Downlink volume (MB) vii. Record closure reason — that is where the event involves termination or failure of a Communication transaction, the reason for termination or failure as applicable to type of traffic (for example, failure to establish bearer, terminated by originating ESN User, pre-empted by network, dropped by network or other failure) viii. QCI class and User Priority used ix. Originator telephone number x. Originator subscription identity xi. Destination telephone number (where applicable) xii. PDN (Packet Data Network) connection (e.g. APN in LTE or equivalent) xiii. User Device identity xiv. Location — Base Station ID xv. Details of all splits within the record where different tariffs have been applied (e.g. by tariff change due to time of day, separation of records due to Traffic type, Quality of Service Level, GMT<>DST) xvi. Rating information for how the communication will be billed
Audience / ESN User	Authority and User Organisation Commercial and Service Delivery Managers
Purpose	Service Management Billing and payment

OFFICIAL

Timeliness of information provision	Information used for billing purposes provided at least daily

(b) Predicted Coverage - Baseline

Dataset Name	Predicted Coverage - Baseline
Dataset Description	A Spatial Dataset showing the predicted signal strength attributable to each Base Station or sector, provided for the entire area of Great Britain (including the Primary Area and Extended Area) and sufficient of the territorial waters to display all Coverage provided in the territorial waters. The dataset will allow the Authority and ESN Users to understand the Coverage available for defined types of devices and will allow them to evaluate the impact of Base Station failures or planned outages.
Data Attributes & Measurement Units	i. Field strength (dBm) with ▉▉▉▉▉ resolution attributable to each Base Station or sector at ▉▉▉ above ground level plus signal quality (taking into account interference) ii. Field strength (dBm) with ▉▉▉▉▉ resolution at ▉▉▉▉▉ ▉▉▉▉▉ above ground level as composite data sets plus signal quality (taking into account interference) iii. Reference data for each Base Station (ID, location, type) iv. For each signal strength data set the Supplier shall provide a separate Spatial Data Layer that records the results of all actual Coverage measurements available to the Supplier that establish or verify the extent of Coverage Field strengths and signal qualities shall use widely used units of measurement that are appropriate to the radio technology of the Supplier Solution and shall include strengths and qualities for the predicated best serving Base Station and the next strongest signals above the noise floor up to a maximum of 10.
Audience / ESN User	Authority — Commercial Managers User Organisation operational staff
Purpose	Contract compliance Operational planning
Timeliness of information provision	Provided each ▉▉▉▉▉

(c) Coverage Planned Changes

Dataset Name	Coverage - Planned Changes including Non-Permanent Enhancements and Planned Maintenance
Dataset Description	A Spatial Dataset showing planned changes to Coverage (relative to the Predicted Coverage — Baseline data) as a result of: i. The introduction of new Base Stations or decommissioning of existing ones;

OFFICIAL

	ii. Planned maintenance outages; and
	iii. The provision of temporary or mobile Base Stations
	The intention of this dataset (in conjunction with Predicted Coverage — baseline data) is to allow ESN Users to assess the impact on Coverage at a given point in time of planned changes, and thus operational implications. The data set shall cover the Extended Area as well as the Primary Area.
Data Attributes & Measurement Units	i. Signal strength (dBm) and quality with ▓▓▓▓▓▓▓ resolution attributable to each Base Station where different from predicted Coverage — Baseline data
	ii. Duration of change
	iii. Planned start date and time of change
	iv. Planned end date and time of change
	v. Status of change (planned, pending approval, approved)
	vi. Reference data for each Base Station (ID, location, type) where different or not present in Baseline data
Audience / ESN User	Authority — Commercial and Service Delivery Managers User Organisation operational staff
Purpose	Service delivery management Operational planning
Timeliness of information ▓▓▓▓▓	▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓

(d)   Coverage Real-Time Status

Dataset Name	Coverage Real-Time Status
Dataset Description	A Spatial Dataset showing the real time changes to Coverage (relative to the Predicted Coverage — Baseline data) as a result of:
	i. Base Station or other failures including interference problems which affect Coverage;
	ii. current maintenance outages; and
	iii. current provision of temporary or Mobile Base Stations
	The intention of this data set (in conjunction with Predicted Coverage — Baseline data) is to allow ESN Users to assess the current status of Coverage, and thus operational implications. The dataset shall cover the Extended Area as well as the Primary Area.
Data Attributes & Measurement Units	i. Signal strength (dBm) and quality with ▓▓▓▓▓▓ resolution attributable to each Base Station where different from Predicted Coverage — Baseline data
	ii. Reference data for each Base Station (ID, location, type) where different or not present in Baseline data
Audience / ESN User	User Organisation operational staff
Purpose	Operational planning and monitoring
Timeliness of information ▓▓▓▓▓	▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓▓

Handheld Coverage at Railway Stations

E.6   For each of the indoor Railway Station listed in the table below, Handheld Coverage is required in locations:

         (a)   throughout the public areas of the station such as the platforms, waiting rooms, toilets, foot tunnels, foot bridges, escalators and ticket halls/barriers; and

         (b)   in any British Transport Police offices at the station.

E.7   For composite surface rail and London Underground stations, this requirement applies only to the parts of the station serving trains other than tube or DLR trains.

E.8   The demarcation shall be the London Underground/DLR doors or gates which enables the London Underground/DLR element to be closed off, when shut, or where this is not present, the limit of validity of ordinary railway tickets. The full width of platforms with one face for London Underground or DLR and one face for other trains is included.

Access to Annex E locations and cost

E.9 For the purposes of this Paragraph E.9 "Access" means any necessary approvals, authorisations, consents, licenses, easements, rights of way, wayleaves, approvals and rights from a third party owner and/or occupier of land at the MS Supplier Special Coverage Locations for the installation, operation, maintenance, replacement, removal, and decommissioning of telecommunications equipment for the provision of Handheld Coverage including any additional rights required by this Agreement.

E.10 The Supplier agrees that the cost of delivery of all MS Supplier Special Coverage Locations shall be ██.

E.11 The Authority shall use its reasonable endeavours to assist the Supplier to obtain Access to MS Supplier Special Coverage Locations.

Annex F — Minimum Data Rates

F.1   The below table defines the Minimum Data Rates requirements.

F.2   The data rates given apply to the ESN User's error-free payload including layer ███████████ model.

F.3   The minimum data rates are required to be achieved and measured in the deployed network. Therefore the design (of the network with the appropriate cell loading assumptions) and in-life capacity management processes need to ensure these data rates are achieved at all times.

Data Rate Measure	Payload	Latency Criteria
Minimum Uplink	████████	To support voice services with low latency and critical messaging
Minimum Downlink	████████	To support voice services with low latency and critical messaging
Minimum Average Uplink at each location*	████████	To support a low rate video uplink service where some degree of latency is allowed.
Minimum Average Downlink at each location	████████	General file transfer activities, web and background services

Annex H — Bearer and Connection Types

Bearer Types

H.1 A table is provided below detailing the Bearer Types expected to be delivered by the Supplier to support the ESN Services, and should be read in conjunction with the requirements of Paragraph 5.3. The Bearer Types each detail the following parameters:

(a) The Relative Priority of each Bearer Type: this defines the priority of the Bearer in relation to others with lowest number indicating a higher priority;

(b) The Guaranteed Bit Rate (GBR): this defines whether a minimum bit rate can be requested and shall not fall below this value;

(i) "Y" used for where it is required and means that a channel of guaranteed bandwidth is reserved for the bearer in the MS network scheduling function; and

(ii) "N" used for where it is not required and means Bearers with no guarantee of fixed bit rate are considered best effort services and will contend for the remaining available resources not reserved by GBR bearers (but in accordance to MS Network planning design).

(c) Relative Packet Delay: this gives an indication of the maximum one-way packet delay measured in accordance with 3GPP TS23.203;

(d) Services Used for Bearer: this includes indicative services which are intended for the Bearers. However, the solution should allow any service over any bearer to be used on agreement between the Authority, US Supplier and MS Supplier;

(e) User Pre-emption Rights: indication of any pre-emption rights required. Pre-emption will ensure Bearers have the ability to pre-empt lower priority bearers to deliver their traffic. This only applies for the Critical Bearer Types;

(f) Priority over Other Customers: an indication of whether the Bearer Type has Priority over Other Customers of the Supplier's commercial services; and

(g) Bearer Charging Category: the Bearer Charging Category that traffic in this Bearer Type should be charged under, as defined in Table 3 of Schedule 7.1 (Charges and Invoicing).

Connections Types

H.2 The Programme envisages that different type of connections to the services will be required. These are differentiated by the types of enabled services such as:

(a) C1: Public Safety Connection

(b) C2: Business Type Connection

(c) C3: Data Only Connection

Enabled Bearer Services	Public safety data with priority and pre-emption (Use of Critical Bearers)	X		X (No Critical Voice Bearer)
	Best effort data including WiFi without priority and pre-emption. (Use of Non-Critical Bearers potentially commercial profiles available to Other Customers)	X	X	X
	Public telephony (standard service provided by MS Supplier to Other Customers)	X	X
