1.2.4 maintained for at least six (6) years after the End Date.

1.3 The Supplier shall ensure that the public and products liability policy contain an indemnity to principals clause under which the Relevant Authority shall be indemnified in respect of claims made against the Relevant Authority in respect of death or bodily injury or third party property damage arising out of or in connection with the Deliverables and for which the Supplier is legally liable.

How to manage the insurance

2.1 Without limiting the other provisions of this Contract, the Supplier shall:

2.1.1 take or procure the taking of all reasonable risk management and risk control measures in relation to Deliverables as it would be reasonable to expect of a prudent contractor acting in accordance with Good Industry Practice, including the investigation and reports of relevant claims to insurers;

- 2.1.3 hold all policies in respect of the Insurances and cause any insurance broker effecting the Insurances to hold any insurance slips and other evidence of placing cover representing any of the Insurances to which it is a party.

What happens if you aren't insured

- 3.1 The Supplier shall not take any action or fail to take any action or (insofar as is reasonably within its power) permit anything to occur in relation to it which would entitle any insurer to refuse to pay any claim under any of the Insurances.

- 4.1 The Supplier shall upon the Start Date and within 15 Working Days after the renewal of each of the Insurances, provide evidence, in a form satisfactory to the Relevant Authority, that the Insurances are in force and effect and meet in full the requirements of this Schedule.

Making sure you are insured to the required amount

Cancelled Insurance

- 6.1 The Supplier shall notify the Relevant Authority in writing at least five (5) Working Days prior to the cancellation, suspension, termination or nonrenewal of any of the Insurances.

The Supplier shall use all reasonable endeavours to notify the Relevant Authority (subject to third party confidentiality obligations) as soon as practicable when it becomes aware of any relevant fact, circumstance or matter which has caused, or is reasonably likely to provide grounds to, the relevant insurer to give notice to cancel, rescind, suspend or void any insurance, or any cover or claim under any insurance in whole or in part.

Insurance claims

7.1 The Supplier shall promptly notify to insurers any matter arising from, or in relation to, the Deliverables, or each Contract for which it may be entitled to claim under any of the Insurances. Order Schedule 4 (Order Tender response)

PS22048: UKRI Stakeholder Perception Research

Response from Trueology Ltd

PROJ1.1 Approach / Methodology

Trueology are delighted to submit a response to the above ITT for UKRI.

Research Objectives

Our understanding of the brief, based on the tender specification is:

- To understand brand perceptions of UKRI, including perceived strengths and weaknesses
- Stakeholders' views of the organisation's effectiveness and efficiency
- Trust and satisfaction levels
- To benchmark brand sentiment amongst stakeholders, in preparation for the launch of the 5 year organisational strategy
- Confidence levels amongst stakeholders and an exploration of how supported they feel by UKRI

The brief also would like to provide base-level measures of stakeholders' awareness and understanding of UKRI's role, its vision and mission.

It is understood that there may be a level of uncertainty in the organisation following the Nurse, Grand and Tickell reviews. There is also the introduction of the Government's 'Advanced Research and Innovation Agency' and we would like to understand stakeholders' expectations and perceptions of UKRI and the perceived role UKRI has versus this new agency.

The research is limited to stakeholders in the UK, and should cover the key industries and organisational types, and also those of differing levels of seniority (rather than purely senior stakeholders). The organisations included in the consultation will be Higher Education institutes, Innovation businesses, Investors and Not for profit organisations.

Methodology Recommendations

We would recommend a combination of breadth survey and depth qualitative research for this project.

