- 13.16. This clause 13 shall apply during the Term and indefinitely after its expiry.

14. Liability

- 14.1 The Contractor shall not be responsible for any injury, loss, damage, cost or expense suffered by the Customer if and to the extent that it is caused by the negligence or wilful misconduct of the Customer or by breach by the Customer of its obligations under the Agreement.
- 14.2 Subject always to clauses 14.3 and 14.4:
- 14.2.1 the aggregate liability of the Contractor in respect of all defaults, claims, losses or damages howsoever caused, whether arising from breach of the Agreement, the supply or failure to supply of the Services, misrepresentation (whether tortious or statutory), tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty or otherwise shall in no event exceed a sum equal to 125% of the Charges paid or payable to the Contractor; and
- 14.2.2 except in the case of claims arising under clauses 9.4 and 18.3, in no event shall the Contractor be liable to the Customer for any:
- a) loss of profits;

 - 14.3.2 fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation by it or that of its Staff; or
 - 14.3.3 any other matter which, by law, may not be excluded or limited.
- 14.4 The Contractor's liability under the indemnity in clause 9.4 and 18.3 shall be unlimited.

15. Force Majeure

- 15.1 Neither Party shall have any liability under or be deemed to be in breach of the Agreement for any delays or failures in performance of the Agreement which result from circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the Party affected. Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party in writing when such circumstances cause a delay or failure in performance and when they cease to do so. If such circumstances continue for a continuous period of more than two months, either Party may terminate the Agreement by written notice to the other Party.

16. Termination

- 16.1 The Customer may terminate the Agreement at any time by notice in writing to the Contractor to take effect on any date falling at least 1 month (or, if the Agreement is less than 3 months in duration, at least 10 Working Days) later than the date of service of the relevant notice.
- 16.2 Without prejudice to any other right or remedy it might have, the Customer may terminate the Agreement by written notice to the Contractor with immediate effect if the Contractor:
- 16.2.1 (without prejudice to clause 16.2.7), is in material breach of any obligation under the Agreement which is not capable of remedy;
 - 16.2.2 repeatedly breaches any of the terms and conditions of the Agreement in such a manner as to reasonably justify the opinion that its conduct is inconsistent with it having the intention or ability to give effect to the terms and conditions of the Agreement;

- 16.2.3 is in material breach of any obligation which is capable of remedy, and that breach is not remedied within 30 days of the Contractor receiving notice specifying the breach and requiring it to be remedied;

- 16.2.9 fails to comply with legal obligations in the fields of environmental, social or labour law.
- 16.3 The Contractor shall notify the Customer as soon as practicable of any change of control as referred to in clause 16.2.6 or any potential such change of control.

- 16.6.1 give all reasonable assistance to the Customer and any incoming Contractor of the Services; and
 - 16.6.2 return all requested documents, information and data to the Customer as soon as reasonably practicable.

17. Compliance

- 17.1 The Contractor shall promptly notify the Customer of any health and safety hazards which may arise in connection with the performance of its obligations under the Agreement. - 17.2.1 comply with all the Customer's health and safety measures while on the Customer's premises; and
 - 17.2.2 notify the Customer immediately in the event of any incident occurring in the performance of its obligations under the Agreement on the Customer's premises where that incident causes any personal injury or damage to property which could give rise to personal injury.
- 17.3 The Contractor shall:
- 17.3.1 perform its obligations under the Agreement in accordance with all applicable equality Law and the Customer's equality and diversity policy as provided to the Contractor from time to time; and 17.5.2 section 182 of the Finance Act 1989.

18. Prevention of Fraud and Corruption

18.1 The Contractor shall not offer, give, or agree to give anything, to any person an inducement or reward for doing, refraining from doing, or for having done or refrained from doing, any act in relation to the obtaining or execution of the Agreement or for showing or refraining from showing favour or disfavour to any person in relation to the Agreement.

18.2 The Contractor shall take all reasonable steps, in accordance with good industry practice, to prevent fraud by the Staff and the Contractor (including its shareholders, members and directors) in connection with the Agreement and shall notify the Customer immediately if it has reason to suspect that any fraud has occurred or is occurring or is likely to occur.

18.3 If the Contractor or the Staff engages in conduct prohibited by clause 18.1 or commits fraud in relation to the Agreement or any other contract with the Crown (including the Customer) the Customer may:

18.3.1 terminate the Agreement and recover from the Contractor the amount of any loss suffered by the Customer resulting from the termination, including the cost reasonably incurred by the Customer of making other arrangements for the supply of the Services and any additional expenditure incurred by the Customer throughout the remainder of the Agreement; or

18.3.2 recover in full from the Contractor any other loss sustained by the Customer in consequence of any breach of this clause.

19. Dispute Resolution

19.1 The Parties shall attempt in good faith to negotiate a settlement to any dispute between them arising out of or in connection with the Agreement and such efforts shall involve the escalation of the dispute to an appropriately senior representative of each Party.

19.2 If the dispute cannot be resolved by the Parties within one month of being escalated as referred to in clause 19.1, the dispute may by agreement between the Parties be referred to a neutral adviser or mediator (the “Mediator”) chosen by agreement between the Parties. All negotiations connected with the dispute shall be conducted in confidence and without prejudice to the rights of the Parties in any further proceedings.

- 19.3 If the Parties fail to appoint a Mediator within one month, or fail to enter into a written agreement resolving the dispute within one month of the Mediator being appointed, either Party may exercise any remedy it has under applicable law.

20. General

- 20.1 Each of the Parties represents and warrants to the other that it has full capacity and authority, and all necessary consents, licences and permissions to enter into and perform its obligations under the Agreement, and that the Agreement is executed by its duly authorised representative.
- 20.2 A person who is not a party to the Agreement shall have no right to enforce any of its provisions which, expressly or by implication, confer a benefit on him, without the prior written agreement of the Parties.
- 20.3 The Agreement cannot be varied except in writing signed by a duly authorised representative of both the Parties.
- 20.4 The Agreement contains the whole agreement between the Parties and supersedes and replaces any prior written or oral agreements, representations or understandings between them. The Parties confirm that they have not entered into the Agreement on the basis of any representation that is not expressly incorporated into the Agreement. Nothing in this clause shall exclude liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation.
- 20.5 Any waiver or relaxation either partly, or wholly of any of the terms and conditions of the Agreement shall be valid only if it is communicated to the other Party in writing and expressly stated to be a waiver. A waiver of any right or remedy arising from a breach of contract shall not constitute a waiver of any right or remedy arising from any other breach of the Agreement.
- 20.6 The Agreement shall not constitute or imply any partnership, joint venture, agency, fiduciary relationship or other relationship between the Parties other than the contractual relationship expressly provided for in the Agreement. Neither Party shall have, nor represent that it has, any authority to make any commitments on the other Party’s behalf.

- 20.7 Except as otherwise expressly provided by the Agreement, all remedies available to either Party for breach of the Agreement (whether under the Agreement, statute or common law) are cumulative and may be exercised concurrently or separately, and the exercise of one remedy shall not be deemed an election of such remedy to the exclusion of other remedies.
- 20.8 If any provision of the Agreement is prohibited by law or judged by a court to be unlawful, void or unenforceable, the provision shall, to the extent required, be severed from the Agreement and rendered ineffective as far as possible without modifying the remaining provisions of the Agreement, and shall not in any way affect any other circumstances of or the validity or enforcement of the Agreement.

21. Notices

- 21.1 Any notice to be given under the Agreement shall be in writing and may be served by personal delivery, first class recorded or, subject to clause 21.3, e-mail to the address of the relevant Party set out in the Award Letter, or such other address as that Party may from time to time notify to the other Party in accordance with this clause:
- 21.2 Notices served as above shall be deemed served on the Working Day of delivery provided delivery is before 5.00pm on a Working Day. Otherwise delivery shall be deemed to occur on the next Working Day. An email shall be deemed delivered when sent unless an error message is received.
- 21.3 Notices under clauses 15 (Force Majeure) and 16 (Termination) may be served by email only if the original notice is then sent to the recipient by personal delivery or recorded delivery in the manner set out in clause 21.1.

22. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

- 22.1 The validity, construction and performance of the Agreement, and all contractual and non contractual matters arising out of it, shall be governed by English law and shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts to which the Parties submit.

Section 2. Proposal Scope

2.1	Is this a test, trial or both?	Test
Tests – focus on specific elements or likely building blocks of the new system. They will be short, low risk, involve limited funding, few participants and will be explorative and iterative. (For example a workshop or structured interviews could be used to test a land management plan). Trials – test the feasibility of new ideas. They will run for varying lengths of time. We will trial innovative and novel approaches to help us evaluate how we might cost-effectively roll these out more widely. Trials can run for various lengths of time and may run beyond 2022. They are more complex and could take longer to establish.
2.2	Please describe briefly the purpose of your to test or trial and how it addresses one or more of the policy questions (as set out in the guidance). Consider the following ELM theme areas and how your proposal meets one or more of them; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • New and Innovative Mechanisms - Mechanisms that will support the delivery of the new scheme (such as adopting new technology or novel approaches to establishing and making payments), that have not been used previously within agri-environment schemes and/or where the mechanism has not previously been used at the proposed scale.

- Payment mechanisms – focusing on how the new system will pay participants and the different mechanisms available
- Land Management Plans – looking at what mechanism will participants use to plan and record which public goods they will deliver
- Advice and Guidance – considering what expert support participants will require to help them plan and record the public goods they will deliver
- Spatial Prioritisation – looking at what mechanisms are available to set and agree local priorities within a national framework for the delivery of public goods

The purpose of this test is to develop a better understanding of how a farmer led group can be formed and function. Specifically, we seek to establish how such a group can come together to deliver an evidenced-based set of guidelines to ensure that agri-environment scheme (AES) are implemented in a targeted and joined up way on a landscape-scale. To test whether this approach works, we plan to use the Breckland Farmers Wildlife Network (BFWN, a group of 24 farmers who manage over 80,000 acres in the Breckland region of Eastern England) as a model example. Due to the size of the BFWN, we propose splitting the participants into 'cluster groups' to enable initial development of the clusters before bringing the whole group together to agree on a single landscape-scale management plan. If successful, this plan will enable the creation of the largest arable wildlife network yet attempted in lowland Britain (via ELMs). It is envisaged that this test will be the foundation of the network but that one of the principle legacies will be the continuation and collaboration of the group into the future.

Below, we have identified how our test meets three of the key ELMs themes.

Advice and guidance – We will identify where in the landscape key AES options should be implemented to maximise public good and optimise connectivity. To achieve this, the BFWN involves a partnership between the University of East Anglia (UEA) and a landowner consortium – the UEA team will identify where in the landscape AES options are needed, and the landowners will refine this advice based on the practicalities of their own business. We will identify and publicise the key steps involved so other farmer led consortium's can adopt our approach elsewhere in the country.

Land management plans - The main output of this test is a landscape-scale management plan which all participants are signed up to. This plan will ensure that AES delivery (ELMs) follows best-practice (informed by the science) and is delivered in a spatially co-ordinated way across the landscape. If successful,

	this could result in a major paradigm shift in how AES are delivered – i.e. using evidence, through a farmer-led initiative, to benefit farm business and maximise public good through landscape-scale delivery. The recommendations provided by this overarching landscape-scale plan will provide the necessary guidance for each participant (landowner) to develop their own LMP. Spatial prioritisation – Traditional efforts to spatially priorities AES delivery are often led by statutory bodies or NGOs. Here, we will test whether the farmer-led consortium model, whereby landowners are involved throughout the spatial prioritisation process (see the ‘advice and guidance’ subsection above), helps to encourage and incentivise the subsequent delivery of outcomes that are prioritised in certain areas.
2.3	Describe the objectives of your test or trial and the outcomes and outputs you will capture and evidence. Your objectives are what you intend to have done by the end of the test or trial. You should consider having between 2 and 5 objectives depending on the nature and complexity of you test or trial. Please detail how the activities are appropriate and relevant to the test or trial. Your project officer will help you set out the objectives using the SMART criteria below Objectives should be SMART S - specific, significant, stretching M - measurable, meaningful, motivational A - agreed upon, attainable, achievable, acceptable, action-oriented R - realistic, relevant, reasonable, rewarding, results-oriented T - time-based, time-bound, timely, tangible, trackable Example of a SMART objective: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Co-design and develop 50 Land Management Plans across Dunlow County by 31st March 2020. • Develop a landscape plan for Dunlow State Park and agree local priorities, working with local farmers by 31st December 2019 • Hold 10 workshops across Dunlow County to consider the Role of advice and guidance to deliver Land Management Plans by 31st May 2020

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Trial a reverse auction approach, working with the Dunlow Water Authority, across the River Dunlow Catchment – holding 4 auctions between September 2019 and October 2020.
	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Through an initial desktop study, identify where in the landscape key AES options are needed by 14th September 2020. This will demonstrate how participating landowners can link up options as part of a cohesive network. 2. Hold at least five initial workshops, each with 3-5 members of the BFWN (e.g. each cluster group), to refine the best practice guidelines (following the first objective) based on the practical constraints of each landowner by 14th December 2020. 3. Once the guidelines have been refined, hold one workshop with all participants present to agree the final landscape-scale management plan by 14th January 2021. 4. Write up and publish the agreed landscape-scale management plan by 31st March 2021. This plan will give field-by-field guidance on which AES options need to delivered (and where) across the participants farms. Success will be measured by the number of farmers that have signed up to the BFWN land management plan at the end of the test. We will include recommendations for future monitoring so the long-term success of the plan can be assessed once ELMs is initiated. 5. Publish a ‘wider application report document’ which explains how our approach to coordinated farmer-led and evidenced-based landscape delivery could be replicated elsewhere in the country 31th May 2021.
2.4	How will your test or trial help us to develop the design of the new ELM system? This should include the policy and delivery questions your test or trial will help us answer. You will need to reflect how you will test or trial these questions in the objectives identified above. Please consider the policy questions set out in Annex A to this document. One of the main objectives of this test is to showcase how our approach could be replicated elsewhere in the country (see objective 5). This will be achieved through a so-called ‘wider application guidance document’ which could be published alongside ELMs, allowing DEFRA, advisors and groups of farmers to adopt our approach in other regions. Crucially, this document will not only explain how we collected the evidence base (with links to the GIS datasets used), it will outline how we facilitated and coordinated the group to achieve widespread consensus among a large group of landowners with markedly different land-use businesses. Given our test is farmer-led, this is rare opportunity to learn how landscape-scale AES delivery can be achieved by the end-user (as opposed to NGO or statutory body facilitated delivery).

	It is anticipated that our own landscape-scale management plan (see objective 4) will lead to the subsequent widespread implementation of AES options throughout the Breckland region. This overarching plan will offer recommendations on a farm-by-farm basis (supplemented with maps at the field scale) to enable landowners to subsequently develop their own LMPs (which will be implemented through ELMs).
2.5	What area (geographic location and scale) will your test or trial cover? (Provide a map or geographic description of the general area you will be working, provide this as a GIS data layer if available or just an inserted picture. For those areas with a clearly defined and recognised location, a landscape description will suffice, e.g. National Park)
	See attached plan of the Breckland region and those farmers who have expressed an interest in being involved in the project - this is a specific geographic area, with the ability to have a massive landscape-scale impact. This region hosts over 2,000 priority plant and invertebrate species, including 26% of all UK priority species (rare, scarce or threatened). Here, cultivated arable field margins are the most important AES prescription in terms of their biodiversity value (see Dolman et al. 2012). This prescription is already used by landowners through this region (at least 250 km of margins are implemented through existing schemes each year), but current delivery is undertaken opportunistically on a farm-by-farm basis. As a result, landscape connectivity is currently poor. The project area is primarily arable, thus linkage opportunities will focus mainly on cultivated margins. However, we will also explore opportunities across grazing meadows, heathland, and forestry to maximise the efficacy of the proposed network. Dolman, P.M., Panter, C.J. & Mossman, H.L. (2012) The biodiversity audit approach challenges regional priorities and identifies a mismatch in conservation. Journal of Applied Ecology, 49, 986-997.
2.6	Confirm who will be involved in your test or trial and describe how you will deliver your test or trial. This should include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Any organisations that will help you deliver the test or trial and their role • The expertise, capability and capacity of the proposal lead to undertake the activities proposed • Who will participate in the test or trial • The type of participants • The number of land managers or farmers participating • How you will select these participants • The mechanisms identified to capture the information and evidence

Please include as much detail as possible on the type of participants, such as the farm sector, demographics, land owner, tenant and current engagement in existing stewardship schemes.

