1. Introduction

Should give a brief introduction to the organisation, including the business that the organisation is in.

The Crown Prosecution Service is an independent non-ministerial government department which prosecutes criminal cases that have been investigated by the police and other investigative organisations in England and Wales. The CPS is independent and make decisions independently of the police and government. The CPS make these decisions for hundreds of thousands of crimes every year; in 2022 the CPS brought around 426,000 prosecutions. (Annual Report and Accounts 2021-22, The Crown Prosecution Service (cps.gov.uk). There are 14 CPS areas across England and Wales.

The CPS delivers justice through independent and fair prosecutions, with our vision being:

“We are a leading voice in transforming the criminal justice system, using our legal expertise and digital capability to make the public safer and build the confidence of our diverse communities.” (CPS 2025 strategy).

There are 5 core aims in the 2025 strategy which are:

- 1) Support for the success and wellbeing of our people enables everyone to thrive.
- 2) Our investment in digital capability helps us adapt to the rapidly changing nature of crime and improve the way justice is done.
- 3) The CPS is a leading voice in cross-government strategies and international cooperation to transform the criminal justice system.
- 4) CPS legal expertise, casework quality and collaboration across the criminal justice system keep the public safer.
- 5) We work with partners to serve victims and witnesses and uphold the rights of defendants in a way that is fair and understood by all communities.

To support the delivery of aim 5, within the 2025 strategy the CPS have invested in the Victim Transformation Programme, a high-value, strategic programme that is currently being designed and tested in the CPS. Some aspects of the programme are already underway, but piloting and delivery of the main programme deliverables are planned to begin in April 2024.

2. Background to the Requirement

Provide background information to the project to help the Supplier understand how it fits in to the business objectives of the procurement. Consider including issues such as:

- any history relevant to the procurement
- recent developments
- a description of the business activities in the area relating to the procurement
- business functions & processes
- organisation & staffing
- roles & responsibilities

2.1 Background

Evaluation strategy

In keeping with other government departments, the CPS is required to demonstrate that public funding has been spent in a way that demonstrates effectiveness and value for money. As part of the Spending Review Settlement, the Treasury stipulated that all government departments must provide an Evaluation Strategy and Evaluation Plan. As a result, the CPS published its first Evaluation Strategy in June 2022, which can be found on the CPS website <https://www.cps.gov.uk/publication/cps-evaluation-strategy-2025>. In line with this strategy the Victim Transformation Programme is within scope to be evaluated.

The Evaluation Strategy was developed within the Strategy and Policy Directorate, as a steppingstone towards a full Evaluation Plan. The Strategy was presented to the Strategy Working Group in June 2022 and ultimately signed off by the Director of Strategy and Policy, after which it was published to the CPS website and accepted by the Cabinet Office Evaluation Task Force and the Treasury. The Strategy set out the CPS aspirations about Evaluation, including our approach to governance and to prioritisation.

Victim Transformation Programme Evaluation

The Victim Transformation Programme plan is to test, pilot and roll out a new service to victims over a 5-year period, subject to funding. Some testing of the new service is currently underway and from April 24 the programme will move to a phase of piloting. Funding has been agreed for April 24 – March 25 and this evaluation is being commissioned in alignment with that funding period, with the potential to be extended further into the life of the programme.

This evaluation commission is for the first year of piloting and the beginning of roll out. It will focus on supporting the programme team to learn, adapt and improve during piloting, as well as, to lay the foundations for conducting an impact evaluation, and scope the feasibility of conducting a cost benefit analysis.

This evaluation is being jointly commissioned by the Social Research team and the Victim Transformation Team in the Strategy and Policy Directorate (SPD) situated within CPS HQ.

Overview of Victim Transformation Programme

The Victim Transformation Programme was announced in June 2022. It is managed and delivered by a cross functional team across the CPS. It includes programme management professionals, representatives from the CPS change unit, victims' policy, research and digital teams.