Breadth survey

Trueology would design, manage and run an online survey to a wide sample of participants, drawn from decision makers within the target groups (Higher Education institutes, Innovation businesses, Investors and Not for profit organisations), in order to understand the overall view of UKRI amongst its stakeholders. We would propagate the survey invitation using a variety of methods including direct email from contacts held by UKRI; messages on UKRI website and social channels, and also through targeted messaging to individuals via LinkedIn. This is a method we have successfully employed for B2B research projects undertaken for a number of our professional body clients including the British Computing

Society, Chartered Insurance Institute and the Royal College of Physicians. Our approach would direct all respondents to the same single survey, via a number of unique links, specific to each source channel / cohort. This ensures we are able to filter by these variables in the analysis, in addition to the filtering provided by other questions such as organisation type, and seniority level of respondent. We would encourage participation with reminder messages via email communication, notifications and social posts.

Throughout the fieldwork period, we would monitor completion rates and the sample mix, in order to tailor our communications to the overall sample in order to boost underperforming segments.

The questionnaire would be designed to deliver base-level benchmarking measurements against the key criteria outlined in the brief:

- Perceptions
- Trust
- Confidence
- Satisfaction
- Awareness and understanding of vision and mission
- Brand sentiment

We would also allow a small number of open text questions, which would be analysed using text analysis tools to create word clouds, word or phrase instances and positive/negative sentiment.

Risk assessment

Risks identified include low take-up rate, if there is a level of uncertainty around the purpose or usage of the research or dissatisfaction with UKRI. In order to mitigate this, we would craft any research invitation to stress adherence to MRS standards and the importance of the research in helping UKRI to add greater value to the target organisations and respondents. We would also offer the opportunity to provide anonymous feedback. We would also give an option for respondents to take part in the depth research, and for this they would need to provide contact details to trueology, which would not be disclosed to UKRI.

We believe that the combined quantitative and qualitative approach will provide the best opportunity to uncover insights from a wide set of stakeholders, and well as a deeper understanding of any issues that are uncovered.

Further discussion on identified risks, their likelihood, severity and mitigations is provided separately in the Project Plan and Timescales document.

Depth research

Following the breadth survey, we would recruit and run a small number of focus groups and a number of individual interviews to explore the findings in more detail with stakeholders.

Participants for this research phase will be drawn from the contact information for previous research grant applicants held by UKRI.

We propose delivering an interim debrief of the survey, which will be followed by the development of a discussion guide for exploration in group and individual conversations. These groups and interviews will be held online – for several reasons, firstly convenience to the participants. In our experience the quality of the respondent base for B2B research is much higher, where we can offer convenience to fit with their busy working day and we are very happy to provide this degree of flexibility to suit participants. Further benefits to the research include the speed of organising and conducting the focus groups and ensuring that we can conduct multiple interviews per day, the ability to include respondents from all over the UK without geographical limitations and lastly, as they are Covid-secure and do not require risk assessment and action to keep participants safe and healthy.

Trueology have delivered many online focus groups and interviews (before and during the pandemic) and are experienced in running online qualitative projects. Once a respondent gives their consent for trueology to contact them, we have a process in place to recruit and schedule time slots, moderate online interviews, amalgamate the findings and deliver results in a few weeks.

For this project we would recommend 4 x focus groups and 10 individual interviews. We would work with UKRI to identify organisations of particular interest and invite participants to join the sessions. We would also use the online survey to gather details of those interested in take part to shape the sample.

We would recommend a mix of interviewees who have different levels of previous engagement with UKRI – e.g. those who have applied and been successful in an award, those who have applied by have been unsuccessful and those who have never applied or have had no previous engagement with UKRI. For the last audience, we will identify and recruit via a specific LinkedIn recruitment campaign, assuming that UKRI do not have contact details for these respondents.

We have recommended the sample criteria and composition below.

Sample criteria and composition

We note from UKRI's website that there were 4468 grants and Fellowships awarded in 2020-21, representing a 21% award rate.

Trueology would therefore design a sample specification to cover the following:

- Explore perceptions from those who have been successful and unsuccessful in their applications
- Reflecting the regions of the UK where grants have been awarded
- Noting that Higher Education Institutes appear to be applying for, and awarded, higher number of grants than other institutions.

