

Stockport Homes' Environmental Policy

Stockport Homes endorse the principles of sustainability and minimisation of its impact on the environment by ensuring efficient management of energy, water, waste and natural resources.

The organisation is committed to ensure legal compliance and operates in accordance to other associated required standards. The organisation is committed to continually improving on its environmental performance and minimisation of pollution.

Stockport Homes promotes environmental protection by managing, monitoring, controlling and conserving energy and water use and implementing good practices in waste management and procurement.

Stockport Homes endeavour to ensure the organisation retains and improve on their instilled culture of environmental protection. This policy will be communicated to staff, principle contractors, customers and made available to the wider public audience.

“All of us have a part to play in conserving the organisation’s energy and water use, duty of care with regards to waste management and protecting the environment. As such, Stockport Homes working under a structured framework for Objectives & Targets will commit sufficient resources to ensure energy and water use is monitored and managed in a cost effective way and waste management and sustainable procurement good practices are implemented”

Helen McHale, Chief Executive

2015 -2017 (reviewed annually)