Annex 2 – Specification

Stacking Research Specification

Background

Stacking in nature markets is defined as when more than one type of separate credit or unit is issued from the same activity on the same parcel of land, for example if a land manager were to sell both carbon and water quality units from the same woodland. Stacking will be critical for enabling multifunctional land use (for example biodiversity and woodland carbon) by enabling income to be earned for delivering all benefits from a piece of land. In the Nature Markets framework, published in March 2023, Defra committed to “carry out analysis to determine whether a greater degree of stacking should be permitted between compliance and voluntary markets.”

The Nature Markets Framework sets out the principles required to ensure environmental integrity and introduces stacking as a method of increasing environmentally positive outcomes. The Framework also sets out a commitment to provide clarity to landowners on the ability to stack nature market credits on their land. Defra does not currently have sufficient evidence to underpin a policy decision on stacking, and it is unclear what impact stacking could have on economic, social, and environmental outcomes.

For example, the choice of stacking model would need to consider how to best to deliver Defra’s environmental and private finance ambitions, alongside addressing the effect on costs to developers within compliance markets (biodiversity net gain and nutrient neutrality) whilst ensuring the market retains integrity.

To date, the main established nature markets have been in voluntary carbon through woodland (Woodland carbon code) and peatland (Peatland code). But in England, the new compliance markets for nutrient neutrality and biodiversity net gain (BNG), which place a statutory obligation on developers to offset the harm caused in those ecosystem services, have also either launched or are preparing for imminent launch. To fulfil Defra’s commitment to ensuring multifunctional land use across the UK, the degree to which land managers can receive payments for each of the nature services they deliver at a project site, i.e., stacking, will be an important enabler.

Different stacking rules may influence different levels of delivery of ecosystems services and the composition therein given the incentives provided to landowners. There are also risks that the current rules for stacking within compliance markets are not internally consistent with the rationale for excluding stacking with voluntary markets and Defra may at some point be challenged on this.

Problem statement

In order to make an informed policy decision, Defra needs to understand the evidence base on stacking multiple ecosystem service credits. Defra also requires the appropriate evidence to understand how the UK wide nature markets like the voluntary carbon codes may interact with England’s compliance markets if stacking is permitted.

This research project will develop the evidence base and model the impacts of different stacking models on economic, social, and environmental outcomes. This will allow Defra to understand the potential opportunities and trade-offs of introducing stacking to UK nature markets, particularly between voluntary and compliance ecosystem service markets.

Project Objectives

The objectives of the project are:

1. To conduct an evidence synthesis of the economic and empirical evidence on stacking methods.
2. To develop a set of scenarios for differing stacking policies and assess how they might work in practice.
3. To model the implications and effects of the stacking scenarios on environmental, social, and economic outcomes.

Research question

What are the impacts of stacking ecosystem services payments in UK nature markets on economic, environmental, and wider social outcomes?

The outcomes that the research would explore are below. This is a non-exhaustive list. The provider is expected to identify the relevant outcomes and agree these with Defra.

1. Economic and market efficiency: How stacking of nature market credits impacts how markets operate as a well-functioning, high-integrity markets where:
 - Externalities are valued/internalised into market process – through effective valuation of ecosystem goods and services- costs are imposed on the right section of society.
 - There is rational behaviour of agents – supported through open market information, good incentives etc.
 - Access to markets – entry/exit barriers to the market
2. Environmental: How stacking in nature markets may act as a critical enabler to achieving environmental outcomes, and strategic environmental priorities, such as:
 - Achieving multi-functional land use
 - Delivering targets and commitments outlined in strategies such as:
 - o Green Finance Strategy – including how we deliver investment in natural capital.
 - o Environmental Improvement Plan –interim targets and commitments
 - o Environment Act – regulatory targets
 - o Land Use Framework (if published)
 - o Net Zero Strategy / Net Zero Growth Plan
3. Social: How stacking in nature markets impacts wider societal outcomes, such as:
 - Wider impacts of achieving optimal environmental uplifts (crowding out, market demand etc.)
 - Exploring risks, opportunities, trade-offs, interdependencies, and unintended consequences (to linked markets etc.)
 - Distributional impacts of stacking on market participants (buyers vs. sellers etc.)

