Section 1 – About UK Shared Business Services

Putting the business into shared services

UK Shared Business Services Ltd (UK SBS) brings a commercial attitude to the public sector; helping Contracting Authorities improve efficiency, generate savings and modernise.

It is our vision to become the leading service provider for Contracting Authorities of shared business services in the UK public sector, continuously reducing cost and improving quality of business services for Government and the public sector.

Our broad range of expert services is shared by our Contracting Authorities. This allows our customers the freedom to focus resources on core activities; innovating and transforming their own organisations.

Core services include Procurement, Finance, Grants Admissions, Human Resources, Payroll, ISS, and Property Asset Management all underpinned by our Service Delivery and Contact Centre teams.

UK SBS is a people rather than task focused business. It's what makes us different to the traditional transactional shared services centre. What is more, being a not-for-profit organisation owned by the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy (BEIS), UK SBS' goals are aligned with the public sector and delivering best value for the UK taxpayer.

UK Shared Business Services Ltd changed its name from RCUK Shared Services Centre Ltd in March 2013.

Our Customers

Growing from a foundation of supporting the Research Councils, 2012/13 saw Business Innovation and Skills (BIS) transition their procurement to UK SBS and Crown Commercial Services (CCS – previously Government Procurement Service) agree a Memorandum of Understanding with UK SBS to deliver two major procurement categories (construction and research) across Government.

UK SBS currently manages £700m expenditure for its Contracting Authorities.

Our Contracting Authorities who have access to our services and Contracts are detailed here.

Section 2 – About the Contracting Authority

Natural Environment Research Council (NERC)

NERC is the UK's main agency for funding and managing research, training and knowledge exchange in the environmental sciences.

NERC's work covers the full range of atmospheric, Earth, biological, terrestrial and aquatic science, from the deep oceans to the upper atmosphere and from the poles to the equator.

The organisation coordinates some of the world's most exciting research projects, tackling major issues such as climate change, environmental influences on human health, the genetic make-up of life on Earth, and much more.

Working internationally, NERC have bases at some of the most hostile places on the planet; running a fleet of research ships and aircraft and investing in satellite technology to monitor gradual environmental change on a global scale. NERC provide forewarning of, and solutions to, the key environmental challenges facing society.

Examples of funded research

- Showing the importance of mature tropical forests to the global climate.
- Developing a safer and cleaner way to mine gold by reducing the use of mercury.
- Studying the hole in the ozone layer - discovered by our British Antarctic Survey - and monitoring climate change.
- Playing a major role in the International Census of Marine Life that monitors our oceans.

NERC also runs six organisations of world renown:

- British Antarctic Survey, in Cambridge.
- British Geological Survey, in Nottingham.
- National Oceanography Centre, in Southampton.
- Centre for Ecology & Hydrology, in Oxfordshire.
- National Centre for Atmospheric Science, in Leeds.
- National Centre for Earth Observation, Swindon.

Section 4 – Specification and about this procurement

The British Antarctic Survey wishes to purchase a medium frequency (MF) radar to study the dynamics and energetics of the middle and upper atmosphere above the Antarctic Peninsula. The radar will be operated at Rothera Research Station (67.567°S 68.133°W). The new radar system will both continue the work of the existing MF radar, which has operated nearly continuously since 1997, and introduce a new capability for studying the lower ionosphere. The current system measures winds, tides and planetary waves between approximately 60 and 100 km altitude, using the full correlation analysis technique. It is part of a scientific research programme focused on space weather and its interaction with the neutral atmosphere. The new radar will improve the altitude coverage and temporal cadence of the existing system, whilst fitting within the current antenna footprint.

The footprint of the current Rothera MF radar can be seen in Appendix B. Figure 1 - MF location. There is a transmit array of four half-wave crossed dipoles arranged in a square. Three half-wave crossed dipole antennas spaced in a triangle are used to receive the returned signal. The electronics are stored in a caboose with space of maximum dimensions 4ft x 3ft (see Appendix B. Figure 2 - MF caboose). All radar electronics and control computer must be able to be stored within this available space. Examples of the antenna masts can be seen in Appendix B. Figures 3 to 6.

The instrument is to be deployed at Rothera Research station in the Antarctic in 2018-19 and will form a major part of our research effort going forward.

The vendor must provide a fully working system, including any optional items. Existing masts and cabling will be used as much as possible; new electronics, antennas and baluns will be required. Where appropriate, a range of options must be given, stating the full price for each option. Critical items that would require spares must be identified. A complete, fully tested, validated and calibrated system, fully automated and remotely controllable, must be delivered to BAS no later than 28 February 2018.

Operations:

- It will transmit a pulse of vertically directed radio waves and measure the returned backscatter using a number of receive antenna to determine the horizontal wind profile.
- The radar will operate at a frequency of 1.96 MHz and sample the atmosphere over the range of at least 55 km to 95 km.
- Standard wind experiment altitude range gates must be smaller than 5 km. The current system achieves 2 km.

