Call-Off Schedule 20 (Call-Off Specification)

This Schedule sets out the characteristics of the Deliverables that the Supplier will be required to make to the Buyers under this Call-Off Contract.

Why the work is being done: The development of the 'Teach in Further Education (TiFE)' information and support site is integral to FE Workforce initiatives at recruiting more FE teachers. Hand-in-hand with the national recruitment campaign launched January 2022 & plans for future annual campaigns that will attract more interest in FE teaching.

Following the launch of the TiFE site, the need for a delivery team to continue research and development on the site through 2022/25. This goes beyond maintenance of the existing TiFE site & focuses instead on the continued development & enhancement of the content, designs and features of the TiFE site. The desired outcome is to better inform users (prospective FE teachers) on FE, what they need to develop a career in FE & to direct them to take the next steps that are appropriate for them. Wanting more people to consider & take next steps towards becoming an FE teacher.

This requirement includes the procurement of a contracted multi-disciplinary delivery team (delivery, design, user research, business analysis, and development skillsets). Our outcome to increase the number of users who consider a career in FE & taking steps towards becoming an FE teacher via the development of an online information service and national campaign is part of the Skills for Jobs Whitepaper.

Problem to be solved:

Address lack of information & failure to attract more FE teachers.

The planned national recruitment campaign (separate business case) will help attract more interest, and the 'Teach in FE' information and support service will ensure that prospective teachers can be directed to a single site where they get the information they need in order to choose FE teaching as a career. Together, the proposed service and the national recruitment campaign address problems identified above, namely:

- Lack of knowledge in the general population about how to get into FE teaching
- No clear coordination to link prospective teachers into jobs
- Not enough information and advice to inform prospective FE teachers
- No steering through of candidates to retain and grow their interest
- No proactive management of relationships with potential FE teachers

The risk if we were unable to continue work on this site would mean that there would be no further development of the site would not continue until an in-house team is recruited. Whilst the site would be kept online by resource in Teacher Vacancies, we would not fully capitalise on the momentum generated by the campaign. The TIFE site would not be aligned with the 2022-23 campaign

Work setup:

For any given Statement of Work (SoW) the work is UK wide. Travel may be required to DfE offices in the UK

The primary base will be detailed in each SoW and expenses will not form part of the cost.

Call-Off Schedule 20 (Call-Off Specification)

Security clearance:

DfE requires all supplier staff to have Baseline Personnel Security Standard clearance (BPSS) – any enhanced security requirements will be detailed in the Statement of Work.