Project deliverables

The Project will be split into three work packages:

1. Work package One: Evidence synthesis Work package Two: Assessment of stacking models on outcomes.

Work package One: Evidence Synthesis

The provider will deliver a scoping document for the project and an evidence synthesis. This will provide a comprehensive evidence base to detail the existing literature, economic theory, and case studies of stacking policies. The researchers will also conduct interviews with relevant stakeholders from academia, industry (landowners, farmers, buyers), and government who are experienced in ecosystem service (nature) markets and stacking methods. Defra will provide the researchers with its existing evidence base and stakeholder networks to be utilised. The researchers should also identify and use their own network.

Methodology:

The provider will bring together both quantitative and qualitative evidence from the UK and internationally on stacking in nature markets. Defra does not have a preferred methodology for work package one and is open to bidders' views on appropriate and innovative methods. Bidders must perform a thorough examination of the existing evidence and engage with relevant experts and stakeholders to gain a thorough understanding of theoretical and practical issues that stacking may generate or solve.

Defra will work with the provider to bring together a range of relevant stakeholders that have experience in nature markets and may provide valuable insight for the project to consider. These may include representatives from academia, industry, and government to ensure all relevant perspectives are considered. The interviews with stakeholders will be key to ensuring that this research is not just useful from a theoretical perspective but also takes into account practical considerations that will affect delivery on the ground.

Critical questions:

Work package one should answer the following questions:

1. What is the economic theory that underpins stacking policy?
2. What current stacking models exist?
3. What works/does not work in existing stacking policies?
4. What market conditions are required for stacking policies to operate?
5. What are the impacts of existing stacking policies on economic, social, and environmental outcomes?
6. What are the challenges and risks of introducing stacking policies?
7. What are the opportunities and benefits of introducing stacking policies?
8. What learnings can be applied to UK nature markets?

Work package Two: Assessment of stacking models on outcomes.

The provider will utilise the evidence synthesis to develop several stacking policy scenarios that are relevant for UK nature markets. The provider will then model the scenarios and assess the implications for economic, social and environmental outcomes. This will present trade-offs, opportunities and impacts for Defra to consider.

Methodology:

The researcher should use qualitative and quantitative approaches to the methodology. Defra welcomes innovative approaches and views on how to approach the main research question. Methodologies, data, and all analysis must be replicable in-house by Defra to ensure updates to the analysis can be conducted in future.

The provider should generate a number of models looking at differing stacking scenarios both from a practical and theory-based standpoint. These models should then be assessed to show the theory underpinning them, any relevant trade-offs between outcomes and, issues that may arise as a result of implementation.

Critical questions:

Work package two should answer the following questions:

1. What are appropriate stacking models that could be utilised in the UK policy space?
2. What is the impact of the stacking scenarios on economic, social and environmental outcomes?
3. To what extent do the stacking scenarios affect the efficiency of nature markets operability?
4. How might the stacking scenarios interact with wider market rules?
5. How might the stacking scenarios impact the delivery of environmental outcomes and targets, such as those in the Environment Act?
6. What are the distributional impacts of the stacking scenarios on different societal groups?

Interim reports:

Two interim reports will be delivered during work package two:

1. A report detailing the stacking policy scenarios. This will set out the developed policy scenarios and their assumptions, the evidence in which each scenario is drawn from, and its application to the UK nature market policy space.
2. A report detailing the implications on economic, social and environmental outcomes due to the stacking policy scenarios.

Defra will review the interim reports in turn, and the provider will address comments before delivering the full report. Defra will respond with comment to each of the interim reports within 1 week of reception and the final report within 2 weeks. Defra's preference is for each interim report to be reviewed once before edits are made and the next stage of each work package can be worked on although the right to review drafts multiple times is reserved for use as and when necessary.

Full report:

A full report will be delivered at the end of work package two. It should include:

1. The evidence synthesis (from work package one)
2. The stacking policy scenarios
3. The implications on economic, social and environmental outcomes
4. The relevant trade-offs, risks, opportunities and considerations of stacking policies

The final report will be delivered in two work packages. The first draft of the final report will be reviewed by Defra and the provider will respond to Defra's comments within two weeks.

