SPECIFICATION OF THE REQUIREMENT AS SET OUT IN THE ORIGINAL INVITATION TO TENDER

To note: the specification below is as it was when published in the Invitation to Tender in June 2022. Updates to timings, Key Performance Indicators and Key Deliverables can be found in “Annex 1 – Implementation Plan” and “Annex A to Part A”. These updates have been reflected in the Change Log.

Note to potential providers:

This document specifies the Service Requirements, including relevant background, instructions and related processes and procedures that the appointed supplier shall comply with. Specific and additional Service Requirements will also be included in the Terms and Conditions of Contract.

The Service Requirements will be incorporated into the Terms and Conditions as Schedule 2.

Any questions in relation to this document or the Service Requirements must be submitted to the Department via the messaging facility in the e-Tendering Portal.

In this document the Department for Education is referred to as ‘the Department’.

Please note: This Specification is the anticipated final version. Whilst it is not anticipated that any material changes will be made to the requirement before November 2022, there may be some minor amendments or additional context included because of the clarifications issued during the Procurement. Potential Providers should read this document in full and notify the Department of any element of the requirement on which they seek clarification or further detail.

Introduction

1. The Department is looking to appoint a provider or consortium of providers, to deliver a culture change programme focused on embedding flexible working in schools, and Multi Academy Trusts (MATs).
2. The successful tenderer will:
 - 2.1 Design a strategy for culture change and promote the programme across the sector, ensuring a focus on:
 - 2.1.1 Schools and MATs (both primary and secondary)
 - 2.1.2 Schools/MATs with high proportions of pupils receiving pupil premium.
 - 2.1.3 Specific specialisms such as Pupil Referral Units/Alternative Provision and Special Educational Needs and Disability.
 - 2.2 Deliver a programme of workshops and webinars targeted at key audience groups.
 - 2.3 Support the strategic and operational delivery of 12 Flexible Working Ambassador MATs/Schools, which will be appointed and funded separately by the Department.
3. Subject to the Terms and Conditions of Contract, the contract will run from Autumn 2022 until Spring 2025. Funding of £572,000 is secured for the anticipated lifetime of the project: 2022/23 to 2024/25.
4. The Department is including provision for an extension for 12 months after the initial contract term. All funding, including any extension, will be subject to all necessary approvals and the acceptable performance of the supplier.

Background and rationale

5. Flexible working can be defined as 'working arrangements that allow employees to vary the amount, timing, or location of their work'.¹ This may include different types such as: part-time working, job sharing, home or remote working, phased retirement and personal/family days.
6. Increasing opportunities for flexible working in schools is a key priority for the Department, as set out in the 2019 Teacher recruitment and retention strategy. A commitment to championing a culture of flexible working in schools was also reinforced in the 2022 ‘Opportunity for all’ schools white paper. Outside of the education sector, flexible working is on the rise and is increasingly a normal expectation across sectors.
7. Flexible working can bring benefits to schools and improve the retention of teachers and leaders. When surveyed, 82% of leaders whose schools offer flexible working agreed that flexible working had helped to retain teachers and leaders who might otherwise leave.² It also has a role to play in promoting wellbeing, in motivating staff, in reducing staff absences and in the creation of a more diverse teacher and leader workforce.³ Despite these benefits, there are logistical challenges associated with implementing flexible working including managing staffing arrangements, timetabling, communications, and a knowledge gap about how to go about implementing flexible working effectively.⁴ Evidence also suggests that cultures in schools and MATs do not always support flexible working.⁵ The Department is committed to promoting a culture of flexible working and providing practical support to schools and MATs to expand the flexible working opportunities on offer.
8. In 2021-22, the Department funded two projects to provide support to school and MAT leaders. The Department appointed eight flexible working ambassador schools to champion flexible working and also funded free training for school leaders in implementing effective flexible working practices. This new programme will build on the strengths of the Department’s funded offer, 2021-22.

Objectives of the requirement

9. The Supplier will design and deliver a culture change programme focused on embedding flexible working in schools and across MATs. This will include ensuring the programme reaches settings in areas of high disadvantage and specialist educational settings such as Alternative Provision /Pupil Referral Units and Special Educational Needs and Disability settings.
10. If the programme is successful, in the short-term, we would expect to see participants from a broad range of school types,⁶ reporting the following outcomes:

² IFF Research, 2022. ‘School and College Panel: December 2021 wave’.

