All changes, whether they are to the application, infrastructure or both, follow this process providing consistency and accuracy.

Sopra Steria will provide a statement of compliance at the quarterly contract meetings or when requested.

System Change Management – Sopra Steria will continue to co-ordinate all changes for the Tariff System and ensure that all change control and management procedures are adhered to. Currently, when the CICA requests a change Sopra Steria logs it in the Change Note Register and raises a Change Note (CN) using the agreed template. The CN includes the following information:

- Unique reference number
- Description of change
- Outline solution
- Impact analysis
- Costs
- Timescales/Release Plans
- Authorisations.

There are a number of reviews and authorisations required throughout the change process including: Sopra Steria's internal review and approval of the CN, Unit Test Plans, Release Plans and any other associated documentation as well as the CICA's approval to proceed with the change, approval of Release Plan and approval for release to production. The status of the change through to closure is maintained in Sopra Steria's Change Note Register.

System Configuration Management — Sopra Steria maintains a Configuration Management Plan. This comprehensive document details all aspects of Configuration Management including components (e.g. documents, software items), system environments, version control, baseline control, change and release control, security and access control. Sopra Steria uses Subversion (SVN) as the configuration management tool. Sopra Steria takes a baseline periodically at significant events with the latest being in January 2018.

Sopra Steria follows ITIL processes for Release Management. Our Release Management process is closely aligned with our Change and Configuration Management processes in order to deliver a high quality service. A release can consist of infrastructure changes, software changes or a set of related changes. The Release Management process will ensure that all aspects of the release, both technical and non-technical, are considered together.

Sopra Steria will provide a statement of compliance at the quarterly contract meetings or when requested.

Release Management – Sopra Steria will plan, co-ordinate and manage the Tariff System releases. Sopra Steria will produce the appropriate Release Plans and Release Notes for the release. The process will ensure that all the appropriate documentation and approvals have been gained prior to the release being performed. The roles and responsibilities for the release will be defined and agreed. Following the release, Sopra Steria will produce a Lessons Learnt document and then meet with the CICA to discuss and plan the implementation of any service improvements that are identified

Release Assurance — Sopra Steria will ensure that all releases have been tested prior to deployment. Sopra Steria performs testing of the releases within their environment and the CICA will provide an independent test by performing User Acceptance Testing (UAT) and regression testing. Sopra Steria will work with the CICA to schedule the UAT to ensure that the required resources are available at the appropriate time. Sopra Steria will provide support to the CICA during the UAT phase

Release Deployment – Sopra Steria's Configuration Management Plan details the deployment process for a release into each of the environments. Sopra Steria has used this process successfully over a number of years improving it as and when required. Each release is logged with a unique number and this release log is part of the Change Note Register. The release cannot be deployed into any environment until the appropriate authorisations have been gained.

2.6 Service Requirement 5 – Service Operational Management

As the incumbent supplier, Sopra Steria has vast experience and knowledge of the Tariff System from the bespoke software components to the underlying physical servers that it runs on. We currently undertake operational management activities to pro-actively identify any issues or risks and act upon them. This improves the quality and performance of the system and prevents disruptions to the service.

Sopra Steria will provide a statement of compliance at the quarterly contract meetings or on demand.

Sopra Steria currently performs a number of automated and manual checks as described below.

Operation Management Overview

A custom monitoring utility has been implemented to check that the database, application server and system components are running correctly. This runs every minute between 5am and midnight and is integrated with a custom email alert system. If an issue is detected then an email is sent to the on-call person at 7am enabling them to resolve the issue before the start of the working day.

As the CICA is not licensed to run Oracle Enterprise Manager Grid Control (OEM), we use a 3rd party product, DBVisit, to monitor and maintain the physical Standby database.

The above is supplemented by a weekly audit which includes the following:

- Check for invalid database objects
- Check for any new database users and run a grants script against any new users
- . Check disk space usage
- Check for spinning processes or high memory usage
- Check and cycle application/database logfiles
- Clear down any large application/database logfiles.
- Check that the Oracle Database RMAN backups are successful and remove obsolete files
- Check that the physical and logical standby databases are up to date on the Disaster Recovery server
- Check there is sufficient space in the Flash recovery area for the production database to create archive logs and the standby databases to receive them.

The output from the daily and weekly checks is collated and a report is sent to the CICA on a weekly basis.

Sopra Steria uses our custom monitoring utility and email alert system for monitoring the Database / Application Server components for the Tariff System. The alerts can be configured to run at any desired interval. This system emails alerts at the point an issue is detected to allow more continuous monitoring rather than collating the information for a single email at 7am.

WebLogic Monitor has also been implemented following the recent WebLogic upgrade.

In addition to the automated checks above, our DBAs carry out manual weekly checks and produce an audit report which is issued to CICA.

Sopra Steria confirms that we will meet the following service requirements at the stated service levels:

Requirements	Service Level Target
Provision of operational monitoring, maintenance and administration	100% compliance
Provision of monthly operational monitoring report	100% compliance

2.7 Service Requirement 6 – Infrastructure and Network Management

Sopra Steria currently liaises with the in-house Infrastructure Team as required. We provide advice and work in collaboration with them on incident and problem resolution activities and infrastructure changes and deployments. Sopra Steria also liaises with the CICA's 3rd party supplier where necessary. Sopra Steria will continue to liaise with the in-house Infrastructure Team and the CICA's 3rd party supplier.