The participants

Over 24 farming businesses have expressed an interest in participating. These are all self-selecting based on their geographic location. Support for the test has also been promised from the local NFU team; this includes a specialist environmental advisor with experience in bringing groups of farmers together – their expertise will be particularly useful during the third objective (bringing all participants and parties together to feed into the final land management plan). Approximately 90% of the land area to be included has been subject to existing environmental schemes and 75% of the land area is farmed by owner occupiers, which demonstrates the group’s capacity to the deliver on the agreed land management plan. It is this consortium of landowners who will refine and sign off the landscape-scale management plan.

The facilitator

Their role is to identify where key AES options should be implemented (using existing environmental and biodiversity datasets) (objective 1), coordinate the cluster meetings (objective 2) and refine the mapping based on the collective feedback of all 24 participating landowners across the five clusters (also objective 2). They will also lead on the writing of the landscape-scale management plan (objective 4) and the wider application guidance document (objective 5).

Plantlife and Norfolk Wildlife Trust have also expressed an interest in assisting to facilitate the group. Their expertise will lend themselves to the mapping work (objective 1) and the development of the management plan (objectives 3 & 4).

How we will deliver the test

During the first phase of the test we will map where in the landscape different AES options need to be delivered to maximise biodiversity and environmental

	benefits. Special emphasis will be placed on working with the individual farmers to ensure that connecting known biodiversity hotspots across neighbouring farms through cultivated arable margins and other means (e.g. physical disturbance interventions on heathland). This information will then be used (via GIS) to determine the optimal approach to AES delivery within the region. All stages of the mapping work (i.e. the methodology) will be detailed in the wider application guidance document to facilitate repeatability elsewhere. Second, once the initial maps are ready, the facilitator will meet each farm cluster to discuss the results in detail (on a farm-by-farm basis). The purpose of this stage is to refine the ecological / environmental 'ideal' approach with the practicalities of each participants existing farm business. For example, on any given farm, the ideal approach may not be suitable for the landowner. This dialogue between the facilitator and the cluster groups will reconcile these issues. Two or three visits to each cluster may be needed to resolve all identified issues. Subsequently, the facilitator will refine the mapping work based on these meetings to produce a 'final map'. Third, once the revised mapping work is complete, all of the participants from all the clusters will be brought together to present the final map and the proposed landscape-scale management plan. Here, we will seek further feedback from the group and discuss how and when each participant can adopt these findings to deliver the recommendations. Other interested parties will be contacted at this stage (e.g. AES advisors, NGOs) so everyone involved with ELMs delivery within this region is signed up to this plan (and has their input). Last, the lead facilitator will write up the landscape-scale management plan with the final implementation maps included. This landscape-scale management plan will ultimately ensure that LMPs on individual holdings conform to the agreed landscape strategy – ensuring that the right options are implemented in the right location. As part of this landscape-scale plan, recommendations for future monitoring will be given to ensure the success of the scheme can be assessed in the medium- to long-term (once ELMs in running). This plan will be circulated to all the participants upon completion. The lead facilitator will also write up the wider application guidance document.
2.7	Please describe how you will monitor and evaluate the test or trial. Use this section to tell us; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) What data you will collect? b) How will it provide evidence of what has been achieved (E.g. the test or trial objectives, outcomes and impact)? c) How do you plan to collect the data? d) How often will you collect the data? What data you will collect? We will quantify: i) how many landowners are willing to sign up to the plan; and ii) where in the landscape the management will take place. We will retain all the GIS data used to undertake the mapping work

