WR1805: Assessing the Impact of Woodland on Surface Methane Oxidation at Landfills

Introduction

Methane (CH₄) is an important Greenhouse Gas (GHG) with a 100-year Global Warming Potential (GWP) 25 times that of carbon dioxide (CO₂). Landfills are a major source of anthropogenic CH₄, fugitive emissions, generated through the anaerobic breakdown of biodegradable waste. In 2021, This is estimated to account for approximately a quarter of the UK's methane emissions¹. Reducing methane emissions from landfills has been identified as an important area in the waste sector reaching Net Zero².

Many older landfill sites have accepted biodegradable waste but prior to the introduction of the Landfill Directive, did not install active landfill gas extraction and utilisation schemes and often relied on passive venting to atmosphere to minimise the risk of lateral sub-surface migration of landfill gas. As biodegradable waste degrades over many decades under anaerobic conditions, these older sites will individually still be producing and emitting methane. The contribution of these older closed landfill sites to UK GHG emissions is currently reported based on modelling¹. The estimated emission in 2019 from older closed unpermitted sites that were operational until 1979 was 11% of UK landfill methane emissions, while the estimated emission from sites that were operational between 1980 and 2000 was calculated as being approximately 16% of the total UK landfill methane emission³.

Additionally, the 25 Year Environment Plan sets a target to plant 11 million trees in England by 2022 and increase woodland cover from 10% to 12% by 2060. The work carried out to date with the Vacant and Derelict Land Fund to identify brownfield sites that could provide land to achieve this target, and landfills have been identified as an attractive option due to their lack of opportunities for other developments. This evidence would also be vital to allow access to the 2,500 permitted sites not included in the original historic landfill assessment as well as justifying future changes to landfill closure regulation, which could provide an ongoing source of tree-planting sites.

Previous research has suggested the most promising technique for reducing emissions from old closed landfills is implementation of biocovers, which maximise the methane oxidation that takes place naturally in the soil by improving the habitat for methanotrophic bacteria. These are a proven technology which is being used extensively in Europe. Biocovers work through increasing the oxidation of fugitive methane emissions as they pass through the landfill surface. This is achieved by slowing the flow of methane through the cover and increasing the population of methanotrophic bacteria by application of organic material

However, the effectiveness of the biocover deteriorates as the permeability of the landfill cap reduces due to soil settlement. This requires intermittent re-establishing of the biocover layers. Biocover maintenance also requires regular improvement of the surface with organic matter to sustain the bacteria population. Both of these activities require the surface to be kept clear of obstruction and permanent vegetation.

However, initial discussions with forestry experts suggest that tree planting could help stabilise the soil and reduce settlement, while penetration of tree roots could increase the oxygen penetration and actually increase the depth of the oxidising layer. There is also a stream of work at the Centre for Ecology and Hydrology looking at optimisation of methane oxidation in the tree canopy itself, which could offset any preferential pathways to methane offered by the tree root system. Research to date has focussed on either the effectiveness of biocovers for soil methane oxidation or establishing the viability of tree planting on old landfill sites, but a true assessment of the benefits planting trees on landfills requires an assessment of the biological system as a whole. This project will explore the hypothesis that combining installation of a biocover with planting woodland on older landfill sites will enhance methane oxidation without compromising the structure or integrity of the biocover, to provide data to determine policy options for these sites. Without this research, the carbon mitigation strategies of the LULUCF and Waste sectors of the National Inventory could well be in opposition to each other with the best methane emission mitigation technique available precluding the planting of trees. However, if we can establish a more robust evidence base for the trade-offs, it may identify the route through which we can reduce emissions and also increase the carbon sink available.

The Project – Scope and Timescales

Previous work has established a suitable method for measuring methane emissions⁴ and previous work by Lockhart Garret has also demonstrated that biocovers present a suitable substrate for planting trees⁵. This project would examine the effect on methane emissions from the landfill itself and how it changes as the trees mature.

This project will require ability to identify a suitable site, and to design a justifiable sampling plan (including approach, sample numbers required, and any required controls) that can confirm and quantify methane emissions prior to planting. After planting, the project will monitor emissions over a number of seasons, creating an output data set which tests the hypothesis that methane emissions are reduced from older sites with the addition of bio-covers and planting woodland.

Although measuring methane emissions from landfills is technically challenging, the Tracer Gas Dispersion method has been demonstrated to be a scientifically robust and cost-effective tool which holds potential for use in this space. Defra and the Environment Agency (EA) have worked in collaboration supporting an initial study which, for the first time, identified and carried out whole site emission monitoring at older closed landfill sites, without active gas extraction systems. This study confirmed that measurement at these low emitting sites is challenging, but empirically possible (WR1923).