Ultimately the programme's aim is to transform victim experience with the CPS and contribute to a better experience across the criminal justice system. To do this, the focus of the programme is on improving victim engagement with the CPS, through better information sharing, communication and offering more tailored support to those victims with the greatest needs. The Victim Transformation Programme will support the practical application of the Code of Practice for Victims of Crime in England, and Wales (Victims' Code), which is a statutory requirement and includes 12 statutory rights. The right to information and support makes up a large proportion of those rights.

There are 3 main programme strands, which are:

3. Requirement

This is a statement of what is to be delivered and forms the main body of the specification. The 'golden rule' is that specifications need to be Clear, Concise and Unambiguous. It also:

- details what will be expected of the Supplier under the contract
- how you see the contract operating to ensure aims and objectives are met
- details specific tasks, outputs and expectations
- do not embed critical requirements in background information – Suppliers may miss them
- list the important elements of the requirements first, and work through to least important

Specify requirements as:

- Mandatory – essential requirements that must be met
- Desirable – requirements that whilst bringing benefits are not essential
- Information – requirements that request supplementary detail that may be helpful to the overall picture

Note: As a general rule, no information should be provided about the proposed budget availability. The intention is to ensure enough detail is provided about the scope of the project to enable the Supplier to gauge the size of the task themselves given their detailed and specialist knowledge, without leading on price.

3.1 Purpose of evaluation and overall requirements (Year 1 – Apr 24 to Mar 25).

The purpose of this evaluation is to support the CPS to learn, adapt and improve during piloting phase, generate evidence of what is working, and set the foundations for an impact evaluation with a strong economic strand.

- The priorities for Year 1 are as follows:
 1. Learn and adapt using insights/evidence: generate and provide valuable insights and emerging evidence to support the continual improvement and adaptation of the programme throughout piloting. Ensure this evidence is sufficiently robust to inform any future funding bids. This may include supporting A/B testing (testing variations of implementation to determine which variant is most effective) during piloting and when appropriate drawing on comparators and counterfactuals to strengthen confidence in the evidence.
 2. Testing and reviewing the theory of change: assess and review the Outcomes Framework and Theory of Change and recraft according to emerging insights and evidence.
 3. Victim perspectives and feedback: scope and set up processes to collect opinions and perspectives from victims, at the most appropriate times and in a trauma informed way. Victim feedback systems will be a core part of the evaluation, however in-depth qualitative work will need to be conducted to further assess programme contribution to victim outcomes.
 4. Feasibility of a cost benefit analysis: provide a feasibility study for a cost benefit analysis which will be focused on the extent to which the programme has created efficiencies and improved effectiveness within the CPS and the wider criminal justice system.
- Given the 4 priorities outlined above the core requirements for this evaluation are outlined below.

Requirement 1: Learning and adaptation.

Redacted under FOIA Section 43, Commercial Interests

In 24/25, the evaluation will be required to collect, analyse, and present data in a visual way that is valuable for the programme team, to support them to adapt and improve during piloting and provide evidence of what is working. It will be essential that the Supplier approach the evaluation in a way that prioritises collaborative learning. Based on this approach we require the evaluators (Supplier) to generate an effective learning process for the programme team and to produce rich resources for the CPS and our partners, which reflect learning, collaboration, and adaptation of the programme.

As part of learning we will require the evaluators (Supplier) to appraise the critical success factors as the programme moves through piloting and feedback to the team. Our initial thinking on these critical success factors have been generated through developing our theory of change but will need to be further developed and assessed, in collaboration with the team, and through using insights and emerging evidence during piloting.

Possible A/B testing

The programme is considering options to conduct A/B testing during piloting, in which variations of delivery will be tested live (for example sending different variations of letters and emails to victims). If this is undertaken as part of piloting, we require the suppliers to support with measuring the outcomes (shorter-term) of those testing variations, outlining the pros and cons of each variation, and to make recommendations on the most effective and efficient variation to take forward.