- The radar needs to have good height sensitivity, effective for discerning wind signals down to at least 70 km altitude all year round with scatter from lower altitudes (to 60 km) during sunlit periods with the aim of below 60km under very disturbed geomagnetic conditions.
- It must operate in both X and O mode polarizations to allow the calculation of differential absorption in order to probe the D-region of the ionosphere that overlaps the mesosphere.
- A variable pulse length is required, but it must be able to minimise the effects of dispersion for differential absorption (upper limit of at least 200 microseconds)
- The radar will be able to switch between wind and differential absorption modes on a programmable basis.

System integration:

- The radar must not interfere with the operation of the co-located SKiYMET meteor radar and also MF operations must not be affected by said radar. The SKiYMET radar operates at 35.24 MHz with 6 kW peak power.
- To account for potential generator issues on station, the radar system must be able to operate independently and in isolation from the mains power supply. In case of power outage the system (including control computer) must operate long enough to be able to power down safely (e.g. approx. 30 minutes). Ideally this would involve a double conversion UPS system.
- The system will include an automatic antenna diagnostic for measurements of VSWR to allow for antenna impedance checks
- The radar will operate within the existing antenna footprint, using a spaced sensor antenna array. The existing mast structures will be utilised where possible, but new antennas and baluns will be required.
- It is preferable that the antenna is raised via a halyard for ground maintenance due to potentially hostile weather conditions.
- Components with potentially high failure rates must be easily replaceable, ideally minimizing effort and disruption of operation.
- Commercially available components should be used where possible to increase the operational life-time of the radar.

System:

- The instrument must be delivered as a complete, stand-alone system that is pre-assembled in 19-inch rack mounted assemblies. It must be fully tested and supplied with calibration documentation.
- The system will operate in a normal office working temperature with no additional cooling; room temperature must be recorded as housekeeping data. Both the operating and survival temperature ranges must be stated. The instrument may be stored for long periods in ambient temperatures as low as -25 degrees Celsius (non-operational).

- The transmitter system must meet the ICNRP guidelines for occupational levels of exposure.
- The entire radar system, including any subsidiary systems such as control electronics, must draw no more than 10kW continuous power and operate on single phase.
- The Computer systems must be a standard PC architecture using a Linux, Unix or FreeBSD operating system. The system must interface to existing Linux data servers at Rothera. Given the size restrictions for hardware, it is essential that the system operate from a single control computer.
- The control system must be automatic and computer controlled, requiring operator intervention only for re-configuration or system maintenance. All control functions must be available for either local input or input over the Ethernet. All control software, analysis software and executables must be supplied and fully documented.
- There will be times when the radar will need to be safely switched off on timescales of a minute (e.g. for flight following); therefore there must be a simple and quick method for the operator to accomplish this.
- Remote control of the radar will be possible; however there will be a remote lock-out (i.e. a dead switch) to prevent remote switch on at sensitive times (e.g. during maintenance or local flight following).
- It is preferable that spares are modular to allow for easy maintenance, rather than at the component level.
- The system must be capable of recording raw data (pre analysis) in a well-documented format.
- The system must be capable of recording analysed wind data in the "Spaced sensor wind measurement analysis" format (.sswma) or a documented equivalent format. All post-analysis software currently operates with SSWMA data files.
- The radar must be capable of storing housekeeping data. The radar must be capable of automatically storing 12 months of data locally to mitigate local network failures.
- The radar must provide daily summary/status messages on radar performance, via a configurable email.
- To maximise data taking the system must minimise computational downtime between soundings. Computational downtime must be less than 10 seconds per hour but zero downtime is preferable.

Warranty:

- A warranty period of 3 years minimum must be provided.

Delivery:

- A complete, fully tested, validated and calibrated system, fully automated and remotely controllable must be delivered to BAS Cambridge no later than 28 February 2018.

Technical support:

- At the point of installation an engineer will be required onsite at Rothera Research Station based in the Antarctic to provide installation advice and guidance, please see details below.

For absolute clarity, the successful bidder will be responsible for getting to the UK to travel with the deployment team to Rothera. From here all costs will be covered by BAS. This includes transport, accommodation, food and cold weather gear.

If the bidder is unable to get to the UK they will be responsible for getting to the Antarctic gateway situated in Punta Arenas in Chile, from there all costs will be met by BAS. This includes transport to Rothera, all food, cold weather gear and accommodation.

The person that is sent must pass a medical; if they are in the UK this can be done by the BAS medical unit. If outside of the UK there will be forms to complete with their GP that must be supplied. If the nominated person does not pass the medical, they cannot go to Antarctica.

BAS reserves the right to refuse assistance with installation if it's decided that the bidder's assistance is not required, or if the medical is failed.

- The timeline for installation is expected to take place between October 2018 and March 2019 at the earliest.
- Post installation ongoing remote technical support is required via telephone, email or internet.