	so other practitioners can easily follow our example in other regions (this data will be published alongside the wider application guidance document) How will it provide evidence of what has been achieved (e.g. the test or trial objectives, outcomes and impact)? This information will demonstrate: i) whether the farmer-led initiative worked (i.e. did all the participating land-owners sign up to the plan and if not why); ii) how much additional AES management will be delivered as a result of the plan (e.g. km of extra cultivated arable margins); and iii) whether the agreed outcomes have led to an effective, evidence-based, co-ordinated landscape-scale strategy (are the options in the best location for biodiversity, and are the joined up). How do you plan to collect the data? All data will be extracted from the GIS used to develop the management plan. How often will you collect the data? The data will be collected at the end of the test once the management plan has been agreed by the participants (objectives 3 & 4)
2.8	What support, if any, will you need from us to collect, analyse and draw conclusions on the impact and findings of your test or trial? We would be particularly grateful to have DEFRA's feedback on objective 5 – “Publish a ‘wider application report document’ explaining how our approach to coordinated farmer-led landscape delivery could be replicated elsewhere in the country” For this test to have a widespread impact across other regions, it is important that our processes are replicable and accessible to other farmer groups. At this stage of the project, it would be useful to have your feedback so we can ensure that this is achieved. We will consider using the M&E guidance on the reporting format so that the report is in an acceptable format for evidence to be identified.
2.9	What is the timeframe for the delivery of your test or trial? Where possible break this down into areas of deliverable activity. This should be set out in the form of a list of your key milestones within the table below, with dates by which you aim to achieve them.

	Be realistic, consider risks identified in 2.10 below. Be aware of the farming calendar and how this may impact upon any proposed engagement with farmers and land managers. Please provide a rationale for the frequency and nature of milestones in the text box below.
	We intend to deliver this project over a 12-month period. The first milestone – producing the first iteration of the landscape plan in conjunction with the farmers involved - will take the longest to achieve, as the UEA facilitator needs to collect all the datasets and undertake the mapping work (see section 2.6) The cluster workshops are timetabled to occur during and immediately after harvest; however, because each meeting only involves 3-5 participants, we are confident that these can be arranged so they fit in with everyone’s schedule. The final full participant meeting (where we hope to get full participant consensus on the land management plan) will occur during December (a traditionally quite month in the farming calendar). We are confident we can get all participating landowners to attend this important meeting.
The proposal holder needs to set out all of the milestones contained within the proposal, including the dates on which they plan to submit claims for reimbursement of costs. The reimbursement costs should relate to the activity outlined within the milestones.
Milestone	Timeframe
Complete initial mapping work (identifying where in the landscape AES options are needed)	By 14th September 2020
Complete the five farm cluster workshops, and follow up meetings (e.g. to meet specific landowners to follow up on any unresolved issues arising from the cluster meetings). Revise the mapping work based of the feedback collected during these meetings	14th September – 14th December 2020
Get all participants to input into the refined mapping work through a one-off meeting. This will form the basis of landscape-scale management plan.	Hold the meeting between 14th December – 14th January 2021

Write up the final landscape-scale management plan (which includes field by field guidelines/guidance for each participating landowner)	14th January 2021 – 31st March 2021
Write up the guidance document explaining how our approach to coordinated farmer-led landscape delivery could be replicated elsewhere in the country	1st April 2021 – 30th April 2021
2.10	What risks have you identified that could affect the delivery of your test or trial? Identify actions you will put in place to reduce or mitigate the likelihood of the risk occurring. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Risks are defined as ‘an uncertain event or condition that, if it occurs, has a positive or negative effect on a project’s objectives’. Mitigation is the action/s taken to minimise or eliminate the risk. • Examples include; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Risk – lack of participation by land managers. Mitigation – hold evening workshops, avoid engagement during busy times of the year. ○ Risk – reputational risk if participant’s expectations are not met. Mitigation – ensure communications are clear and consistent, participant’s involvement is clearly defined and accepted. Probably the most significant risk facing this project are the current restrictions imposed by COVID-19; however, we have accommodated this uncertainty into our project plan. Importantly, the first phase of the project is a desk top study – this can be undertaken by the lead UEA facilitator without any social contact. Beyond this first phase, the cluster groups meetings are due to commence in September this year. If restrictions are still in place during this period, we can either delay the meetings for a few weeks (without any real consequence on the project timing) or host them via a series of telephone conferences with the provisional maps either posted or emailed to the participants beforehand. Lack of participant participation is expected to be minimal, given this is a farmer-led initiative. Where necessary, we will accommodate the busy work schedules (e.g. flexible meeting times, follow up meetings if some participants can only attend part of a meeting)