Once the final report is completed and agreed with Defra, the provider will present the findings of the research to the Defra steering group. A PowerPoint slide deck should be produced at the final steering group, setting out the key messages of the final report for a non-technical audience.

Technical report

A technical report should be produced, in an accessible format, that is no more than 50 pages. This report will include all technical details such as methodologies, assumptions, data, data sources, underpinning analysis and modelling, limitations, caveats, and exceptions.

The technical report should be suitable for both a technical and non-technical audience.

Summary paper

A short summary paper of no more than 5 pages should be supplied alongside the full report. The paper will cover a summary of the methodology used, the stacking scenarios and key findings. The summary paper should be suitable for a non-technical audience.

Work package one and two

Data and Outputs

Data, modelling and analysis used or created by the provider (e.g., excel spreadsheets) must be shared with Defra alongside any relevant deliverables. Following completion of the project the provider must ensure that all data, modelling and analysis is provided to Defra in an accessible format and with the required sources and inputs to allow for future replication by Defra analysts.

Meetings

Regular meetings will be held virtually, through Microsoft teams at a time to be agreed between Defra and the provider. In person meetings may be necessary at key points throughout the project. Defra and the provider will decide if/when in person meetings are required and will provide adequate notice/planning. At least one days' notice must be given if either party is unable to attend at the agreed time for virtual meetings and at least one weeks' notice for in person meetings. Any cancelled meeting must be rescheduled for within the same calendar week as the initial date/time so that the project can remain on schedule to complete in the required timeframe.

The following meetings will be required, at a minimum.

1. Inception meeting – Defra and the provider will arrange an inception meeting to discuss the project scope, workplan and the expectations therein.
2. Regular project management meetings – Defra and the provider will meet every fortnight to discuss the project progress, workplan, risks, issues and/or steers.
3. Steering group meetings – At project milestones (detailed in the deliverables table below), the provider will present key outputs to the Defra steering group. The steering group will be formed by Defra and consist of policy and analytical colleagues from HMG with expertise in nature markets and stacking. The provider will chair and deliver the steering group meetings in collaboration with the Defra project manager. The provider is responsible for developing required resources, presentations and materials shared during the steering group meetings. PowerPoint slide decks are the preferred resource for Defra Steering Group Meetings. The successful bidder should put forward an experienced project manager to manage the research proposed. This person should be the main point of contact with the Defra project manager.

Work package Three

Objectives

The aim of this work package is to allow call-off days to provide expert advice to Defra on related questions which fall outside the agreed scope of works.

Methodology

Call-off days may need be used on an ad-hoc basis. These will be used for the provision of expert advice in response to policy evolution and/or project findings for work beyond the scope as defined. There is no minimum or maximum defined, as call-off days may not be necessary at any point of the project.

Call-off time could be instructed across a blend of grades, if required by Defra. It would be agreed, case-by-case, what the tasks and deliverables would be, and how much time would be drawn down. The day-rates by grade shall be set out by the bidder within their proposal, in Table 2 in the Commercial Evaluation. The cost of these days will not be included in the cost of the bid, as the ad-hoc/ call off days may not be required.

A work order form (Appendix 1) will be utilised for the call-offs. Upon receipt of a work order form, the successful contractor will be required to prepare and submit a proposal describing how they would deliver the ad-hoc work, a delivery programme and a pricing table listing the inputs from the staff grades listed in Table 2 in the Commercial Evaluation.

Project considerations

In scope:

This research will focus on the stacking of private markets rather than public/private stacking (i.e., the stacking of units generated through private market schemes e.g., BNG and WCC). Defra is aware of issues around stacking of public and private funding however, as projects are already able to access funding from many public schemes alongside private markets at present, this project specifically seeks to provide a comprehensive evidence base for future stacking rules between multiple private ecosystem markets. As such, while consideration for public/private stacking should be made, the focus will remain on private markets.

Private nature markets are defined as markets which deliver private finance into nature's recovery and allocates credits/units based on improvements to environmental outcomes. This covers compliance markets - such as Biodiversity Net Gain and Nutrient Neutrality, and voluntary markets - such as the UK Woodland Carbon Code and UK Peatland Code. This will also include consideration of stacking with non-ecosystem service outcomes e.g., timber and, biomass. The provider will, in the project scoping document, decide which markets will be looked at specifically in the research. This list will be reviewed and confirmed by Defra at the inception meeting.

