quick ratio for the Monitored Company as at the end of each Contract Year or such other date as may be requested by CCS. For these purposes the "quick ratio" on any date means:

$$\frac{A + B + C}{D}$$

This process shall be repeated until the Financial Distress Service Continuity Plan is Approved by CCS or referred to the Dispute Resolution Procedure.

4.5 If CCS considers that the draft Financial Distress Service Continuity Plan is insufficiently detailed to be properly evaluated, will take too long to complete or will not remedy the relevant Financial Distress Event, then it may either agree a further time period for the development and agreement of the Financial Distress Service Continuity Plan or escalate any issues with the draft Financial Distress Service Continuity Plan using the Dispute Resolution Procedure.

4.6 Following Approval of the Financial Distress Service Continuity Plan by CCS, the Supplier shall:

- 4.6.1 on a regular basis (which shall not be less than Monthly), review the Financial Distress Service Continuity Plan and assess whether it remains adequate and up to date to ensure the continued performance of each Contract and delivery of the Deliverables in accordance with each Order Contract;

6. What happens If your credit rating is still good

- 6.1 Without prejudice to the Supplier's obligations and CCS' and the Buyer's rights and remedies under Paragraph 5, if, following the occurrence of a Financial Distress Event, the Rating Agencies review and report subsequently that the credit ratings do not drop below the relevant Credit Rating Threshold, then:

6.1.1 the Supplier shall be relieved automatically of its obligations under Paragraphs 4.3 to 4.6; and

1.2 If any employee of the Buyer and/or a Former Supplier claims, or it is determined in relation to any employee of the Buyer and/or a Former Supplier, that his/her contract of employment has been transferred from the Buyer and/or the Former Supplier to the Supplier and/or any Subcontractor pursuant to the Employment Regulations or the Acquired Rights Directive then:

1.3 If an offer referred to in Paragraph 1.2.2 is accepted (or if the situation has otherwise been resolved by the Buyer and/or the Former Supplier),, the Supplier shall, or shall procure that the Subcontractor shall, immediately release the person from his/her employment or alleged employment.

 - 11.3.2 be fully responsible for all costs, contributions, payments and other amounts relating to the setting up, certification of, ongoing participation in and/or withdrawal and exit from the Broadly Comparable pension scheme, including for the avoidance of doubt any debts arising under section 75 or 75A of the Pensions Act 1995;

The Supplier shall indemnify the Buyer or the Replacement Supplier's Broadly Comparable pension scheme (or the relevant Statutory Scheme if applicable) (as the Buyer directs) for any failure to pay the Shortfall under this paragraph.

Annex D3:

Local Government Pension Schemes (LGPS)

Note the LGPS unlike the CSPA & NHSPA is a funded scheme which has associated cost implications as follows:

There is not 1 LGPS but approx. 90 different Funds, each with their own separate Scheme Employer and Administering Buyer, it is important to identify the correct one(s) and amend the definition of "Fund" accordingly.

It is important to check whether CCS and or the Buyer can actually participate in the LGPS. Where a government department is taking on services which were formerly the responsibility of a Local Authority it may be necessary to obtain secretary of state approval for participation in the LGPS, this is because the services are being provided to Gov. Dept. and not to a Local Authority.

Unlike New Fair Deal the 2007 Best Value pension direction does not provide a right to bulk transfer past service. Whilst typically before the 2007 direction LA did provide such a right, it is a significant additional cost and therefore bulk transfer wording has been excluded. If required take legal advice due to the exceptionally high costs which can result from a requirement to provide bulk transfers.]

Title: Social Work Degree Apprenticeship (SWDA) Research

Contract Reference: Project_9890

FURTHER COMPETITION FROM THE CROWN COMMERCIAL SERVICE RM6126 RESEARCH & INSIGHTS DYNAMIC PURCHASING SYSTEM (DPS)

1. Purpose

1.1. Department for Education referred to as ‘the Authority’ hereafter is looking for a supplier to conduct research into the Social Work Degree Apprenticeship (SWDA) programme.

2. Background to the Contracting Authority

2.1. The Authority holds responsibility for children’s services and education in England. This includes oversight of early years provision, schools, higher and further education policy, apprenticeships and broader skills development.

2.2. In relation to social work, responsibilities are shared between the Authority and the Department for Health and Social Care (DHSC). The Authority leads on child and family social care, while the DHSC is responsible for adult social care.