In the current study we welcome proposals of a 16-month duration which build upon this initial work investigating the potential mitigation of methane emissions from closed landfill sites by installing bio-covers and planting woodland on these sites. This will provide new preliminary knowledge on the short-term impact of tree planting on landfill methane emissions from these sites, confirming in the short term if there are significant measurable changes in methane emissions after planting (relative to before planting), and the variability of emissions in the short term (during the project).

The project will take approximately 16 months to complete with a projected contract start date of 01 December 2023 and a contract end date of 01 April 2025. There will be an option to extend the contract for an additional 12-month period until 10 April 2026 subject to business need and the Authority's approval.

The successful Tenderer will need to set up an inception meeting with the Defra Project Officer to discuss the project and produce a note of the meeting and any actions arising.

The Defra Project Officer must be kept informed at bimonthly intervals on the progress of this contract. Using a short email report confirming satisfactory progress or outlining any delays and the reasons for them. In addition to the milestones identified in the project deliverables.

Aim and Objectives

The project aim is to test the hypothesis that methane emissions are reduced from older landfill sites with addition of bio-covers and planting woodland.

1. Based on previous study (which will be shared) revisit the criteria required to establish the suitability of a site for both methane measurement and wood landing.
2. With information provided by the EA and Defra Forestry identify a suitable site in the short (next 12-18 months) and medium term (18 months plus), both from the perspective of wood landing and methane measurement, and a short list of sites for possible future investigation.
3. Work with EA and Defra Forestry to gain access to the site in preparation for future analysis.
4. Design initial scoping, baseline and regular field studies including controls needed, numbers of samples required to gain representative samples, variance, statistical analysis, and reporting.
5. Deliver preliminary scoping studies of the selected site, refining it for future pre-planting baseline investigation and post-planting seasonal investigation.
6. Confirm based on the preliminary scoping study the site for baseline investigation.
7. Deliver initial baseline field analysis (quantifying methane emissions prior to bio-cover implementation and tree planting) and regular field analysis (quantifying methane emissions in the year following tree planting) and associated data analysis and reporting.

8. Refine the approach as needed based on initial baseline field analysis, and carry out focused study monitoring emissions over multiple seasons. A meeting will be held to discuss the approach based on the findings of previous work. The successful Tenderer must provide the implications for cost and robustness prior to this meeting to ensure value for money.

Work Package 1: Site Selection, Project Planning and Preliminary Scoping Study (Addresses Objectives 1 to 5)

After an initial meeting with identified stakeholders, the successful Tenderer will produce a plan for the execution of the overall campaign, at the end of this work package the successful Tenderer will produce a document outlining how the sampling exercise will be carried out before and after planting at the site. This must include:

- Criteria for identification of sites suitable for both wood landing (with and without biocovers) and for methane measurement.
- Create a list of suitable sites which include previously and newly identified sites, based on the desk-based study of criteria matching followed by site adjacent scoping work (relative to practicality and factors which may interfere with measurement), and established site accessibility working with the Environment Agency Defra Forestry and other stakeholders.
- Based on the criteria for identification and the above refinement identify a site which will be possible to assess over the course of the project.
- Design an approach suitable for a robust and cost-effective study of landfill methane emissions at closed landfill sites, outlining the site-specific issues which could interfere with the process. This must include the setup, use and application, and analysis of resulting data sets on methane emissions utilising an economically viable short term monitoring survey approach (TGD [Tracer Gas Dispersal]).
- Provide information on numbers of discrete surveys required per annum to calculate an annual emission within a pre-determined variance (this variance will be agreed during the work package). This must include both the methodological approach required practically, and the statistical underpinning to ensure data is robust and viable for older closed sites. Contact should be made with the concurrently running project WR1928 to share lessons learned and best practice.

- Provide an anticipated trajectory of travel for this work - identifying challenges - and identification of any experimental work required to address barriers.
- Create a plan for survey analysis of the selected site before planting, and then for monitoring for the first year after planting has been carried out using the tracer gas dispersal (TGD) method.
- This plan must confirm the methodological approach that will be used, outline sample design to capture spatio-temporal change, in terms of sample design, affecting factors, data collection requirements for interpretation of methane emission requirements including climatic data.

WP1 Dependencies

Please note before proceeding to WP2 Defra will require steering group sign-off of the proposed methodology, statistical and reporting aspects WP1 Deliverables

Final Project Outputs

The outputs of this project (chapters produced within each of the work packages) would be collated in the form of a written report, which clearly sets out the responses to the outlined objectives. Each work package must have its own chapter, a clear explanation of all associated datasets and where and how they were used, including evidence of quality assurance processes. This must be supported by electronic copies of all supporting datasets. In addition, the successful Tenderer must prepare a final presentation of the project and present this to the steering group and to wider grouping within Defra.

