- A3-2-13 the Supplier suspends, or threatens to suspend, or ceases or threatens to cease to carry on, all or substantially the whole of its business; or
- A3-2-14 the Supplier's financial position deteriorates to such an extent that in the Contracting Authority's opinion the Supplier's capability to adequately fulfil its obligations under the Contract has been placed in jeopardy; or
- A3-3 Termination of the Contract, however arising, shall not affect any of the parties' rights and remedies that have accrued as at termination. Clauses which expressly or by implication survive termination or expiry of the Contract shall continue in full force and effect.
- A3-4 Without prejudice to clause A3-3, clauses B1, B2, B5, B6, B7, B8, B9, C1, C2, C3, C4, C6 and C7 shall survive the termination or expiry of the Contract and shall continue in full force and effect.

- A3-5-1 cease all work on the Contract;
- A3-5-2 Deliver to the Contracting Authority all Deliverables and all work-in-progress whether or not then complete. If the Supplier fails to do so, then the Contracting Authority may enter the Supplier's premises and take possession of them. - A3-5-3 cease use of and return (or, at the Contracting Authority's or UK SBS's acting as an agent on behalf of the Contracting Authority's election, destroy) all of the Contracting Authority's Materials in the Supplier's possession or control; and
- A3-5-4 Cease all use of, and delete all copies of, UK SBS's or the Contracting Authority's or UK SBS's confidential information.
- A3-6 Termination
- A3-7 The Contracting Authority or UK SBS acting as an agent on behalf of the Contracting Authority may terminate the Contract by written notice to the Supplier in any of the following circumstances:

- A3-7-2 Where it considers that the Supplier has at the time of the award of the Contract been in one of the situations referred to in Regulation 57(1) of the PCR 2015, including as a result of the application of regulation 57(2), and should therefore have been excluded from the procurement procedure;
- A3-7-3 Where the Contract should not have been awarded to the Supplier in view of a serious infringement of the obligations under the EU Treaties and Directive 2014/24/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council that has been declared by the Court of Justice of the European Union in a procedure under Article 258 of the TFEU;
- A3-7-4 Where the European Commission sends a reasoned opinion to the United Kingdom or brings the matter before the Court of Justice of the European Union under Article 258 of the TFEU alleging that the Contract should not have been awarded to the Supplier in view of a serious infringement of the obligations under the Treaties and Directive 2014/24/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council; or
- A3-7-5 Where a third party starts court proceedings against the Contracting Authority seeking a declaration that the Contract is ineffective or should be shortened under Regulations 98 to 101 of the PCR 2015, which the Contracting Authority or UK SBS acting as an agent on behalf of the Contracting Authority considers to have a reasonable prospect of success.
- A3-7-6 Such termination shall be effective immediately or at such later date as is specified in the notice. The Contracting Authority shall not incur any liability to the Supplier by reason of such termination and shall not be required to pay any costs, losses or damage to the Supplier. Termination under this clause shall be without prejudice to any other rights of the Contracting Authority.
- A3-8 The Contracting Authority or UK SBS acting as an agent on behalf of the Contracting Authority shall at any time have the right for convenience to terminate the Contract or reduce the quantity of Services to be provided by the Supplier in each case by giving to the Supplier reasonable written notice. During the period of notice the Contracting Authority may direct the Supplier to perform all or any of the work under the Contract. Where the Contracting Authority has invoked either of these rights, the Supplier may claim reasonable costs necessarily and properly incurred by him as a result of the termination or reduction, excluding loss of profit, provided that the claim shall not exceed the total cost of the Contract. The Supplier shall have a duty to mitigate its costs and shall on request provide proof of expenditure for any compensation claimed

2. Scope of Requirement

Introduction

The Central Arbitration Committee (CAC) is an independent statutory authority with specific functions relating to trade unions and employers. The most significant function of the CAC is adjudicating on the recognition and de-recognition of trade unions for collective bargaining in the workplace. This is carried out by applying the underpinning UK trade union recognition legislation when considering a union's application for collective bargaining in a workplace, whilst seeking agreement between a union and the employer where possible.

It is responsible for resolving, through both voluntary means and adjudication, disputes relating to the following issues:

- the recognition and derecognition of trade unions for collective bargaining;
- the disclosure of information to trade unions for collective bargaining purposes;
- the establishment and operation of arrangements under the Information and Consultation Regulations;
- the establishment and operation of European Works Councils; and
- and the information and consultation requirements of the European Company Statute, the European Cooperative Society Regulations and the Cross-Border Mergers Regulations.

The overall responsibility for the CAC's work rests with the Chair. The CAC itself comprises three groups: Deputy Chairs; Members with experience as employers' representatives (mainly HR Directors and Employment Relations leaders); and Members with experience as workers' representatives (mainly senior trade union officials). It works through Panels consisting of the Chairman or a Deputy Chair and one member drawn from each of the other two groups.