2.3. Social work is a degree-level profession with six primary qualification routes. These include the Social Work Degree Apprenticeship (SWDA), undergraduate and postgraduate university programmes, and three fast-track, employment-based postgraduate pathways: Step Up to Social Work, Approach, and Think Ahead. Regardless of the route taken, all qualifications enable entry into both child and family, as well as adult social work sectors.

2.4. This focus of this research is to build the evidence base for the SWDA route, particularly in relation to child and family social work, for which the Authority has lead responsibility.

3. Definitions

Expression or Acronym	Definition
CSC	Children's Social Care
DfE	Department for Education
DHSC	Department for Health and Social Care
DCS	Director of Children's Services
ILR	Individualised Learner Record
LA	Local Authority
LLDD	Learner Learning Difficulties and Disabilities
PSW	Principal Social Worker
SWDA	Social Work Degree Apprenticeship
SWE	Social Work England
The Authority	Department for Education

4. Summary

4.1. The Social Work Degree Apprenticeship (SWDA) programme is the newest route into the social work profession (the first cohort started in 2018/19).

4.2. The number of students starting the SWDA has increased year on year since its introduction. However, there is little evidence to date about whether the SWDA route attracts students who would not have otherwise enrolled onto other routes, and therefore the extent to which it is attracting a new or different cohort to the profession. We also have limited understanding of the motivations and barriers for both students and employers to the SWDA route.

4.3. This research seeks to collect better evidence on the SWDA route. The overall objective of the research is to ensure that its findings inform future government investments in social work entry programmes and local authority (LA) workforce strategies.

4.4. The research aims and objectives are:

- To understand the reasons why child and family social work employers (LAs) choose whether or not to offer the SWDA route.
- To understand the socio-demographic, educational and employment backgrounds of apprentices, what motivates them to apply for the SWDA and what are the barriers and/or enablers.
- To assess how well apprentices and employers perceive the SWDA prepares apprentices for child and family social work practice.

4.5. Our preferred methodological approach is a mixed methods approach to include using Individualised Learner Record (ILR) data provided by the Authority to survey those who enrolled onto SWDA since it started and conducting qualitative research with apprentices and LA representatives. However, bidders are invited to propose the most robust and cost-effective approach to meet the aims of the study within the budget available.

4.6. The project must be completed no later than 20 March 2026.

5. Background to the Requirement

SOCIAL WORK IN THE UK

5.1. The social worker workforce is a critical enabler for Children's Social Care (CSC) reforms and the government's Opportunity Mission. In November 2024, government committed to supporting, championing, and empowering the social work workforce through recruiting and retaining social workers, recognising the essential services that social workers deliver to children and families¹.

5.2. In the UK, 'social worker' is a protected job title. To use the title professionals must have completed the required training and qualification and be registered with Social Work England (SWE).

5.3. Social work is a graduate profession and requires either an honours (level 6) or postgraduate (level 7) degree in social work to find employment. Social work degrees in England are approved by the regulator, SWE.

5.4. There are six primary routes into social work: traditional university pathways (undergraduate and postgraduate); fast-track postgraduate programmes, including Step Up to Social Work, Approach, and Think Ahead¹⁰; and the degree apprenticeship route (SWDA). Further information about the routes into social work is available at the following location: <https://support-for-socialworkers.education.gov.uk/>.

5.5. A wide range of organisations across the public, private and voluntary sectors recruit social workers (notwithstanding self-employed social workers). LAs are the largest employers of child and family social workers in the UK. In September 2024, LAs employed around 34,300 full-time equivalent child and family social workers, the highest number in post since the data series started in 2017¹¹.

5.6. Social worker recruitment and retention is an ongoing challenge. In September 2024, 7,200 full-time child and family social worker posts remained vacant¹², despite a growing demand for children's services. The Local Government Workforce Survey 2022¹³ found that of 65 councils that responded, 83% reported difficulties recruiting and 72% reported difficulties retaining children's social workers, while 71% reported difficulties recruiting and 57% reported difficulties retaining adult social workers. As detailed in The Requirement the survey strand of this research should include social work apprentices from any sector whereas the qualitative strand should focus on LAs.

THE SOCIAL WORK DEGREE APPRENTICESHIP

5.7. The SWDA was introduced in 2018. It is a structured, work-based route into the social work profession. It takes approximately 3 years to complete and combines paid employment with academic study, leading to a degree in social work and professional registration with SWE. The qualification enables the apprentice to practice within an adult or a child and family social work setting, and supervised practice undertaken during the SWDA may cover either or both adult and child and family social work. Further information about the SWDA is available at the following link:

Published data relating to the SWDA

5.8. There were 5,950 SWDA starts from 2018/19 to January 2025¹⁴ (Table 1). 93.8% were aged 25+ years, 18.3% reported a disability, 84.5% were female, and 82.7% were White¹⁵.

5.9. There were 1,750 SWDA achievements from 2020/21 to January 2025 (Table 1). Of these, 96.6% were aged 25+ years, 18.9% reported a disability, 82.9% were female, and 84.6% were White¹⁶.

6. The Requirement

RESEARCH AIMS

6.1. As the SWDA training programme is a relatively new route into social work, the current evidence base is limited. This research aims to establish an evidence base for the SWDA. Specifically, it aims to understand the factors that attract students and employers to the SWDA, to understand its contribution to practice readiness, and to explore whether it adds value to the existing social work qualification options by attracting a different cohort, or whether it attracts students who might otherwise have pursued other routes available.

6.2. The research findings should inform future government decision making regarding social work entry programmes and local authority (LA) workforce strategies.

RESEARCH OBJECTIVES

6.3. To understand the socio-demographic, educational, and employment backgrounds of apprentices, what motivates them to apply for the SWDA and what (if any) are the barriers and/or enablers.

6.4. To understand the reasons why child and family social work employers (specifically LAs) choose whether or not to offer the SWDA.

6.5. To assess how well apprentices and employers feel that the SWDA prepares apprentices for child and family social work practice.

RESEARCH QUESTIONS

6.6. The proposed research questions are outlined below. These will be developed and refined further by the successful bidder in partnership with the Authority and the research steering group.

6.7. Research questions relating to apprentices:

- What are the socio-demographic, educational and employment backgrounds of apprentices (e.g. any relevant prior experience e.g. in care/ social work-related roles)?
- What attracted apprentices to the SWDA? Why did they choose this route into social work?
- Were apprentices aware of, or had they considered or applied for, other social work training programmes?
- Would apprentices have pursued social work as a career if they had been unsuccessful in securing the SWDA. If so, how?
- What attracted apprentices to a career in social work? And what are their career aspirations?
- How long do apprentices expect to remain in the social work sector?
- How well do apprentices feel the SWDA is equipping or has equipped them for a career in child and family social work?
- What specific issues have apprentices faced (barriers and enablers) when deciding social work training routes and pursuing a career in social work?
- What are the reasons why non-completers did not finish their apprenticeship?

6.8. Research questions relating to employers (Local Authorities):

- What social work qualification routes do employers use to meet their workforce needs?
- Does the employer currently offer, or has it previously offered, the SWDA route?
- What are the reasons for employers offering or not offering the SWDA route? If they offer SWDA, how do they think this compares to/ contributes to other routes into social work?
- What importance, if any, does government financial support play in deciding whether or not to offer social work training programmes?
- (for employers who offer SWDA) What attracted employers to offer the SWDA route? How long have they offered this route? How regularly do they recruit from this route?
- What would encourage employers to recruit more frequently from the SWDA route, or what would attract them to offer the SWDA route, if it is not currently used?

- What are employers' perceptions on the practice readiness of newly qualified social workers from the SWDA route (and how do they compare to those from other entry routes)?
- What are employers' perceptions of the post-qualifying retention rates of newly qualified social workers from different routes compared to the SWDA?

TARGET PARTICIPANT GROUP

- 6.9. SWDA Apprentices – both current and past apprentices – all those who started a social work degree apprenticeship since its inception in 2018/19 up to 2024/25. 5,950 individuals have started the SWDA between 2018/19 and January 2025 (Table 1). The Authority estimates total 24/25 starts to be around 1,400 providing a total population estimate of 6220 starts between 2018/19 and 2024/25.
- 6.10. LAs that offer and do not offer SWDA. The Authority will provide a list of all employers that have offered the SWDA standard to help select the sample of LAs for qualitative interviews.