Out of scope:

Schemes delivered through public funding, such as Environmental Land Management schemes. These provide payments based on activities to improve the environment.

Schemes utilising private market mechanisms but funded by government e.g., Woodland carbon guarantee or other similar future schemes are also out of scope.

The research should specifically consider several issues:

Measurement and additionality

There is a lack of consistent and suitable methodologies to value and monitor ecosystem goods and services across nature markets. The BSI Nature Investment Standards Programme addresses some of this issue, but there remain challenges in measuring ecosystem service baselines and verifying the environmental improvements delivered, which undermines the credits or units issued against them. This can lead to difficulties in proving additionality (in that environmental improvements have been delivered), a risk of double counting and double payments for the same ecosystem service, which is forbidden, and a lack of confidence in the market. Financial additionality specifically is key in this area as current financial additionality tests may cause tension when stacking if too many credits are stacked resulting in the failing of certain financial additionality tests e.g., for the woodland carbon code. Robust quantification of benefits delivered, based on the evidence base, and supported by market standards and codes should form the basis of appropriate methodologies. Consideration should also be given to the importance of interoperability of data between schemes between schemes.

Compliance vs. voluntary markets

The feasibility of integrating markets: Stacking rules exist for current compliance and voluntary markets as an interim solution. The extent to which these markets can be fully stacked should be considered through understanding the relevant factors required for integration (i.e., aligning data registries and the data requirements therein).

Participant incentives: Participants in compliance and voluntary markets may have different incentives to engage with the market due to obligations placed on their activities, and the inherent nature of supply and demand (sellers and buyers of credits). For example, there are no mechanisms currently in place to ensure that developers in the compliance market deliver no net-loss for non-regulated ecosystem services.

Market integrity: Concerns exist around whether stacking rules would result in low integrity, non-additional unit creation. This is especially ally concerning when combining payments from compliance and voluntary markets where the voluntary unit generation may be of questionable additionality.

Market rules

Researchers should explore the impacts on outcomes due to variations in rules for nature markets. A lack of consistency in market rules could lead to inefficiencies, additionality issues and poor delivery of outcomes. These should be consistent with principles set out in the UK Nature Markets Framework published March 2023.

Stacking models

To explore variations in the implications of stacking on outcomes, several stacking models can be developed by the researchers. These will be reviewed by Defra to ensure that the models reflect feasible stacking policy conditions.

Required skills/experience from the provider

The provider will need to display significant experience with nature markets from both an economic and environmental perspective through previous work they have engaged in and their field of specialisation. This will entail experience with ecosystem services more generally and an understanding of the environmental issues they aim to correct alongside the rationale for intervention, current government policy and an understanding of the economic environment in which these markets operate.

Evidence of skills and experience may be through:

- Work with Defra or other government departments
- Work with governments on nature markets outside the UK
- Previous academic research
- Experience with private market participants

Skills/experience required include -

- Strong project management skills to ensure that deliverables are produced to time and quality.
- Experience and expertise on environmental economics
- Experience developing and undertaking surveys/interviews in line with Defra guidance.
- Understanding of nature markets across UK and internationally, and current government policy

- Be able to synthesise existing literature and clearly summarise and describe key findings systematically.
- The ability to critically analyse evidence and identify and explain the underlying limitations/drawbacks.
- Strong drafting and report writing skills, including the ability to communicate complex technical information to a mixed audience.
- Good connections across private and public nature market schemes, industry, and research

The successful bidder should put forward an experienced project manager to manage the research proposed. This person should be the main point of contact with the Defra project manager.

Risks

Risk Detail	Remedial Action
Failure to provide deliverables within the required timescales.	Regular biweekly meetings will be scheduled between the provider and the Defra
Difficulty engaging with relevant experts/stakeholders	Ensure engagement with experts at the earliest time possible to advise on when their input will be needed. Have multiple backups for experts in case timing or capacity is an issue.
Lack of appropriate previous research to inform the synthesis of existing evidence	Little possible remedial action. Stacking is innovative both in the UK and abroad so it is unlikely any evidence issues can be rectified.
Final report does not provide an adequate or robust evidence base for future stacking policies to be based upon	Regular meetings with the steering group will enable Defra to ensure that outputs continue to be useful at each work package and appropriately provide the evidence needed to underpin future stacking policy

Payment methods

Payments will be apportioned to scheduled milestone reports; funds to be receipted upon Quality Assurance of associated milestone report. This is in keeping with standard approach for Defra-funded R&D.