The Advisory Conciliation & Arbitration Service, (Acas), is responsible for providing the CAC with finance and support services. However, this does not affect the post's independence from Acas and the Secretary of State.

The work handled by the CAC can often involve sensitive issues about the conduct of trade union affairs and, on occasion, they can attract wider public and media interest. The CAC members must also avoid potential conflicts of interest.

Central Arbitration Committee - Job Description and Candidate Specification

Organisational Background

The Central Arbitration Committee (CAC) is an independent statutory authority with specific functions relating to trade unions and employers. The most significant function of the CAC is adjudicating on the recognition and de-recognition of trade unions for collective bargaining in the workplace. This is carried out by applying the underpinning UK trade union recognition legislation when considering a union's application for collective bargaining in a workplace, whilst seeking agreement between a union and the employer where possible.

It is responsible for resolving, through both voluntary means and adjudication, disputes relating to the following issues:

- the recognition and derecognition of trade unions for collective bargaining;
- the disclosure of information to trade unions for collective bargaining purposes;
- the establishment and operation of arrangements under the Information and Consultation Regulations;
- the establishment and operation of European Works Councils; and
- and the information and consultation requirements of the European Company Statute, the European Cooperative Society Regulations and the Cross-Border Mergers Regulations.

The overall responsibility for the CAC's work rests with the Chair. The CAC itself comprises three groups: Deputy Chairs; Members with experience as employers' representatives (mainly HR Directors and Employment Relations leaders); and Members with experience as workers' representatives (mainly senior trade union officials). It works through Panels consisting of the Chairman or a Deputy Chair and one member drawn from each of the other two groups.

The Advisory Conciliation & Arbitration Service, (Acas), is responsible for providing the CAC with finance and support services. However, this does not affect the post's independence from Acas and the Secretary of State.

The work handled by the CAC can often involve sensitive issues about the conduct of trade union affairs and, on occasion, they can attract wider public and media interest. The CAC members must also avoid potential conflicts of interest.

Skills and Experience

Deputy Chairs:

- To lead a panel's consideration of an application and any decisions that needs to be made by bringing their experience of collective employment relations and the legislation relating to it;
- To chair formal hearings and informal meetings with all the parties on an application;
- To act impartially and to ensure that the CAC's established policies and practices are followed;
- To assist the Chair with policy formulation, including attending biannual meetings of the Deputy Chairs; and
- To present panel decisions in a clear, accurate and accessible way, both orally and in writing.

Essential Skills or Experience

- The ability to analyse and determine complex legal issues through independent balanced judgement and, where appropriate, implement sound and practical employment relations solutions; and

- The ability to work effectively with a variety of stakeholders in CAC cases and to chair hearings with integrity and impartiality that maintains public confidence in the independence of the CAC.

Members:

Role of a Member

- To apply their employment relations experience to a panel's consideration of an application and to any decisions the panel needs to make;
- To attend, and contribute fully to, formal hearings with the parties;
- To act impartially and to ensure that CAC's established policies and practices are adhered to; and

Essential Skills or Experience

- The ability to demonstrate expertise in areas such as consultation, negotiation and collective bargaining; and
- Recent experience as either a representative of employers, or a representative of workers.

Deputy Chairs and Members:

For both Deputy Chairs and Members, it is important that successful candidates demonstrate:

- Knowledge and understanding of collective employment relations and the legislation relating to it, combined with the ability to bring an independent perspective;
- Realistic and practical approach to problem-solving and the ability to work as part of a team to resolve conflicting positions and interests and achieve consensus;
- The ability to determine complex issues, within fixed timeframes, on the basis of evidence with independent balanced judgement;
- An ability to organise and manage a demanding caseload effectively, sometimes under time pressures;
- Strong communication skills to present decisions, both orally and in writing; and
- An appreciation of the obligations involved when serving on a public body and the credibility to do so.

The Deputy Chairs will be appointed on a fee-paid basis and receive £491.69 for each seven hour day worked. The Members will also be appointed on a fee paid basis and will receive £279.51 for each seven hour day worked.

The CAC is based in London but some travel within Great Britain may be necessary. Both roles are reimbursed for travel, subsistence and other reasonable expenses.

Appointments are for a period of five years with the Secretary of State's discretion to reappoint, once only, for a further five years.

The time commitment is driven by the number, and nature, of applications made to the CAC. On average, a Deputy Chair would need to be available three days a month and a Member one day. Some of these time commitments will be for formal meetings and hearings, which normally last no more than one day, but both Deputy Chairs and Members are expected to be able to deal with urgent CAC business outside of CAC meetings.