SUGGESTED APPROACH AND ANALYSIS

- 6.11. We recommend a mixed-method research approach that involves:
- A survey of current and past SWDA apprentices.
 - Qualitative fieldwork with current SWDA apprentices and staff in a sample of employers (LAs) that offer the SWDA route.
 - Qualitative fieldwork with staff in a small sample of employers (LAs) that do not currently offer the SWDA route.
- 6.12. While we have set out some ideas below, bidders are asked to suggest the most robust and cost-effective methodologies to meet the aims of the evaluation within the budget.

SURVEY OF CURRENT AND PAST SWDA APPRENTICES

- 6.13. We suggest a national census approach to include all SWDA apprentices who started between 2018/19 (SWDA inception) and 2024/25, including those who may have completed or withdrawn in this period.
- 6.14. As set out in 6.9 the Authority estimates the total population of SWDA starts between 2018/19 and 2024/25 to be around 6220.

6.15. The Individualised Learner Record (ILR) provides a central register of apprentices to enable identification of current and past apprentices who enrolled on the SWDA standard. ILR data includes: individual's contact details (home address, email address and telephone number), demographic characteristics (including sex, ethnicity, age and LLDD) and variables such as prior attainment. Further details on ILR variables is available here: guidance.submit-learner-data.service.gov.uk/2526/ilr/fieldcollectionrequirements/apprenticeships.

6.16. ILR data is held by the Authority. We suggest that ILR data is provided to the supplier by the Authority and used to identify and contact the population, and to assess representativeness of the achieved sample.

6.17. The ILR does not enable identification of whether apprentices are based in child and family or adult social work teams so we suggest surveying all SWDA apprentices and tailoring questions as appropriate.

6.18. We seek to work with the successful bidder to agree a set of survey questions which may include questions previously used in the Authority's apprenticeship evaluation survey¹⁹ and in-house surveys with the 2022 Step Up to Social Work and Frontline cohorts (which can be shared with the successful bidder). This will enable the Authority to compare findings with other social work routes and other health and social care apprenticeships.

6.19. We suggest surveys should be routed to include specific questions for:

- current and past cohorts;
- those who completed the SWDA and those who started but did not complete;
- those based in adult and those in child and family teams.

6.20. We suggest creating a screening question on the survey to verify that survey respondents started the SWDA.

6.21. We suggest the survey primarily uses closed questions with a small number of open text questions. Bidders are invited to suggest the appropriate balance.

6.22. Bidders are asked to suggest topic areas to be covered in the survey to address the research questions in 6.7 and 6.8.

6.23. We suggest an online survey. We suggest that postal letters are sent to the individuals' home addresses with details about the research and a link (URL/QR code) to an online survey (push to web). We suggest that this be followed up with email and postal reminders. However, bidders are asked to suggest the most appropriate methodological approach to maximise responses within the budget available.

6.24. Bidders should set out expected response rates and strategies for maximising participation.

6.25. Based on the Authority's experience with other surveys, we suggest that the use of incentives (up to £10 in value) could be considered to encourage completion of the survey. Bidders should see 10.9-10.10 for details about use of incentives and information to include if incentives are recommended.

QUALITATIVE FIELDWORK IN LAs THAT CURRENTLY OFFER SWDA

6.26. We suggest identifying a sample of LAs that currently offer SWDA in child and family social work settings (perhaps around 20). The sample should include a range of LAs based on factors such as their size, region, and Ofsted rating. Bidders are invited to suggest an appropriate sample size and selection criteria.

6.27. The Apprenticeship Service in the Authority holds a list of all employers that offer or have offered the SWDA standard. This list does not distinguish whether employers offer training in child and family, adult or both settings. The Authority can support the successful bidder to select the sample of LAs using a combination of this list and the Authority's existing communication channels with LAs.

6.28. We suggest that qualitative fieldwork in the selected LAs includes activities (e.g. interviews and/or focus groups) with current and past apprentices and LA representatives. We suggest that the LA representatives include those who are responsible for training and supervision of apprentices, as well as those who are responsible for making strategic decisions about social work workforce planning (including whether to offer SWDA and other social work training and entry routes). These responsibilities may be held by different individuals in different LAs. The Authority has conducted initial enquiries with a small group of LAs to understand the most suitable roles for inclusion in fieldwork. In response, some LAs indicated that the Director of Children's Services (DCS) or the Principal Social Worker (PSW) would decide whether to offer SWDA as a pathway into the profession. Conversely, other LAs mentioned that Team Managers or Learning and Development staff were responsible for managing and supporting apprentices during their programme. Additionally, some LAs reported that other personnel, such as the Head of Service or Practice Leads, were tasked with considering apprentices for employment.

