutic Radiography are validated and approved for delivery. This relationship was evident in the innovative changes during the pandemic. Sheffield Hallam has a well-established and innovative research collaborative partnership with the College of Radiographers, academic staff have been successful in gain grants for research and most recently have completed the Delphi study linked to the development of the 'Education and Careers Framework' 2022 which is inclusive of the various levels of practice and roles in Therapeutic Radiography.

Our practice partners are key to the delivery of our programmes as the work-based learning element is integrated across all the pathways at all levels of practice. Sheffield Hallam University are lucky to have 9 placement partners: Newcastle, Middlesbrough, Hull, Leeds, Sheffield, Lincoln, Derby, Nottingham, and Leicester. Together with our practice partners we promote the profession in the locality and support school events as well as trust and university events to highlight the profession. Nationally, we work in partnership with other employers in the delivery of the BSc (hons) and MSc Apprenticeship, with collaboration with departments in Worcester, Reading, Middlesbrough, and Hull, as well as the work-based learning elements of the MSc Advanced Clinical Practice Radiotherapy and Oncology. Our current degree apprenticeship provision is a national programme which extends beyond our existing partners.

Sheffield Hallam University also worked alongside other higher education providers, employers, and practitioners in an innovative partnership to develop the BSc (hons) Therapeutic Radiography apprenticeship standards. The trailblazer group overcame many challenges to develop the standards which are now implemented in higher education institutes in the UK.

The members of the partnership group collaborate with Health Education England Colleagues in the development of the non-surgical oncology advanced practice framework. What commenced as a local piece of work with a multi professional development group linked to local HEE faculties and the Northern Cancer Alliance, has evolved into a national document about to be released for national consultation. Providing a training curriculum framework to the Therapeutic Radiography community. Which standardises education and provide a quality assurance of equivalence and currency of training at an advanced level of practice.

Additional projects with Health Education England include scoping projects around workforce transformation. Also, exploratory projects around simulated placements have also been completed by the university in collaboration with external partners and Health Education England.

Describe how your proposal links to social mobility/widening participation and how you would assess and mitigate against equality, diversity or inclusion issues identified in the process of design and implementation of the schema and curricula.

Sheffield Hallam University (SHU) is one of the largest universities in the UK and a major driver of social mobility. We pride ourselves on improving access to higher education to students from non-traditional and underrepresented backgrounds, delivering holistic support services to students, having a focus on employability and work-based learning, and providing leadership as a major regional anchor institution - including the UK's biggest university-led social mobility programme.

In 2021, and for the fifth year running, SHU has more students enrolled from under-represented backgrounds than any other university in the UK, according to new data released by the Higher Education Statistics Agency (HESA). Results showed the university enrolled more than 1,300 students from low participation neighbourhoods – those which are most under-represented in higher education, and includes Black, Asian and minority ethnic (BAME) students. Twenty-three per cent of SHU's students are from low participation backgrounds compared to the UK average of just under twelve per cent.

SHU has been named University of the Year at the UK Social Mobility Awards in recognition of its work to advance social mobility through higher education (HE). The annual UK Social Mobility Awards (SOMOs) provide an opportunity to recognise organisations that are making strides and creating initiatives to advance social mobility within their own workforce or beyond their own walls.

The University of the Year award recognises the work SHU does to proactively promote social mobility by improving access to HE, delivering wraparound support services for current students who require extra help to complete their studies, and providing leadership as an anchor institution in the region.

In addition to educating more students from underrepresented backgrounds than any other UK university for five consecutive years, SHU leads South Yorkshire Futures (SYF), the biggest university social mobility programme in the country, and is host of the national Civic University Network. The Network enhances the ways in which universities maximise their local impact, including improving education for school pupils and adult learners.

Around 65 percent of SHU's 30,000 students carry one or more of the 'widening participation markers', such as being from a disadvantaged or underrepresented background or a vulnerable group. Ninety-seven per cent of SHU students are from state schools and colleges, and over half are the first in their family to attend university.

Finally, SHU has also been confirmed as a finalist for University of the Year at the Multicultural Apprenticeship Awards 2022. This evidences the work we have done to embed diversity across our apprenticeship provision and throughout our student support offer.

