Appendix 2: Specification/Description

Workstream 1: Review of resources (for this project resources refer to guidance, toolkits and educational/training materials) on nature recovery and biodiversity as relevant to the NHS:

- Collate and summarising existing resources; identifying topics covered and which NHS audiences they serve.
- Identify and summarise resources currently in development
- Identify resource gaps and key challenges pertaining to specific audiences.

Workstream 2: Develop a repository/format for sharing resources for nature recovery and biodiversity as relevant to the NHS (as identified under workstream 1)

- Bring together existing resources (and relevant case studies where available), organised by audience and theme in an engaging format and disseminate to healthcare professionals.

Workstream 3: Produce a project report based on information gathered in workstream 1.

- Summarise state of existing resources.
- Identify resource gaps and key challenges pertaining to specific audiences or topics. Make recommendations for addressing these gaps and challenges, for example identifying where existing resources could be adapted; where new resources need to be developed; options for increasing engagement etc.
- Make recommendations for where NE, NHSE, CSH and the wider sector should focus resources to build capability and capacity in the NHS to enhance outdoor spaces for the benefit of people and nature. This could include recommendations for the development of guidance, or recommendations for hosting and improving access to/engagement with guidance.