Analysis and Reporting

Defra requires detailed and referenced analysis and reporting that goes beyond a description of the data to deliver clear, considered, and actionable insights.

The successful Tenderer is expected to deliver a final presentation and report split into the main sections (aligned with work packages). The report must:

- Include an executive summary.
- Outline at the outset any evidence gaps the report seeks to address and, at the end of the report, summarise whether any evidence gaps remain, explaining why.
- Include a detailed methodology.
- Present findings clearly – including use of tables and charts or diagrams where appropriate.
- Include clear analysis and answers to each research question supported by evidence.
- Include annexes for data/additional information where appropriate.

The analysis must clearly state whether any differences have been observed between England and Devolved Administrations. If such differences were observed, the results should be reported separately for each country.

Drafts must be shared with Defra at key points outlined in deliverables to allow for early review. The successful Tenderer must quality assure their work before it is shared with Defra, ensuring to follow AQUA book guidance⁶ Findings from draft versions of the report may be used in internal decision-making. The report must fully address any feedback from Defra before it is finalised.

We expect to publish the final report. An electronic copy of the final report must be provided in Word format, and for the final agreed version to also be in PDF format that is compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (known as WCAG 2.1). Defra reserve the right to arrange for internal and/or external peer review of the report. Following peer review, the successful Tenderer will be asked to make revisions prior to publication. After publication, Defra may seek opportunities to share findings amongst key stakeholders and more widely.

Note on Statistics Produced

In accordance with the Registration Services Act 2007, the successful Tenderer must ensure compliance with Principal 5 of the Code of Statistics Order. This requires official findings be kept confidential and not shared publicly unless requested by Government.

Note on Press Releases

The successful Tenderer will be required to seek approval in advance from the Defra project manager of any press release, presentation or publication related to this project until the final report is published. Sufficient time must be allowed for this. There will also be a delay between the project end date and publication of the final report while Defra quality assurance processes, and independent peer review, are carried out. After publication of the final report, it is good practice to keep the Defra project manager informed of any further use of data and/or findings from the project.

⁶ <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-aqua-book-guidance-on-producing-quality-analysis-for-government>

Accessibility Requirements

The successful Tenderer is expected to consider accessibility needs for reports and data sets

3. How the Contract works

3.1 The Order Form is an offer by the Authority to purchase the Deliverables subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Contract.

3.2 The Supplier is deemed to accept the offer in the Order Form when the Authority receives a copy of the Order Form signed by the Supplier.

3.3 The Supplier warrants and represents that its Tender Submission and all statements made and documents submitted as part of the procurement of Deliverables are and remain true and accurate.

4. What needs to be delivered

4.1 All Deliverables

(a) The Supplier must provide Deliverables: (i) in accordance with the Specification and Tender Submission; (ii) to a professional standard; (iii) using all reasonable skill and care; (iv) using Good Industry Practice; (v) using its own policies, processes and internal quality control measures as long as they don't conflict with the Contract; (vi) in accordance with such policies and procedures of the Authority (as amended from time to time) that may be specified in the Contract (vii) on the dates agreed; and (viii) in compliance with all applicable Law.

(b) Without prejudice to the Specification the Supplier must provide Deliverables with a warranty of at least 90 days (or longer where the Supplier offers a longer warranty period to the Authority) from Delivery against all obvious damage or defects.