The schema will promote the development of a culture where equality, diversity and inclusion are everyone's responsibility. Also aligning to the NHS Constitution, British Values, and national policy. Furthermore, we will encourage the use of visible role models and stories of diversity across the sector. The approach to learning, teaching and assessment will recognise the diversity of learner and the strengths this brings to the learning environment.

Describe how you will ensure the schema developed can be delivered in a blended learning approach with access to technology enhanced learning, meeting the needs of learners regarding the location and educational methods of apprenticeship delivery which ensures learners are not required to travel significant distance. Specifically, explain (think about percentages) how they would link to:

- Curriculum teaching
- Practice learning
- Assessment and supervision
- Technologies that would be required

Please include previous experience with blended approaches and details of any blended approach to learning and technologies utilised

Curriculum teaching and practice learning

Sheffield Hallam University has principles that ensures learners will engage, challenge, collaborate and thrive and this is central to all learning experiences. Learner autonomy is a central element of the approach to learning and teaching on a blended delivery or distance learning programme. The development of autonomy involves learners taking greater responsibility for their own learning through student-centred approaches to curriculum design and delivery. The work-related nature of assessment tasks provides opportunities for learners to use real life scenarios in their learning. At the same time, there will also be an increased emphasis on direct development of knowledge, skills and behaviours in the workplace setting with the required OTJL (off the job learning) delivered through a variety of mechanisms, actively involving the employer.

NHS Education and Training Contract v1 – published [INSERT DATE]

The curricula will promote the delivery of high-quality materials in a variety of media to suit different learning needs and preferences. The delivery model is blended learning in line with the ESFA levy funding rules. This is a model that we have used effectively with a professional qualification at SHU that means learning can cover all the necessary academic requirements while also encouraging student autonomy and innovation. Due to the flexibility of delivery in time and place the learner can choose when and where they access the learning activities and can learn at a pace that fits their learning style and needs also fit in with the service delivery.

The curriculum teaching will advocate a critical and proactive approach to learning which will enable the learner to become an effective and autonomous practitioner. With a mixed mode of learning and teaching the learner will engage fully in the learning process and in some of the modules will learn with, from and about learners from other professional backgrounds. The curriculum teaching will use Salmon's 5- stage model (2004) to create a supportive on-line learning environment. The curriculum learning topics will encompass the four pillars of practice, empowering the learner to apply the principles into practice developing themselves personally and professionally and enhancing the service provision. All the modules will have a strong application in the work setting and provide opportunities to demonstrate knowledge, skills, and behaviours in the workplace.

Within the schema it will be important to identify the support of practice in supporting the application of knowledge and the development of skills and competency. With strong collaboration with practice educators in practice, by providing training and support, the delivery of the schema will be innovative and allowing a positive impact on practice.

Assessment

Learning and assessment are not seen as exclusive concepts. A range of assessment experiences, both formative and summative, will be used across the schema to support learning and test the extent to which students have achieved the learning outcomes for the specific modules. The overall approach aims to ensure that it is not just about measuring performance against a set of criteria, but about the learning that takes place and the development of student autonomy. Importantly, assessment tasks will also be designed to facilitate the development of professionally relevant skills that can enhance employability, promote the dissemination of research findings, and positively influence practice as a result.

Formative assessment

The formative assessment will provide a structured way of tracking progress through modules and ensures that feedback is not just focused on the end product. Peer assessment will also be encouraged to further enhance the four pillars of practice. There is extensive experience of online delivery and the use of these activities at SHU, and this has demonstrated the following benefits:

- They promote self-and/or peer assessment, in addition to tutor feedback.
- They engage and motivate through regular and timely feedback
- They are 'low stakes' activities which help academic staff identify if students are struggling at an early stage.
- Student autonomy is promoted

Supervision

The schema will encourage strong links between the HEI and the employer to ensure appropriate supervision and support is in place. To ensure progression towards the apprenticeship standards the work-based learning coach will be instrumental in referring to any progression issues in practice.

They may also meet with HEI staff and the trainee AP to monitor academic and clinical progress, provide effective feedback, and fulfil the supervisory requirements of the apprenticeship programme.

Other associate workplace supervisors may undertake shorter focused periods of training in the workplace, for specific development areas linked to the application of knowledge across the four pillars of practice.

