Section 1 – About UK Shared Business Services

Putting the business into shared services

UK Shared Business Services Ltd (UK SBS) brings a commercial attitude to the public sector; helping our Contracting Authorities improve efficiency, generate savings and modernise.

It is our vision to become the leading service provider for the Contracting Authorities of shared business services in the UK public sector, continuously reducing cost and improving quality of business services for Government and the public sector.

Our broad range of expert services is shared by our Contracting Authorities. This allows Contracting Authorities the freedom to focus resources on core activities; innovating and transforming their own organisations.

Core services include Procurement, Finance, Grants Admissions, Human Resources, Payroll, ISS, and Property Asset Management all underpinned by our Service Delivery and Contact Centre teams.

UK SBS is a people rather than task focused business. It's what makes us different to the traditional transactional shared services centre. What is more, being a not-for-profit organisation owned by the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy (BEIS), UK SBS' goals are aligned with the public sector and delivering best value for the UK taxpayer.

UK Shared Business Services Ltd changed its name from RCUK Shared Services Centre Ltd in March 2013.

Our Customers

Growing from a foundation of supporting the Research Councils, 2012/13 saw Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy (BEIS) transition their procurement to UK SBS and Crown Commercial Services (CCS – previously Government Procurement Service) agree a Memorandum of Understanding with UK SBS to deliver two major procurement categories (construction and research) across Government.

UK SBS currently manages £700m expenditure for its Contracting Authorities. Our Contracting Authorities who have access to our services and Contracts are detailed here.

Section 2 – About the Contracting Authority

Low Pay Commission (LPC)

The Low Pay Commission (LPC) is an independent public body (sponsored by The Department for Business and Trade: DBT) that advises the Government about the National Minimum Wage. There are 9 Low Pay Commissioners drawn from a range of employee, employer and academic backgrounds. All the commissioners serve in an individual capacity. They are supported by a small secretariat, which has 8 members of staff.

The Low Pay Commission makes evidence-based recommendations based on:

- commissioned and independent research;
- analysis of relevant data regarding the state of the economy and the impact of the minimum wage;
- consultations with employers, workers and their representatives;
- written and oral evidence from a wide range of organisations; and
- fact-finding visits across the UK to meet employers, employees and representative organisations.

Section 4 – Specification

Background

The Low Pay Commission (LPC) invites tenders from researchers with ideas for new or other research in relation to the National Living Wage (NLW) (and the National Minimum Wage (NMW)). We are also keen to understand the impact of the recent unprecedented upheaval in the economy and the labour market caused by measures to control the global pandemic. This has affected some sectors, in particular many low-paying sectors, more than others. It has also disrupted many of the usual data sources upon which much of our standard analysis depends. The pandemic has, however, also led to the development of new data sources. We are therefore keen to consider tenders that can take advantage of these.

In addition to the impacts from the pandemic, the UK began a new trading relationship with the EU on 1 January 2021 that has seen significant changes in the way the UK trades. This may have different implications for low-paying sectors and minimum wage workers.

The LPC recognises that there may be areas of investigation worth pursuing that we have not yet identified, or which have not previously been considered in great depth.

Researchers who believe that they have a worthwhile proposal that would fall into these categories are welcome to submit it for consideration. We would also encourage proposals from those who wish to extend current research on the impact of the minimum wage, whether that original research was funded by us or another organisation.

We are also interested in any information that sheds light on the treatment of young workers with regards to pay, employment and hours. We are especially interested in 21-24 years, who were covered by the adult rate of the NMW up to 2016 but were not initially entitled to the NLW. Those aged 23-24 became eligible to the NLW in April 2021 and those aged 21-22 will become eligible by 2024.

There is global interest among policy-makers in the impact of the NLW. The LPC is required to make recommendations to the Government on the path of the rate of the NLW to 2024 and on the minimum wages for young workers and apprentices each year. The findings from this research will directly inform policy decisions touching the lives of millions of workers and thousands of businesses as well as contributing to policy formation in the UK and beyond. They will also help inform deliberations about the future of the National Living Wage beyond 2024.