Requirement 2: Testing our hypothesis for change (theory of change).

The programme has a comprehensive Outcomes Framework in which outcomes (positive changes) for victims, the CPS and the wider criminal justice system are mapped over time. The Supplier will be required to collate data to test the programme hypothesis around the service activities delivering and/or contributing to those outcomes. At the same time, through the strong learning component we will expect the Supplier to support the review and the recrafting of those outcomes and our theory of change using insights and emerging evidence. Outcomes are mapped over time (shorter term to longer term) and we would expect the evaluation team to:

- a. Collect, analyse, and make sense (joint analysis and interpretation) of data, with the programme team, to assess shorter term outcomes.
- b. Review and re-craft the theory of change so it reflects programme insights and emerging evidence and the reality of practice and delivery.

This aspect of the evaluation will require strong engagement and collaboration with the programme team and stakeholders within the CPS and the wider criminal justice system.

During the testing of our theory of change we will require the Supplier to explore the possibility to design in comparator groups and/or counterfactuals, where appropriate, to strengthen confidence in contribution.

The successful Supplier will be provided the Outcomes Framework and the Theory of Change at contract stage. For an overview of outcomes please see page 11.

Equality considerations and Intersectionality

The evaluation design should incorporate assessing the extent to which outcomes have been realised for different groups of people, for example, consideration of protected characteristics, life circumstances and crime type. Data collection and analysis should be designed to segment different groups of people and compare outcomes accordingly (comparator group analysis).

Requirement 3: Victim perspectives and feedback

The Victim Transformation Programme primarily aims to improve victim experience with the CPS and contribute to a smoother and more joined-up journey across the criminal justice system. Victim perspectives and feedback should therefore be at the centre of this evaluation and their perspectives will be crucial to measuring success. We would want the evaluator both to scope how existing methods could be used (we will provide the supplier with a comprehensive report on what is already collected) and to design new methods of data collection (for example victim surveys). Placing the victims voice at the centre of the evaluation will have its challenges, but also considerable opportunities.

We therefore require the evaluators (Supplier) to:

- a. Scope existing opportunities to gain victim perspectives and feedback and utilise those opportunities where appropriate: Working with the programme team and the evaluation manager, scope where current opportunities lie to gain the perspectives of victims, such as, through current feedback mechanisms, for example, through website forms. Using existing systems, the type of feedback should be more tailored to evidence victim outcomes set out in the Outcome Frameworks.
- b. Design new data collection methods: Design bespoke methods to gain victim perspectives, for example, surveys and qualitative methods, and integrate a proportion of those methods into the design of the programme, where appropriate and working closely with the CPS. For example, this could be QR codes on letters sent to victims that link victims to a victim survey, or more proactive ways to gain feedback, for example, gaining consent after calls with victims and sending them short surveys to complete whilst they are engaged. To inform and support with centring victim voice at the heart of the evaluation, the evaluators will have access to a detailed and comprehensive piece of work conducted by the research team.

To inform and support with centring victim voice at the heart of the evaluation, the evaluators will have access to a detailed and comprehensive piece of work conducted by the research team.

- a. Victim Feedback Literature Review 2023: Presents the feedback mechanisms available to victims across the criminal justice system, what best practice looks like in comparator organisations and assesses literature on engaging with harder to reach groups.
- b. Organisational Scoping Review 2023: Identifies current CPS feedback needs and processes, as well as current CPS victim datasets.

These documents will be shared with the successful Supplier, however, to inform this bid, below is an overview of the several mechanisms in place for victims and witnesses to feedback (Organisational Scoping Study 2023).

Redacted under FOIA Section 43, Commercial Interests

[Redacted text block containing multiple lines of blacked-out information]

There are also mechanisms that exist across the criminal justice system such as the Victim Survey, led by the Victim Commissioners research team, which is focused on eliciting victim experiences across the criminal justice system and victim services.