Technologies that would be required

The schema will utilise the use of a Virtual learning Environment (VLE) to produce a supportive and creative learning environment. SHU has dedicated expertise in the use of platforms for distance learning, incorporating synchronous and asynchronous learning via innovative resources and webinars. Learners will have access to state-of-the-art radiotherapy planning and image verification software which will be server based and available to them remotely. This will be used throughout the programme utilising data from real clinical cases. This is further supported by a Virtual Environment Radiotherapy Training (VERT) allowing learners to simulate treating patients they have planned in a realistic 3D environment. Training in the use of any extended reality technologies would be embedded into the development of this national schema.

Additional software linked to quality assurance of radiotherapy, and several supporting visualisation and simulation software packages would allow a greater depth of understanding. These technical aspects also further support the integration of learning about human factors in radiotherapy practice including error reporting and reduction for example.

Communication and information delivery skills are practised using role play with academic staff and experts by experience. Talking heads and patient journey videos are also utilised to develop problem solving skills. Reflective practice including seeking and acting on feedback is key to personal and professional development. There is a strong emphasis on assisting students to recognise and develop resilient behaviours through group workshops (Clinical Debriefs) and individual activities (reflective writing).

Please provide details on any previous project experience you have had working with HEE and how you ensured project delivery to deadlines and assurance of quality, impact and value for money.

Sheffield Hallam University has been fortunate enough to have secured funding from HEE that meets the needs of the AHP workforce and have been delivered on time and to a high standard thus producing high quality learning and research opportunities as a result. As one of the largest providers of Allied Health Professions education. Our research team can draw from a wide range of AHP professional knowledge in order to set the findings in context. The team is also supported by research expertise within the Centre for Applied Health and Social Care Research, and from our Health Research Institute. Sheffield Hallam University is an approved provider for the National Evaluation Framework (Health Education England). We have previous experience in working with Health Education England, professional bodies and healthcare organisations to provide reports on the scope and impact of funded projects. Examples are provided below.

- Funding was secured to deliver CPD non credited development of integrated care skills across a number of professional groups and a large project was funded and delivered across the North-West. Learners included occupational therapists, physiotherapists, nurses, social workers and managers responsible for driving integrated care services. Alongside this an e-learning resource was produced which is still accessible on the HEE site.
- Sheffield Hallam University College of Health Wellbeing and Life Sciences / CARE centre) are a preferred supplier for the HEE National Evaluation Framework (NEF), Provision of National Evaluation Framework.
- HEE NEY – Integrated Clinical Academic Research Internship Programme. Delivered at least one intake per annum since 2017, £110,000 per intake.
- HEE NEY. Imaging Practice Educators Regional Scoping (£10,000). Awarded Aug 2022. (Current project)
- HEE NEY. Regional synthesis of NEY AHP Workforce Supply reports (£10,000). Awarded October 2022. (Current project)
- Health Education England. Strategic Support Fund 2019-20, Implementing Diagnostic Radiography Degree Apprenticeships (£98,399) - awarded March 2020, completed Sept 2021
- HEE. National Research Internships Progression Evaluation (£28,225) - awarded Nov 2018, completed June 2019
- HEE / SCoR, Radiographer retention: 'Why do radiographers leave NHS employment and how might they be incentivised to stay?' (£18,000) - Awarded April 2019, completed March 2020
- HEE funded scoping and consultation project to determine the feasibility of developing and delivering a higher degree apprenticeship in Therapeutic Radiography. The project aims to identify skill/knowledge and competencies required to meet changing workforce needs and workforce supply from assistant to that of an advanced practitioner.

- Radiotherapy placement expansion resulted in additional simulated learning resources -radiotherapy couch and some additional software for VERT.

Part 2: Service Specification:

The Long Term Plan (LTP), the AHP strategy for England – AHPs Deliver , and future workforce strategies point to the need for improved career pathways for staff with associated funding for education and training. This will optimise the potential of the workforce ensuring the professions continually develop and update the skills they need to deliver their full scope of practice across the length of their career. As a critical element of the education and training reform agenda this will also help to retain our valued staff, many of whom leave in their early to mid-stage careers at a significant loss to health and social care providers. Enhanced practice education is seen as a key part of this pathway for each profession.

The enhanced clinical practitioner apprenticeship was approved for delivery in May 2021 and provides a formal educational pathway for clinical staff in their early to mid-careers. It is envisioned to become the accepted route to train, creating an education pathway to optimise upskilling of clinical skills and practice.