Aims and Objectives of the Project

The aim of these studies is to gain a better understanding of the impact of minimum wages, especially the National Living Wage, and to help fill any gaps in our knowledge. These studies could examine areas that have not been considered in any great depth in the literature; address the 'unknown unknowns'; or enable an extension of previous work, whether that original research was funded by us or another organisation.

Up to three separate projects will be commissioned in this process. The findings will feed into LPC deliberations over the next 9 months. Findings will inform the recommendations that we will make in October 2023 for the uprating of the NLW (and the other age-related minimum wage rates) in April 2024. They will also inform the discussion about the future of the NLW beyond 2024.

This research will contribute to the understanding of how firms are adjusting to the NLW and how the NLW affects workers.

The LPC has identified a few areas of research that might be particularly interesting. These include:

- Differentials and pay progression. How has the National Living Wage affected pay differences within firms and workers' ability to progress within firms? Have changes to pay differentials affected productivity or training within firms? This would ideally use firm-level data and may need a longer time frame;
- Exploring the impact of the recent change in aligning the Apprentice Rate to the 16-17 Year Old Rate;
- The nature, extent and experiences of one-sided flexibility among workers. One-sided flexibility is where workers experience regular and significant changes to their working hours, but with little control over this. It is found in some (but not all) zero hours, short hours and agency working settings as well as elsewhere.
- Exploring the earnings outcomes for different types of apprenticeships several years after completion, particularly those that make use of the apprentice minimum wage during the apprenticeship. This study should utilise LEO data (longitudinal education outcomes).
- What is the relationship between the NLW and the 'gig economy'? This might consider questions such as 1) How are gig workers newly eligible for the NMW being treated by their employers 2) Is the NLW causing employers to shift to platform/gig working 3) Do NMW workers combine standard NMW jobs with gig work? If so why? How well does that work for them?;
- Further research of the impact of the NMW/NLW by protected characteristics to cover the most recent uprating's;
- Exploration of spatial differences in the impact of the NMW/NLW. How and why has the NMW/NLW had different effects across different geographies in the UK? Whether there are links between the NMW/NLW and internal migration (investigating whether the introduction and subsequent increases in the NLW have changed internal migration patterns);
- In light of the recent period of high inflation, an investigation into whether the impact of the NMW/NLW differs in periods of high inflation. Last year, employer survey respondents were far more likely to say they'd increased prices in response to the NLW. This may be because they had no other choice, or because an inflationary environment made it easier to pass costs on, when previously firms had worried about their competitiveness if they pushed prices up. This project could also assess whether energy prices have greater or less impact in low-paying sectors;
- How has the minimum wage affected transitions for low-paid workers into other low-paid jobs, higher-paid jobs, self-employment, unemployment and inactivity;
- Research on the German minimum wage found evidence of reallocation (Dustmann, Lindner, Schönberg, Umkehrer, and vom Berge, 2021). How has the NMW/NLW affected the allocation of workers between firms? Has the minimum wage caused workers to move into more productive firms?;
- Recent research in the US (Clemens and Strain, 2021) has differentiated between the impacts of large and small increases in the minimum wage. This could be replicated in the UK comparing the large increases in 2001; 2003 and 2004; 2016; 2020, 2022 and 2023 with smaller increases;
- As we look towards post-2024, it is appropriate to reconsider the newly established relativities between the various minimum wage rates and what will be the large step at age 21. This research could give an overview of the different treatment of young workers across the globe and then potentially look at the role of the minimum wage framework in the development of youth career paths in these countries; and

- An investigation of any evidence that the changes in the NLW have led to substitution of young (those aged under 23) and older workers (those aged 23 and over).

We welcome tenders that address any of these areas of research or indeed any other gaps in our knowledge.

As we noted above, we are looking to commission up to three research projects that will complement each other.

