II.1.4 Short description of the Contract or Purchase(s)

The Contracting Authority has established a contract to procure a rich and highly detailed dataset of directly observed travel time and routing data for vehicles using the entire road network. This will be for all roads in England. This data will be extremely valuable to Secretary of State for Transport and across central and local Government and will be used for a number of purposes. Under the contract term the Authority requires an initial delivery of historic travel time data, estimated to be January 2017 to March 2017, to be delivered within two months of the contract start date. Going forward data will probably be provided for period from 13th March 2017, to February 2019, However, the Authority anticipates that it will possibly also have the option to extend the supply of this data for additional two (2) years (in one (1) year increments).

The Secretary of State for Transport requires travel time data to be accurately referenced to individual links within the Ordnance Survey (OS) premium version geography layers. Currently used is the Integrated Transport Network geography (www.os.uk/itn) but expectation is to move across to the new Highways Network layer (www.os.uk/highways) in the near future.

Central to this contract, the Authority will make datasets provided under the contract available, without additional charges, to other bodies (the list was available in the Invitation to Tender (ITT) for this procurement) for use in managing their respective road networks under their responsibility and undertaking micro and macro transport modelling simulations.
