- Should you require any further guidance or advice on using SELECTT please make contact via the Atamis messaging portal as early as possible in the tender process.

After successful installation of SELECTT points to remember:

- When downloading from Atamis the SELECTT offer schedule Document No.05(a), do not change the file extension reference .xml as the file cannot be opened through SELECTT
- Also, do not change the default file name from Document No05(a). Document No.02, Terms of offer, reference 8.3 refers
- Once your offer(s) are completed the file must be exported from SELECTT. For a step by step guide on exporting the file please refer to the user guide reference 5, page 31
- After exporting the file a .cmu extension is created and it is this document that has to be uploaded back into Atamis as part of your offer submission.

Please note: the .cmu file extension should not be changed under any circumstance because without the .cmu file your offer will not be complete and may not be admissible.