2.8 Service Requirement 7 – Security

Sopra Steria takes Information Security seriously and we have an Information Security Management System (ISMS) in place which has been certified to the current standard ISO27001:2013. In having our own ISMS in place we understand fully the fundamental importance of Confidentiality, Integrity and Availability related to information of any kind.

Sopra Steria staff will work within the appropriate CICA Security guidelines to provide the required level necessary for your security arrangements. Our staff have experience in working in many business classification levels and accredited PSN environments.

As part of our HR processes, pre-employment verification checks are carried out for all permanent staff. These checks include the eligibility / legal right to work in the UK, last 2 employment references, proof of residence and evidence of qualification. In addition, staff and contractors may undergo a criminal records check, credit reference check or HMG security clearance depending on the nature of the client work they may be involved in.

All staff are made aware of their responsibilities for security, some of which are outlined in the Employee Handbook. Individual Job Descriptions also include specific security processes where applicable and employees are encouraged to report and escalate suspected security incidents as appropriate.

All staff undergo Security Awareness Training as part of their induction and are then required to refresh their knowledge on an annual basis.

Access to project data is controlled by Job Description and is on a need to know basis. Whenever an individual is allocated to a project, they have to request from the Project Manager access to the specific project information and this has to be authorised accordingly. Similarly, when moving to another project, access rights are removed in a timely fashion.

If an employee leaves the organisation, network access is removed immediately.

All Sopra Steria offices have physical controls in place to restrict access to the premises to authorised persons only. These controls may be electronic / mechanical locks, manned reception points or a combination of both.

All visitors to Sopra Steria offices are asked to wait at reception or secure area until collected by their Sopra Steria contact. Visitors are issued with security passes which should be worn at all times. Employees are encouraged to challenge anyone not wearing a pass and if necessary escort them back to reception until their contact collects them.

There are designated secure areas within Sopra Steria which include but are not limited to Server Rooms, Telecommunication equipment rooms and secure project rooms. Secure areas will be secured appropriately and will be determined at project set-up and by risk assessment where necessary. Access to these areas is restricted to authorised staff only and will be logged accordingly. Visitors to these areas must be accompanied at all times.

Requirements .	Service Level Target
Provision and maintenance of security logs	100% compliance

Escalation of any security incidents to the CICA Head of IT without delay	100% compliance

^{*} Note. iT Health Check related fixes are outside of the fixed scope of the Managed Service, with the remediation activity proposed to be handled through the Change Control process and funded through Ad-Hoc Development.

Sopra Steria Staff will work within the appropriate CICA Security guidelines to provide the required level necessary for your security posture. Our staff have experience in working in many business classification levels and accredited PSN environments. We have a team of highly skilled Security personnel ranging from Engineers to CLAS Consultants and Penetration Testers who work with various local authorities and government departments in the UK.

3 Pricing

Sopra Steria is delighted to offer the pricing set out below for the elements of Fixed Price and also Ad-Hoc Support Development. All pricing shown below is exclusive of VAT, which will be charged at the prevailing rate.

3.1 Fixed Price Support Services

Sopra Steria proposes a fixed price of £341,300 to deliver the required support services over 2 years. This price covers all of the stated requirements of the service, as detailed in Service Requirements 1-7 and 9.

This price is consistent with support related pricing over the last two years, with the trend and level of support required over the next 2 years expected to remain the same. Factored into this price is the provision of multi-disciplined resource with sufficient experience to meet all of the requirements of the service.

The fixed price support service excludes Service Requirement 8 for Development Services which is detailed below

Invoicing is proposed to be quarterly in advance, equating to quarterly invoices of £42,662.

3.2 Ad-Hoc Support Development

In relation to Service Requirement 8 (Development Services), Sopra Steria proposes a discounted rate of £499 per day for all required ad-hoc support development. This rate is proposed to be used for all required Sopra Steria resources (e.g., Development, DBA, Project Management).

While Sopra Steria understands that there may be 400 man days of Ad-Hoc support development services undertaken across 2 years, so that there is clear transparency and control in relation to how these days are allocated, Sopra Steria proposes to undertake Ad-Hoc Support Development on a T&M basis, with required CCNs raised to support this activity. For budgeting purposes, these 400 days equates to a price of £199,600.

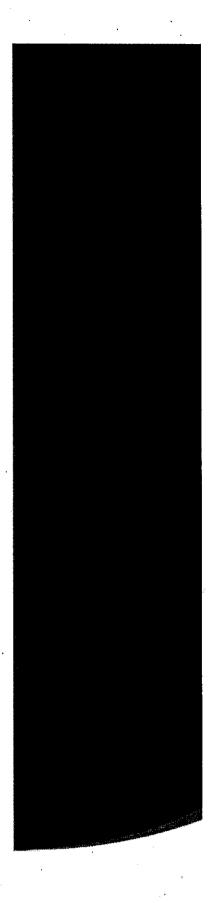

3.3 Assumptions

The following assumptions are relevant to this proposal:

- All of the support services relates to the Tariff System and do not include other systems (e.g., Tempus).
 If the CICA requires support for these systems, it is proposed that this activity is carried out through required Change Control, funded through Ad-Hoc Support Development
- All activities in relation to IT Health Check Remediation, Patching, DRM archiving and DR Testing, are out of scope of the core service, with any required activities funded through Ad-Hoc Support Development
- There are no significant changes to the numbers of CICA users, with level of interaction and support activity in-line with trends over the last two years
- All aspects outside the scope of service requirements (e.g., hosting and software licensing) remain the responsibility of the CICA