The matrix below outlines the target sample:

	Higher Education Institutions	Innovative Businesses	Investors	Not for profit orgs
Survey (Target sample 600)	100	200	100	200
Focus groups x4 (online)	6-8 respondents	6-8 respondents	6-8 respondents	6-8 respondents
Individual interviews x10 (tel/online)	4 (split by HE orgs who have been awarded 50+, 25-49 and under 25 grants and Fellowships)	2	2	2

We believe that the sample specification will give UKRI a clear overview of its stakeholders views, and the ability to explore issues and insights that arise during the research process.

Deliverables

We would deliver the following:

- An interim presentation of survey findings
- A debrief of insights from the qualitative focus groups and interviews (respondents anonymised), including quotations from participants

Dissemination

Trueology would recommend producing a 'white paper' for publication and dissemination to its stakeholders. We have produced a similar document for another client, EPAM who used their research and insight to produce a paper on Consumer Banking (case study visual attached below). We would recommend a similar white paper for UKRI to stimulate debate amongst stakeholders and demonstrate 'thought leadership' to partners within the UK research and innovation landscape.

Optional:

We would also recommend the option of a joint UKRI/trueology webinar to those who have participated and the wider research community to share the insight uncovered and recommendations following the research.

Trueology have used this approach with the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew and BCS (the British Computing Society), where stakeholders have been invited to a webinar for sharing and discussing insights. We would be pleased to deliver this without an additional fee.

UKRI Perception Research: Trueology team

Our Research and Insight team is led by Victoria Hulse, who would be the lead for this project, and supported by Adess Mahal, Research Executive. Karen Pells will oversee the project as Account Director, and will be responsible for any contract processing and invoicing.

Victoria is a Certified Member of the Market Research Society (CMRS) and has over 25 years' experience in delivering research projects. She has worked for Trueology since Nov 2019 following over 20 years in research and planning for advertising agencies in London and the regions. She holds the Advanced Certificate in Market Research through the MRS and ensures that Trueology projects adhere to the MRS Code of Conduct.

Adess has recently joined Trueology as a Research Executive, having completed a Masters Degree at Birmingham University in 2021. She will work alongside Victoria to deliver the UKRI Perception Research and will take a key role in project administration and in the analysis of the survey findings.

Victoria will be the main point of contact for guidance and support on the structure and phrasing of survey questions. Victoria has many years' experience in survey design and Trueology has a proven process for survey development. She leads both quantitative and qualitative projects, with many years' experience in focus group moderation, stakeholder interviews and employee consultation.

At the start of each project, we will hold an 'immersion' session with UKR 's key team members. In this session, we will agree key deliverables and highlight any specific milestones and requirements from UKRI. We will also use the session to outline the survey objectives and requirements and identify the mandatory questions to be included. We would also produce a 'long list' of questions and hypotheses, which would be used as the basis of a structured questionnaire. Victoria will then review the long list and mandatory questions and design a structured questionnaire for review, amendment and approval. The immersion session would be held in week 1 of the project.

We would recommend a regular status call (weekly throughout the project) which would be led by Victoria. The status meetings will be an opportunity for feedback on the project by the UKRI team, and will monitor progress and deadlines for the smooth running of the project (more detail on project governance is outlined in attachment 1.3).

Requirements from UKRI

The project specification states that UKRI will be able to provide contacts for the survey and consultation. We are assuming that UKRI hold relevant permissions for contacting relevant stakeholders for the purposes of research and are able to access contact/email data in a timely manner (see 1.3 for proposed timescales).

We will work with UKRI to identify a wide sample of stakeholders for the initial survey and develop a matrix of organisation types to be included in any qualitative research (focus groups or individual interviews).

We would expect that the first contact – invitation to participate in the research – would come from UKRI (any invitation email / copy would be drafted by trueology and sent out by UKRI to introduce trueology to stakeholders and request consent for trueology to contact them directly). After which, trueology would then take over the management of any further

PS22048: UKRI Stakeholder Perception ResearchResponse from Trueology Ltd*PROJ1.3 Project Plan and Timescales

We propose the following project plan to deliver the Perception Research for UKRI.