The LPC invites tenders for research that will provide informed insights by 7 September 2023, and final results by the end of September 2023. These findings will mainly inform LPC deliberations in October 2023 for the uprating of the NLW and the other minimum wage rates in April 2024; but will also contribute to the knowledge base that will provide the evidence for Commissioners in deliberations about the future of the NLW beyond 2024.

Suggested Methodology

The methods and data used will be entirely dependent on the project and these should be specified in detail by the prospective researchers. The research should use up to date, respected, methods, in line with recent studies. It is essential that the methodology and analysis stands up to external scrutiny by professional academics, economists, statisticians and analysts.

Potential contractors should specify the techniques that they intend to employ. Tenders should also state which data are to be used and give some indication of their strengths and limitations and in particular whether the available data will restrict the analysis in any way.

Deliverables

The initial primary audience for this work will be the LPC. The main output of the study will be a report, detailing the aims and objectives of the research, the methodology adopted and the main findings. The report should include a brief non-technical Executive Summary. An electronic copy (preferably Word and pdf format) for the LPC website will be required. In addition, we will require the data for any charts in that report (for replication in our report or future publications) and the syntax files used in the research. The LPC will make the findings publicly available, and a synopsis of the report will be included in the Low Pay Commission's 2023 Report.

In addition, there would be other deliverables expected. Deliverables may vary according to individual projects but will include:

- An informal presentation of the project at an initial meeting;
- A methodology paper;
- Regular updates on emerging findings and project progress;
- An interim report;
- A draft final report;
- A final report incorporating comments from LPC

- A presentation of the key aspects of the work (at the research symposium on 7 September 2023); and
- Key datasets and syntax files if appropriate.

The timescale for delivery of the research is flexible according to the needs of the project, but the sooner results can be provided the better. Aside from the workshop/presentation dates, all dates shown below should be interpreted as “at the latest”. We do not wish to rush research and end up with a poorer quality product, so if research outputs can be provided before these dates without harming their quality this would be greatly appreciated. Therefore, tenderers should set out the minimum time they need to deliver a high-quality research product.

The key dates are: a presentation on data sources and methodology at an introductory meeting in May; draft questionnaires or interview guides as appropriate by 2 June (at the latest); a follow-up meeting in w/c 12 June 2023; a draft interim report with initial findings by 25 August 2023 (at the latest); final findings to be presented at the 11th Annual LPC Research Symposium on 7 September 2023; a draft final report by 29 September 2023 (at the latest); and an agreed final report by 31 October 2023 (at the latest). Publication will be in November/December 2023. Project management is likely to include attendance at an inception meeting at LPC, and review meetings as required.

are stand-alone tenders and will be scored on their own merits as outlined in the tender document, any bidder may submit a tender and be successful on one or more of these opportunities.

Terms and Conditions

Bidders are to note that any requested modifications to the Contracting Authority Terms and Conditions on the grounds of statutory and legal matters only, shall be raised as a formal clarification during the permitted clarification period.

Section 5 – Evaluation of Bids

The evaluation model below shall be used for this ITQ, which will be determined to two decimal places.

Where a question is 'for information only' it will not be scored.

The evaluation team may comprise staff from UK SBS and the Contracting Authority and any specific external stakeholders the Contracting Authority deems required.

To maintain a high degree of rigour in the evaluation of your bid, a process of commercial moderation will be undertaken to ensure consistency by all evaluators.

Scoring criteria

Evaluation Justification Statement

In consideration of this particular requirement the Contracting Authority has decided to evaluate Potential Providers by adopting the weightings / scoring mechanism detailed within this ITQ. The Contracting Authority considers these weightings to be in line with existing best practice for a requirement of this type.

The winning Supplier will be the highest scoring bid submission over the Commercial and Technical scores combined, bidders are required to meet a minimum Technical threshold, deemed to be at least 60 for each scoring criteria (PROJ1.1, PROJ1.2 and PROJ1.3), failure to achieve a 60 for all of the above will mean that your bid will not be considered for the award. In this event your Commercial submission will not be assessed.