It will be targeted at experienced clinicians (established Band 6s for example), occupying a space following qualification and preceptorship, whilst preceding advanced practice in terms of the clinical management of complexity and uncertainty across health and social care. The majority of the professional workforce operates at the enhanced level practice.

Enhanced level practice can be the precursor to advanced level practice, or it can be a valued workplace destination also in its own right. Clinicians working at an enhanced level of practice have many job titles and roles across many different professions within health and social care environments. They usually work as part of a multidisciplinary team and apply their skills, education, and experience to substantially contribute to episodes of care. Although they work across different settings or spheres of practice, they will often have a focused skillset and depth of knowledge related to their individual sphere of practice where it intersects with professional knowledge related to the job roles their employers require. They tend to have undertaken post registration education relevant to their profession, area of practice and role.

For example: the enhanced level learning needs in ophthalmology services will be quite different for a nurse, orthoptist, and an optometrist - each has an important professional identity, understandably different pre-registration training, a specific scope of practice with a shared understanding of eyes and many highly valued shared skills working with in the multi-professional team. Training at this level should take account of both unique and shared skills

At an enhanced level, people need to be confident to develop clinically and professionally optimising their professional scope of practice across broad spheres of healthcare to mirror how they are deployed in practice (often across multiple wards or clinical pathways). Some may be experienced, capable and confident in their profession and undertake enhanced level training in a more multi-professional specialty area - both are appropriate routes for development - this programme is to focus on profession specific development.

Early ECP (Enhanced Clinical Practice) apprenticeship programmes are being validated with first cohorts starting as early as September 2022 (Talent for Care, 2022). This followed a national procurement process facilitated by HEE in 2021/22 that awarded multiple universities the opportunity to deliver the ECP apprenticeship. This apprenticeship does not replace existing or previous education pathways, but instead provides an additional educational route. It is a multi-disciplinary apprenticeship, attracting occupational level 6 apprenticeship funding, with a typical duration of 18 months. Whilst there is no mandated qualification, a portfolio of evidence is required, and in addition employers may opt to utilise level 7 education within the apprenticeship. This would also support an APEL (accreditation of prior experiential learning) route to further advanced level education.

HEE recognises that high numbers of mid-career clinicians will specialise at a profession-specific enhanced level in broad areas of care (e.g., paediatric dietetics as opposed to neonatal dietetics) and that employers need educational options and appropriate workforce flexibility. The programmes need to build 21st century clinicians to deliver the ambitions of the LTP - confident and capable decision makers able to diagnose, manage risk, and appropriately escalate/de-escalate care. They need to be appropriate to their scope of practice and with a high-level of clinical autonomy, able to undertake a broad range of treatment interventions/case management with confidence, as well as be able to train the next generation and continuously improve services.

This educational offer will also attract different apprentices; for example, those existing practitioners settled in mid-band positions looking to develop their practice without necessarily looking to more senior or advanced roles. Training is such a precious asset it is essential that it adds the value of the time lost from service and is targeted to the specific knowledge and skills needed by the profession working within the speciality/sector in the context of the wider team.

Talent for Care, 2022. The Enhanced Clinical Practitioner Apprenticeship Employer Guide.

Available at: <https://haso.skillsforhealth.org.uk/news/new-enhanced-clinical-practitioner-apprenticeship-guide/>

Scope of Contract

HEE would now like to extend the opportunities given by the ECP apprenticeship to collaborate with Higher Education Institutes (HEIs) and the AHP (Allied Health Professions) professional bodies to develop nationally recognised profession-specific schema and model curricula for enhanced practice providing a training blueprint applicable to the individual AHP professions. These would inform the preparation and delivery of profession-specific specialist clinical modules for use in the enhanced level apprenticeship programmes and be aligned to the knowledge, skills, and behaviours (KSBs) of the apprenticeship standards.

The standardised profession-specific training schema will be made available to support enhanced level apprenticeship providers to build consistent modular-based profession-specific content to ensure the clinical development of individual professions is assured within an appropriate multi-professional learning environment. Model curricula will be developed in each of the specific clinical fields relevant to each profession and informed by the relevant professional body and specialist clinicians. This will facilitate a modular approach to enhanced practice programmes to allow focused “pick ‘n’ mix” opportunities in a broad suite of profession-specific clinical areas (e.g., paediatrics, broad musculoskeletal care – including First Contact Practice) and could become an early to mid-career milestone of learning. These modular units could sit within or alongside more generalist or pathway facing programmes, e.g., frailty, mental health, learning disabilities or urgent care. This will lead to transferable and tailored training programmes that will help drive the upskilling and workforce transformation across the majority of NHS and Social Care areas of clinical coverage as set out in the LTP.