Within this context and avoiding duplication the evaluators will be required to scope the most valuable and appropriate points across the Victim Transformation Programme to gather perspectives from victims - taking a trauma informed approach.

Qualitative methods

Although utilising and designing victim feedback systems is an important part of the evaluation, we would also expect to see more in-depth qualitative work with victims to explore the extent to which the programme delivers quality interventions, and the contribution our activities make to achieving positive outcomes for victims. This qualitative work will need to be rigorous, as well as, sensitive and compassionate to the circumstances of victims, therefore, the evaluators are required to employ trauma-informed practice.

Trauma-informed practice

As part of the Victim Transformation Programme, the CPS intends to conduct trauma informed training and support for CPS staff that interact with victims that have experienced trauma.

As the evaluators will need to obtain victims perspectives as part of understanding effectiveness and a proportion of those victims will be RASSO victims, experiencing significant trauma, trauma informed approach to the research is a requirement. At a minimum we would expect to see a bid that:

- 1) Clearly articulates the principles that will inform the approach to trauma informed research, particularly around avoiding re-traumatising a victim/survivor, ensuring their safety, and fostering empowerment.
- 2) Incorporates trauma informed principles and practice into the evaluation design, data collection, analysis, and dissemination of the findings.
- 3) A support system for the evaluators/researchers to support wellbeing and to prevent and manage vicarious trauma through self-care and self-protection.

Requirement 4: Feasibility of a cost benefit analysis

In the longer term, a cost-benefit analysis of the programme will be required. For 24/25 in this contract, we expect the evaluation to conduct a feasibility exercise around a future cost-benefit analysis which will involve the following:

- 1) Identifying monetarised outcomes (benefits); and articulating mechanism that will deliver and/or contribute to efficiency across the criminal justice system.
- 2) Test with the appropriate stakeholders across the criminal justice system the extent to which our current thinking on creating efficiencies and improving effectiveness holds true; and which outcomes could be monetarised.
- 3) Scope the data requirements for conducting a cost benefit analysis (this should include system wide efficiencies).
- 4) Assess the feasibility of data collection (access to data) and the quality of data, within the CPS and across the system, to conduct a high-quality cost benefit analysis.
- 5) Assess the feasibility of using comparisons and counterfactuals within the cost benefit analysis, to build confidence in findings.

Victim Attrition

Reducing victim attrition across the criminal justice system is included in our Programme Outcomes Framework and Theory of Change. However, this is an outcome to explore in terms of our contribution rather than a measurement of success. As part of the feasibility study, we require the evaluation to use existing data to assess:

- 1) The points across the criminal justice system where victim attrition peaks.
- 2) Main drivers for attrition (wider evidence review).
- 3) Attrition segmented by protected characteristics and any other appropriate segmentation.
- 4) The Victim Transformation Programme activities which can reasonably and rationally contribute to lowering victim attrition (if any).

Dependent on the outcome of the above steps, a decision will be made on whether decreasing victim attrition can be incorporated into the cost-benefit analysis. The above activities will need senior stakeholder engagement across the CPS and within the programme team. The CPS can provide initial internal data on victim attrition as well as reports on recent cross government work on the relationship between protected characteristics and victim attrition.

A note on existing CPS data and sampling

The CPS has several databases that are used to capture victim data and generate reports. These databases can be used to extract victim information for the evaluation and to inform thinking about victim feedback mechanisms, by helping to understand the CPS victim population. For example, the datasets provide information about the number of victims dealt with by the CPS per year, broken down by social demographics and protected characteristics..

The data can also be used to understand representativeness within victim feedback systems, for example, it informs the volume of victims needed to create a representative sample generalised to the wider victim population. The data could also be used to determine whether specific groups of individuals are more or less likely to need additional support through the criminal justice system and help with determining the size of marginalised or harder to reach groups, as well as monitoring the relative success of any new feedback mechanism in gaining responses from these groups.

