Section 1 – About UK Shared Business Services

Putting the business into shared services

UK Shared Business Services Ltd (UK SBS) brings a commercial attitude to the public sector; helping our customers improve efficiency, generate savings and modernise.

It is our vision to become the leading provider for our customers of shared business services in the UK public sector, continuously reducing cost and improving quality of business services for Government and the public sector.

Our broad range of expert services is shared by our customers. This allows our customers the freedom to focus resources on core activities; innovating and transforming their own organisations.

Core services include Procurement, Finance, Grants Admissions, Human Resources, Payroll, ISS, and Property Asset Management all underpinned by our Service Delivery and Contact Centre teams.

UK SBS is a people rather than task focused business. It's what makes us different to the traditional transactional shared services centre. What is more, being a not-for-profit organisation owned by its customers, UK SBS' goals are aligned with the public sector and delivering best value for the UK taxpayer.

UK Shared Business Services Ltd changed its name from RCUK Shared Services Centre Ltd in March 2013.

Our Customers

Growing from a foundation of supporting the Research Councils, 2012/13 saw Business Innovation and Skills (BIS) transition their procurement to UK SBS and Crown Commercial Services (CCS – previously Government Procurement Service) agree a Memorandum of Understanding with UK SBS to deliver two major procurement categories (construction and research) across Government.

UK SBS currently manages £700m expenditure for its Customers.

Our Customers who have access to our services and Contracts are detailed here.

Section 2 – About Our Customer

Medical Research Council (MRC)

The Medical Research Council is a publicly-funded organisation dedicated to improving human health.

The organisation supports research across the entire spectrum of medical sciences, in universities and hospitals, in its own units, centres and institutes in the UK, and in our units in Africa.

Supporting scientists

- Around 5,700 research staff are supported by the MRC, either employed directly in our institutes and units or funded through grants and fellowships.
- We spent £86m on training awards for postgraduate students and fellows in 2011/12, including those in the MRC's own institutes and units.
- At March 2012 there were around 1,900 MRC-funded PhD students and around 400 MRC fellows in higher education institutes and MRC research establishments.

Research examples

- The benefits of MRC research have a national and global impact; from infections in Africa, stem cell advances that can potentially combat brain and heart diseases and improvements in the design of tests for treatments. As well as more and better healthcare, medical research can lead to wider impacts; many millions more lives saved, a vastly improved quality of life and hence a more productive workforce and economic benefits to nations.
- MRC researchers have found markers for cancer cells that may help detect thousands of new cases of cancer a year. The markers are already part of an MRC-developed device that screens for cancer of the oesophagus, are being trialled for cervical cancer screening and could potentially be used in a test for bowel cancer.
- The NHS newborn hearing screening programme, introduced in 2002, improves the early detection of hearing impairment in babies, allowing earlier and more effective treatment for the 900 babies born each year in the UK with permanent hearing loss.
- An estimated 73,000 adults are living with HIV in the UK, according to 2006 figures, but around a third of those people haven't been diagnosed and don't know they're infected. Black and ethnic minority populations accounted for just over half of all 7,000 new cases in 2006. Among many other aspects of HIV research, such as the molecular basis of the condition, treatments and diagnosis, MRC scientists are also researching social and behavioural factors.

Section 4 – Specification and about this procurement

1. Introduction

1.1. The TIRF/FRAP microscope system covered by this specification is intended to provide the MRC Laboratory of Molecular Biology in Cambridge with an instrument able to quantitatively image single molecules at very high speed in multiple channel simultaneously.

1.2. The proposed TIRF/FRAP system shall be designed in such a way that it may be expanded and/or upgraded to meet future requirements. In particular, upgrade towards a spinning disk confocal is envisioned (such as with the Yokogawa CSU W1 spinning disk wheel or equivalent), and the proposed system shall enable Spinning disk/FRAP applications.

1.3. This system must provide capability for simultaneous three or four channel imaging, each to a separate large field of view camera (13X13mm camera chip).

1.4 The system must be able to receive custom parts not sourced from the bidder.

2. Lasers Specifications and Function

2.1. The proposed TIRF/FRAP microscope system shall be equipped with the following solid state laser excitation wavelengths:

2.1.1. 405nm.

2.1.2. 488nm.

2.1.3. 561nm or within the range of 560nm – 570nm.

2.1.4. 633nm or within the range of 630nm – 650nm.