Timetable, based on recommended methodology

Project stage	Activity	Responsibility	Timing
1: Online survey	Immersion session	All	Week 1
1: Online survey	Contact data & scheduling email send	UKRI	Week 2
1: Online survey	Survey development, Email invitations, Social media posts, LinkedIn messages Web link	Trueology	Week 2
1: Online survey	Survey link live	All	Weeks 3-4
1: Online survey	Analysis of data	Trueology	Week 5
1: Online survey	Interim debrief	Trueology	Week 6
2. Focus Groups	Recruit participants & schedule timings	Trueology	Week 6
2. Interviews	Invite interviewees and diarise calls	Trueology	Week 6
2. Focus Groups	Conduct groups x4	Trueology	Week 7-8
2. Interviews	Conduct interviews x10	Trueology	Week 7-8
2. Qualitative	Analyse and prepare debrief document	Trueology	Week 9
2. Qualitative	Final debrief	Trueology	Week 10

Key milestones and deadlines, and project management

Based on the above, the project would last 10 weeks from commencement. There are a number of assumptions for the timing plan:

RM6126 - Research & Insights DPS

Project Version: v1.0

Model Version: v1.3

For the online survey:

- Contact data can be extracted by UKRI and emails scheduled for the survey link to be sent.
- The online survey can be approved by UKRI within 48hrs of receipt of final draft. We would expect 2 sets of amends during the survey build to give UKRI the opportunity to share internally and gather feedback on the questionnaire structure.
- Response rates would take no longer than 2 weeks to reach target.

For the focus groups and interviews:

- Interviews will be subject to stakeholder availability. Whilst Trueology can be flexible regarding interview date and time, we are subject to the diaries of our interviewees.
- Focus groups will run assuming that more than 5 participants sign up. We consider 5 people a viable focus group, although 6-8 is preferred.

Key risks for project delivery and mitigations

Key risks are mainly around the availability and willingness of respondents to take part in the groups and interviews. To mitigate this, we would offer an incentive for the focus groups of £35pp (either as a voucher for them or a donation to a charity of their choice) and £75pp for an individual interview (30-40 mins).

We have used incentives successfully in other projects of this nature, specifically for clients such as BCS, and the Royal College of Physicians (UK and also Ireland).

Project governance

At trueology we pride ourselves on our ownership of projects and the time and effort we invest in ensuring collaboration with clients, throughout any project, in order to ensure any potential issues are identified and addresses. We will provide a full, detailed scope of work (SoW) as an output of the immersion session, setting out each step of the project plan with timings, responsibilities and dependencies for each step. As mentioned in 1.2, we would recommend a weekly status call to monitor the project throughout its active period. This allows us to maintain momentum and discuss the next steps regularly, and allows for continual feedback. This is supported by a WIP document (work in progress) with a live timeline and supporting project documentation.

We would expect to work with UKRI collaboratively to ensure smooth running of the project and the successful delivery against the timeline. We look forward to receiving feedback on our ITT response, and would be happy to share more examples of our current and past client projects if required.

DPS Schedule 6 (Order Form Template and Order Schedules)

Crown Copyright 2021

Order Schedule 20 (Order Specification)

This Schedule sets out the characteristics of the Deliverables that the Supplier will be required to make to the Buyers under this Order Contract

Overview:

UKRI's ability to operate effectively and deliver its strategy requires a productive relationship with its stakeholder communities. Gaining a better understanding of how UKRI is perceived by research and innovation stakeholders will enable us to take a proactive, strategic approach to build trust in, and understanding of, UKRI. This is critical to UKRI's fundamental Vision to 'work with partners to shape a dynamic, diverse and inclusive system of research and innovation in the UK', and our Mission to 'convene, catalyse and invest in close collaboration with others' and 'to connect research communities, institutions, businesses and wider society, in the UK and around the world'.

