the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 600 million to 800 million (FAO 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the nutritional status of the world's population. The United Nations World Food Programme (WFP) has been instrumental in the development of the World Food Summit Declaration (1996) and the World Declaration on Nutrition (1992). The World Food Summit Declaration states that 'the world must ensure that all people have access to sufficient food and that the world's food resources are used in a sustainable manner'. The World Declaration on Nutrition states that 'adequate nutrition is essential for the health and well-being of all people and for the development of the world's population'.

The World Food Summit Declaration and the World Declaration on Nutrition are the first international agreements to address the issue of nutrition. They provide a framework for action and a basis for the development of national policies and programmes.