- Evidence of understanding and practical application of the Magenta Book.
- A clear articulation of a trauma-informed research approach to both quantitative and qualitative elements of the evaluation.
- An appropriate methodological approach that details the proposed approach in the form of work strands and sets out how the method(s) contribute(s) to the evaluation purposes, requirements and evaluation questions set out in 3.1 to 3.3. Please include any information on how you would construct comparator groups and counterfactual to illustrate causality to the outcomes set out on page 11.
- An approach to evaluating A/B testing and clearly outlining the approach you would take to evaluate variations.
- An approach to the cost-benefit analysis (or other proposed economic analysis) outlined in requirement 4.
- Approach to data cleansing (see section 6).

3.6 Proposed project plan and team

- MANDATORY:

- A draft project plan detailing how you propose to deliver the work.

- Work strands and timescales for the duration of the evaluation.
- A plan to meet the timeframe outlined in the Timetable section of this document with a GANT chart.

3.7 Reporting

The Supplier will provide all written outputs in plain and accessible English.

All written outputs must be quality assured and proofread by the Supplier before submission to the CPS. All outputs will be reviewed and cleared by the CPS. The Supplier will be required to amend the final report to address all reasonable comments provided via peer review, prior to the final report being agreed as the final output.

The Cabinet Office Evaluation Task Force have recently launched an Evaluation Registry, where government departments are asked to register evaluations prior to commencement and share these on completion, with a view to improving transparency and learning. It is intended that this evaluation will be registered, as part of the CPS's commitment to its Evaluation Strategy. Reporting will largely follow the same guidelines as the Government Social Research (GSR) reporting protocol, <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/government-social-research-publication-protocols> the CPS intend to publish report(s) from this project. The CPS holds the final decision on the appropriate dissemination of findings. Findings must not be published or disseminated by the Supplier without prior permission from the CPS.

No material supplied to meet the objectives of the current study can be used by the Supplier for any other purposes (e.g. newspaper, journal articles, interviews with or presentations to outside parties) unless express prior permission is granted by the CPS.

- MANDATORY:
 - a. Acceptance of the above terms, including the need to publish on the Evaluation Registry
 - b. All reports outlined in the output section, in plain English.
- DESIRABLE:
 - c. Welsh translations of reports

3.8 Data security

As part of their response, suppliers must provide:

- MANDATORY:
 1. Details of their approach to data security, transport, and management, and retention schedules
 2. A risk register which demonstrates their consideration of the expected key risks and challenges and how these will be mitigated wherever possible.
 3. Details pertaining to the use and storage of data through any third-party software (e.g., analysis software).
 4. Ethical considerations related to victim data (including both qualitative and quantitative work). Specifically, there should be sufficient detail around how the bidder will reduce the physical and psychological risks associated with providing feedback/information. This should include safeguarding risks of contacting victims, safeguarding protocols if a participant wants to raise a concern/issue about the service or the evaluation process.
- DESIRABLE: N/A

4. Aims

Should provide details of the main aims and reasons of the tender exercise

The aim of the tender exercise is to identify a Supplier with the required skills and capacity to undertake an evaluation in line with the purpose and requirements outlined in Section 3. The evaluation will support the piloting phase to learn, adapt and improve and to lay the foundations for an impact evaluation and cost-benefit analysis. It will also provide information for future Spending Review rounds and inform CPS thinking on victim-centred programme design and delivery.

The tender exercise is also intended to ensure that the evaluation is independent of the delivery teams within the CPS and the Supplier will act as a critical friend to the programme team. The Supplier will be required to provide reports that the CPS will publish, but also provide insights and evidence that can be used by the programme team to support adaptation and improvement. Independence and transparency are key strands of the CPS Evaluation Strategy: therefore, this exercise will help the CPS meet the aims set out in the Strategy.