This research will ensure that UKRI is able to:

- Build confidence in the organisation at a time of great change and scrutiny within the research and innovation sector (see below – 'Impact of this research on key policies and activities'), and
- Take a longer-term, tactical approach to building support for research and innovation at the next Spending Review, supporting the sector to speak with a strong voice to Government.

Background:

Established on 1 April 2018, UKRI is a relatively new organisation bringing together the seven established research councils, Innovate UK and Research England, to 'support the whole system to collectively become more than the sum of its parts, through: speaking with a strengthened voice to Government; taking responsibility for delivering cross-Council strategy; and simplifying transactional operations'.¹

Creating UKRI has taken time and the focus on bringing together and harmonising internal personnel and processes has sometimes been opaque and confusing to our stakeholder communities. Four years in, and as we are about to launch our first five-year organizational

Crown Copyright 2021

Strategy, it is therefore important that we should develop a better understanding of how our communities feel about the development and progress of UKRI as a whole.

Impact of this research on key policies and activities:

This is particularly timely in helping us to prepare for, and respond to, a number of key activities taking place now and in the future:

- The launch of UKRI's first five-year Strategy, supported through a programme of regional engagement activity running from March to November 2022 – understanding current perceptions of UKRI can help us to ensure the Strategy lands effectively and that we build a better understanding of UKRI and its role among our communities
- The publication of the Nurse, Grant and Tickell reviews, all of which may lead to a sense of uncertainty and upheaval in the research community, and which may create reputational risk by implying a lack in confidence in UKRI – better understanding stakeholder perceptions will enable us to understand the extent to which views of our strengths and weaknesses align with the different review findings and will help us to preempt issues and respond accordingly. We will also need to consider the further impact of the various publications on stakeholder perceptions
- The establishment of the Government's Advanced Research and Innovation Agency – again, understanding stakeholder expectations and perceptions will ensure that we are able to build a compelling narrative to build confidence in our role and place in the research and innovation system, alongside and in partnership with this new agency.
- The next Spending Review – understanding stakeholder perceptions now will give us time to strategically tackle areas of perceived weakness, increase familiarity and favourability with UKRI more broadly, and build trust and advocacy among current and potential future advocates, helping us to build the case for public investment in research and innovation
- Engagement is a guiding principle underpinning UKRI's Strategy – benchmarking community sentiment now will enable us to measure and evaluate UKRI's success in the longer term, making sure we continue to engage more broadly and deeply with our communities to ensure research and innovation enriches lives locally, nationally and globally. It will also contribute important evidence to UKRI's Balanced Scorecard evaluation approach which assesses impact and progress towards delivering UKRI's priorities and reports this to the UKRI leadership team (Chair, CEO, Board and Executive Committee).

Overall Aims of the Project:

RM6126 - Research & Insights DPS

Project Version: v1.0

Model Version: v1.3

DPS Schedule 6 (Order Form Template and Order Schedules)

Crown Copyright 2021

As set out above, this research will provide us with important insights into research and innovation community sentiment to help us proactively and strategically tackle both short-term and longer-term priorities, including:

- Ensuring UKRI's first five-year Strategy lands effectively with our communities and builds confidence in UKRI's role as steward of the system. It will also help us to mitigate and respond to the publication of a series of reviews which could otherwise raise questions about levels of confidence in UKRI, its role and its effectiveness. In practical terms, this insight will help us to shape our community communications and engagement plans over the next 12 months, including the Strategy roadshow plans and senior-level stakeholder meetings.
- Enabling us to build a longer-term, strategic approach to build support for research and innovation at the next Spending Review, understanding areas of strength and where the sector advocates are strongest, and allowing us to tackle (perceived) areas of weakness and where further stakeholder support may be needed.

Objectives:

We would like to conduct stakeholder perceptions research and analysis to understand a range of key issues including:

- How UKRI is currently delivering against expectations and hopes raised among our communities by the Nurse Review of Research Councils and Higher Education and Research Act (2017)?
- What current perceptions are of UKRI's strengths and weaknesses, its effectiveness and efficiency?
- How familiar our stakeholders are with our vision, mission and ambitions for the future (UKRI Strategy)?
- How strong and diverse our external relationships are and where there are gaps?

