DFID would like to commission an evaluation of the Health Result Innovation Trust Fund (HRITF). The purpose of this evaluation is to consolidate what we are learning from the generated and emerging results, evidence and processes involved in establishing, implementing and evaluating an Results Based Financing (RBF) approach. The findings will be used to improve programme performance but also to support the design and implementation of RBF mechanisms being considered under the Global Financing Facility. The main objectives of this evaluation will be: Objective 1: To assess the performance of the HRITF against the given goals and outputs of the programme (as described in the results framework) identifying strengths, weaknesses and lessons learnt. Objective 2: Determine what progress has been made in addressing the recommendations from the previous 2012 evaluation. Objective 3: To make recommendations to inform ongoing and future programming specifically aimed at (a) improving the performance of the current HRITF programme from a donor, implementer and country level perspective and (b) supporting the design and implementation of future RBF approaches being considered. Recipients: The recipients of the services of this evaluation are DFID and NORAD. The primary audience for the report will be DFID/NORAD and the World Bank