4.2 Goods clauses

- (a) All Goods Delivered must be capable of meeting the requirements set out in the Specification and be either (i) new and of recent origin, (ii) reused or (iii) recycled.
- (b) All manufacturer warranties covering the Goods will be assigned to the Authority on request and for free.
- (c) The Supplier transfers ownership of the Goods on completion of Delivery (including off-loading and stacking) or payment for those Goods, whichever is earlier.
- (d) Risk in the Goods transfers to the Authority on Delivery but remains with the Supplier if the Authority notices any damage or defect following Delivery and lets the Supplier know within three Working Days of Delivery.
- (e) The Supplier must have full and unrestricted ownership of the Goods at the time of transfer of ownership.
- (f) The Supplier must Deliver the Goods on the date and to the specified location during the Authority's working hours.
- (g) The Supplier, its subcontractor(s) and supply chain must minimise packaging used whilst providing sufficient packaging for the Goods to reach the point of Delivery safely and undamaged. The Supplier must take back any primary packaging where it is possible to do so. Packaging must be 100% re-usable, recyclable or compostable, use recycled content where reasonably practicable and support the Government's commitment to eliminate single use plastic.
- (h) All Deliveries must have a delivery note attached that specifies the order number, type, quantity of Goods, contact and details of traceability through the supply chain.
- (i) The Supplier must provide all tools, information and instructions the Authority needs to make use of the Goods. This will include, where appropriate, any operation manuals which, unless specified otherwise, will be written in English and provided in electronic form.
- (j) The Supplier will notify the Authority of any request that Goods are returned to it or the manufacturer after the discovery of safety issues or defects that might endanger health or hinder performance and shall indemnify the Authority against the costs arising as a result of any such request. Goods must be disposed of in line with the waste management hierarchy as set out in Law. The Supplier will provide evidence and transparency of the items and routes used for disposal to the Authority on request.
- (k) The Authority can cancel any order or part order of Goods which have not been Delivered. If the Authority gives less than 14 calendar days' notice then it will pay the Supplier's reasonable and proven costs already incurred on the cancelled order as long as the Supplier takes all reasonable steps to minimise these costs.

(l) The Supplier must at its own cost repair, replace, refund or substitute (at the Authority's option and request) any Goods that the Authority rejects because they don't conform with clause 4.2. If the Supplier doesn't do this it will pay the Authority's costs including repair or re-supply by a third party.

(m) The Authority will not be liable for any actions, claims, costs and expenses incurred by the Supplier or any third party during Delivery of the Goods unless and to the extent that it is caused by negligence or other wrongful act of the Authority or its servant or agent. If the Authority suffers or incurs any damage or injury (whether fatal or otherwise) occurring in the course of Delivery or installation then the Supplier shall indemnify from all losses, damages, costs or expenses (including professional fees and fines) which arise as a result of or in connection with such damage or injury where it is attributable to any act or omission of the Supplier or, where related to the Contract, any of its subcontractors or suppliers.

4.3 Services clauses

(a) Late delivery of the Services will be a breach of the Contract.

(b) The Supplier must co-operate with the Authority and third party suppliers on all aspects connected with the delivery of the Services and ensure that Supplier Staff comply with any reasonable instructions including any security requirements.

(c) The Authority must provide the Supplier Staff with reasonable access to its premises at such reasonable times agreed with the Authority for the purpose of supplying the Services.

(d) The Supplier must at its own risk and expense provide all equipment required to deliver the Services. Any equipment provided by the Authority to the Supplier for supplying the Services remains the property of the Authority and is to be returned to the Authority on expiry or termination of the Contract.

(e) The Supplier must allocate sufficient resources and appropriate expertise to the Contract.

(f) The Supplier must take all reasonable care to ensure performance does not disrupt the Authority's operations, employees or other contractors.

(g) On completion of the Services, the Supplier is responsible for leaving the Authority's premises in a clean, safe and tidy condition and making good any damage that it has caused to the Authority's premises or property, other than fair wear and tear and any pre-existing cleanliness, safety or tidiness issue at the Authority's premises that existed before the commencement of the Term.

(h) The Supplier must ensure all Services, and anything used to deliver the Services, are of the required quality and free from damage or defects.

(i) The Authority is entitled to withhold payment for partially or undelivered Services or for Services which are not delivered in accordance with the Contract but doing so does not stop it from using its other rights under the Contract.

5. Pricing and payments

5.1 In exchange for the Deliverables delivered, the Supplier shall be entitled to invoice the Authority for the charges in Annex 3. The Supplier shall raise invoices promptly and in any event within 90 days from when the charges are due.

5.2 All Charges:

(a) exclude VAT, which is payable on provision of a valid VAT invoice and charged at the prevailing rate;

(b) include all costs connected with the supply of Deliverables.

5.3 The Authority must pay the Supplier the charges within 30 days of receipt by the Authority of a valid, undisputed invoice, in cleared funds to the Supplier's account stated in the Order Form.

5.4 A Supplier invoice is only valid if it:

(a) includes all appropriate references including the Purchase Order Number and other details reasonably requested by the Authority as set out in Annex 3; and

(b) includes a detailed breakdown of Deliverables which have been delivered (if any).

Details of the Authority's requirements for a valid invoice at the Start Date are set out in Annex 3.

5.5 If there is a dispute between the Parties as to the amount invoiced, the Authority shall pay the undisputed amount. The Supplier shall not suspend the provision of the Deliverables unless the Supplier is entitled to terminate the Contract for a failure to pay undisputed sums in accordance with clause 11.6. Any disputed amounts shall be resolved through the dispute resolution procedure detailed in clause 35.