2.2. The tenderer shall state the power and expected lifetime of all lasers specified in their proposal. Power is expected to be at least 100mW for the 405nm and 561nm lasers, 140mW for the 633nm and 150 mW for the 488nm (see also point 1.2 for Yokogawa CSU W1 upgrade).

2.3. The tenderer shall indicate if it is possible to add additional laser lines to the hardware specified in their tender response after delivery of the system, and if so how many.

2.4. Selection of the laser wavelength(s) and control of the laser intensity shall be automated and optimized for speed, flexibility, light efficiency and for possible future laser upgrades. Laser intensity shall preferably be controlled by direct modulation.

2.5. The proposed laser bank shall be equipped with at least two independent optical fibre outputs (one for FRAP, one for TIRF).

2.5.1 It shall be possible to direct the full power of any combination of laser wavelengths into either of the fibre outputs.

2.5.2 Switching of the combined optical path of the four lasers to each fibre should be as fast as possible (ideally <1 millisecond).

2.5.3 The proposed laser bank shall be equipped with a global shutter controlled by a key.

2.5.4 The proposed laser bank shall be able to receive a third optical fibre output at minimum cost, (see also point 1.2).

2.5.5 The laser bank shall be designed for laser safe operation. Interlocks shall not compromise the laser output power stability

3. TIRF Imaging Specification & Function

3.1. This system must provide homogenous TIRF illumination by spinning a focused laser at the back focal plane of the objective at very high speed while keeping the distance to the optical axis, and thus the TIRF angle, constant (so called ring- or azimuthal TIRF).

3.1.1 The proposed Azymuthal TIRF control system should be able to achieve a complete circle at the back focal plane in 6 milliseconds or less.

3.1.2 The proposed Azymuthal TIRF control system should be able to change the ring radius in less than one millisecond.

3.2 The proposed Azymuthal TIRF control system shall be equipped with a flexible user configurable interface to select for each excitation wavelength: i) the TIRF angle (ring diameter) and/or the penetration of the TIRF field, ii) the laser power, iv) the rotation speed of the spot at the back focal plane. The centre position of the ring at the back focal plane should be adjustable in the software.

3.3 Ideally, the proposed Azymuthal TIRF control system shall propose a flexible control of illumination by the different lasers during a camera exposure and/or a single orbit (Time sharing mode).

3.4 The proposed Azymuthal TIRF control system should provide a way to calibrate the depth of the TIRF field for each wavelength.

3.5 The system should provide homogenous illumination across the entire field of view of the provided camera. Tenderer shall specify the uniformity of illumination of their proposed setup along the diagonal direction (obtained using homogenous solutions of fluorescent dyes and without extra magnifying lens). We consider a 50% intensity drop compared to the centre 10% area of the camera chip as the cut off to measure the homogeneity of the field of view: illumination homogeneity of 80% means that 20% of the signal along the diagonal displays values that fall below half that of the signal in centre region [10% on each side].

Scoring will reflect said specification: 100% means that intensity along the diagonal direction does not drop below 50% of that of the centre area, 50% means that 50% of the signal along the diagonal displays values that fall below half that of the values in the centre region.

3.6. The proposed system shall be capable of simultaneous detection and imaging on four large field of view independent cameras using suitable splitter optics and emission filters. The provided image splitter device shall enable independent focusing and alignment of each channel. The following dichroics/emitters are expected:

3.6.1. Ultra flat dichroics: DAPI/GFP, GFP/CY3 and CY3/CY5

3.6.2. single emitters: 450/50 525/50 595/50 655 LP

3.7. The tenderer shall propose three cameras (with an option for four) designed for single GFP molecule sensitivity at high speed, either back illuminated EMCCD or back illuminated sCMOS. The price of this fourth camera should be included as an option in the bid.

3.7.1. The tenderer shall propose cameras with a large chip (in the 13X13mm range) able to image at a minimum framerate of 23 frames per second in full field in global shutter mode.

3.7.2 The tenderer shall propose cameras with a pixel size of 13µm or smaller.

3.7.3 The tenderer shall provide the specific performance datasheets of each camera. Pixel to Pixel noise maps are also expected for sCMOS cameras.

3.8 The TIRF system shall function in concert with a motorized microscope stage to produce X,Y, T , lambda images at multiple user designated points in a sample.

4. FRAP Specification & Function

4.1 The proposed system must allow TIRF/FRAP experiments with all four lasers by scanning a focused laser in a controlled way on the sample.