2.12	Are there any Intellectual Property Rights that may affect the evidence or products developed from your test or trial? Does this proposal link with any other proposals for ELM tests and trials? (Please provide details including how the proposals link and express your interest with working collaboratively with the other stakeholder leading the other proposal)
	There are no intellectual property rights. All material will be published as per our fourth and fifth objectives. GIS datasets will be made freely available so other initiatives can follow our model.

Section 3. Costs

3.1	How much will it cost to deliver your test or trial? Please identify what funding you will need from Defra to be able to conduct your test or trial in the table below based upon the eligible expenditure detailed within the funding and reimbursement policy provided. The types of cost identified must align with those identified within the reimbursement policy as being eligible costs.

	TOTAL	£38,734.26
3.2	Value for Money (VfM) Please use this section to explain how your proposal provides value for money. (We have a duty to ensure that any government funding provides VfM for the public purse). Please tell us how you have developed your proposal, detailing how the costs included are the minimum required to ensure the delivery of the test and / or trial proposed. We will judge each proposal on its merits, but we will also use the information supplied by you in the table below, to benchmark against similar proposals as part of the VfM assessment. We recognise that some proposals may require more funding to deliver than others. This section provides the opportunity for proposal holders to justify the cost of delivering the proposal. Your Tests and Trials Officer will support you to complete this section.

	Given our test is farmer-led, this is rare opportunity to learn how landscape-scale AES delivery can be achieved by the end-user. It is important to ensure that the trial can commence at the earliest practical opportunity. In order to achieve this, we're proposing to work with the existing BFWN to avoid unnecessary time and budget spent establishing new groups. Facilitators: The facilitators we've identified are leaders in their field. They each have extensive knowledge of the Breckland region and a proven track record of working with landowners to deliver conservation. We believe it is important to take advantage of the knowledge and expertise that our facilitators offer. Where practical we've avoided any significant costs for meeting venues. All the smaller cluster group meetings will take place on our participants farms, with no venue hire or travel costs. We've included provision for a single larger stakeholder meeting; however, we will seek to secure this at the best possible value in terms of the venue" there will certainly be no farmer payments made for participation, they want to be there for the long term benefits not to be paid to be there for the short term.

ELM Test and Trials Monitoring and Evaluation

Information Leaflet

July 2019

Department
for Environment
Food & Rural Affairs

Defra has appointed an independent team of researchers to help ensure that learning points from Tests and Trials (T&T) are captured and used to inform the new Environmental Land Management scheme

Defra is working with farmers, land managers and stakeholders such as yourselves to conduct tests and trials for a new Environmental Land Management (ELM) scheme. These will not be testing or trialling environment outcomes but rather the methods and approaches that will form the basis for the delivery of the ELM scheme. Defra has appointed a team of independent researchers to support them in gaining insight and learning about 'what works', where, and why by carrying out a formal evaluation of the tests and trials.

The team is led by consultants, ICF, and supported by ADAS and the Centre for Ecology and Hydrology. The ICF team will be working closely with the ELM Tests and Trials team within Defra to gather and analyse information that will help us to evaluate the work and identify lessons for the design of the new ELM scheme.

This information leaflet explains ICF's role, what information we will be expecting you to collect, as a test or trial project, and how we will be able to help you meet the monitoring and evaluation requirements set out in your agreement with Defra.

The role of the ICF evaluation team

The ICF team has been contracted by Defra to:

- Evaluate findings and learning from the different tests and trials
- Identify factors that might play a role in the new ELM scheme, such as Collaboration and Co-production; Localised prioritisation; Development of Assessment Tools; Attitudes and Behaviours; Mutual knowledge and capacity building etc.
- Provide technical advice, guidance and support to the tests and trials about how to monitor and report on indicators identified to Defra.

