Invitation - Market Interest DayThe Hearing Protection, Communications and Situational Awareness Programme

The Senior Responsible Owner (SRO) of the Hearing Protection & Communications Programme is inviting you to participate as a supplier at our upcoming Market Interest Day, scheduled for Thursday 15th May 0930 – 1600 hrs at Warminster Garrison, Waterloo Lines, Warminster BA12 0DJ.

Given your expertise in military-grade hearing protection and situational awareness technology, we believe this event would be an excellent opportunity for your company to demonstrate its innovative solutions to a targeted audience of military professionals and defence industry leaders.

The Market Interest Day will focus on the latest advancements in hearing protection, situational awareness and overall safety for military personnel operating in complex and high-risk environments. Attendees will include military personnel, defence contractors, safety experts and other key stakeholders.

During the event, we will host expert-led sessions and presentations of our work to date, panel discussions and an exhibition space where companies like yours can display their products and network with defence stakeholders.

Please note that, due to national security considerations in relation to our organisation at the selected venue, we reserve the right to limit participation. As such, participants will be required to hold Security Clearance (SC) as a minimum to attend.

We would be grateful if you could confirm your interest and participation in this event via the online registration tool, a link to which has been provided below:
