INTRODUCTION

1. FCDO Mission & Values

FCDO's mission is to help eradicate poverty in the world's poorest countries and this is underpinned by our set of values:

- Ambition and determination to eliminate poverty
- Ability to work effectively with others
- Desire to listen, learn and be creative
- Diversity and the need to balance work and private life
- Professionalism and knowledge

2. Short Description of Services being Procured – Delivery of UK–Southeast Asia Tech Week 2023

Building on the UK's formalised status as an ASEAN Dialogue Partner – the bloc's eleventh and first since 1996 – the UK and ASEAN committed to deepening collaboration on the digital economy through our newly-established ASEAN-UK Digital Innovation Partnership (DIP). Launched in September 2021, our digital partnership aims to unlock the vast potential held across our most innovative and cutting-edge public and private sector bodies – including by connecting and fostering new business partnerships. Our vision is to achieve these objectives through greater collaboration across three core pillars: (a) Digital Economy Business Partnerships; (b) Digital Policy, Regulation and Standards; and (c) Digital Transformation and Digital Inclusion.

The UK and ASEAN have already delivered a range of initiatives and activities under each pillar – including delivering our first-ever ASEAN-UK Digital Business Showcase which brought together innovative tech companies to solve complex organisational challenges; creating new opportunities for dialogue on digital standards and policy between leading businesses and government bodies; and leading our largest-ever delegation of Southeast Asian tech companies to London Tech Week 2022. Our next objective is to deliver our first-ever UK-Southeast Asia Tech Week – one of our flagship projects under the DIP this year (2022 – 2023).

Our UK-Southeast Asia Tech Week is designed to foster new business partnerships between UK and Southeast Asian companies – namely through a week-long series of engagements in two priority markets - likely focused on two or three priority technology areas (e.g. cybersecurity, the internet of things, or technology for net-zero). It is also designed to create opportunities for networking, knowledge-sharing and capacity building between public and private sector stakeholders across the UK and Southeast Asia. This will also include supporting the implementation of innovation-friendly policies that promote open and inclusive digital ecosystems across the region.

The supplier will lead in the end-to-end delivery of the project, working closely with officials from the UK Government's Digital Trade Network, regional embassies, and partner organisations on the three key deliverables outlined in the Terms of Reference. This includes:

- Designing the Project Plan, Risk Management Plan, Communications Plan, and Stakeholder Management Plan. These documents should include coverage of – but not be limited to - milestones, dependencies, project governance, and clearly identified public and private sector stakeholders to engage with.
- Delivery of the UK – Southeast Asia Tech Week 2023, including the creation of landing page to promote the event and support the registration of attendees; business matching sessions (including the recruitment of Southeast Asian businesses; the creation of a suitable platform to facilitate the business matching; and recommending UK companies to participate in the engagement); securing participation from UK and Southeast Asian businesses and public sector bodies, working in collaboration with DIT; reverse pitching activities; and policy dialogues / workshops. The supplier will also be responsible for organising a pre-mission reception in London.
- Delivery of a Project Wash-up Report and Presentation, focussed on outcomes and recommendations on how the UK should approach similar events in future.
