Statement of Requirements

Issue

1. MWC wishes to improve its SADM modelling for Radar Type (RT) 1045 in SADM.

Background

2. The MWC is responsible for the evolution and dissemination of maritime/joint doctrine and concepts through Tactical Development (TD), Operational Analysis (OA), Concept Development (CD), Wargaming and the education of these themes. The MWC TD output is the production of new or modified tactics and procedures in order to improve the collective performance of units, platforms, weapons, sensors and personnel. This is achieved through extensive studies employing modelling, trials, seminars and human analysis.
3. In the Above Water Warfare domain, the TD output, particularly for Soft Kill but also forms part of the Anti-Ship Missile Defence (ASMD) process, is drawn from a combination of factors including Radar performance.
4. The existing MWC SADM model for RT 1045 can be used in assessing the detection, tracking etc of simple threats and for cuing Hard Kill systems against these threats. However, MWC wish to improve this capability in order to provide more detailed analysis.

Requirement

5. This case seeks to obtain 5 days' worth of onsite time, excluding travel, of the BAE Systems Australia Ltd. Subject Matter Expert (SME) on site at the Maritime Warfare Centre in order to assist with the development of a bespoke RT 1045 SADM model for analytical use.

Description of work required

6. A team consisting of key MWC personnel, a Dstl radar SME and the BAE Systems Australia Ltd SME will work together on site at MWC developing the new representation of RT 1045 in SADM. The format of the radar requires a bespoke functionality within SADM which BAE Systems Australia Ltd. SADM developer and Subject Matter Expert (SME) would be the principle adviser during development.

Deliverables

7. The final deliverable of this requirement will occur at the conclusion of the 5 day's on-site support provided by BAE Systems Australia Ltd.

Requirement for meetings

8. Video / telephone conferences to agree dates of on-site support as required.
9. Additional video / telephone conferences may be held as required.