5.6 If any sum of money is recoverable from or payable by the Supplier under the Contract (including any sum which the Supplier is liable to pay to the Authority in respect of any breach of the Contract), that sum may be deducted unilaterally by the Authority from any sum then due, or which may become due, to the Supplier under the Contract or under any other agreement or contract with the Authority. The Supplier shall not be entitled to assert any credit, set-off or counterclaim against the Authority in order to justify withholding payment of any such amount in whole or in part.

5.7 The Supplier must ensure that its subcontractors and supply chain are paid, in full, within 30 days of receipt of a valid, undisputed invoice. If this doesn't happen, the Authority can publish the details of the late payment or non-payment.

6. The Authority's obligations to the Supplier

6.1 If the Supplier fails to comply with the Contract as a result of an Authority Cause:

- (a) the Authority cannot terminate the Contract under clause 11 on account of the failure to comply, provided this will not prejudice the Authority's right to terminate for another cause that may exist at the same time;
- (b) the Supplier will be relieved from liability for the performance of its obligations under the Contract to the extent that it is prevented from performing them by the Authority Cause and will be entitled to such reasonable and proven additional expenses that arise as a direct result of the Authority Cause;
- (c) the Supplier is entitled to any additional time needed to deliver the Deliverables as a direct result of the Authority's Cause;
- (d) the Supplier cannot suspend the ongoing supply of Deliverables.

6.2 Clause 6.1 only applies if the Supplier:

- (a) gives notice to the Authority within 10 Working Days of becoming aware of an Authority Cause, such notice setting out in detail with supporting evidence the known reasons for the Authority Cause;
- (b) demonstrates that the failure only happened because of the Authority Cause;
- (c) has used all reasonable endeavours to mitigate the impact of the Authority Cause.

7. Record keeping and reporting

7.1 The Supplier must ensure that suitably qualified (and authorised) representatives attend progress meetings with the Authority and provide progress reports when specified in Annex 2.

7.2 The Supplier must keep and maintain full and accurate records and accounts on everything to do with the Contract for seven years after the date of expiry or termination of the Contract.

7.3 The Supplier must allow any auditor appointed by the Authority access to their premises to verify all contract accounts and records of everything to do with the Contract and provide copies for the audit.

7.4 The Supplier must provide information to the auditor and reasonable co-operation at their request.

7.5 If the Supplier is not providing any of the Deliverables, or is unable to provide them, it must immediately:

- (a) tell the Authority and give reasons;
- (b) propose corrective action;
- (c) agree a deadline with the Authority for completing the corrective action.

7.6 If the Authority, acting reasonably, is concerned either:

- (a) as to the financial stability of the Supplier such that it may impact on the continued performance of the Contract; or
- (b) as to the sustainability or health and safety conduct of the Supplier, subcontractors and supply chain in the performance of the Contract;

then the Authority may:

- (i) require that the Supplier provide to the Authority (for its approval) a plan setting out how the Supplier will ensure continued performance of the Contract (in the case of (a)) or improve its sustainability conduct or performance (in the case of (b)) and the Supplier will make changes to such plan as reasonably required by the Authority and once it is agreed then the Supplier shall act in accordance with such plan and report to the Authority on demand
- (ii) if the Supplier fails to provide a plan or fails to agree any changes which are requested by the Authority or materially fails to implement or provide updates on progress with the plan, terminate the Contract immediately for material breach (or on such date as the Authority notifies).

8. Supplier staff

8.1 The Supplier Staff involved in the performance of the Contract must:

- a) be appropriately trained and qualified;
- b) be vetted using Good Industry Practice and in accordance with the instructions issued by the Authority in the Order Form;

- d) be informed about those specific requirements referred to in Clause 13.2.

8.3 If requested, the Supplier must replace any person whose acts or omissions have caused the Supplier to breach clause 8.

8.4 The Supplier must provide a list of Supplier Staff needing to access the Authority's premises and say why access is required.

10. Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs)

10.1 Each Party keeps ownership of its own Existing IPRs. The Supplier gives the Authority a non-exclusive, perpetual, royalty-free, irrevocable, transferable worldwide licence to use, change and sub-license the Supplier's Existing IPR to enable it and its sub-licensees to both:

- (a) receive and use the Deliverables;
- (b) use the New IPR.

10.2 Any New IPR created under the Contract is owned by the Authority. The Authority gives the Supplier a licence to use any Existing IPRs for the purpose of fulfilling its obligations under the Contract and a perpetual, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence to use any New IPRs.

10.3 Where a Party acquires ownership of intellectual property rights incorrectly under this Contract it must do everything reasonably necessary to complete a transfer assigning them in writing to the other Party on request and at its own cost.