6.29. Bidders are asked to suggest a suitable methodology and sample sizes for qualitative research with LA employers and apprentices within the selected LAs.

QUALITATIVE FIELDWORK WITH A SMALL SAMPLE OF EMPLOYERS (LAs) THAT HAVE NEVER OR NO LONGER OFFER SWDA

6.30. We suggest identifying a smaller sample of Local Authorities (perhaps 5-10) that have never offered or no longer offer SWDA.

6.31. We suggest the sample of LAs could be identified by combining Apprenticeships Service data with communication channels with LAs, as suggested for the sample of LAs that do offer SWDA.

6.32. We suggest that fieldwork (e.g. interviews and/or focus groups) should include representative(s) that make decisions about offering apprenticeships and other social work training programmes to understand why they no longer offer the SWDA or have never offered it.

6.33. Bidders are asked to suggest a suitable methodology and sample sizes for qualitative research with staff representatives in the selected LAs.

ANALYSIS

6.34. Bidders should set out their approach to analysing the findings from both the quantitative and qualitative research. For the survey data, it is anticipated that analysis will include basic descriptive statistics, cross-tabs, and significance testing of differences between subgroups.

RESEARCH OUTPUTS

6.35. The appointed contractor will be required to produce the following outputs (see section 11 for suggested timings):

- Regular email updates to DfE on survey and interview fieldwork progress over the course of the project.
- An analysis plan setting out the proposed analysis approach including details of any cross-tabs and significance testing to be completed.
- A skeleton report outline setting out proposed report structure.
- A draft report providing the findings from the survey and interviews.
Report length and contents will be agreed, but it is anticipated that the report will consist of an executive summary, a description of the key research findings with an annex of tables of descriptive statistics. Bidders should cost for one round of substantive feedback followed by a period working with the Authority to resolve any final issues ahead of publication on Gov.UK.

- A verbal presentation on the draft final report findings. This should include a slide pack suitable for analytical and non-analytical colleagues.
- A final report following feedback from policy and analyst leads. The report should be in the DfE Research Series format, to a standard suitable for publication on Gov.UK.
- A final clean anonymised data set from the survey, suitable for the Authority to use in future research.

Bidders may suggest additional research outputs if they wish.

7. Project team, management and liaison

LIAISON ARRANGEMENTS

7.1. An experienced lead researcher must take overall responsibility for directing the project and liaise with the Authority for the entirety of the project. They must be named in the proposal. Any replacement will need to be a researcher of similar status and experience.

7.2. All other researchers proposed for work in the project must be named in the proposal. This must include daily rates of each grade of research staff specified, relevant policy and methodological experience, and areas of expertise.

7.3. Where a tender proposes two or more research organisations, the key research managers must be named for all service providers. One of the research managers must be nominated as lead manager.

7.4. The contractor must regularly report to key policy and analytical representatives from the Authority on the progress of the project. We expect that this would be weekly meetings or fortnightly meetings as appropriate. This may include use of an action log and risk register.

RESEARCH ADVISORY GROUP

7.5. A small project Advisory Group consisting of stakeholders and experts in the field will be convened to oversee the development and reporting of this research project. It is anticipated that this group will largely be engaged by correspondence though we may hold an initial meeting with them (online via Teams).

8. Commissioning Timeline

10. Format of proposal

10.1. Your written proposal should clearly demonstrate how you will deliver the requirements, including whether the services will be delivered solely by your 'inhouse' capability or whether you intend to Sub-Contract any element(s) of the Services delivering the proposal. Details of sub-contractors should also be provided as part of your response to Qualification Criteria 4 (1.5.3) – Further Information within Attachment 2 Instructions to Bidders.

10.2. Your proposal should be in the following format:

- Format: Microsoft Word or PDF
- Font: Min. font size 12pt

Proposal Requirements – Section 4: Risk Management

10.4. You should submit as part of your proposal a one-page summary on what you believe will be the key risks to delivering the project and what contingencies you will put in place to deal with them.

10.5. A risk is any factor that may delay, disrupt, or prevent the full achievement of a project objective. All risks should be identified. For each risk, the one-page summary should assess its likelihood (high, medium, or low) and specify its possible impact on the project objectives (again rated high, medium, or low). The assessment should also identify appropriate actions that would reduce or eliminate each risk or its impact.