Due to the potential geographical spread of HEIs aiming to deliver ECP modules there is an expectation that a blended learning approach would be fundamental to all future modular design. Blended learning is a method of teaching that integrates technology and digital media with traditional instructor-led classroom activities, giving students more flexibility to customise their learning experiences. The evidence shows that blended learning has benefits that include better student experience and satisfaction, skills development, and confidence (HEE 2022) as well as greater accessibility. HEE advocates a ratio for blended learning of between 10% and 30% of face-to-face time to be built into any programme.

The initial phase of the work will deliver a national enhanced level schema for each of the allied health professions with additional profession-specific clinical specialty model curricula. These will be coproduced by the awarded Higher Education Institutes (HEIs), with experience in the delivery of the relevant AHP pre-registration education, leading collaboration through innovative partnerships alongside professional bodies, specialist interest groups, employer organisations, practising clinicians and patient representatives. The procurement process will operate at a national level, led by HEE National Commercial team, and guided by HEE’s National AHP team, with the innovative partnerships facilitated and directed by HEE’s National Education Commissioning Service (NECS).

NHS Education and Training Contract v1 – published [INSERT DATE]

HEE will hold the intellectual property of the products of the commission, namely the profession-specific enhanced practice training schema and model curricula. HEE will grant current and future apprenticeship and AHP higher education providers a royalty-free licence to use this enhanced practice schema in perpetuity. Agreement of this contractual term is a fundamental requirement to bid and is non-negotiable. Non-acceptance will mean providers will not be able to engage in this process.

This will be an open tender that will require a high-level of compliance to the criteria and associated weighting. HEE will ensure open engagement via a market question and answer event, collating feedback on the commission, funding and approach proposed. HEE will provide tiered funding to one preferred provider per profession successful in their bid. The funding levels will be grouped into three options relative to the size of the professions and NHS workforce, and the associated engagement requirements. These are identified in Appendix D. The provider will lead the innovative partnership to drive the coproduction of each of the overarching profession-specific schema for enhanced practice

It is anticipated that the primary/host provider of the innovative partnerships, would explore the benefits of recruiting additional HEIs alongside the professional bodies and subject matter experts, particularly (but not exclusively) in the larger professions and more complex areas of practice. This would ensure relevant, balanced and clinically driven outputs. These collaboratives may also choose to engage HEIs with no experience of delivering or developing enhanced practice apprenticeships where it is recognised the specialist requirements for that professional subject lies outside that groups' field of knowledge and experience. This extended collaboration would be facilitated through the primary/host organisation funded by HEE.

The successful HEIs will be expected to deliver the professional training schema and model curricula for enhanced practice by 31st March 2023. It is expected that the providers will run a parallel implementation programme alongside the schema and model curricula development to prepare the wider system to deliver the profession specific modules to the apprenticeships by September 2023.

Out of Scope

This commission is for HEI's to collaborate with partners to deliver specific outputs related to the AHP professions and the development of enhanced practice apprenticeship level education. As such the following areas will be out of scope:

- a. Professions that sit outside of the AHP family (e.g., Nursing, Pharmacy)
 - b. Training / education schema aimed at undergraduate level, foundation level or advanced practice level will be out of scope (although learning from this process applicable to other levels of learning will be shared with the system by HEE as appropriate).
2. Detailed Requirements including evaluation questions and timeline

HEE welcomes bids from HEIs who wish to work collaboratively to develop profession specific training schema for enhanced practice which meet employer needs, for each AHP profession to support the AHP focused model curricula development within the ECP Apprenticeship. These schema and curricula will underpin the development of professional programmes to enable each of the AHP professions to enhance their skills that allow them to better work as part of multi-disciplinary teams whilst recognising and developing their own full profession-specific spheres and scope of practice.