Evaluation Envelope	Q No.	Question subject	Maximum Marks
			Overall	Breakdown
Commercial	AW5.1	Price	20%	20%
Technical	PROJ1.1	Understanding the requirements and context	80%	25%
Technical	PROJ1.2	Methodology and approach		30%
Technical	PROJ1.3	Ability to deliver (including project planning, resource and risk management and expertise)		25%

Evaluation of criteria

Non-Commercial Elements

Each question will be judged on a score from 0 to 100, which shall be subjected to a multiplier to reflect the percentage of the evaluation criteria allocated to that question.

Where an evaluation criterion is worth 20% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 20%.

Example if a Bidder scores 60 from the available 100 points this will equate to 12% by using the following calculation:

$$\text{Score} = \{\text{weighting percentage}\} \times \{\text{bidder's score}\} = 20\% \times 60 = 12$$

The same logic will be applied to groups of questions which equate to a single evaluation criterion.

The 0-100 score shall be based on (unless otherwise stated within the question):

0	The Question is not answered, or the response is completely unacceptable.
10	Extremely poor response – they have completely missed the point of the question.
20	Very poor response and not wholly acceptable. Requires major revision to the response to make it acceptable. Only partially answers the requirement, with major deficiencies and little relevant detail proposed.

40	Poor response only partially satisfying the question requirements with deficiencies apparent. Some useful evidence provided but response falls well short of expectations. Low probability of being a capable supplier.
60	Response is acceptable but remains basic and could have been expanded upon. Response is sufficient but does not inspire.
80	Good response which describes their capabilities in detail which provides high levels of assurance consistent with a quality provider. The response includes a full description of techniques and measurements currently employed.
100	Response is exceptional and clearly demonstrates they are capable of meeting the requirement. No significant weaknesses noted. The response is compelling in its description of techniques and measurements currently employed, providing full assurance consistent with a quality provider.

All questions will be scored based on the above mechanism. As there will be multiple evaluators their individual scores and commentary will be recorded, then a consensus meeting will be convened by the evaluators to determine your score. Note this will include a chairperson or lead and all evaluators are of equal status.

Example

Evaluator 1 scored your bid as 60

Evaluator 2 scored your bid as 60

Evaluator 3 scored your bid as 40

The convened meeting came to a consensus that the final recorded score to given to your submission against this question should be 60, with the justification and reasons for this score recorded.

Once the consensus process has been finalised, all justifications recorded and all non-priced scores are agreed, this will then be subject to an independent commercial moderation review.

Commercial Elements will be evaluated on the following criteria.

The lowest price for a response which meets the pass criteria shall score 100. All other bids shall be scored on a pro rata basis in relation to the lowest price. The score is then subject to a multiplier to reflect the percentage value of the Commercial criterion.

For example - Bid 1 £100,000 scores 100.

Bid 2 £120,000 differential of £20,000 or 20% remove 20% from price scores 80

Bid 3 £150,000 differential £50,000 remove 50% from price scores 50.

Bid 4 £175,000 differential £75,000 remove 75% from price scores 25.

Bid 5 £200,000 differential £100,000 remove 100% from price scores 0.

Bid 6 £300,000 differential £200,000 remove 100% from price scores 0.

Where the scoring criterion is worth 50% then the 0-100 score achieved will be multiplied by 50.

In the example if a supplier scores 80 from the available 100 points this will equate to 40% by using the following calculation: Score/Total Points multiplied by 50 ($80/100 \times 50 = 40$)

The lowest score possible is 0 even if the price submitted is more than 100% greater than the lowest price.

This evaluation criteria will therefore not be subject to any averaging, as this is a mathematical scoring criterion, but will still be subject to a commercial review.

Evaluation process

The evaluation process will feature some, if not all, the following phases.