Audiences:

We are interested in understanding a broad range of stakeholder perceptions, building on UKRI's mission to convene not only 'close partners at the heart of the research and innovation system such as higher education institutions and institutes, innovative businesses, investors, not-for-profit organisations and policy makers' but also 'a wider set of partners such as those in the education system and civil society'.

Ideally, stakeholder diversity should include engaging with people at a variety of career stages (not just the most senior figures within an organisation), with less research-intensive higher education organisations, and with businesses of all sizes. In line with the Government's focus on 'Levelling Up', this research should also ensure consideration of stakeholder perspectives from across the different nations and major regions of the UK (e.g. Scotland, Ireland, Wales, North West, North East, Midlands, South East, South West). However, appreciating the breadth of activity this may require, the tender should provide ideas for how a breadth of stakeholder sampling could best be achieved within the time and budget parameters set by this project. There is some flexibility to adapt the scope as required.

Crown Copyright 2021

Scope:

- This analysis should focus on perceptions of UKRI at a corporate – or organisation-wide – level. It should not examine discipline or sector-specific interactions or perceptions of the individual Councils of UKRI – our Councils conduct their own stakeholder analysis and reputation benchmarking work.
- It should focus on stakeholders from across the research and innovation communities. The research should not explore public perceptions of UKRI – our Public Engagement team conduct their own stakeholder analysis and public perceptions work.
- Separate work is underway to understand attitudes towards UKRI and its councils among parliamentarians, so this research should not seek to expand upon, or overlap, with this work. Therefore, parliamentarians should not be included within the stakeholder groups considered for this research.
- International perspectives on UKRI will be considered at a later stage in this research and should not be considered as part of this tender.
- Government perspectives on UKRI will be considered at a later stage in this research and should not be considered as part of this tender.

Methodology:

We understand that there are a variety of methods that could be used to conduct this research, including different styles of interview, surveys, workshops and focus groups. Therefore we would welcome further ideas for how best to approach this stakeholder perceptions research including your recommendation for the size and composition of the sample.

This tender is for the first phase of what might potentially become a longer-term piece of work to understand stakeholder views among a wider proportion of our stakeholders. However, the next phase will be commissioned at a later date.

The aim of this first phase would provide us with a sample of qualitative feedback from stakeholders to:

RM6126 - Research & Insights DPS

Project Version: v1.0

Model Version: v1.3

DPS Schedule 6 (Order Form Template and Order Schedules)

Crown Copyright 2021

- Provide early insight to help us to target engagement effectively to support the UKRI Strategy launch and respond to the publication of the various reviews of the research and innovation landscape
- Provide evidence and insight to help shape the second, larger phase of the work to ensure it is targeted to focus on the right questions. This will also allow time for UKRI's senior stakeholders to contribute ideas to ensure it meets wider organisational objectives and has relevance to key internal stakeholders.

We would welcome expressions of interest on suggested options to approach this. We will support the project with the identification of relevant stakeholders and contact details as appropriate.

Additionally, we would be interested in options for preliminary work that could be used to support the project.

Each element of the work proposal should be costed separately for assessment as part of the final project.

Key deliverables for this phase of the project would include:

- Support to develop the questionnaire to build insight into stakeholder perceptions of UKRI 1-4 weeks from start
- Regular updates on emerging findings and project progress Updates every 2 weeks
- Interim report of findings – this will help us to tailor engagement work to support the launch of UKRI's strategy 4-6 weeks from start
- Final quality assured report of findings 6-8 weeks from start

We would welcome suggestions in the tender response for other options to support the presentation and analysis of findings.

Timelines

We would like to cover as much of this work as possible from our 2021-22 budgets.

There will be a break clause at the end of Financial Year 2021/22. This break point allows UKRI to manage the spend which extends into the next Financial Year.