Terms and Conditions

Bidders are to note that any requested modifications to the Contracting Authority Terms and Conditions on the grounds of statutory and legal matters only, shall be raised as a formal clarification during the permitted clarification period.

The Contract shall be for the duration of four years including delivery by 28th February 2018, installation between October 2018 and March 2019 at the earliest, and a further three years minimum warranty.

Award Evaluation of criteria

Non-Price elements

Each question will be judged on a score from 0 to 100, which shall be subjected to a multiplier to reflect the percentage of the evaluation criteria allocated to that question.

Where an evaluation criterion is worth 20% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 20%.

Example if a Bidder scores 60 from the available 100 points this will equate to 12% by using the following calculation:

$$\text{Score} = \{\text{weighting percentage}\} \times \{\text{bidder's score}\} = 20\% \times 60 = 12$$

The same logic will be applied to groups of questions which equate to a single evaluation criterion.

The 0-100 score shall be based on (unless otherwise stated within the question):

0	The Question is not answered or the response is completely unacceptable.
10	Extremely poor response – they have completely missed the point of the question.
20	Very poor response and not wholly acceptable. Requires major revision to the response to make it acceptable. Only partially answers the requirement, with major deficiencies and little relevant detail proposed.
40	Poor response only partially satisfying the selection question requirements with deficiencies apparent. Some useful evidence provided but response falls well short of expectations. Low probability of being a capable supplier.
60	Response is acceptable but remains basic and could have been expanded upon. Response is sufficient but does not inspire.
80	Good response which describes their capabilities in detail which provides high levels of assurance consistent with a quality provider. The response includes a full description of techniques and measurements currently employed.
100	Response is exceptional and clearly demonstrates they are capable of meeting the requirement. No significant weaknesses noted. The response is compelling in its description of techniques and measurements currently employed, providing full assurance consistent with a quality provider.

All questions will be scored based on the above mechanism. Please be aware that there may be multiple evaluators. If so, their individual scores will be averaged (mean) to determine your final score as follows:

Example

Evaluator 1 scored your bid as 60

Evaluator 2 scored your bid as 40

Evaluator 3 scored your bid as 80

Evaluator 4 scored your bid as 60

Your final score will $(60+40+80+60) \div 4 = 60$

Price elements will be judged on the following criteria.

The lowest price for a response which meets the pass criteria shall score 100.

All other bids shall be scored on a pro rata basis in relation to the lowest price. The score is then subject to a multiplier to reflect the percentage value of the price criterion.

For example - Bid 1 £100,000 scores 100.

Bid 2 £120,000 differential of £20,000 or 20% remove 20% from price scores 80

Bid 3 £150,000 differential £50,000 remove 50% from price scores 50.

Bid 4 £175,000 differential £75,000 remove 75% from price scores 25.

Bid 5 £200,000 differential £100,000 remove 100% from price scores 0.

Bid 6 £300,000 differential £200,000 remove 100% from price scores 0.

Where the scoring criterion is worth 50% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 50

In the example if a supplier scores 80 from the available 100 points this will equate to 40% by using the following calculation: Score/Total Points multiplied by 50 ($80/100 \times 50 = 40$)

The lowest score possible is 0 even if the price submitted is more than 100% greater than the lowest price.

Once the evaluation process and due diligence is complete, should the result of the process result in a tied place(s) then the names of suppliers shall be placed in individual sealed envelopes by the responsible UK SBS procurement person, these shall then be placed in an additional sealed single envelope and shall be presented to the Chief Procurement Officer or his nominated delegate to draw an envelope. The first envelope drawn shall be considered as the successful supplier. The paper from the drawn envelope containing the suppliers name shall be signed and dated by the responsible UK SBS person and Chief Procurement Officer or his nominated delegate which shall then be scanned and retained in the procurement case folder.

5.5. Evaluation process

5.5.1 The evaluation process will feature some, if not all, the following phases

Stage	Summary of activity
Receipt and Opening	• RFP logged upon opening in alignment with UK SBS's procurement procedures. • Any RFP Bid received after the closing date will be rejected unless circumstances attributed to the Contracting Authority or the e-sourcing tool beyond the bidder control is responsible for late submission.

awarded to you as a result of this tender process will be subject to the new GSC from 2nd April 2014. The link below to the Gov.uk website provides information on the new GSC: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/government-security-classifications>

Bidders should note, however, that, even where information is identified as commercially sensitive, the Contracting Authority may be required to disclose such information in accordance with the FoIA or the Environmental Information Regulations. In particular, the Contracting Authority is required to form an independent judgment concerning whether the information is exempt from disclosure under the FoIA or the EIR and whether the public interest favours disclosure or not. Accordingly, the Contracting Authority cannot guarantee that any information marked 'confidential' or "commercially sensitive" will not be disclosed.
- 7.4.4 Where a Bidder receives a request for information under the FoIA or the EIR during the procurement, this should be immediately passed on to the Contracting Authority and the Bidder should not attempt to answer the request without first consulting with the Contracting Authority.