³ IFF Research, 2022. ‘School and College Panel: December 2021 wave’.

⁴ CooperGibson Research, 2019. ‘Exploring flexible working practice in schools: survey findings’

⁵ In 2019, more than one-quarter of senior leaders said that flexible working requests had been declined in their schools (CooperGibson Research, 2019)

⁶ A broad range should include a focus on participants in specific settings such as SEND, AP/PRU and disadvantaged schools such as those in Education Investment Areas and/or with a high proportion of pupils receiving pupil premium.

Flexible Working Programme Delivery Provider – Schedules

- 10.1 Improved understanding of the benefits of flexible working.
- 10.2 Improved knowledge of how to implement different types of flexible working, including navigating the logistical challenges associated with flexible working in schools and MATs.
- 10.3 Improved knowledge of how to manage and respond to flexible working requests.
- 10.4 Improved practices in participant schools (see paragraph 14.1.4) including participant schools putting a flexible working policy in place and advertising jobs as flexible.
- 10.5 Greater willingness to consider a proactive, strategic approach to flexible working in schools/trusts or, an intention to improve their school/trust's flexible working offer as appropriate.
- 10.6 Improved staff understanding and confidence in requesting flexible working.
- 11 Progress towards the outcomes described in paragraph 10 will be measured through feedback surveys and the work of an external evaluator and through monthly reports provided by the contractor.
- 12. In the longer-term we would expect to see:
 - 12.1 Decreased % of teachers who leave teaching and take up flexible work elsewhere.
 - 12.2 Increased quantity and range of flexible working in schools, including opportunities for ad-hoc flexibility.
 - 12.3 Improved perception with both approvers and requesters of flexible working, so that the possibility to work flexibly becomes a normal expectation.
 - 12.4 Improved career progression for teachers and leaders working flexibly.
- 13. Tenderers should take these longer-term objectives into account when devising the programme.

The service requirement

- 14. The Department is open to considering additional innovative approaches based on tenderers' own expertise, which are not explicitly outlined here. Inclusion of additional approaches in tenders should be supported by clear rationale, including an explanation of how they will meet the programme's desired short-term outcomes and long-term objectives.
- 15. As a minimum, the successful tenderer will:
 - 14.1 Design and deliver a culture change programme, aimed at embedding flexible working in schools and across MATs. This includes requirements to:
 - 14.1.1 Work with the Department to promote culture change through awareness-raising activity and the collation and sharing of good practice to promote flexible working.
 - 14.1.2 Design and deliver a programme of webinars/workshops to support the implementation of flexible working. These will be devised in collaboration with the Department and will be targeted at key audiences and focused on key themes.
 - 14.1.3 Promote the flexible working programme, via appropriate strategies to raise awareness – especially to leaders in schools with high proportions of pupils receiving pupil premium.

- 14.1.4 Support the strategic and operational delivery of up to 12 grant-funded Flexible Working Ambassador MATs and Schools (to be appointed by the Department). These will provide peer support both to a set number (tbd) of schools that they must recruit (“participant schools”), as well as in response to wider requests for support. These FWAMS will be recruited in Autumn 2022 and will be operational by Spring 2023.

- 14.1.5 Support the Department and any appointed evaluator in their analysis of the programme.

16. Further details are provided both in the table below, and within the following ‘Key Deliverables’ and ‘Key Performance Indicators’ sections.

The below requirements are the minimum expectation of how this programme should be delivered. However, it is not an exhaustive list, and the Department is open to innovative approaches.

Requirement	Further information
Design and deliver a strategy for culture change in the sector	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The supplier(s) will be required to devise and implement a strategy to deliver system change This should include championing a proactive approach to flexible working, disseminating best practice and targeting a mix of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary and secondary schools and MATs. Sessions should target key decision makers including MAT leaders, Headteachers, Governors, Trustees, HR/Business leaders. Tenderers should consider how they will target primary and secondary settings differently, including schools in areas of high disadvantage⁷ and specialist settings (Alternative Provision /Pupil Referral Units and Special Educational Needs and Disability settings). Workshops/webinars should cover key themes. Themes might include, for example, implementing a whole school/MAT approach to flexible working, practical tips for recruitment, school improvement through flexible working, flexible working in leadership, overcoming common barriers, promoting equality and diversity through flexible working. The number of workshops/webinars, key themes and key audiences to be proposed in bidders’ tenders, supported by clear rationale.