4.7 The Buyer may retain or set-off payment of any amount owed to it by the Supplier if notice and reasons are provided.

4.8 The Supplier must ensure that all Subcontractors are paid, in full, within 30 days of receipt of a valid, undisputed invoice. If this does not happen, CCS or the Buyer can publish the details of the late payment or non-payment.

4.9 If CCS or the Buyer can get more favourable commercial terms for the supply at cost of any materials, goods or services used by the Supplier to provide the Deliverables, then CCS or the Buyer may require the Supplier to replace its existing commercial terms with the more favourable terms offered for the relevant items.

4.10 If CCS or the Buyer uses Clause 4.9 then the DPS Pricing (and where applicable, the Charges) must be reduced by an agreed amount by using the Variation Procedure.

4.11 The Supplier has no right of set-off, counterclaim, discount or abatement unless they are ordered to do so by a court.

10. Supplier staff

7.1 The Supplier Staff involved in the performance of each Contract must:

- (a) be appropriately trained and qualified;

- 7.5 The Supplier indemnifies CCS and the Buyer against all claims brought by any person employed by the Supplier caused by an act or omission of the Supplier or any Supplier Staff.

11. Rights and protection

8.1 The Supplier warrants and represents that:

- (a) it has full capacity and authority to enter into and to perform each Contract;
- (b) each Contract is executed by its authorised representative;
- (c) it is a legally valid and existing organisation incorporated in the place it was formed;
- (d) there are no known legal or regulatory actions or investigations before any court, administrative body or arbitration tribunal pending or threatened against it or its Affiliates that might affect its ability to perform each Contract;

8.4 All claims indemnified under this Contract must use Clause 26.

DPS Schedule 6 (Order Form Template and Order Schedules)

Crown Copyright 2021

- 8.5 The description of any provision of this Contract as a warranty does not prevent CCS or a Buyer from exercising any termination right that it may have for breach of that clause by the Supplier.
- 8.6 If the Supplier becomes aware of a representation or warranty that becomes untrue or misleading, it must immediately notify CCS and every Buyer.
- 8.7 All third party warranties and indemnities covering the Deliverables must be assigned for the Buyer's benefit by the Supplier.

- (a) receive and use the Deliverables; and
 - (b) make use of the deliverables provided by a Replacement Supplier.
- 9.2 Any New IPR created under a Contract is owned by the Buyer. The Buyer gives the Supplier a licence to use any Existing IPRs and New IPRs for the purpose of fulfilling its obligations during the Contract Period.
- 9.3 Where a Party acquires ownership of IPRs incorrectly under this Contract it must do everything reasonably necessary to complete a transfer assigning them in writing to the other Party on request and at its own cost.

- 9.4 Neither Party has the right to use the other Party's IPRs, including any use of the other Party's names, logos or trademarks, except as provided in Clause 9 or otherwise agreed in writing.
- 9.5 If there is an IPR Claim, the Supplier indemnifies CCS and each Buyer against all losses, damages, costs or expenses (including professional fees and fines) incurred as a result.
- 9.6 If an IPR Claim is made or anticipated the Supplier must at its own expense and the Buyer's sole option, either:
- (a) obtain for CCS and the Buyer the rights in Clause 9.1 and 9.2 without infringing any third party IPR; or
 - (b) replace or modify the relevant item with substitutes that do not infringe IPR without adversely affecting the functionality or performance of the Deliverables.
- 9.7 In spite of any other provisions of a Contract and for the avoidance of doubt, award of a Contract by the Buyer and placement of any contract task under it does not constitute an authorisation by the Crown under Sections 55 and 56 of the Patents Act 1977 or Section 12 of the Registered Designs Act 1949. The Supplier acknowledges that any authorisation by the Buyer under its statutory powers must be expressly provided in writing, with reference to the acts authorised and the specific IPR involved.

- (a) must give reasonable grounds for its decision; and
- (b) may request that the Supplier provides a revised Rectification Plan within 5 Working Days.