5. Target Participant Group

Detail of the audience or population to be targeted by the research / evaluation. This information will help suppliers determine an appropriate methodology for sampling and data collection. The target required needs to be unambiguous. Make sure you include:

- Any data you have on target population size
- Current insight, including segmentations, focus group work etc.
- Sample size of named stakeholders or influencers and whether you have contact details for them, if relevant

As outlined in requirement 3 in Section 3, key target participants in this programme are victims. The CPS holds numerous datasets on victims, which can be further triangulated with public facing data from the Ministry of Justice and the Office of National Statistics. For research and evaluation purposes it is expected that the Supplier would need to perform an exercise in data cleansing before analysis. The following internal datasets would be accessible to the successful supplier:

- Volume of CPS victims (and witnesses)
- Demographic profile of the CPS victims using the following characteristics:
 1. Sex
 2. Age band
 3. Ethnicity
 4. Disability Status
 5. Religion
- Victim support needs (e.g., a victim is flagged as vulnerable or experiencing intimidation)
- Principal Offence Category is not currently recorded alongside victim data. However, in some cases such as rape and domestic abuse there are monitoring flags which can link through to the victims data.

There are also published metrics that can be accessed such as:

Criminal Justice Delivery Data Dashboards.

<https://criminal-justice-delivery-data-dashboards.justice.gov.uk/overview>

Office for National Statistics

<https://www.ons.gov.uk/peoplepopulationandcommunity/crimeandjustice>

Ministry of Justice key statistics

<https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ministry-of-justice/about/statistics#latest-statistics>

As well as the programme team, CPS staff within areas, the staff within police forces will also be key informants of this programme. All contact details of the relevant and appropriate staff will be provided to the successful Supplier.

6. Objectives (Measurable Outputs)

- Any specific objectives should be detailed here
- What is the aim of the work?
- Break down to include specific measurable outputs and expectations
- Be specific on how and when you expect the outputs to be delivered and how these outputs will be measured during the life of the contract?

This should be clear-cut, detailing the overall policy or communications objective plus a bullet point list of specific objectives. If you already have SMART objectives you should include these here.

Redacted under FOIA Section 43, Commercial Interests

7. Suggested Approach and Analysis

Use this section to explain your proposed approach (if you have one). If you do have an existing approach you should be very clear where/if you are seeking new ideas. The project specification should encourage suppliers to problem solve rather than being prescriptive in its strategy. You should be clear in this case that you wish the Supplier to develop the approach and what it needs to consider in doing so. Make a clear statement of the type and complexity of analysis needed. For quantitative data, stipulate what kind of cross-tabulation headings and statistics will be needed. The researcher will need these details to formulate the research design (sample size and type) and determine the resources that will be required. Be sure to specify requirements for sub-contracting if you have any.

We require the Supplier to consider and present their approach to the evaluation and their analysis of the 4 requirements outlined in section 3.

8. Outputs

The deliverables required – such as data tables, reports, summaries and presentations of the research findings. Detail if interim reports are necessary.

Over the period of the contract the Supplier must deliver:

Progress reporting:

- An inception meeting/s to discuss and clarify the requirements and scope of the project.
- Weekly or bi-weekly progress updates (verbal, via Teams 30 min meetings) Note: frequency may be adjusted subject to agreement between the Supplier and the CPS
- Monthly project updates (Max 2 pages – to include progress and risks, and information / stakeholder access requirements for the coming month/s)

- be specific on what is to be included
- what is excluded
- what is optional

The following tasks are within the scope of requirement and the Supplier will:

- design the evaluation approach, methodology and methods.
- deliver the evaluation, including collection and analysis of data as required.
- attend regular project meetings with the CPS evaluation manager and representatives from the programme team.
- report any emerging risks/issues so the CPS and the Supplier can take steps to address these.
- conduct the required analysis on data generated by the methods proposed.
- use the data to address the evaluation objectives.
- produce outputs of emerging insights to the programme team during piloting.
- produce an interim and final report which is publishable.