3. How the Contract works

3.1 The Order Form is an offer by the Authority to purchase the Deliverables subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Contract.

3.2 The Supplier is deemed to accept the offer in the Order Form when the Authority receives a copy of the Order Form signed by the Supplier.

3.3 The Supplier warrants and represents that its Tender Submission and all statements made and documents submitted as part of the procurement of Deliverables are and remain true and accurate.

4. What needs to be delivered

4.1 All Deliverables

- (a) The Supplier must provide Deliverables: (i) in accordance with the Specification and Tender Submission; (ii) to a professional standard; (iii) using all reasonable skill and care; (iv) using Good Industry Practice; (v) using its own policies, processes and internal quality control measures as long as they don't conflict with the Contract; (vi) in accordance with such policies and procedures of the Authority (as amended from time to time) that may be specified in the Contract (vii) on the dates agreed; and (viii) in compliance with all applicable Law.

(b) Without prejudice to the Specification the Supplier must provide Deliverables with a warranty of at least 90 days (or longer where the Supplier offers a longer warranty period to the Authority) from Delivery against all obvious damage or defects.

4.2 Goods clauses

(a) All Goods Delivered must be capable of meeting the requirements set out in the Specification and be either (i) new and of recent origin, (ii) reused or (iii) recycled.

(b) All manufacturer warranties covering the Goods will be assigned to the Authority on request and for free.

(c) The Supplier transfers ownership of the Goods on completion of Delivery (including off-loading and stacking) or payment for those Goods, whichever is earlier.

(d) Risk in the Goods transfers to the Authority on Delivery but remains with the Supplier if the Authority notices any damage or defect following Delivery and lets the Supplier know within three Working Days of Delivery.

(e) The Supplier must have full and unrestricted ownership of the Goods at the time of transfer of ownership.

(f) The Supplier must Deliver the Goods on the date and to the specified location during the Authority's working hours.

(g) The Supplier, its subcontractor(s) and supply chain must minimise packaging used whilst providing sufficient packaging for the Goods to reach the point of Delivery safely and undamaged. The Supplier must take back any primary packaging where it is possible to do so. Packaging must be 100% re-usable, recyclable or compostable, use recycled content where reasonably practicable and support the Government's commitment to eliminate single use plastic.

(h) All Deliveries must have a delivery note attached that specifies the order number, type, quantity of Goods, contact and details of traceability through the supply chain.

(i) The Supplier must provide all tools, information and instructions the Authority needs to make use of the Goods. This will include, where appropriate, any operation manuals which, unless specified otherwise, will be written in English and provided in electronic form.

(j) The Supplier will notify the Authority of any request that Goods are returned to it or the manufacturer after the discovery of safety issues or defects that might endanger health or hinder performance and shall indemnify the Authority against the costs arising as a result of any such request. Goods must be disposed of in line with the waste management hierarchy as set out in Law. The Supplier will provide evidence and transparency of the items and routes used for disposal to the Authority on request.

(k) The Authority can cancel any order or part order of Goods which have not been Delivered. If the Authority gives less than 14 calendar days' notice then it will pay the Supplier's reasonable and proven costs already incurred on the cancelled order as long as the Supplier takes all reasonable steps to minimise these costs.

(l) The Supplier must at its own cost repair, replace, refund or substitute (at the Authority's option and request) any Goods that the Authority rejects because they don't conform with clause 4.2. If the Supplier doesn't do this it will pay the Authority's costs including repair or re-supply by a third party.

(m) The Authority will not be liable for any actions, claims, costs and expenses incurred by the Supplier or any third party during Delivery of the Goods unless and to the extent that it is caused by negligence or other wrongful act of the Authority or its servant or agent. If the Authority suffers or incurs any damage or injury (whether fatal or otherwise) occurring in the course of Delivery or installation then the Supplier shall indemnify from all losses, damages, costs or expenses (including professional fees and fines) which arise as a result of or in connection with such damage or injury where it is attributable to any act or omission of the Supplier or, where related to the Contract, any of its subcontractors or suppliers.

