The Department for International Development (DFID) is establishing the GREAT for Partnership programme to deliver the UK government's manifesto commitment to boost partnerships between UK institutions and their counterparts in the developing world by leveraging the skills, expertise and capability of the UK's world-renowned institutions. It will partner genuine demand for UK expertise from partner countries with high-quality supply from UK institutions. All partnerships will contribute to sustained relationships between a UK expert and/or institution and their counterpart. GREAT for Partnership will initially prioritise three sectors: Extractives, Financial Accountability & Anti-Corruption and Health, while also supporting partnerships in other (to be defined) sectors. Core partnership activities could include twinning units within partner country ministries with those in the UK; short- and long-term deployments of staff (into and out of the UK); peer-to-peer networking; workshops (at country and at regional level); conferences; remote mentoring; and/or study visits, with a view to a sustainable transfer of behaviours and skills for genuine development impact.