4.2 The tenderer shall provide the size of the focused laser spot (ideally diffraction limited).

4.3. This system must provide near simultaneous TIRF/FRAP capabilities (ideally switching time between TIRF and FRAP modes in 10 milliseconds or less) with all lasers.

4.4. In the case of an upgrade towards a Spinning disk confocal configuration, the possibility to do near simultaneous Spinning disk/FRAP (switching time between Spinning Disk and FRAP modes in 10 millisecond or less) with the four provided lasers will be a plus.

5. Microscope Specification & Features

5.1. The proposed TIRF/FRAP microscope system shall include an inverted microscope stand.

5.2. The proposed inverted microscope stand shall have two side camera ports suitable for mounting cameras for full field imaging. By preference, switching between the eyepieces and the two camera ports shall be automated and shall be under TIRF system software control.

5.3. The tenderer shall indicate the wavelength range over which the entire microscope system is considered to be aberration corrected.

5.4 The microscope shall come equipped with a white light source and transmitted light condenser optics

5.5 The proposed microscope shall include two objectives

5.5.1. 10x (ten times) air.

5.5.2. 100x(one hundred times), highest NA possible (oil immersion lens), optimized for multicolour TIRF fluorescence imaging.

5.6 It is expected that the proposed microscope system has a motorized fluorescence filter turret

5.7. The microscope shall have a motorized focusing mechanism. The tenderer shall state the minimum step size and precision of the focus mechanism.

5.8. The proposed stand shall have hardware autofocus.

5.9. The proposed microscope system shall include a motorised X-Y sample stage equipped with a universal insert and be equipped with linear encoders for accurate and repeatable positioning.

5.10. The proposed motorised X-Y sample stage shall be movable under control of both the system's software and a separate joystick.

5.11. The possibility to image the back focal plane of the objective for ring TIRF alignment on a different imaging port would be a plus. The MRC may provide a dedicated low end camera for this application

5.12. The microscope system should include appropriate hardware such that it may be mounted on an anti-vibration table.

5.13. The tenderer shall provide an anti-vibration table able to fit all the above components, including room for a spinning disk hardware upgrade (such as the Yokogawa CSU W1).

5.14 The system shall be designed for laser safe operation. Interlocks shall not compromise the laser output power stability

6. PC Specification

6.1. The proposed PC should meet or exceed the following performance requirement.

6.2. The computer shall have sufficient data processing power and sufficient memory to operate the microscope, TIRF and FRAP hardware.

6.3. The computer shall have sufficient data processing power and sufficient memory to acquire data from at least two cameras simultaneously operating in full field at their fastest framerate. Acquisition by cameras three and four may be done on a second PC using Micromanager software or equivalent if necessary. Said second computer could be provided by the MRC.

6.4 At least 512 Gigabytes of Solid State storage, preferentially using two disks in RAID0 or using a NVMe drive on a PCIe port.

6.5. Two 24" displays (or larger) with IPS technology.

6.6. A PCIe 2.0 free slot for a high-speed network data transmission card (e.g. 10gbit Ethernet), which will be provided by the MRC.

6.7. A PCIe 3.0 free slot for a high performance GPU for online data processing (Nvidia GeForce Titan X), which will be provided by the MRC. Supplied PC must only have basic graphics capabilities.

7. Software Features

7.1. An appropriate software package by the proposed TIRF/FRAP microscope system is expected by the MRC. In addition to software features specified in the preceding sections, further features are listed below.

7.2. Said software package will not be used for data analysis, visualisation or processing, so there is no need for sophisticated data processing and analysis modules. However, software proposed by the tenderer shall facilitate FRAP analysis at the microscope.

7.3 Said software package shall be able to overlay signals from at least two cameras to facilitate alignment of the multichannel splitting optics.

7.4 Said software package shall enable TTL control of extra devices, such as microfluidic pumps, at specific times during acquisition. If necessary, the MRC may provide an additional TTL controller.

7.5 Said software package shall be scriptable for advanced acquisition schemes

7.6. The complete package of software proposed by the tenderer shall be fully compatible with all of the hardware systems proposed as part of the TIRF/FRAP microscope system.

7.7. The software provided with the system shall be expected to allow multiple users each with individual log-ins, user profiles, saved settings and acquisition protocols.

7.8. The MRC expects that the acquired data and metadata can be exported outside from the proposed system in multiple formats (e.g. *.tiff). On line export to MATLAB would be a plus.

7.10. The software proposed by the tenderer shall allow the user to select in software defined ROIs (region of interest) in an image for subsequent illumination, imaging and/or photo bleaching. Implementation of the ROI photobleaching shall be automated and allow rapid switching between this mode of operation and regular TIRF imaging mode.