4.3 Services clauses

(a) Late delivery of the Services will be a breach of the Contract.

(b) The Supplier must co-operate with the Authority and third party suppliers on all aspects connected with the delivery of the Services and ensure that Supplier Staff comply with any reasonable instructions including any security requirements.

(c) The Authority must provide the Supplier Staff with reasonable access to its premises at such reasonable times agreed with the Authority for the purpose of supplying the Services.

(d) The Supplier must at its own risk and expense provide all equipment required to deliver the Services. Any equipment provided by the Authority to the Supplier for supplying the Services remains the property of the Authority and is to be returned to the Authority on expiry or termination of the Contract.

(e) The Supplier must allocate sufficient resources and appropriate expertise to the Contract.

(f) The Supplier must take all reasonable care to ensure performance does not disrupt the Authority's operations, employees or other contractors.

(g) On completion of the Services, the Supplier is responsible for leaving the Authority's premises in a clean, safe and tidy condition and making good any damage that it has caused to the Authority's premises or property, other than fair wear and tear and any pre-existing cleanliness, safety or tidiness issue at the Authority's premises that existed before the commencement of the Term.

(h) The Supplier must ensure all Services, and anything used to deliver the Services, are of the required quality and free from damage or defects.

(i) The Authority is entitled to withhold payment for partially or undelivered Services or for Services which are not delivered in accordance with the Contract but doing so does not stop it from using its other rights under the Contract.

5. Pricing and payments

5.1 In exchange for the Deliverables delivered, the Supplier shall be entitled to invoice the Authority for the charges in Annex 3. The Supplier shall raise invoices promptly and in any event within 90 days from when the charges are due.

5.2 All Charges:

(a) exclude VAT, which is payable on provision of a valid VAT invoice and charged at the prevailing rate;

(b) include all costs connected with the supply of Deliverables.

5.3 The Authority must pay the Supplier the charges within 30 days of receipt by the Authority of a valid, undisputed invoice, in cleared funds to the Supplier's account stated in the Order Form.

5.4 A Supplier invoice is only valid if it:

(a) includes all appropriate references including the Purchase Order Number and other details reasonably requested by the Authority as set out in Annex 3; and

(b) includes a detailed breakdown of Deliverables which have been delivered (if any).

Details of the Authority's requirements for a valid invoice at the Start Date are set out in Annex 3.

5.5 If there is a dispute between the Parties as to the amount invoiced, the Authority shall pay the undisputed amount. The Supplier shall not suspend the provision of the Deliverables unless the Supplier is entitled to terminate the Contract for a failure to pay undisputed sums in accordance with clause 11.6. Any disputed amounts shall be resolved through the dispute resolution procedure detailed in clause 35.

5.6 If any sum of money is recoverable from or payable by the Supplier under the Contract (including any sum which the Supplier is liable to pay to the Authority in respect of any breach of the Contract), that sum may be deducted unilaterally by the Authority from any sum then due, or which may become due, to the Supplier under the Contract or under any other agreement or contract with the Authority. The Supplier shall not be entitled to assert any credit, set-off or counterclaim against the Authority in order to justify withholding payment of any such amount in whole or in part.

5.7 The Supplier must ensure that its subcontractors and supply chain are paid, in full, within 30 days of receipt of a valid, undisputed invoice. If this doesn't happen, the Authority can publish the details of the late payment or non-payment.

6. The Authority's obligations to the Supplier

6.1 If the Supplier fails to comply with the Contract as a result of an Authority Cause:

(a) the Authority cannot terminate the Contract under clause 11 on account of the failure to comply, provided this will not prejudice the Authority's right to terminate for another cause that may exist at the same time;

(b) the Supplier will be relieved from liability for the performance of its obligations under the Contract to the extent that it is prevented from performing them by the Authority Cause and will be entitled to such reasonable and proven additional expenses that arise as a direct result of the Authority Cause;

(c) the Supplier is entitled to any additional time needed to deliver the Deliverables as a direct result of the Authority's Cause;

(d) the Supplier cannot suspend the ongoing supply of Deliverables.