We are evaluators, not auditors. We are interested in understanding your experiences delivering your project including what works well, what is more challenging, and identifying the key learning points. We will not be assessing any legal or regulatory elements of your project.

We will be working in partnership with Defra 'ELM Tests and Trials (T&T) Officers'. The ICF team will be engaging with you in relation to evaluation questions. Ongoing contractual, financial and other administrative matters will all be handled by your nominated T&T Officer.

Your role in the evaluation

To evaluate each test or trial, we need to understand

- What your project is testing or trialling;
- What you see is the learning from your test or trial and how it will contribute to the development of the ELM scheme;
- The lessons learnt and success factors for your test and trial and any challenges you encounter;
- The results and impacts achieved.

During the delivery of your test or trial you will be asked to take part in a number of tasks. These are:

22.2 Progress reports

You will provide regular progress reports directly to your T&T officer as outlined in your agreement. This will be the main mechanism for you to share evidence and learning with Defra to support policy development. Defra will be compiling regular reports to disseminate the evidence and learning based on the priority themes for tests and trials, such as the scope of the land management plan.

22.3 Site visit

Your Defra T&T Officer may ask to conduct a site visit to follow-up on any monitoring information provided and request further clarification or information if necessary. The Defra T&T officer will ensure that sufficient notice is provided and will seek to agree a time and date that is suitable for all. The visit will involve an informal on-site meeting. A member of the evaluation team may also be invited to participate in the site visit to provide advice about the evaluation and data collection. Site visits will be infrequent and will be considered on a case by case basis. Each test or trial is not expected to get more than two visits.

We will also need to ask you for some additional information just for the evaluation. We will try to minimise the burden of any information requests.

22.4 Online survey

We will ask that you take part in a short, online survey. The purpose of the survey is to explore whether the test or trial is being delivered as intended, what has worked well and what has been more challenging than expected.

If you are a 'Test', you will be asked to complete a survey at the beginning and towards the end of your test. If you are a 'Trial', you will be asked to complete a survey at the beginning, middle and end of your trial. The survey will ask your views about satisfaction with the processes involved, confidence, and accessibility as well as what has worked well or less well.

22.5 Case study

We may invite you to participate in a case study on a voluntary basis. Case studies will provide us with an in-depth understanding of specific types of tests or trials and the way in which they are operating.

Each case study will involve a number of telephone interviews. We will want to have a conversation with the proposal lead and a number of other people with an interest in the project, such as land managers or partners. We will work with you to make sure that the right people are approached. The interviews will take place towards the end of your project. Their purpose is to capture how the project has developed and changed over time.

We will provide you with a report summarising the key findings from the case study. Case studies will inform the final report we prepare for Defra.

We will provide you with advice and support to help you monitor and evaluate your test or trial

The evaluation team will provide a variety of support to you during your project. This support will include:

- Webinars:

You will be invited to participate in webinars that will provide information to help you in delivering your own project monitoring and evaluation (e.g. how to define clear evaluation questions, how to engage any partners or stakeholders).

- Guidance documents:

The evaluation team will provide you with short guidance documents to assist you in collecting your monitoring data and conducting your evaluation. These will include:

- How to prepare and complete a monitoring form
- Designing an evaluation approach
- Considerations and common challenges in conducting a project level evaluation
- Analysing, reporting and disseminating your findings

- General troubleshooting:

Your Defra T&T Project Officer will be your first point of contact should you wish to discuss any concerns you have about monitoring and evaluating your project or the wider ELM evaluation. They will assess whether you would benefit from additional support from the evaluation team and arrange a further discussion if necessary.

Your information will be protected

The findings from this M&E project will be integrated into evaluation reports that the ICF evaluation team will share with Defra. The final report is expected to be published.

The sharing of data between yourselves, Defra and the ICF evaluation team is governed by your agreement with Defra and Defra's contract with ICF. All of the information you provide will be treated in the strictest confidence and stored securely on a database hosted by ICF.

Your responses to the survey and monitoring data will not be published. Any views you provide will be anonymised and you will not be personally identifiable. Findings from case studies will, however, be reported at an individual level and the type of test or trial will be mentioned. We will not refer to you by name, but it may be possible for a reader to guess based on the description of the test or trial.
