Executive Summary

As stated in the Dimensions Analytics service definition document, Dimensions provides a research dataset covering that covers academic publications internationally and across time, with an inclusive (rather than selective) indexing policy, together with linked datasets on funders and grants, patents, and policy documents (and clinical trials and research datasets).

Dimensions' publications data includes metrics for number of publications, number of citations, up to two normalised citation measures (Field Citation Ratio and Relative Citation Ratio), and other associated metrics (e.g. the Altmetric Attention Score) to facilitate understanding of the data. The methodology behind the normalised citations measures is described at <https://support-funder.dimensions.ai/support/solutions/articles/13000043941-what-is-the-fcr-how-is-it-calculated-> and <https://support-funder.dimensions.ai/support/solutions/articles/13000038246-what-is-the-rcr-how-is-the-rcr-score-calculated->.

All data sources in Dimensions are keyword searchable with Boolean logic, truncation operators and proximity operators. Filters are provided for year, country/region, research organisation and many more. Filters and search expressions can be used together or in isolation. Support for searching and filtering data is provided through online support pages and dedicated Dimensions support staff, and an advanced search builder is provided in the web interface for helping to select appropriate search terms.

Dimensions draws on multiple primary sources of data, and which are processed, cleaned, enhanced and interlinked, as described in the Guide to the Dimensions Data Approach at <https://doi.org/10.6084/m9.figshare.5783094.v7>.

Research Publications Data

Requirement International coverage of research publications data and quality of associated analysed metrics with respect to understanding emerging technologies

Please see section 1.1.1 Publications of the Dimensions Analytics service definition document on the Digital Marketplace <https://assets.digitalmarketplace.service.gov.uk/g-cloud-12/documents/714686/802447411879085-service-definition-document-2020-07-15-1429.odt>

This describes Dimensions' inclusive publications indexing policy that ensures that Dimensions has very broad, global coverage of academic journals, conference proceedings, books and book chapters. Because Dimensions is not selective about which journals it indexes, newly-launched journals (which often cover emtech) are indexed in Dimensions immediately upon their first publications, whereas they typically have to apply to be indexed in other bibliographic databases.

Dimensions' full-text indexing for more than 130 publishers' content is unique and is a powerful tool for emtech, where new and emerging terminology may not yet appear in titles and abstracts.

The service definition document above (which was written in July 2020) states that Dimensions indexes 5 preprint servers: bioRxiv, SSRN, PeerJ, ChemRxiv and arXiv. Dimensions now indexes nearly 2.7 million preprints, from 49 preprints servers, ensuring that it indexes preprints across all subjects and geographies. Dimensions' preprints coverage is unrivalled and is well-suited to emtech, and Dimensions makes it easy to identify (or indeed exclude) preprints, so that these non-peer-reviewed publications can be treated differently from peer-reviewed publications if desired.

Linkage of Data related to research

Requirement Ability to link research publications to research grants, patent citations, clinical trials, and policy documents.

Dimensions enhances and interlinks the data from multiple sources in various ways, as described in the following section 1.2. Data Enrichments and Interlinking of the Dimensions Analytics service definition document on the Digital Marketplace

<https://assets.digitalmarketplace.service.gov.uk/g-cloud-12/documents/714686/802447411879085-service-definition-document-2020-07-15-1429.odt>:

- 1.1.1 Publications
- 1.1.2 Grants
- 1.1.3 Patents
- 1.1.4 Clinical Trials
- 1.1.5 Datasets
- 1.1.6 Policy Documents
- 1.2. Data Enrichments and Interlinking

For an example of a Dimensions Publication record with links to related Grants, Clinical Trials, Datasets, Patents and Policy Documents see <https://app.dimensions.ai/details/publication/pub.1010967258>.

The linkages between the different data types in Dimensions are further described in the Data Sources section of the Dimensions API documentation <https://docs.dimensions.ai/dsl/data-sources.html>.

Separate analysis of related data

Requirement Ability to separately search through and retrieve associated insights on research grants (including those that have not led to any publications yet), patents, clinical trials, and policy documents. All data to have an international coverage.

As described in section 1.3 The Dimensions Web Application of the Dimensions Analytics service definition document on the Digital Marketplace <https://assets.digitalmarketplace.service.gov.uk/g-cloud-12/documents/714686/802447411879085-service-definition-document-2020-07-15-1429.odt>, searches in the Dimensions web interface are applied separately to each of the data types (Publications, Datasets, Grants, Patents, Clinical Trials and Policy Documents) available to that user, subject to the chosen Filters being applicable to that data type.

All of the data types in Dimensions have global coverage. The Grants data in Dimensions now covers more than 600 funders from more than 40 countries (whereas section 1.1.2 Grants of the July 2020 service definition document stated 'over 500 funders').

Dimensions' Patents coverage was greatly extended in March 2021 and now covers over 136 million records, making good the promise in section 1.1.3 Patents of the July 2020 service definition document that "further patent offices will be added in the future, notably Japan, China and South Korea". Dimensions' patents data is drawn from IFI Claims and Dimensions' coverage now includes all the jurisdictions listed in IFI Claims' Global Data Coverage web page <https://www.ificlaims.com/docs/Claims+Global+Data+Coverage.htm>