- (a) the Relevant Authority rejects a Rectification Plan;
- (b) there is a Variation which cannot be agreed using Clause 24 (Changing the contract) or resolved using Clause 34 (Resolving disputes);

10.7.2 Where CCS has the right to terminate a DPS Contract it is entitled to terminate all or part of it.

10.7.3 Where the Buyer has the right to terminate an Order Contract it can terminate or suspend (for any period), all or part of it. If the Buyer suspends a Contract it can provide the Deliverables itself or buy them from a third party.

10.7.4 The Relevant Authority can only partially terminate or suspend a Contract if the remaining parts of that Contract can still be used to effectively deliver the intended purpose.

15.2 In spite of Clause 15.1, a Party may disclose Confidential Information which it receives from the Disclosing Party in any of the following instances:

- (a) where disclosure is required by applicable Law or by a court with the relevant jurisdiction if, to the extent not prohibited by Law, the Recipient Party notifies the Disclosing Party of the full circumstances, the affected Confidential Information and extent of the disclosure;
- (b) if the Recipient Party already had the information without obligation of confidentiality before it was disclosed by the Disclosing Party;

The Supplier Staff must enter into a direct confidentiality agreement with the Relevant Authority at its request.

15.4 In spite of Clause 15.1, CCS or the Buyer may disclose Confidential Information in any of the following cases:

28. Invalid parts of the contract

If any part of a Contract is prohibited by Law or judged by a court to be unlawful, void or unenforceable, it must be read as if it was removed from that Contract as much as required and rendered ineffective as far as possible without affecting the rest of the Contract, whether it is valid or enforceable.

29. No other terms apply

The provisions incorporated into each Contract are the entire agreement between the Parties. The Contract replaces all previous statements, agreements and any course of dealings made between the Parties, whether written or oral, in relation to its subject matter. No other provisions apply.

30. Other people's rights in a contract

No third parties may use the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 (CRTPA) to enforce any term of the Contract unless stated (referring to CRTPA) in the Contract. This does not affect third party rights and remedies that exist independently from CRTPA.

31. Circumstances beyond your control

20.1 Any Party affected by a Force Majeure Event is excused from performing its obligations under a Contract while the inability to perform continues, if it both:

- (a) provides a Force Majeure Notice to the other Party; and
- (b) uses all reasonable measures practical to reduce the impact of the Force Majeure Event.

20.2 Either Party can partially or fully terminate the affected Contract if the provision of the Deliverables is materially affected by a Force Majeure Event which lasts for 90 days continuously.

- (c) refer the Dispute to be resolved using Clause 34 (Resolving Disputes).

24.4 CCS and the Buyer are not required to accept a Variation request made by the Supplier.

DPS Schedule 6 (Order Form Template and Order Schedules)

- 24.5 If there is a General Change in Law, the Supplier must bear the risk of the change and is not entitled to ask for an increase to the DPS Pricing or the Charges.
- 24.6 If there is a Specific Change in Law or one is likely to happen during the Contract Period the Supplier must give CCS and the Buyer notice of the likely effects of the changes as soon as reasonably practical. They must also say if they think any Variation is needed either to the Deliverables, DPS Pricing or a Contract and provide evidence:
- (a) that the Supplier has kept costs as low as possible, including in Subcontractor costs; and
 - (b) of how it has affected the Supplier's costs.
- 24.7 Any change in the DPS Pricing or relief from the Supplier's obligations because of a Specific Change in Law must be implemented using Clauses 24.1 to 24.4.
- 24.8 For 101(5) of the Regulations, if the Court declares any Variation ineffective, the Parties agree that their mutual rights and obligations will be regulated by the terms of the Contract as they existed immediately prior to that Variation and as if the Parties had never entered into that Variation.

36. How to communicate about the contract

- 25.1 All notices under the Contract must be in writing and are considered effective on the Working Day of delivery as long as they are delivered before 5:00pm on a Working Day.