6.2 Clause 6.1 only applies if the Supplier:

(a) gives notice to the Authority within 10 Working Days of becoming aware of an Authority Cause, such notice setting out in detail with supporting evidence the known reasons for the Authority Cause;

(b) demonstrates that the failure only happened because of the Authority Cause;

(c) has used all reasonable endeavours to mitigate the impact of the Authority Cause.

7.4 The Supplier must provide information to the auditor and reasonable co-operation at their request.

- (a) tell the Authority and give reasons;
- (b) propose corrective action;
- (c) agree a deadline with the Authority for completing the corrective action.

7.6 If the Authority, acting reasonably, is concerned either:

- (a) as to the financial stability of the Supplier such that it may impact on the continued performance of the Contract; or
- (b) as to the sustainability or health and safety conduct of the Supplier, subcontractors and supply chain in the performance of the Contract;

then the Authority may:

(i) require that the Supplier provide to the Authority (for its approval) a plan setting out how the Supplier will ensure continued performance of the Contract (in the case of (a)) or improve its sustainability conduct or performance (in the case of (b)) and the Supplier will make changes to such plan as reasonably required by the Authority and once it is agreed then the Supplier shall act in accordance with such plan and report to the Authority on demand

(ii) if the Supplier fails to provide a plan or fails to agree any changes which are requested by the Authority or materially fails to implement or provide updates on progress with the plan, terminate the Contract immediately for material breach (or on such date as the Authority notifies).

8. Supplier staff

8.1 The Supplier Staff involved in the performance of the Contract must:

- a) be appropriately trained and qualified;
- b) be vetted using Good Industry Practice and in accordance with the instructions issued by the Authority in the Order Form;

- d) be informed about those specific requirements referred to in Clause 13.2.

8.2 Where an Authority decides one of the Supplier's Staff isn't suitable to work on the Contract, the Supplier must replace them with a suitably qualified alternative.

8.3 If requested, the Supplier must replace any person whose acts or omissions have caused the Supplier to breach clause 8.

8.4 The Supplier must provide a list of Supplier Staff needing to access the Authority's premises and say why access is required.

8.5 The Supplier indemnifies the Authority against all losses, damages, costs or expenses (including professional fees and fines) arising from claims brought against it by any Supplier Staff caused by an act or omission of the Supplier or any other Supplier Staff.

8.6 The Supplier shall use those persons nominated in the Order Form (if any) to provide the Deliverables and shall not remove or replace any of them unless:

- (a) requested to do so by the Authority;
- (b) the person concerned resigns, retires or dies or is on maternity, adoption, shared parental leave or long-term sick leave; or

10. Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs)

10.1 Each Party keeps ownership of its own Existing IPRs. The Supplier gives the Authority a non-exclusive, perpetual, royalty-free, irrevocable, transferable worldwide licence to use, change and sub-license the Supplier's Existing IPR to enable it and its sub-licensees to both:

(a) receive and use the Deliverables;

(b) use the New IPR.

10.2 Any New IPR created under the Contract is owned by the Authority. The Authority gives the Supplier a licence to use any Existing IPRs for the purpose of fulfilling its obligations under the Contract and a perpetual, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence to use any New IPRs.

10.3 Where a Party acquires ownership of intellectual property rights incorrectly under this Contract it must do everything reasonably necessary to complete a transfer assigning them in writing to the other Party on request and at its own cost.

10.4 Neither Party has the right to use the other Party's intellectual property rights, including any use of the other Party's names, logos or trademarks, except as provided in clause 10 or otherwise agreed in writing.

10.5 If any claim is made against the Authority for actual or alleged infringement of a third party's intellectual property arising out of, or in connection with, the supply or use of the Deliverables (an "IPR Claim"), then the Supplier indemnifies the Authority against all losses, damages, costs or expenses (including professional fees and fines) incurred as a result of the IPR Claim.

10.6 If an IPR Claim is made or anticipated the Supplier must at its own expense and the Authority's sole option, either:

- (a) obtain for the Authority the rights in clauses 10.1 and 10.2 without infringing any third party intellectual property rights;