Section 7 – General Information

What makes a good bid – some simple do's 😊

DO:

- 7.1 Do comply with Procurement document instructions. Failure to do so may lead to disqualification.
- 7.2 Do provide the Bid on time, and in the required format. Remember that the date / time given for a response is the last date that it can be accepted; we are legally bound to disqualify late submissions. Responses received after the date indicated in the Section 3 of the ITQ shall not be considered by the Contracting Authority, unless the Bidder can justify that the reason for the delay is solely attributable to the Contracting Authority
- 7.3 Do ensure you have read all the training materials to utilise the eSourcing portal prior to responding to this Bid. If you send your Bid by email or post it will be rejected.
- 7.4 Do use Microsoft Word, PowerPoint Excel 97-03 or compatible formats, or PDF unless agreed in writing by the Buyer. If you use another file format without our written permission, we may reject your Bid.
- 7.5 Do ensure you utilise the Jaggaer eSourcing messaging system to raise any clarifications to our ITQ. You should note that we will release the answer to the question to all Bidders and where we suspect the question contains confidential information, we may modify the content of the question to protect the anonymity of the Bidder or their proposed solution
- 7.6 Do answer the question, it is not enough simply to cross-reference to a 'policy', web page or another part of your Bid, the evaluation team have limited time to assess bids and if they can't find the answer, they can't score it.
- 7.7 Do consider who the Contracting Authority is and what they want – a generic answer does not necessarily meet every Contracting Authority's needs.
- 7.8 Do reference your documents correctly, specifically where supporting documentation is requested e.g. referencing the question/s they apply to.
- 7.9 Do provide clear, concise and ideally generic contact details; telephone numbers, e-mails.
- 7.10 Do complete all questions in the evaluation response questionnaire or we may reject your Bid.
- 7.11 Do ensure that the Response and any documents accompanying it are in the English Language, the Contracting Authority reserve the right to disqualify any full or part responses that are not in English.
- 7.12 Do check and recheck your Bid before dispatch.

What makes a good bid – some simple do not's Ⓜ

DO NOT

- 7.13 Do not cut and paste from a previous document and forget to change the previous details such as the previous buyer's name.
- 7.14 Do not attach 'glossy' brochures that have not been requested, they will not be read unless we have asked for them. Only send what has been requested and only send supplementary information if we have offered the opportunity so to do.
- 7.15 Do not share the Procurement documents, they are confidential and should not be shared with anyone without the Buyers written permission.
- 7.16 Do not seek to influence the procurement process by requesting meetings or contacting UK SBS or the Contracting Authority to discuss your Bid. If your Bid requires clarification the Buyer will contact you. All information secured outside of formal Buyer communications shall have no Legal standing or worth and should not be relied upon.
- 7.17 Do not contact any UK SBS staff or the Contracting Authority staff without the Buyers written permission or we may reject your Bid.
- 7.18 Do not collude to fix or adjust the price or withdraw your Bid with another Party as we will reject your Bid.
- 7.19 Do not offer UK SBS or the Contracting Authority staff any inducement or we will reject your Bid.
- 7.20 Do not seek changes to the Bid after responses have been submitted and the deadline for Bids to be submitted has passed.
- 7.21 Do not cross reference answers to external websites or other parts of your Bid, the cross references and website links will not be considered.

The link below to the Gov.uk website provides information on the new GSC:

The Contracting Authority reserves the right to amend any security related term or condition of the draft contract accompanying this ITQ to reflect any changes introduced by the GSC. In particular where this ITQ is accompanied by any instructions on safeguarding classified information (e.g. a Security Aspects Letter) as a result of any changes stemming from the new GSC, whether in respect of the applicable protective marking scheme, specific protective markings given, the aspects to which any protective marking applies or otherwise. This may relate to the instructions on safeguarding classified information (e.g. a Security Aspects Letter) as they apply to the procurement as they apply to the procurement process and/or any contracts awarded to you as a result of the procurement process.