10. Liaison Arrangements

The requirements for contact and liaison throughout the research project

- Is there a team or advisory group the researcher will need to meet?
- Give address where services are to be carried out (Businesses, Suppliers or both)
- Can any or all of the requirement be delivered remotely
- What are the envisaged frequency, type and reporting details required?

CPS management / oversight

The Supplier will have one point of contact, the evaluation manager who will provide technical assurance and oversight from within the research team and the victim transformation programme.

As part of the CPS governance process the work will be reported to the Victim Transformation Programme Board, and the Deliver Team, via the evaluation manager. The Supplier may be asked to present direct to the board on occasion.

It is anticipated that the Supplier will nominate a project manager. Throughout the contract, the Supplier will be expected to meet as a minimum monthly with the internal CPS evaluation manager but this is expected to be more frequent at the beginning of the work.

Additionally, if novel data are gathered for this evaluation, it would be preferable for the CPS research team to be able to observe some of the data gathering, especially if this is via interviews and / or discussion groups. As a minimum a senior researcher will expect to be able to observe at least one of each type of data gathering method used.

CPS staff work nationally from offices throughout England and Wales. Most of the requirements can be delivered remotely, utilising video conferencing platforms to communicate regularly. Although it may be preferable to have some meetings in-person, this is not a requirement.

11. Regulatory requirements

Are there any regulatory requirements the need to be considered? Please list.

Suppliers should as a minimum be able to comply with:

- The Concordat to Support Research Integrity in Government
<https://www.universitiesuk.ac.uk/topics/research-and-innovation/concordat-support-research-integrity>
- The Government's Social Research Code and publications protocol:
<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-government-social-research-code-people-and-products>
- Ethical Assurance for Social Research in Government: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/ethical-assurance-guidance-for-social-research-in-government>
- Publishing Research and Analysis in Government

All data must also be stored in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2018, Freedom of Information Act 2000, the General Data Protection Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/679) and Government Economic and Social Research Team guidelines. All published outputs from the research will be anonymous. The successful Supplier must comply throughout the project with the CPS data protection policy.

The successful Supplier must ensure that all staff working on the project have had a Baseline Personnel Security Standard (BPSS) check.

12. Service Levels

- What levels of service do you require
- How will these be measured over the life of the contract

12.1 Supplier Obligations

This is a 1-year contract with the key deliverables set out in Section 8.

Once the contract is live the CPS will work with the Supplier to confirm the delivery dates for each stage of the project. Initial dates have been provided in the proposed timeline (section 15).

The Supplier will also nominate a project manager. The project manager nominated by the Supplier must have sufficient experience, seniority, and time allocated to manage the project effectively. As part of their proposal, Suppliers must provide details of their project team (with short CVs, detailing relevant experience) and delivery plans.

The CPS, Victim Transformation Programme, evaluation manager and programme manager will hold regular meetings with the Supplier to review progress, to ensure that milestones are met and to quality assure the final product to ensure it is of a high standard, meets the specification and is publishable.

12.2 Quality assurance

The Supplier must commit to undertaking quality assurance of all deliverables and for the Supplier to guarantee the accuracy of all outputs to the CPS. Suppliers must provide details of the quality assurance procedures they have in place.

12.3 Risks

A risk is any factor that may delay, disrupt, or prevent the full achievement of a project objective. All risks should be identified. For each risk, the register should assess its likelihood (high, medium, or low) and specify its possible impact on the project objectives (again rated high, medium, or low). A risk register should include appropriate actions that would reduce or eliminate each risk or its impact.

As part of their proposal, Suppliers must provide a risk register.

13. KPI's

- What KPI's will be used to measure Supplier performance and deliverables
- Please note it is a mandatory requirement that at least 1 KPI must refer to the Social Value element as asked in the ITT

14. Security arrangements for Consultants

- Baseline Personnel Security Standards (of which Disclosure Scotland is a part) are a default requirement in any Research contract.