This approach recognises that, in general, clinicians will specialise at a profession- specific enhanced level in broad areas of care (e.g., operating department practitioners working in the surgical phase, as opposed to anaesthetic phase of practice) and that employers need appropriate workforce flexibility.

The successful providers will be able to demonstrate preparedness to lead and work in innovation partnerships to coproduce and co-deliver course material with the experts in practice (including the patient voice/experts by experience), share their learning across profession specific pathways and will reflect employer led needs for the profession nationally. They must also fully satisfy the requirements of the apprenticeship standard, HEE, and the professional bodies, and utilise existing educational assets, e.g. the NHS Digital Academy, Personalised Care Institute. HEE will support all introductions to the AHP ECP innovation partnerships. To this end, HEE will look to establish that all successful bidders have the necessary aspirations, vision, partners, and resources to drive innovation in this field through evaluation questions.

Providers should be mindful of the challenges and wide geography of the employers and should be able to demonstrate:

- the ability to offer national reach and capacity
- significant innovation in blended learning activity (10%-30% face-to-face learning, including the use of emerging technology, virtual reality etc)
- positive collaborative approach
- bids that evidence significant integration of both blended and technology enabled learning (TEL) will be scored more favourably via the weighted criteria
- the ability to deliver innovative and flexible highly efficient education nationally
- how they would support both the learners, and line managers/mentors within the learner's workplace
- the profile of partners and the strength of the partnerships. The nature of the partnerships will be different for each professional pathway, where the larger professions may choose to collaborate with a number of partners HEIs who all hold valuable experience in that professions' education. e.g., diagnostic radiography, may opt to collaborate with more to cover the range of sub- specialities and educational expertise in this field. Whereas some of the smaller professions may only ever realistically require only 1 or 2 providers to collaborate
- consideration towards the delivery days in week in study are flexed to enable employers to have potential for several staff to access programmes from the same department without leaving rota gaps
- A structured approach to the schema to enable the resultant modules to be easily utilised (APEL) in any further accredited education of the learner.

Providers may wish to bid for more than one professional group, but in doing so will need to submit separate bids and commit to leading an innovative partnership for each profession. It would not be acceptable to combine partnerships. Each partnership needs to be innovative and creative within its own professional sphere of development, and providers will need to reflect this in their bids.

In summary a key feature for the successful providers will be their ability to create a profession specific training schema and model curricula that enable AHPs undertaking the ECP apprenticeship to enhance their skillset and depth of knowledge which is related to their individual profession specific sphere of practice for their individual AHP profession. Profession specific schema are required for the professions (with the potential for development of possible sub-specialisms within as required – examples given below):

- Physiotherapists (example - including possible sub-specialisms of paediatrics; MSK; acute care; rehabilitation etc)
- Occupational Therapists
- Diagnostic Radiographers (example - including possible sub-specialisms of sonography, mammography, ultrasound)
- Therapeutic Radiographers
- Dietitians
- Operating Department Practitioners (example – including phases of practice in surgical, anaesthetics or post-anaesthetic practice)
- Paramedics
- Speech and Language Therapists
- Podiatrists
- Orthoptists
- Prosthetists and Orthotists (working with industry)
- Osteopathy

NHS Education and Training Contract v1 – published [INSERT DATE]

□ Art, Music, and Drama Therapies (a group bid for this commission)

Other professions e.g., nursing, pharmacy etc are currently reviewing how they choose to interpret this agenda.

All selected providers will be required to collaborate regularly with HEE as part of a series of design events to share learning, common and profession-specific challenges and explore solutions. Development of innovative partnerships will be supported by HEE National Education Commissioning Service (NECS). This will be complex work and will require all parties to support the optimal positioning with service. Wide stakeholder engagement which is responsive to the needs of professional service managers is essential to ensure relevance.

Background
This commission has been designed to deliver AHP profession-specific enhanced practice level schema, and model curricula through innovation partnerships supported by the HEE National Education Commissioning Team and HEE National AHP team. These will provide a blueprint for enhanced practice apprenticeship providers to ensure high quality AHP profession specific content is available to our learners of the future.
Successful bids were received to cover 10 of the AHP professions. Contracts were awarded from 23 rd January 2023, with a completion date of 30 th June 2023. Reports are expected monthly by providers per profession, followed up by monthly “keep-in-touch” meetings with the HEE National AHP Team. Engagement and support will be coordinated through the National AHP team in a planned programme.
