Reason For Award of Contract: To develop the knowledge and understanding of UK capabilities in ballistic missile and ground based air defence for specialist users.

Value of Contract: £400,000.00

Justification For Non-Competitive Decision: Lockheed Martin (LHM) design, develop and maintain Ballistic Missile (BM) and Ground Based Air Defence (GBAD) capabilities for the Missile Defence Centre (MDC). MDC is the UK government lead for this area of capability and are the custodian of sensitive information relating to BM systems therefore LHM have access to information regarding UK capabilities not available elsewhere. The workshops allow LHM to provide classified technical support and sensitive information on UK capabilities to nominated specialist users, and have been designed with input from DSTL, MDC and the Specialist Users to minimise National Security implications and utilise the unique expertise held within LHM.
