Schedule 1: Services

Delivery planning assumptions, dependencies and data requirements will be tested and validated between the Buyer and Supplier in a Daily stand up meeting of 30 minutes. Initial planning assumptions and dependencies are found in the Excel spreadsheet attached.

Creation of the DCR Decision Support Engine

The KPMG team will progress the following activities, in line with MoD prioritisation:

Review the outline business case for DCR and use this to influence the Work Schedule

Detail additional data points for the DCR team to request in their discussions with the TLB

Provide a SFIA level 6 to input into the strategy and migration approach for in-scope DCR workloads

Where required and subject to the Buyers agreement, engage with MOD Cloud platform providers to understand and optimise how the Supplier models MOD Cloud cost

The Buyer acknowledges that the final DCR Decision Engine may not contain the features necessary to support complex intelligence driven decision making or help the MOD maximise RDEL cost savings.

In respect of the DCR Decision Engine, the Supplier understands that the key requirements for the Model are to:

Accept input data in the form of "Migration Units" as defined by MOD during initial specification

Convert the DCR architecture scenarios into decision engine levers, review and iterate for the duration of the Call-off Agreement

Create a draft work schedule that includes a specification, effort and duration estimate to create the following scenarios:

Lift and Shift of MOD applications

Model costs for Crown Hosting and MOD Cloud platforms

Use the KPMG Cloud data repository to supplement MOD data as required

Incorporate DCR data, where compatible and provided by the Buyer into the DCR Decision Engine

Output a data set that is directly compatible with the chosen MOD model, as confirmed by MOD during initial specification

To assist in the development of the Model KPMG will:

work with the Buyer to prepare an initial specification for the Model based on the objectives and requirements for the Model. This initial specification will describe the structure of the Model, its key inputs, calculations and outputs, and set out the proposed sensitivities and scenarios. KPMG will request MOD confirmation of this before proceeding with development of the Model;
design and assist MOD to develop the Model based on the initial specification and data provide interim versions of the Model to discuss with MOD;
support MOD in the collation of input data from sources identified by MOD;
assist MOD to populate the Model based on MOD specification and assumptions;
deliver a draft version of the completed Model for MOD user acceptance testing;
handover a final version of the completed Model

KPMG will discuss and agree potential amendments to the initial specification to address issues identified in development and changes to the requirements of the Project.

KPMG's work will be limited to the matters set out above and accordingly will not include any confirmation or assessment of the commercial merits, technical feasibility or compliance with any applicable legislation or regulation of the Project or the factual accuracy of the input data and the suitability, validity or completeness of the underlying assumptions or the way in which the Project documentation has been interpreted in arriving at assumptions and input data.

KPMG will not, pursuant to the agreement formed by this letter, perform any management functions or make any judgements or decisions for MOD. Additionally, MOD management (being anyone with executive or governance responsibilities) is responsible for designating a management-level individual or individuals possessing suitable skill, knowledge and experience to be responsible at all times for overseeing the Services provided, evaluating the adequacy of the Services performed and any findings or recommendations, establishing and maintaining internal controls, and monitoring ongoing activities.

Model handover

Following completion of the development of the Model in accordance with the Model specification and user acceptance testing of the Model, The supplier will hand over the Model to you and issue a letter substantially in the form set out below (the "Transmittal Letter"). Unless KPMG hear from MOD to the contrary in writing within 5 working days ("the Transitional Period") of receipt of the Model, KPMG will treat and accept the Buyer's receipt of the Model as demonstration and evidence of agreement that KPMG have discharged our responsibilities in relation to the development of the Model and in particular, that from the date of receipt of the Model the Buyer will be solely responsible for the maintenance of the Model.

This will not affect the Buyer's ability to raise any comments or concerns about aspects of KPMG work or its quality after receipt of the Model but it will remove the ability to assert that KPMG have not carried out the Model development tasks in accordance with the Model specification assigned to KPMG under this letter or that we have any responsibility for maintenance of the Model after its release to MOD.

If after the Transitional Period the Buyer has any additional requirements that were not in the scope of work originally agreed, KPMG will be happy to discuss with you any further assistance that we may be able to provide and the terms and remuneration for such assistance.

As a separate and independent obligation and liability, the Guarantor irrevocably and unconditionally undertakes to compensate and keep the Buyer compensated on demand against all losses and expenses of whatever nature, whether arising under statute, contract or at common Law, if any obligation guaranteed by the guarantor is or becomes unenforceable, invalid or illegal as if the obligation guaranteed had not become unenforceable, invalid or illegal provided that the guarantor's liability will be no greater than the Supplier's liability would have been if the obligation guaranteed had not become unenforceable, invalid or illegal.

Obligation to enter into a new contract

If the Call-Off Contract is terminated or if it is disclaimed by a liquidator of the Supplier or the obligations of the Supplier are declared to be void or voidable, the Guarantor will, at the request of the Buyer, enter into a Contract with the Buyer in the same terms as the Call-Off Contract and the obligations of the Guarantor under such substitute agreement will be the same as if the Guarantor had been original obligor under the Call-Off Contract or under an agreement entered into on the same terms and at the same time as the Call-Off Contract with the Buyer.

If such condition will not be fulfilled, the Buyer will be entitled to enforce this Deed of Guarantee subsequently as if such release, discharge or settlement had not occurred and any such payment had not been made. The Buyer will be entitled to retain this security before and after the payment, discharge or satisfaction of all monies, obligations and liabilities that are or may become due owing or incurred to the Buyer from the Guarantor for such period as the Buyer may determine.

Nothing contained in this Clause will limit the rights of the Buyer to take proceedings against the Guarantor in any other court of competent jurisdiction, nor will the taking of any such proceedings in one or more jurisdictions preclude the taking of proceedings in any other jurisdiction, whether concurrently or not (unless precluded by applicable Law).

The Guarantor irrevocably waives any objection which it may have now or in the future to the courts of England being nominated for this Clause on the ground of venue or otherwise and agrees not to claim that any such court is not a convenient or appropriate forum.
