Issued: 03/05/2024

Q1	Can small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) bid on the tenders?
A1	Yes.
Q2	Are we able to offer multiple technical solutions?
A3	Yes, are not looking for a specific solution and welcome original thinking.
Q3	Are you asking us to share a case example of using a system such as MoSCoW or similar?
A3	We want to see a description of the method you will use to quantify the estimated industrial requirements of your solution, including a worked example of an element (e.g. – vessels, Ports or people). Whilst we have included an example MoSCoW template, bidders might not consider this the most appropriate approach and are welcome to propose alternatives. However, it does provide an example of the sort of information we would like to see successful bidders include in the final deliverable.
Q4	Is it necessary for our company to act as the primary bidder and include all collaborators in our proposal, or if we can express our interest in collaboration without being the primary bidder, focusing solely on the specific part in which we would participate?
A4	To submit a compliant bid, Is it necessary for your company to act as the primary bidder and include all collaborators in your proposal.  You may wish to express an interest in collaboration, focusing solely on the specific part in which you would like to participate, via the “Pitch” function on Piranha Hub (piranhahub.com).
Q5	Technical - Foundation Type: Can we assume that consideration of FLOW WTG foundations will be limited to barge, Semi-submersible, TLP and exclude Spar foundations.
A5	Given the depths of water expected in the Celtic Sea development areas, it could be assumed that spars might not be used in the foreseeable future.
Q6	Logistics - Port Locations: Should candidate ports/harbours be considered from both North & South coasts or limited to north coast?
A6	We welcome pragmatic solutions which consider suitable ports and therefore are not imposing any limitations on location.
Q8	Terms & Conditions -Cl 8.5 (b): Please clarify whether it is intended that the Supplier would be liable for the items listed in (i) and (ii)
A8	It is not intended that the supplier would be liable for losses related to loss of profits, sales or business. Limitation of liability does not extend to liability which cannot be legally limited nor for indemnities related to breaches of confidentiality or intellectual property obligations. With respect to provided indemnities (confidentiality and IP), these extend to costs incurred.