10.6. Typical areas of risk for a research project might include staffing, resource constraints, technical constraints, data access, timing, management, and operational issues, but this is not an exhaustive list.

Additional Proposal Requirements – Dependencies

10.7. You should indicate in your proposal if you are reliant on any third party for the access of information, data or undertaking any of the work. This should be considered in addition to your requirement to outline formal sub-contracting arrangements within your response.

Additional Proposal Requirements – Monitoring Techniques

10.8. You should indicate in your proposal how you will monitor the project to ensure it is delivered in terms of quality, timeliness, and cost.

Additional Proposal Requirements – The use of incentives

10.9. With some important exceptions, the Authority believes that the routine use of respondent incentives in surveys is, in general, not justified as they are rarely cost effective in either increasing participation or reducing non-response biases. If you are proposing the use of respondent incentives in your proposal you must set out why you feel they are necessary, why it is not possible to achieve the required sample sizes or response rates without the use of incentives, how and to what extent they will raise the overall response rate, how you will mitigate any specific biases that could be introduced, and provide a cost comparison with non-incentive methods. Your bid should also set out how the incentives would be administered so as to prevent fraudulent claims and to maintain respondent confidentiality. Your arguments should be supported by empirical evidence from past use.

10.10. The exceptions to this are payment for participation in group discussions or in-depth qualitative interviews, payment to cover respondent expenses e.g., travel and childcare costs, and compensation for excessive demand on respondents, e.g., taking basic skills tests, diary keeping, panel maintenance and compensating schools for the respondent's time. If you wish to use a prize draw incentive then you must also set out in your proposal how you will comply with all relevant legislation and codes of practice (e.g., the British Code of Advertising and Sales Promotion), state that you shall be solely liable for any breach of these and that you shall indemnify the Authority against any claims that may be made under them.

17.2. Suppliers and any sub-contractors are required to complete Attachment 5 Supplier Security Questionnaire as part of their bid, for the Authority to obtain a level of assurance with regards to our assets throughout the life of the contract.

Data Collection

17.3. Suppliers will be expected to clear any data collection tools with the Authority before engaging in field work. Suppliers should include Data Privacy Notices for research participants via respondent documentation and/or interviewer briefing notes, and clearly state what the data is being collected for and on behalf of the Authority and that no reference is made, implied or otherwise, to the data being used solely by or available only to the supplier. Suppliers should establish with the Authority the legal basis for data processing under the General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018.

17.4. The respondent documentation and/or interviewer shall ensure that the respondent clearly understands (before they give their consent to be interviewed) the purpose of the interview, that the information they provide will only be used for research purposes and, in the case of interviews (telephone or face-to-face), that they have the right to withdraw from the interview at any time. Where consent is used as the legal basis for data processing, consent procedures should ensure compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018.

Burden

17.5. The Authority seeks to minimise the burdens on Local Authorities (LAs) taking part in surveys. It is therefore important that bids should set out how the proposed methodology will minimise the burden on LAs and a justification for the proposed sample size.

17.6. When assessing the relative merits of data collection methods, the following issues should be considered:

- only data essential to the project shall be collected;
- data should be collected electronically where appropriate and where schools and/or LAs prefer this;
- questionnaires should be pre-populated wherever possible and appropriate;
- LAs should receive at least two weeks to respond to the exercise from the date they receive the request

17.7. The Contractor shall clear any data collection tools with the Authority before engaging in field work.

Consent Arrangements

17.9. The Authority and the supplier shall agree in advance of any survey activity taking place the consent arrangements that shall apply for each of the participant groups. All participants should be informed of the purpose of the research, that the supplier is acting on behalf of the Authority and that they have the option to refuse to participate (opt out). Where opt-in consent is used, the approach should be compliant with the General Data Protection Regulation and Data Protection Act 2018. Contact details should be provided including a contact person at the Authority. Children who are 16 or over will usually be able to give their own consent but even where this is so, the Contractor, in consultation with the Authority, should consider whether it is also appropriate for parents, guardians or other appropriate gatekeepers (e.g., schools, Local Authorities) to be informed when a child has been invited to participate in research.

18. Payment and Invoicing

18.1. Details of payment and invoicing requirements are included within Attachment 6a Order Contract Terms and Attachment 6b Order Form.
