Please could you complete the following section for our marketing and communications team.

Website entry:

To be featured here. Please provide 100-200 words introducing your organisation, its sustainability mission statement, and why you have chosen to Partner with IEMA.

The Department for Education is responsible for children's services and education, including early years, schools, higher and further education policy, apprenticeships and wider skills in England.

Sustainability and climate change touches on all we do in DfE, from the way we work and the buildings we use; to the schools we build and maintain and the education and skills we deliver. Our vision is to become a world leader in climate change and sustainability education by 2030

Education is central to the climate crisis; we have a critical role in preparing children and young people for a world changed by climate. We need to equip young people with the education, skills and attitude to take positive action to create a better future.

To achieve our vision, we recognise the need to partner with experts in this field and look forward to engaging with IEMA and others.