7.10.1. Note: the size, shape and number of such areas shall be defined by the user and the proposed software must be capable of analysing the acquired data.

7.10.2. ROI photobleaching and stage motion must be scriptable in the software to allow the user to photobleach a region of the same geometry at different XY position of the stage (to allow UV mediated micropatterning)

7.10.3. ROI geometry (shape, position in the field of view) must be recorded as part of the image metadata,

7.10.4. The MRC expects flexible software tools to manage FRAP ROI geometry. In particular the ability to import and export ROI geometry in a general format (list of coordinates, ImageJ or Matlab ROI)

7.11 The software shall facilitate time lapse imaging at multiple locations. Each location must be able to have its own focus reference to combine hardware autofocus with multi-position acquisition.

The Contract duration shall be for a period of 1 year from commencement of the Contract.

Award Evaluation of criteria

Non-Price elements

Each question will be judged on a score from 0 to 100, which shall be subjected to a multiplier to reflect the percentage of the evaluation criteria allocated to that question.

Where an evaluation criterion is worth 20% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 20.

Example if a Bidder scores 60 from the available 100 points this will equate to 12% by using the following calculation: Score/Total Points available multiplied by 20 ($60/100 \times 20 = 12$)

Where an evaluation criterion is worth 10% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 10.

Example if a Bidder scores 60 from the available 100 points this will equate to 6% by using the following calculation: Score/Total Points available multiplied by 10 ($60/100 \times 10 = 6$)

The same logic will be applied to groups of questions which equate to a single evaluation criterion.

The 0-100 score shall be based on the methodologies stated within the questions

Please be aware that there may be multiple evaluators. If so, their individual scores will be averaged (mean) to determine your final score as follows:

Example

Evaluator 1 scored your bid as 60

Evaluator 2 scored your bid as 40

Evaluator 3 scored your bid as 80

Evaluator 4 scored your bid as 60

Your final score will $(60+40+80+60) \div 4 = 60$

Price elements will be judged on the following criteria.

The lowest price for a response which meets the pass criteria shall score 100.

All other bids shall be scored on a pro rata basis in relation to the lowest price. The score is then subject to a multiplier to reflect the percentage value of the price criterion.

For example - Bid 1 £100,000 scores 100.

Bid 2 £120,000 differential of £20,000 or 20% remove 20% from price scores 80

Bid 3 £150,000 differential £50,000 remove 50% from price scores 50.

Bid 4 £175,000 differential £75,000 remove 75% from price scores 25.

Bid 5 £200,000 differential £100,000 remove 100% from price scores 0.

Bid 6 £300,000 differential £200,000 remove 100% from price scores 0.

Where the scoring criterion is worth 50% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 50

In the example if a supplier scores 80 from the available 100 points this will equate to 40% by using the following calculation: $\text{Score/Total Points} \times 50$ ($80/100 \times 50 = 40$)

The lowest score possible is 0 even if the price submitted is more than 100% greater than the lowest price.

Once the evaluation process and due diligence is complete, should the result of the process result in a tied place(s) then the supplier(s) who scored the highest total in the following quality criterion shall be considered the successful supplier and shall be awarded the opportunity

Quality question PROJ1.5 TIRF illumination uniformity

5.5. Evaluation process

5.5.1 The evaluation process will feature some, if not all, the following phases

Stage	Summary of activity
Receipt and Opening	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> RFP logged upon opening in alignment with UK SBS's procurement procedures. Bidders should note, however, that, even where information is identified as commercially sensitive, UK SBS may be required to disclose such information in accordance with the FoIA or the Environmental Information Regulations. In particular, UK SBS is required to form an independent judgment concerning whether the information is exempt from disclosure under the FoIA or the EIR and whether the public interest favours disclosure or not. Accordingly, UK SBS cannot guarantee that any information marked 'confidential' or "commercially sensitive" will not be disclosed.
- 7.4.4 Where a Bidder receives a request for information under the FoIA or the EIR during the procurement, this should be immediately passed on to UK SBS and the Bidder should not attempt to answer the request without first consulting with UK SBS.
- 7.4.5 Bidders are reminded that the Government's transparency agenda requires that sourcing documents, including RFP templates such as this, are published on a designated, publicly searchable web site, and, that the same applies to other sourcing documents issued by UK SBS, and any contract entered into by UK SBS with its preferred supplier once the procurement is complete.