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/government-baseline-personnel-security-standard>

- Please note if you require any additional/higher level security requirements

The successful Supplier must ensure that all staff working on the project have had a Baseline Personnel Security Standard (BPSS) check.

15. Timetable

- Lists key targets and/or milestones expected to be achieved
- can act as a performance indicator to enable stage or interim payments to be made against measurable deliverables.
- be specific on when you expect the outputs to be delivered
- if the completion date is fundamental to the success of the project, then say so
- Give dates for awarding the contract, completion of the research – and any interim deadlines. This will help in the planning of what is feasible. e.g.
 - the successful agency will be notified by [date].
 - A project set-up meeting is scheduled at [department] for [date].
 - We require the research to be complete and reported by [date].

Always caveat with dates and times subject to change

The maximum budget for this project, including expenses is Redacted under FOIA Section 43, Commercial Interests. A detailed breakdown of costs is required from all Suppliers. More cost-effective solutions will be evaluated favourably.

Suppliers must submit clear costings for the project, including a breakdown for each phase of fieldwork, each output and project management. This must include a detailed breakdown of what activities each member of the research team will conduct with a specification of the time allocated and their daily rate; and any assumptions associated with the costs. Any additional costs such as travel, accommodation, subsistence, postage & printing, equipment costs must also be detailed. Suppliers must demonstrate how their bid provides additional value in meeting the research aims while containing costs.

This cost breakdown must be kept separate from the bid that will be sent to the research team for review.

19. Outcome

- What do you want / expect the outcome of this contract to be?
- Do you have a robust escalation process

19.1 Outcomes

The outcome of this project will be an evaluation which has been conducted to support learning and adaptation of a pilot. This will also include written outputs that can be published and shared through government channels.

The CPS will retain the rights to this work. The requirements are set out in Section 3 and outputs in Section 8. The Supplier should deliver on these outputs within the specified time frame. There is also a requirement for a Welsh translation of the final report, which may be organised by either the Supplier or the CPS, but this should be agreed upon at contracting.

19.2 Escalation process

The CPS will agree more precise milestones with the Supplier for each stage of the project, and the key management mechanism will be the progress meetings. The Supplier will actively manage risks, seek to mitigate them, and develop contingency plans if necessary. The Supplier will be expected to nominate a lead person with overall responsibility for delivery with the same responsibilities for project and risk management.

If any difficulties arise, it is anticipated that the respective CPS Leads and Supplier project managers should attempt to resolve them. If concerns persist or become more serious, the CPS will escalate concerns to the relevant Deputy Director to seek guidance on the next steps and may be further escalated with Commercial and/or Directors if deemed necessary.

20. Exit Strategy

- What is your exit strategy for this contract;
- How do you want the Supplier to deliver skills & knowledge transfer to your permanent staff throughout and at the end of the contract.

This is a time limited piece of work. Learning and findings will be communicated at several points throughout the evaluation, and this will culminate in an interim and final report. Learning and findings will be published and must be produced to a publishable standard to consider publication on gov.uk.

There is currently a possibility that this contract will be extended for a further year during Phase 1. For Phase 2 of the programme (April 26 onwards) there will be a new contracting phase for the evaluation (subject to funding). Therefore, the Supplier should be prepared to handover all necessary knowledge and reports to a new Supplier for this phase of the evaluation.

Access to project information will only be provided to individuals who are working on the project and have a need to access the information. All data will be transferred, stored, and manipulated in a secure manner.

2. How to manage the insurance

- 2.1 Without limiting the other provisions of this Contract, the Supplier shall:

The Supplier shall use all reasonable endeavours to notify the Buyer (subject to third party confidentiality obligations) as soon as practicable when it becomes aware of any relevant fact, circumstance or matter which has caused, or is reasonably likely to provide grounds to, the relevant insurer to give notice to cancel, rescind, suspend or void any insurance, or any cover or claim under any insurance in whole or in part.
